COLORADO FOOTBALL Mission Statement

Our Mission is to take the student-athlete where he cannot take himself. We will create an environment that teaches young men to:

1. Relentlessly pursue and win the Big 12 Championship!
2. Respect, foster and draw strength from our cultural diversity.
3. Achieve academic success while establishing an exemplary foundation of leadership.
4. Nurture spiritual growth and development.

Our program is based on the values of family, successful attitudes and team chemistry.

Family: We believe in unconditional support, love, trust and loyalty.

Attitude: We embrace a relentless commitment to excellence: selflessness, humility and passion.

Chemistry: We teach mutual respect, overcoming adversity, establishing priorities and team goal-setting.

The Colorado Football Family is where there is shared responsibility, care and discipline, and an absence of special privilege.

- ◆ Since 1989, the Buffs have faced 74 ranked teams, the third most in the nation, trailing only Florida State's 81 and Florida's 78.
- ◆ The Buffs' 14-2 record in league play over the past two seasons is the best in the Big 12.
- ◆ In 2001, the Buffs played the nation's second toughest schedule, while in 2002, they played the 13th toughest with nine bowl teams on it.
- ◆ At the end of the 2002 season, CU had been ranked in 180 of the last 230 polls, including a tremendous run of 143 consecutive between 1989 and 1997 (the tenth longest streak of all time).

The Nation's Toughest Schedule

CU is one of just four schools to play the nation's toughest schedule multiple times since 1971, and is just one of three schools to win the National Championship while playing the toughest schedule:

5-	 Notre Dame
3-	 Penn State*
2-	 Colorado*
2-	 Florida*

*—Won National Championship while playing toughest schedule in the nation

"The schedule we played my senior year was definitely one of the reasons I won the Butkus. Not only did we play the best teams, but we did it on television."

-LB Matt Russell

COMMITTED TO EXCELLENCE

HIGH CALIBER COACHING

“Gary Barnett, for all the right reasons – academic emphasis, understanding of the experience of the student-athlete, his competitive football knowledge and his commitment to this university and the state – is going to be our head football coach.”

–CU Athletic Director
Dick Tharp
Jan. 20, 1999

- ♦ Barnett has held a collegiate head coaching position for 13 years, spending seven seasons with Northwestern and the last four seasons here at CU.
- ♦ Barnett was an assistant for CU in 1990 when the Buffs won the National Championship.
- ♦ Barnett has been named a conference “Coach of the Year” three times in his career, twice at NU (1995-96) and once at CU (2001).
- ♦ Barnett is one of only four coaches, including Paul “Bear” Bryant, to twice coach the NCAA’s Most Improved Teams. He did so in 1995 earning a plus-6 mark at NU and then in the 2001 campaign at CU (also at plus-6).

...And In The Future

As part of its Athletics 2010 Plan, CU intends on building several state-of-the-art facilities in the next several years, and continue the expansion of its quickly growing program.

SPEED-STRENGTH

WEIGHTROOM INFO:

- The entry to Colorado's speed-strength and conditioning center is CU's trophy room, housing the Buffs' more prominent awards, including Rashaan Salaam's 1994 Heisman Trophy as its focus.
- An extension of the trophy room are two glass-enclosed cases in the front entry of the Dal Ward Center, currently showcasing three of Colorado's 18 National Championship trophies: the 1990 AP football National Championship trophy and the 2000 women's and 2001 men's NCAA cross country title trophies.
- In-season, players lift and run two to three days a week, depending on their playing status (redshirts, varsity, starters, non-starters, etc.).
- During the postseason and summer months, players work out 4-5 times a week. THE BUFFS STARTED PREPARING JANUARY 28th FOR AUGUST 30th!
- Along the walls of the speed-strength and conditioning center you will find photos of CU's past and present Olympians, players in the pros, photos of our Big Six, Seven, Eight and 12 first-team all-conference performers and All-Americans.
- CU owns over 125 pieces of equipment for the weightroom (the most in the Big 12), 90 percent of which is purchased with private donations while others were created through the coloraborative efforts of the S-S&C staff and CU's welding department.
- Colorado's speed-strength and conditioning center is the only collegiate weight room in the country that overlooks its football stadium's field.
- Unless stipulated by the head coach, student-athletes from all 17 varsity teams have the green light to train at whatever time is convenient to them and their class schedules.

"You can definitely tell that the altitude affects the opposing team when they come to play in Boulder. By the fourth quarter, a lot of their guys will be sucking air and feeling tired. We are used to the altitude, and it keeps us in better shape than other teams like when we are on the road."

Former CU All-Big 12 TB*

S & CONDITIONING

DUE TO THE HIGH ALTITUDE AND LOW HUMIDITY, MANY OF AMERICA'S TOP-NOTCH ATHLETES FIND COLORADO THE BEST PLACE TO RESIDE IN THE UNITED STATES. EACH YEAR, DOZENS OF OLYMPIANS TRAIN AT THE U.S. OLYMPIC TRAINING CENTER IN COLORADO SPRINGS, WHILE BOULDER IS ALSO HOME TO SEVERAL WORLD-CLASS DISTANCE RUNNERS AND ATHLETES.

- Greg Finnegan, who is in his first year at CU, spent the last five years as the assistant strength and conditioning coach for the NFL's Jacksonville Jaguars.
- Finnegan is no stranger to college athletics, as prior to working with the Jaguars, he spent two-and-a-half years as the director of Speed-Strength & Conditioning at Boston College overseeing 33 varsity teams, one of the largest Division I-A programs on the East Coast. Prior to being named as BC's top man, he was an assistant at both BC (six months) and Kansas State (two years).
- At Jacksonville, he performed a variety of duties, including developing and implementing strength, speed and conditioning programs; research methods to improve all areas of the program (speed, strength, power, balance, agility, flexibility, conditioning, supplementation and injury prevention), consult and advise the athletes on proper nutrition, and developing instructional methods of teaching technique. He also dabbled a bit in coaching, assisting the defensive staff in breaking down opponent film and helping the defensive line coach in practice.

Senior Marcus Moore was the overall strength champ in his weight class during the spring.

Interesting Boulder Facts

- ◆ The Denver-Boulder metropolitan area is the 19th largest (2.5 million) in the United States, according the 2000 census reports. Denver was the 25th largest city in the 2000 census, with a population of 554,000. Boulder's population was estimated at 95,662, including students, in 2000.
- ◆ Boulder is not classified as a suburb of Denver; it's nestled in its own valley at the foothills of the rugged Rocky Mountains. Thus, CU students and employees can live and work with the knowledge that they're in the unique situation of being close to a big city, yet far enough away.
- ◆ Boulder is a sports-oriented town, and was named the No. 1 outdoor sports town by Outdoor magazine in 1990 and followed as one of “The Greatest Places To Live” by the same publication in 1999. Boulder is also the home and training ground for several of the world's Olympic-class athletes.
- ◆ CU Ranked No. 4 in a review of the 50 “most architecturally successful campuses in the country,” in The Campus as a Work of Art by Thomas Gaines.

...NO BETTER

"If heaven has a college town, it's probably as beautiful as Boulder."

STUNNING SURROUNDING

PLACE TO LIVE

THE CENTENNIAL STATE

- Colorado boasts 255 sunny days per year and over 320 days where the sun will shine.
- Amazingly, Colorado has more hours of sunshine per year than both Miami and San Diego.
- The average elevation of 6,800 feet makes Colorado the highest state in the U.S.

BEAUTY LIKE

NOWHERE ELSE

There are just 68 mountains in the entire U.S. that hover above 14,000 feet, and 54 of those “14ers” are in Colorado. Driving along U.S. Highway 24 between Leadville and Salida, you pass over 10 separate 14ers. In addition, there are over 1,000 peaks that reach 10,000 feet.

Interesting Colorado/Boulder/Denver Facts

- ◆ The six-county metro area of Denver (Boulder included) has a population of 2.3 million. Denver is the 20th largest metro area in America, and has the 10th largest downtown area. The city and county of Denver has a minority population of 44.7% with 15% African American; 27.8% Hispanic; 3.3% Asian; and 1.4% Native American.
- ◆ Denver is called the “Mile High City” because it is exactly 5,280 feet above sea level. Denver’s central location in the United States provides convenient access for the entire country. The $5 billion Denver International Airport, which opened in 1995, is the fourth-busiest airport in the nation, serving 200 U.S. cities and over three dozen foreign countries.
- ◆ Winters are mild with an average daily high of 45 degrees Fahrenheit in February, warmer than New York, Boston, Chicago or St. Louis. Snow does fall, but it usually melts in a short time. Golf courses remain open all year and have been played on as many as 30 days in January. Chinook winds (a wind blowing down from a mountain that gains heat as it loses elevation) can bring 60 degree F weather to Denver and Boulder at any time throughout the winter.
- ◆ In summer, dry relative humidity makes Denver and Boulder feel cool and comfortable, offering natural air conditioning. Fall is a particularly delightful time to visit the city and make day excursions to the mountains.
- ◆ The Coors Brewery in Golden is the world’s largest single-site brewery, and Colorado also boasts more microbrews per capita than any state in the U.S.
- ◆ The Durango and Silverton Narrow Gauge Railroad (pictured above) has been in continuous operation since 1881 and has appeared in more than a dozen movies including How the West Was Won and Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid.
- ◆ The world’s largest natural hot springs pool is located in Glenwood Springs. The two-block long pool is across the street from the historic Hotel Colorado, a favorite stop of former president Teddy Roosevelt.

The Sporting News ranked the Denver-Boulder area as the No. 1 sports city in America. To qualify, a city had to have a franchise in all four major professional leagues (MLB, NBA, NFL and NHL) and also claim a University within 30 miles for Division I sports.

Few would argue that Colorado and the Boulder-Denver area have been the hot spot for sports since 1990. Following the Colorado Avalanche's Stanley Cup Championship in 2001 and Denver Broncos' 1998 Super Bowl win, Denver is the only city to have won two championships in two of the five major U.S. sports in the past eight years.

Denver is one of the few cities to have a franchise in seven major sports with the Denver Broncos (NFL), Denver Nuggets (NBA), Colorado Avalanche (NHL), Colorado Rockies (MLB) the Colorado Rapids (MLS), the Colorado Crush(AFL) and the Colorado Mammoth (NLL). Denver has also been home in the past to such professional teams whose leagues disbanded or moved the franchises: Arena Football (Denver Dynamite, winners of the first-ever Arena Bowl in 1987), United States Football League (Denver Gold), Volleyball (Colorado Thunder) and the American Basketball League (Colorado Xplosion).

The area also plays host to a major stop on the PGA Tour (The Sprint International) and the world's fourth-largest road race (the Bolder Boulder, which had 50,000-plus runners in 2003).

Since 1990, Denver and Boulder have been the host city for an NCAA Final Four, NCAA men's and women's basketball regionals and the NHL and MLB All-Star Weekends. NCAA women's volleyball regionals are also common in Denver and Boulder, while the Denver Nuggets will host the 2005 NBA All-Star game.

The Winter "X Games" have found a home in Crested Butte, a tiny mountain community three hours to the southwest of the metro area. Also returning to the downtown Denver area in 2002 was the Denver Grand Prix.

The University of Colorado fits right in, as the main Boulder campus is just 25 miles northwest of Denver, offering major college athletic competition right along with the best professional sports has to offer.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Mission of The CU Athletic Mentor Program:

To facilitate interactive opportunities between adult business professionals, community leaders, University of Colorado faculty and current student-athletes in the interest of fostering meaningful developmental and educational experiences, preparing student-athletes for life beyond college athletics, and cultivating pride and loyalty toward the University of Colorado.

Goals

1. To provide guidance in peer and mentor relationship building.
2. To introduce the student-athlete to post graduate life skills and career development.
3. To place the student-athlete in viable community service projects.
4. To assist with opportunities in degree directed internships and employment prior to graduation.

CU coaches participated in "Bench for Bucks" at C.B. & Potts.

Several Buffs enjoy time with a youngster at a local hospital.

a—Once every four years, the Cotton Bowl has the option to select Notre Dame or a Big East Conference team as the opponent for the Big 12 school.

◆—Bowl Championship Series: The following bowls have these conference champions serving as host (or regional tie-in) teams: Fiesta (Big 12), Orange (ACC or Big East), Rose (Big 10 and Pac-10) and Sugar (SEC). Should a BCS Bowl's regional tie-in be ranked No. 1 or 2 in the final BCS Standings, when such bowl is not hosting the national championship game, the No. 1 or 2 team shifts to the title game and the bowl shall select a replacement team from the BCS pool of eligible teams. That pool consists of any Division I-A team ranked in the top 12 in the final BCS Standings, or any team with a minimum of nine regular season wins, not including NCAA-exempt contests.

For 2003, the Sugar Bowl will host the national championship game. This is the second time around the cycle, as the Fiesta Bowl hosted the championship for 1998 and 2002, the Sugar Bowl for 1999, the Orange for 2000 and the Rose for 2001; the Orange hosts for 2004 and the Rose for 2005. The champions of the ACC, Big East, Big 10, Big 12, Pac 10 and SEC have automatic berths into the BCS. However, criteria is in place to allow for the Conference USA, Mountain West and WAC champions, major independents and other at-large teams to be eligible (must be ranked sixth or higher in the BCS Standings). Any at-large team with a national rank of No. 3 or 4 is also automatically selected.

The standings will be formulated from a statistical rating system calculated from both the Associated Press and USA Today/ESPN Coaches polls, eight nationally published computer rankings, strength of schedule, quality win(s), and team record; all five components are then added together to create a school's ranking. The payouts for 2003 will be between $13.87-17.05 million per school, depending on conference affiliation, with a second conference participant netting a minimum payout of $4.5 million.

THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

"The University of Colorado, and Boulder, is a town which stops where the Rocky Mountains begin. Normally in America such a superb site would be occupied by a golf course, but somebody goofed and instead they built what may be the most beautifully situated campus in the world... if anyone asks you to Boulder, I have one word of advice: 'Go.'"

From the London (England) Observer Magazine article, "Us and Them," by Simon Hoggart (April 23, 1989)

Often called the best of the United States' public universities by the Fiske Guide to Colleges, that belief was again strengthened when the University of Colorado received the largest donation ever given to an American public institution of higher learning. The quarter-billion dollar gift to run an institute for cognitive disabilities, it reinforced the fact that CU students not only have the minds to match its mountains, but they climb, and create, those mountains.

Founded in 1876 at the foot of the Flatirons, over 127 years has transformed the University of Colorado from a lone building on a bleak, windswept hill to one of the nation's leading public research institutions. Established in 1861, the University was formally founded in 1876, the year Colorado became a state. The doors of Old Main opened the following year with 44 students, an instructor and the President who taught and lived there with his family, pasturing his horse nearby.

The Boulder campus now encompasses 786 acres on the main campus, east campus (which includes a research park), Williams Village and the Mountain Research Station north of nearby Nederland (which supports ecology, chemistry and geology). In 1996 the Board of Regents purchased 308 acres of land in unincorporated Boulder County, now informally known as the south campus, in an effort to insure the growth of the University well into the 21st century.

While over 26,000 students are educated on the main campus, another 13,000 study at the University of Colorado Health Sciences Center in Denver, the University of Colorado at Denver and the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. Nine elected Regents and President Elizabeth Hoffman, who was named to the position in 2000, lead the four-campus system, while each campus has a Chancellor who serves as the chief academic and administrative officer. Dr. Richard Byyny is in his fifth year as chancellor of the Boulder campus.

Students can enter any of 10 schools and colleges offering more than 2,500 courses in 150 fields, representing a full range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, physical and biological sciences, the fine and performing arts, and the professions.

The largest University in the Centennial State is a big school, but its northern Italian architecture, named fourth in a ranking of the "most architecturally successful campuses in the country," in The Campus as a Work of Art, creates an intimate, visitor-friendly public space thanks to the varicolored sandstone and red-tiled roof facade of more than 200 buildings created by its rural Tuscany influence.

There are 17 residence halls that dot the campus, with more than 1,080 students enrolled in five residential academic programs, providing undergraduates with shared learning and living experiences. Colorado's Greek system, which is comprised of more than 2,000 students, became the first in the nation to vote its houses "dry" and the ban is taken seriously among the Greeks.

Many of the high-tech companies located along the Front Range owe their origins to CU-Boulder's cutting-edge science.

CU has shown that RNA can act as a catalyst in biochemical reactions, developed the first classification system of human chromosomes, created the first national model to assess child development, successfully completed the first instance of human cloning, identified the battered child syndrome, discovered the process of aging is under direct genetic control, developed ways of dealing with natural hazards, created the coldest temperature on earth, and alerted the nation to heightened academic pressures on kindergarten children.

CU-Boulder has played a major role in NASA space programs, designing and building many scientific instruments flown in outer space, and graduated 17 men and women who became astronauts, including the late Jack Swigert, one of the three astronauts in the crippled Apollo 13 mission who made it dock to Earth safely from the moon. When the Hubble Space Telescope was launched in 1990, it was carrying seven major instruments, including a high-resolution spectrograph to study the evolution of stars and designed and built by an international science team led by astronomer Jack Brandt of CU-Boulder. Since Hubble has been up, CU-Boulder faculty and students have been among the top users of Hubble of any institution in the world. CU-Boulder is the only university in the country where undergraduate students have operated a NASA satellite.

The University has produced 19 Rhodes Scholars, five of which were former football student-athletes at CU, with Jim Hansen the most recent recipient in 1992. Faculty member Thomas Cech, a distinguished professor of chemistry and biochemistry, won the 1989 Nobel Prize in chemistry. Other notable alumni include former United States Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White, former big band leader Glenn Miller and actor Robert Redford.

A premier institution in and of itself, the Boulder campus is in good company with some of the finest campuses in the country:

♦ Colorado is one of the four most outstanding universities in the United States according to the 2003 Fiske Guide to Colleges (with Brown, Stanford and Virginia), based on academics, social life and quality of life.

♦ The U.S. News & World Report ranked CU-Boulder 28th among the nation's Top 50 Public National Universities in its 2002 Best Colleges issue. The rankings were based on factors such as academic reputation, retention, faculty resources, student selectivity and financial resources.

♦ Colorado's School of Business was ranked 41st in the same U.S. News and World Report issue and 27th among schools whose highest degree is a Ph.D. Six CU-Boulder graduate programs also received top rankings: the Ph.D. program in atomic and molecular physics (4th) which trailed MIT, Harvard and Stanford; doctoral program in psychology (18th); Environmental Law (5th) which tied Tulane; the School of Education (27th); and the College of Engineering and Applied Sciences (30th).

If the aphorism, "Somewhere between the Rockies and reality," seems too good to believe, then come for a visit. Start with a walk on the historic Pearl Street Mall, a downtown pedestrian mall that is the ceremonial heart of the city actually that works despite the efforts of its street theatre.

Visitors may be so taken in by the scenery, the mall, Tudors and Victorians they may forget the University that put it all together. From Pearl, Broadway leads directly onto campus where the University of Colorado Museum and the CU Heritage Center, in the original Old Main building, which introduces the University's past and present. Visitors can experience the University's cosmopolitan atmosphere by visiting Fiske Planetarium, Sommers-Bausch Observatory, and Norlin Library. Lively performances are staged by the Artist Series, Department of Theatre and Dance, and the College of Music, and movie fans can relax with classic, contemporary, and avant garde films. Summer months bring the annual Shakespeare Festival to campus.

Take in the fresh mountain air on any part of 100 miles of trails and 30,000 acres of open space. Climb the Flatirons or in Eldorado Canyon State Park. Swim or board sail at the Boulder Reservoir while elite runners sprint around it.

Rest assured, like the prophesy of an Arapaho Indian Chief, "If you leave Boulder, you will return."

BOARD OF REGENTS

The Board of Regents consists of nine members, serving staggered six-year terms, one each elected from the state's six congressional districts and three from the state at large. The members select their own chairman and vice chairman, and operate without any pay. Serving as chair for the 2003-04 academic year is Pete Steinhauer, with Jerry Rutledge as the vice chair. Millie Cortez serves as Secretary of the University and the Board of Regents.

The Board governs all four campuses of the University of Colorado. It is charged constitutionally with the general supervision of the University and the exclusive control and direction of all funds of and appropriations to the University, unless otherwise provided by law.

CINDY CARLISLE—Democrat, Boulder civic leader. She received both her B.A. degree in 1970 and M.A. degree in 1977 in English from the University of Colorado at Boulder. Elected to the Board from Congressional District 2 in 2002, her current term will expire in 2008.

PAT HAYES—Republican, Denver retail manager. She received an R.N. from Misericordia Hospital (now Mercy Hospital of Philadelphia) in Pennsylvania in 1956. She has served on many boards and community committees, including the Colorado State Board of Education. Elected to the Board from Congressional District 7 in 2002, her current term will expire in 2008.

SUSAN C. KIRK—Democrat, Denver public affairs consultant; graduated from Vassar College in 1955 with a B.A. in sociology. She was elected to the Board from Congressional District 1 in 1992 and 1998, and her six-year term will expire in 2004.

THOMAS J. LUCERO, Jr.—Republican, Johnstown businessman; graduated with a B.A. degree in political science from the University of Colorado at Denver in 1992. He was elected to the Board in 1998 from Congressional District 4 for a six-year term, which will expire in 2004.

JAMES A. MARTIN, Jr.—Democrat, elected as a Republican, Boulder businessman; received a B.A. in political science in 1973 and an M.P.A. in 1975 from the University of Colorado, and a J.D. from the University of Denver in 1989. He was elected to a statewide seat on the Board in 1992 and 1998, and his current six-year term will expire in 2004.

JERRY RUTLEDGE—Republican, Colorado Springs businessman; attended the University of Colorado at Boulder from 1962 to 1966. He has been the president of the Colorado Springs Buff Club for several years. He was first elected to the Board in 1994 from Congressional District 5 for a six-year term, and was re-elected in 2000. His term will expire in 2006.

PAUL SCHAUER—Republican, Centennial businessman. He received a B.A. in Economics from Doane College (Crete, Neb.) in 1956, and has taken postgraduate studies in public administration at the University of Colorado at Denver. He served in the Colorado General Assembly as a State Representative from 1979-1998. Elected to the Board from Congressional District 6 in 2002, his current term will expire in 2008.

GAIL SCHWARTZ—Democrat, Aspen market analyst. She received her B.S. degree in business from the University of Colorado at Boulder in 1971. She served on the Colorado Commission of Higher Education from 1995 to 1998. Elected to the Board from Congressional District 3 in 2000, her six-year term will expire at the end of 2006.

PETER F. STEINHAUER, D.D.S.—Republican, Boulder oral surgeon; attended the University of Colorado at Boulder from 1954 to 1958; received his D.D.S. from the University of Missouri at Kansas City in 1962, and completed his residency in 1965. A United States Navy and Vietnam Veteran, he was first elected in 1994 to a statewide seat for a six-year term, and was re-elected in 2000. His term will expire in 2006.

PRESIDENT ELIZABETH HOFFMAN

Dr. Elizabeth "Betsy" Hoffman began her term as the 20th president of the four-campus, 50,000-plus student University of Colorado System on September 1, 2000. Educated as an economist and historian, Hoffman had an accomplished career as a faculty member and researcher prior to moving into academic administration.

As president, she serves as the university's chief executive officer for academic programs, research, administration and development. Her main roles include serving as CU's principal spokesperson, mediator, moderator and facilitator; its chief lobbyist, fundraiser and human resources specialist; and its top decision maker—in consultation with CU's Board of Regents.

Since taking office, Dr. Hoffman has traveled extensively throughout the state, taking the University of Colorado into Colorado's communities to inform business and civic leaders and citizens about CU's many outreach programs, distance education courses and partnership opportunities. Her outreach enables Colorado citizens to learn firsthand how CU can best serve the needs of all Coloradans.

Legislatively, Dr. Hoffman works closely with state leadership in the House, Senate and Governor's Office to advocate for higher education. In fact, she is the first CU president to have four legislative resolutions read into the State Record.

On the national level, she works closely with Colorado's congressional delegation in Washington, D.C., and is the first CU president to have three historical occasions entered into the Congressional Record.

As a fundraiser, she has been notably instrumental in helping the university surpass its seven-year fundraising goal nearly two years ahead of schedule. Dr. Hoffman also played a pivotal role in obtaining one of the largest gifts ever to an American public university of $250 million to establish the CU Coleman Institute for Cognitive Disabilities.

Most recently, in the fall of 2002, she was nominated by President George W. Bush to serve as a member of the National Science Board.

Dr. Hoffman champions a culture of excellence at CU. She has developed Vision CU 2010, a 10-year map for CU—that includes five key axioms:

- A University Without Walls — enabling a multidisciplinary effort across all four CU campuses;

- A Culture of Excellence — targeting areas for national prominence on each of the four campuses;
- Increasing Resources and Using Them Wisely — building significant endowments for scholarships, chairs and professorships;
- Diversity — bolstering "diversity" through aggressive recruitment and retention strategies for students, faculty and staff;
- An Integrated Infrastructure — using technology to enhance the quality of services to CU constituents across the entire system, and to expand online degree programs.

Dr. Hoffman earned a Ph.D., in history, from the University of Pennsylvania in 1972 and a second Ph.D., in economics, from the California Institute of Technology in 1979. She received her B.A. in history from Smith College in 1968 and a M.A. in history from the University of Pennsylvania in 1969.

Prior to her appointment at Colorado, Dr. Hoffman served as Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC), where she headed the nation's third-largest health sciences center, which included the country's largest medical school. She joined UIC in 1997, after serving as Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Iowa State University. Throughout her career, she has also held academic and administrative positions at the University of Florida, Northwestern University, Purdue University, the University of Wyoming and the University of Arizona.

Dr. Hoffman has been the recipient of numerous prestigious awards, prizes and professional distinctions. Among those are the Ronald H. Coase Prize for excellence in the study of law and economics, the ANBAR Electronic Intelligence Citation of Excellence, and being recognized in 1999 as one of 100 women making a difference by Today's Chicago Woman. She has also served on more than 40 academic advisory councils, boards and committees, authored or co-authored three books and dozens of articles, and received consistent National Science Foundation funding for her distinguished research.

Born on Nov. 12, 1946, in Bryn Mawr, Pa., she is married to Dr. Brian Binger, an economics professor at the CU-Boulder. Dr. Hoffman is an avid movie watcher and reader of works of history and mystery novels. She enjoys hiking, running, tennis, and skiing and is an enthusiastic sports fan.

CHANCELLOR RICHARD BYNYN

Dr. Richard Bynyn is in his seventh year as the chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder, as he was named to the position on May 8, 1997, after serving in an interim capacity for four months prior to his full-time appointment.

Bynyn, 64, has been associated with CU since 1977, when he came to Colorado from the University of Chicago to accept the vice chairman position in the Department of Medicine at the Health Sciences Center in Denver. He was serving in a similar capacity at Chicago when he moved out west to begin his career at CU.

In conjunction with his vice chairman position with the Department of Medicine, he also served as the Head of the Division of Internal Medicine, a position he held until 1994. He was responsible for developing the first Division of General Internal Medicine for CU, taking the program from the foundation stage to one that operated programs in three hospitals and two neighborhood health care centers.

In 1988, Dr. Bynyn became the director of CU's General Internal Medicine Faculty Development and Fellowship Program, a position he would hold for seven years. He planned and acquired grant support, implemented and directed faculty development and postgraduate fellowship programs (including curriculum, academic experiences and evaluation) to prepare participants for careers in academic general internal medicine.

He was promoted to Executive Vice Chancellor of the Health Sciences Center in February, 1994, a job he performed for the next 18 months. In August, 1995, he made the move to the Boulder campus, accepting the position of Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Research and Dean of the System Graduate School. In that position, he was the chief academic officer of CU's four-campus system, a $1 billion entity serving some 40,000 students. He worked with all facets of the University, including the Board of Regents, the President, the chancellors, all vice chancellors and the faculty.

Dr. Bynyn was selected the University of Colorado's Administrator of the Year for 1996, as he was the choice for the honor by the University System-wide Faculty Council and Senate.

He is a 1960 graduate of the University of Southern California, earning his bachelor's degree in history. He earned his doctor of medicine degree from USC in 1964. He has also studied at Stanford, Vanderbilt, Columbia and the University of Sydney in Australia to enhance his postgraduate education. He has earned a total of 16 awards and fellowships.

An avid amateur sports fan, he returned to Australia as a fan for the 2000 Summer Olympics in Sydney.

Born Jan. 6, 1939, in South Gate, Calif., he is married to the former Jo Garverick. The couple have three grown children, Kristen, Jan and Richard, Jr. He lettered in swimming and water polo as a prep at Woodrow Wilson High School in Long Beach, Calif.

Dr. Bynyn is in the second of a two-year term as Chairman of the Big 12 Conference Board of Directors. He served as secretary of the five-member board for the 2000-01 and 2001-02 academic years.

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE PHIL DiSTEFANO

Dr. Philip P. DiStefano is in his fourth year as the University of Colorado's faculty representative to the Big 12 Conference, assuming the role on June 1, 2000.

He is just the fifth faculty representative to serve in this capacity for CU since 1947, as he replaced Dr. Jim Corbridge, who held the position from 1989 until his retirement in the spring of 2000.

DiStefano, 57, is currently Colorado's Executive Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs, promoted to the position in July, 1998, after serving on an interim basis for 10 months.

He was given the additional title of provost in January, 2001, as he is "second-in-command" on the Boulder campus and serves as chief operating officer for most academic matters. He came to CU in 1974 from Ohio State University, where he earned his Doctorate in Philosophy in Humanities Education in June of that year. While at OSU, he spent three years as a teaching and research associate in humanities education.

DiStefano's first position at CU was that of an assistant professor for curriculum and instruction. He held that appointment for six years, and was promoted to associate professor with tenure in 1981. In June 1986, he was named professor of curriculum and instruction, a position he has maintained as vice chancellor. Also within that time frame, he served as an associate dean (1984-85) and as the director of graduate studies (1985-86).

In July of 1986, he was named the Dean for the School of Education, a post he would hold for the next 10 years. In September 1996, he was appointed as the associate vice chancellor for academic affairs, serving in that role for one year until assuming his current capacity on an interim basis in September of 1997.

He earned his bachelor's degree from Ohio State in humanities education in 1968, and received his master's in secondary education (English) from West Virginia University in 1971.

He was born Sept. 21, 1946 in Steubenville, Ohio, and graduated from Steubenville Catholic Central High School. He is married to the former Yvonne Pasquarella, and they have three daughters, Gia, Nicole and Jennifer.

A life long sports enthusiast, one of his childhood friends is former major league baseball player Rich Donnelly, who was the third base coach for the Colorado Rockies for three-plus seasons.

He is very active in the Boulder community, serving on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce as well as the Rotary Club. His hobbies include reading mysteries and biographies.

THE UNIVERSITY... DID YOU KNOW?

Here are some intriguing facts about the University of Colorado:

 Once again, the University of Colorado has been ranked among the most outstanding universities in the United States in the 2003 Fiske Guide to Colleges (written by the former education writer at the New York Times). CU was joined by Brown, Stanford and Virginia, its usual company, in receiving 14 out of a maximum 15 points (no school received the full allotment). Points are assigned for academics, social life and quality of life; CU received four points in academics and five each in the other two areas. Very few schools receive four or more academic points, with CU joined only by Boston University, Notre Dame, Rutgers, Texas and Tufts.

 The Apollo 13 astronaut Jack Swigert (played by Kevin Bacon in Ron Howard's 1995 movie) lettered in football at the University of Colorado from 1950 to 1952. Swigert was one of 15 CU graduates to fly on a NASA mission. Swigert passed away from cancer at the age of 52 several years ago. CU has several ties with NASA, ranks fourth in "astronauts produced" behind only MIT, Purdue and Stanford (excluding military academies), and has been heavily involved in the Hubble Telescope and the Galileo probe of Jupiter's atmosphere and moons. CU's first astronaut, Scott Carpenter, was America's second man in orbit.

 The University of Colorado's graduate atomic and molecular physics program was ranked first in the nation in 1999 by U.S. News and World Report. The honor enabled CU to surpass perennial powers Harvard and M.I.T. in this field of study. Two CU physicists, Eric Cornell and Carl Wieman, created a new state of matter in the summer of 1995, which Albert Einstein first predicted would occur some 70 years ago. Cornell and Wieman won the 2001 Nobel Prize in Physics for that landmark 1995 creation, as the new form of matter occurs at just a few hundredth billionths of a degree above absolute zero. The announcement also noted their achievement of the Bose-Einstein condensation in dilute gases of alkali atoms, and for early fundamental studies of the properties of the condensate.

 The CU system is among the top universities in the country in gaining research support. Revenues from contracts and grants reached over $300.4 million in 2001, ranking CU fourth among the top 100 public research universities in overall research and expenditures. CU emphasizes both quality teaching and research as dual components of fine scholarship.

 CU's 313 student athletes posted a cumulative 2.79 grade point average last semester, on even par with that of the campus overall. The student-athletes are accomplishing this among a student body that averages 26 on the ACT and 1180 on the SAT (and unlike most of its Big 12 counterparts, CU does not have an open enrollment).

 U.S. News & World Report ranked CU-Boulder 28th among the nation's Top 50 National Public Universities in its 2002 America's Best Colleges issue. The rankings were based on factors such as academic reputation, retention, faculty resources, student selectivity and financial resources.

 CU-Boulder professors created a Web site called Physics 2000, where users can conduct more than 35 interactive "virtual experiments" on their computer screens. The site explains the workings of microwave ovens, X-rays and much more at www.colorado.edu/physics/2000.

 The University of Colorado at Boulder earns more research grant money than any other institution between California and Chicago. According to 2000-01 figures, CU-Boulder received $219 million in research grants, placing the University in the same company as the Stanford's and the MIT's of the nation.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR DICK THARP

Dick Tharp is in his eighth year as athletic director at the University of Colorado, as he was selected for permanent appointment by the President and Chancellor on May 20, 1997, and was approved by the University of Colorado Board of Regents on June 4 of that year. He had served as athletic director in an interim capacity for the 1996-97 athletic year.

He is only the fourth athletic director in CU history, as he succeeded his good friend, Bill Marolt, when Marolt was named chief operating officer of U.S. Skiing in 1996. Marolt held the position between 1984 and 1996, and he followed Eddie Crowder (1965-1984) and Harry Carlson (1927-65).

Tharp, 55, rejoined CU from private law practice, which he had been engaged in since leaving the University in 1994. Tharp has enjoyed a long association with the Boulder campus, dating back to his days as a student in CU's School of Law, earning his Juris Doctorate degree in 1973.

Following his graduation from CU, he became the school's assistant university counsel, a position he held until 1976, when he was named acting university counsel. He remained in that capacity through 1983.

He left CU in 1984 to become a full-time partner with the Boulder law firm of Martin and Mehaffy, a firm he had been a partner in since 1976. He worked with Martin and Mehaffy exclusively until 1989, when he returned to CU after being named vice president and university counsel by then-President Dr. Gordon Gee. He spent six years in that capacity before returning to his private practice.

Born March 10, 1948 in St. Louis, Mo., Tharp graduated from Omaha (Neb.) Westside High School, where he lettered in basketball, football and baseball. He went on to attend DePauw University (Greencastle, Ind.) on an academic scholarship, where he also was a varsity athlete. He earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in history in 1970, graduating with Phi Beta Kappa honors.

At DePauw, he lettered twice in basketball (sophomore and senior years), and was the team's most valuable player his senior season, when he averaged 24.5 points per game (which to this day remains DePauw's scoring average record for a single season). As a senior, he was also the school's most outstanding student-athlete, an Academic All-American and winner of an NCAA postgraduate scholarship.

DePauw inducted him into its Athletic Hall of Fame in the class of 1999, citing his "exceptional contributions to the achievements and prestige of DePauw University in the field of athletics and who has continued to demonstrate in his life the values imparted by intercollegiate athletics."

He spent his junior year in college attending St. Andrews University in Scotland, where he also played basketball. He was named to the All-Scottish and All-British university basketball teams, and earned the highest university sports award in Britain in 1969 when he was awarded a British Blue.

During his previous employment at CU, he was involved with athletic issues that included NCAA relationships, conference alignment, television contracts, coaches' contracts and negotiations, policies and regulations of the athletic department and compliance with Title IX.

Tharp is a member of the Colorado Bar Association, and was admitted to practice law in the Courts of Colorado, U.S. District Court, 10th Circuit Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme (by special admission). He has also been very active in community and charitable events in and around Boulder County, and has won several awards for his work. He is a former director of the Boulder Community Hospital Foundation (1986-90), and was the director of Lifecare International for over a decade. He is also an honorary member of the Alumni C-Club at Colorado.

He was selected by the Big 12 as one of its representatives for the NCAA Management Council in September 2000, a move that has given CU a voice on national issues. The council is comprised of 49 members from upper management in Division I, and convenes four times annually to adopt, create and amend NCAA rules and bylaws.

He has been married to the former Melinda Siebert for 31 years, and they are the parents of three boys, Travis (23, a four-year letterman in baseball and recent graduate of Northwestern), Taylor (18, a freshman quarterback this fall at Boise State) and Tucker (11).

MASCOT/NICKNAME

The University of Colorado has one of the more unique mascots in all of intercollegiate athletics, a real buffalo named Ralphie.

The live buffalo mascot leads the football team out on the field both at the start of the game and second half. It is truly one of the special sights that exist anywhere in college or professional sports, especially for opposing teams, who often stop in their tracks watching the massive buffalo round the end zone and head directly at their sideline.

The buffalo first appeared in 1934, three weeks after a contest to select an official school nickname by the Silver & Gold newspaper had come to an end and "Buffaloes" was the winning entry. For the final game of the '34 season, a group of students paid $25 to rent a buffalo calf along with a real cowboy as his keeper. The calf was the son of Killer, a famed bison at Trails End Ranch in Fort Collins. It took the cowboy and four students to keep the calf under control on the sidelines, a 7-0 win at the University of Denver on Thanksgiving Day.

Prior to 1934, CU athletic teams usually were referred to as the "Silver and Gold," but other nicknames teams were sometimes called included Silver Helmets, Yellow Jackets, Hornets, Arapahoes, Big Horns, Grizzlies and Frontiersmen. The student newspaper decided to sponsor a national contest in the summer of 1934, with a $5 prize to go to the author of the winning selection. Entries, over 1,000 in all, arrived from almost every state in the union. Athletic Director Harry Carlson, graduate manager Walter Franklin and Kenneth Bundy of the Silver and Gold were the judges.

Local articles first reported that Claude Bates of New Madrid, Mo., and James Proffitt of Cincinnati, Ohio, were co-winners for the prize as both submitted "Buffaloes" as their entry. But 10 days later, the newspaper declared Boulder resident Andrew Dickson the winner, after a follow-up revealed his submission of "Buffaloes" had actually arrived several days before those of the original winners. Through the years, synonyms which quickly came into use included "Bisons," "Bufs," "Thundering Herd," "Stampeding Herd," "Golden Avalanche," and "Golden Buffaloes."

Live buffaloes made appearances at CU games on and off through the years, usually in a pen on the field or sometimes driven around in a cage; in the 1940s, the school kept a baby buffalo in a special pen at the University Riding Academy. The first named buffalo was "Mr. Chips," who appeared for the first time at the 1957 CU Days kickoff rally, as supporter Mahlon White donated him to the school, and it was cared for by a men's honorary.

A few years passed between a live mascot on the sideline and the tradition Colorado fans have come to know so well. In 1966, John Lowery, the father of a CU freshman from Lubbock, Texas, donated to the school a six-month old buffalo calf from Sedgewick, Colo. For a while, she was billed as "Rraalph," the name given by the student body after sounds she allegedly made while running and snorting (original handlers will tell you something else). An astute fan soon discovered that the buffalo was in fact a female, thus the name alteration to Ralphie.

The initial tradition was for CU's five sophomore class officers to run the buffalo around the stadium in a full loop. They would pick her up from caretaker William "Bud" Hays at the Green Mountain Riding Stables, and would run her for two hours in the morning to tire her a bit to keep her under control by the time the game started. At the conclusion of the run, the fans would break into the "Buffalo Stomp," which would literally shake the stadium in deafening fashion as the team took the field. But CU officials soon had the tradition stopped because of the actual physical damage it was causing.

Around that same time, head coach Eddie Crowder was approached with the idea the charging buffalo running out on the field before the game with the team behind right her. Crowder thought it was a great idea, and the debut of this great tradition took place on Oct. 28, 1967, CU's homecoming game against Oklahoma State. Though OSU won the game, 10-7, the tradition was here to stay, though those who had some training in such an endeavor as working with a wild animal eventually replaced the sophomores. The five sophomores appointed themselves as the board of directors of a fundraising effort to bring Ralphie to the '67 Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, raising the necessary money through selling stock.

Ralphie attended every CU home football game for 13 years (including all bowls), and retired at the end of the 1978 season. CU's first Ralphie achieved nationally celebrity status, and was even kidnapped in 1970 by some Air Force Academy students as well as being named the school's 1971 Homecoming Queen at the height of the anti-establishment era.

Ralphie's replacement on the sidelines was Ralphie II, making her first-ever appearance at CU's final home game of the 1978 season. The buffalo's original name was Moon, short for Moonshine, but the name Ralphie had become so popular and traditional that it was restored. The Bank of Boulder, a significant contributor through the years to the Ralphie program, purchased and donated Ralphie II to CU. At the age of 12, and after serving the Buffs for 10 years, Ralphie II passed away on Sept. 19, 1987, following a 31-17 CU win over Stanford.

Ralphie III was pressed into action earlier than anticipated, as she had been in training for the 1988 season. Originally named "Tequila," she made her debut on Nov. 7, 1987, when the Buffs beat Missouri, 27-10. After over 10 years of service, she passed away in January 1998, at the age of 13.

Colorado's latest mascot is Ralphie IV, donated to the university by media and sports entrepreneur Ted Turner.

Ralphie IV was born in April 1997 on the Flying D Ranch in Gallatin Gateway, Montana, which is a part of Turner Ranches, the largest ranch operation in the United States. Named "Rowdy" by ranch hands, she was separated from her mother when she was about a month old and was literally found in the jaws of a coyote with bite marks around her neck. She survived the attack and was bottle-fed by the hands for four months. She was released back to the herd but wouldn't bond with them, so the ranch hands took her back in and fed her grasses and grain. It was then that she was donated to CU as a yearling early in the spring of 1998. John Parker, who trained and housed both Ralphie II and III, brought her back to Colorado from Montana and supervised all of her early training.

Parker retired as Ralphie's caretaker in May 2000. Long-time CU supporters Dale and Lynn Johnson housed Ralphie for the following year, with Parker's assistant, Ted Davis, assuming the program duties for the 2000 season.

In the summer of 2001, two former Ralphie Handlers and CU graduates, Ben Frei and Kevin Priola, took over the program. Together they coordinate the selection and managing of up to 12 student handlers as well as all aspects of training.

Ralphie IV, almost full grown and mature, weighs in at about 1,300 pounds, over three times her weight when she made her debut against Colorado State at Mile High Stadium in Denver on Sept. 5, 1998. She is much stronger and can reach speeds of 25 miles per hour. Her home is now in nearby Henderson.

FOLSOM FIELD

Folsom Field, named after legendary University of Colorado Coach Frederick Folsom, opened for the 1924 season and has been the home of Buffs ever since. This will be the 80th season the Buffs will play their home games on the "hilltop," and the 400th game in the stadium's history took place in 2002.

Colorado owns one of the nation's best all-time home records, and in the previous 79 seasons of play at Folsom, the Buffaloes are 268-126-10, a winning percentage of .676.

The stadium was dedicated on October 11, 1924, as Colorado defeated Regis College, 39-0. It actually was the second home game of the season, as CU closed out playing at Gamble Field the week before with a 31-0 win over Western State.

It originally was called Colorado Stadium, the name being changed to Folsom Field in 1944 following Folsom's death. In addition, old 24th Street was also changed to Folsom Street to honor the man who coached Colorado teams three different times totaling 15 years between 1895 and 1915. His 76.5 winning percentage (77-23-2) is still tops among all coaches ever at CU.

CU had played its games at Gamble Field for two decades, where seating was limited to temporary bleachers. In the winter of 1923-24, CU President George Norlin studied the possibility of a new stadium, as the approaching completion of a sparkling new gymnasium (Carlson Gym), the inadequate number of seats at Gamble Field (roughly 9,000) and the growing interest in physical education and intercollegiate athletics demanded that a remedy needed to take place soon.

Investigation of a natural ravine just east of the site of the gymnasium as a site for the new stadium, suggested by professor Whitney Huntington, was not only a convenient location, but by using it a great expense could be avoided. After a financing plan was worked out, CU's own construction department began moving dirt with a steam shovel on January 14, 1924.

The new structure had an original capacity of 26,000, featuring wooden bleacher seating over cement, and quarter-mile running track. A California red wood, dipped in creosote, was selected as the initial material, as estimates at the time put a lifetime of around 13 years for the wood. There were 22 sections divided by radial aisles installed, the same set-up in the lower bowl that still exists today.

Accounts at the time put the cost of the stadium at around $2.60 per seat, instead of $10 had concrete been used; the total cost was $65,000. By comparison, the cost to construct Carlson Gym was $350,000.

With expansion in mind when originally built, it was by design rather easy to add an upper deck. In 1956, Folsom Field's capacity was upped to 45,000 when a second deck was erected around two-thirds of the stadium. Some 6,000 more seats were added in 1967 when the running track was removed and the team dressing facilities were constructed at the north end of the field.

Improvements continued, as the gigantic six-level press box facility was added on the west side for the start of the 1968 season. It also serves as the home for CU's

The beginning of work on the stadium in January, 1924.

Flatirons Club, a group of donors who financially support the athletic program.

In the summer of 1976, Folsom Field had another face-lift, as the wooden bleacher seats were removed and replaced with silver and gold aluminum bleachers, expanding the stadium to a capacity of 52,005.

The renovation of CU's team house in the summer of 1979 took away a few seats, changing the capacity to 51,463. The construction of the magnificent Dal Ward Center in 1991 added new bleacher seating in the north end zone and increased the capacity to 51,748. In 1992, the addition of a yellow concourse wall on the southeast side took away a few hundred seats, and corporate boxes (in 1995) lowered the capacity to 51,655.

The removal of a set of old rickety bleachers in 2001 and a few other changes placed the stadium capacity at 50,942, but that figure stood for just two seasons. The addition of suites and club seating on the east side, completed in August 2003, has increased the capacity to 53,750 (pending a final seat audit upon completion), an all-time Folsom Field high.

Prior to the 1971 season, the playing surface at Folsom Field was natural grass. Monsanto of St. Louis, Mo., replaced the natural grass with Astroturf for the 1971 campaign, with the first game being played on the artificial surface against the University of Wyoming on September 18 (the Buffs won 56-13); it was a godsend, as that very morning, Boulder received a rare late summer snowstorm that blanketed the field with more than two feet of snow.

The original Astroturf surface was replaced with a "new rug" for the start of the 1978 season, and in the summer of 1989, "Astroturf-8" was installed, the third artificial surfacing in the school's history. Folsom was covered with artificial surfaces for 28 seasons (168 games), and it was fairly friendly for the Buffs, which posted a 110-56-2 record in those games.

In the spring of 1999, Folsom Field returned to natural grass, as "SportGrass" was installed on the stadium floor. The project, which included bio-thermal heating, drainage and a sub-air system, cost $1.2 million. Video display boards, known as "BuffVision" were also added in the summer of 1999 at a cost of $3.6 million.

DAL WARD ATHLETIC CENTER

The 1990-91 athletic season is landmark for the University of Colorado in two areas. The year produced national championships in football (its first) and skiing (its 14th at the time), and the men's basketball team reached the NIT Final Four.

That was also the year that the magnificent Dal Ward Athletic Center became a reality. The entire construction process was completed in less than nine months, from ground-breaking in December, 1990, to completion the following August.

The $14 million building was completely funded through private donations. This multi-functional, state-of-the-art structure is one of the top facilities anywhere in college athletics.

The Dal Ward Center boasts 92,000 square feet that includes a massive academic center, sports medicine and weight training centers, a full-service kitchen and daily dining area, an auditorium, men's and women's locker-rooms, a player's lounge and offices for athletic administration and coaches.

Construction on the project actually began in November, 1990, with the demolition of the old team house building, which had stood in the north end of Folsom Field since its erection in 1967. The foundation was dug and concrete poured over the next couple of months, with construction of the actual building starting in February, 1991. The structure was available for the football team's use by mid-August, with the remainder of the building completed later that fall.

The building is named for Dallas Ward, the football coach who led CU into the Big Seven Conference in 1948. Ward was the head coach for the Buffaloes for 11 seasons (1948-1958), compiling a 63-41-6 record, which made him the third-winningest coach in CU history at the time. His teams, noted for the single wing offense, were a constant threat to Oklahoma's supremacy in the Big Seven Conference.

The facility has several outstanding attributes, which benefit both the athletic department and the entire CU-Boulder campus. The tile roof, native stone walls and traditional Italianate architecture were selected to compliment the style of the Boulder campus. The Center also establishes a new sense of entry to the campus coming from the north. The building features a dramatic two-story entry and lobby space with a grand staircase.

In 1999, a state-of-the-art video replay board, known as "BuffVision," replaced the original scoreboard.

The Dal Ward Center allows CU athletics to provide a facility that is competitive with equivalent successful NCAA athletic programs. "We have built something that will truly give our athletes a chance to compete with the best," then-athletic director Bill Marolt said.

The building was designed by the architectural firm of Sink Combs Dethlefs of Denver, with construction performed by Gerald H. Phipps, Inc.

The University of Colorado and NIKE, Inc., are in the third year of a second agreement between the two that has the world's largest shoe manufacturer to providing both equipment and financial support to the CU athletic department.

Being the well-renowned leader in the athletic shoe industry, NIKE has made a foray into the athletic apparel venue and strives to create the absolute best quality workout gear and uniforms available to any college student-athlete. The University of Colorado has benefitted from NIKE's foresight as the company lends its research for new products and designs to make things better for the student-athlete.

CU and NIKE agreed to their partnership in 1995, and the two have since developed a solid relationship.

The initial agreement which had a value of $6 million, was one of the best arrangements between a corporate sponsor and a university in the nation. NIKE supplies all 17 of CU's intercollegiate sports programs and its 300-plus student-athletes with equipment as well as game uniforms, promotional support for coaches' camps and team performance bonus provisions. NIKE has also contributed close to $3 million in cash to the athletic department over the course of both contracts.

"It's difficult to value the entire transaction, given price fluctuations in equipment, but I think it's fair to say that the agreement has a minimum value of approximately $6 million," CU athletic director Dick Tharp said. "The equipment needs for our athletes is extensive, and this is probably the best product supply agreement in the country. I was pleased with the final agreement and NIKE's good faith efforts."

NIKE, a powerhouse in the world of sports, makes shoes for about every activity imaginable, including football, basketball, baseball, volleyball, golf, soccer, tennis, wrestling, cross-training and cheerleading. The company also makes casual shoes in addition to its growing line of athletic wear, which features shirts, shorts, uniforms, running clothes, caps and leotards. NIKE sells its products in over 80 countries world-wide, is listed on the New York Stock Exchange, employs over 17,000 people and did over $5 billion in business for its fiscal 2002 year.

Athletics 2010 is a comprehensive plan for the University of Colorado Athletics that will graduate nationally competitive student-athletes through achievement of the highest standards in education, athletic competition, culture, and facilities. The Athletics 2010 vision is unique because it provides a holistic approach to defining student-athlete success.

It will better prepare student-athletes for long-term life success by fostering academic achievement, leadership skills, and personal and professional growth.

The purpose of Athletics 2010 is to establish accountability within the department to help every student-athlete grow and prepare for a successful life beyond graduation. Designed to develop over the first decade of the 21st Century, Athletics 2010 has specific measurable goals. It will ensure that CU is meeting the academic and athletic needs of all student-athletes.

Proposed Sports & Community Complex Atrium

ally and professionally in preparation for success beyond graduation. The following are goals that have been set to meet these high academic standards:

- Graduate every student-athlete who completes his or her eligibility at CU;
- Retain nine out of 10 student-athletes;
- Ensure student-athletes retain a 3.0 mean grade point average;
- Provide every student-athlete with a mentor;
- Give every student-athlete an opportunity to accept an internship position or professional job offer within two months of graduation;
- Establish nationally recognized leadership and personal development programs for student-athletes.

Winning. Our student-athletes will understand and experience the educational value of being an athletic champion by being a member of a team that consistently competes for the highest possible athletic honors while representing the ideals of sportsmanship. Specific winning goals include the following:

Athletics 2010: Four Key Elements

Education. The CU Athletic Department will recruit, education, retain and graduate nationally competitive student-athletes. Athletics 2010 will provide CU students with an environment in which they can pursue academic achievement, develop leadership skills, and grow person-

- Ensure teams rank consistently among the top 20 and compete for National Championships;
- Each team competes for the Big 12 Championship;
- Win the Sears Cup;
- Fully fund all athletic teams;
- Create revenue opportunities through athletic success;
- Compete with integrity and good sportsmanship by adhering to the principles in the Arizona Sports Summit Accord.

Annual winning goals have been established for each program, based on a consistent, desired national ranking or NCAA finish, with input from all head coaches for each sport:

Men's Basketball	Top 15
Women's Basketball	Top 10
Men's Cross Country	Top 3
Women's Cross Country	Top 3
Football	Top 10
Men's Golf	Top 10

- Provide a forum for student-athlete input on departmental issues;
- Support the principles contained in the Arizona Sports Summit Accord;
- Communicate effectively with internal and external constituencies;
- Educate and require informed commitments from department staff, student-athletes and supporters to abide by the rules and regulations of the NCAA, Big 12 Conference and the University of Colorado.

Facilities. Athletics 2010 will provide the University with facilities to better recruit, educate, train and compete at the highest national levels without adversely impacting the institution's academic priorities. Plans for these enhancements are as follows:

- Develop facilities with financial integrity and ensure that they provide revenue opportunities;
- Provide state-of-the-art academic support facilities;
- Establish facilities for year-round practice and competition that provide priority access and scheduling for all intercollegiate sports;
- Expand Folsom Field and build a new stadium complex, including suites, club seating, additional northeast seating, a parking structure and a Fieldhouse on the northeast side;
- Build Olympic sport fields;
- Expand and remodel the Coors Events Conference Center for practice facilities (including a new volleyball venue), meeting space, ticket operations and concessions;
- Collaborate with the campus and community to establish facilities sharing.

Culture. The Athletic Department is committed to the intellectual, physical and social development and general well being of each student-athlete. Athletics 2010 will create an environment that embraces and respects the diversity of student-athletes, University faculty and staff. CU will enhance its culture by achieving the following:

- Aggressively embrace and promote diversity and equity;
- See that each student-athlete leaves CU with a mutual commitment to the institution and is treated appropriately as a permanent member of the CU family;

HEAD COACH GARY BARNETT

Gary Barnett was officially named the 22nd head football coach in University of Colorado history on Jan. 20, 1999, returning to where he spent eight seasons as an assistant under Bill McCartney from 1984-91.

Barnett, 57, originally signed a five-year contract to coach the Buffs through 2003, one of six multi-year deals allowed the University by the state legislature. He has since received two extensions, the latter approved on Aug. 8, 2002, rolling his deal over to include through the 2006 season.

He owns a 72-77-2 overall record as a collegiate head coach, the first two years coming at NAIA Fort Lewis in Durango (Colo., going 8-11-1) and the next seven at Northwestern University (35-45-1). In four seasons at Colorado he has piloted the Buffaloes to a 29-21 record, bringing his record on the NCAA Division I-A level to 64-66-1. His staffs have now coached three league champion teams, two outright and one shared; all three teams were ranked in the nation's Top 15, including two in the Top 10.

At Colorado, he has won one Big 12 Conference title (2001) and two Big 12 North Division crowns (2001, 2002). The Buffs are 22-10 in conference games under Barnett, including a 14-2 mark since the start of the '01 campaign, the fourth-best two-year record in league history.

Colorado was 7-5 in 1999, his first season at the reins of the program, finishing third in the Big 12 North Division with a 5-3 mark. His second Buff squad finished 3-8, as a team riddled with injuries and youth managed to play well at times and had chances to realistically win at least six of the eight games it lost, including five against ranked teams. But his third CU team came on strong, winning its last four regular season games including a record-setting 62-36 win over Nebraska. That win gave CU a 7-1 record in the Big 12 North Division and earned the Buffs their first-ever appearance in the Big 12 Championship game, where a week later, Colorado defeated Texas, 39-37, to win its first league title since sharing the old Big Eight crown in 1991.

In 1999, his first Buffalo team was ranked 14th nationally in total offense, averaging 424.9 yards per game, and featured a pair of All-Americans in guard Brad Bedell and cornerback Ben Kelly. CU defeated a ranked team for the 12th straight year when it beat No. 24 Oklahoma, and lost games to No. 3 Nebraska and No. 6 Kansas State by a combined nine points.

The Buffs wrapped up his first season on a high note, as CU whipped No. 22 Boston College, 62-28, in the Insight.com Bowl, Colorado raced to a 45-7 halftime lead in setting numerous records en route to the win, dominating in all phases of the game as the final score would indicate.

The 2000 Buffaloes dropped their first three games, the non-Big 12 portion of the schedule, by a total of 10 points. CU rebounded to go 3-5 in league play, getting its first win at Texas A&M, one of the toughest places to win in the nation, and almost stunned No. 9 Nebraska before falling on a field goal at the final gun, 34-32.

CU opened 2001 with a disappointing 24-22 loss to Fresno State, which went on to have a great year, but Barnett wouldn't let his troops dwell on the defeat. The Buffs bounced right back and ended a two-year losing streak to CSU, the first of five straight wins. Colorado reappeared in the national rankings five games into the year, eventually zooming to No. 3 in all major polls in earning a Fiesta Bowl berth against Oregon. Though the Buffs suffered a disappointing 38-16 loss to the No. 2 Ducks in the bowl, CU finished No. 9 in both polls, it's best finish since 1996. The 2001 team also boasted five All-Americans, including John Mackey Award winner Daniel Graham at tight end, and eight All-Big 12 performers, and Barnett was a near-unanimous choice for the conference's coach of the year.

The 2002 Buffaloes overcame quite a bit of adversity to repeat at Big 12 North champions, none harder than a group of 18-to-22 year olds having to deal with the death of Tom McMahon, the team's popular co-defensive coordinator. Injuries also mounted, but the Buffs persevered after a 1-2 start to finish the regular season with a 9-5 mark, the school's best-ever record after dropping two of its first three games. High points included a 31-17 road win at UCLA, a thrilling 35-31 home win over Kansas State and a 28-13 victory at Nebraska, CU's first win in Lincoln since 1990. Two CU players earned All-America honors with four garnering All-Big 12 mention. The Buffs finished No. 20 in the polls after dropping a tough 31-28 decision in overtime to Wisconsin in the Alamo Bowl.

Thanks to that 2001 season, Barnett joined a very select group of head coaches who have twice coached the NCAA Most Improved Team. At Northwestern, his 1994 team was 3-7-1; the '95 Wildcats posted a 10-2 record for an NCAA-best six game improvement. In 2001, Colorado tied for the top spot (also at plus-6), enabling him to join three coaching legends to accomplish the feat on two occasions: Paul "Bear" Bryant pulled it off at Kentucky (1946) and Texas A&M (1955); John McKay at Southern Cal (1962 and 1972) and Johnny Majors at Pittsburgh (1973) and Tennessee (1989). And remember—Barnett was also an assistant coach at Colorado in 1985 when the Buffs tied for the best-improved mark.

Barnett returned to CU in 1999 from Northwestern University, where he had been the Wildcats' head coach since 1992. He took over the Northwestern program on Dec. 18, 1991, after having worked eight seasons as running backs and/or quarterbacks coach in Boulder, the last one also as offensive coordinator.

In seven seasons at Northwestern, he compiled a 35-45-1 record, which included the outright Big Ten Conference title in 1995 and a shared championship in 1996. He took the Wildcats to their first bowl game in 47 years when the '95 team played USC in the Rose Bowl. His 1996 squad went to the Citrus Bowl, marking the first time Northwestern ever went bowling in back-to-back seasons.

In fact, Barnett led Northwestern to two of its first three bowl appearances in its school history, and coached the Wildcats to two winning seasons in his tenure (1995 and 1996), matching the school's total in its previous 31 seasons. NU was 10-2 in 1995, with an 8-0 mark in Big Ten play, and 9-3 in 1996, posting a 7-1 record in league action. He was named the Big 10 Coach of the Year both seasons, and he won 18 citations in all as the Big 10 and/or national Coach of the Year for 1995.

Northwestern was honored with the 1998 AFCA's Outstanding Academic Award, as the Wildcats boasted the nation's highest graduation rate for the class of 1992. All 22 of Barnett's recruits that year graduated, and all doing so in four years.

Northwestern made its first appearance in the national polls in 1995 since Dec. 6, 1971 under Barnett. The Wildcats were ranked No. 8 in the Associated Press and No. 7 in the USA Today/CNN (coaches) final polls that year, and were No. 15 in the AP and No. 16 in the USAT/CNN final ballots for 1996.

Barnett is the first Colorado head coach to come to Boulder from an immediate head coaching position in the college ranks since 1974, when Bill Mallory joined CU after spending five years as head coach at Miami, Ohio. Chuck Fairbanks came to CU in 1979 from the New England Patriots, Bill McCartney in 1982 from Michigan where he was defensive coordinator, and Rick Neuheisel was promoted in 1995 from within to succeed McCartney.

He got his start in the coaching profession at his alma mater, the University of Missouri. After lettering as a senior at wide receiver for legendary head coach Dan Devine, he graduated from MU with a bachelor's degree in social studies in 1969. He earned his master's in education from MU in 1971, working that spring as a graduate assistant under coach Al Onofrio.

Barnett moved to Colorado that summer and spent the next two years as offensive coordinator at Air Academy High School in Colorado Springs. He was named head coach at Air Academy in 1973, a position he held for the next nine years. At Air Academy, his teams reached the state semifinals twice (1980, 1981) and won six conference titles. He was considered one of the state's finest prep coaches before leaving the school to become head coach at Fort Lewis College in Durango.

He coached the Raiders for two seasons (1982-83), compiling an 8-11-1 mark. In 1982, he guided FLC to a 4-5-1 mark, its best record in five years, and his 1983 team finished 4-6. The 1984 team, made up of players primarily recruited by Barnett, won its first and only Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference title in football.

McCartney brought Barnett into the Division I-A football ranks on Feb. 20, 1984, naming him CU's running backs coach. A year later, when McCartney made the dramatic announcement that the Buffaloes would switch to the wishbone offense, Barnett coached the quarterbacks and fullbacks, a position he would hold throughout his remaining tenure as a CU assistant. On Dec. 3, 1990, he was promoted to offensive coordinator after Gerry DiNardo resigned to become head coach at Vanderbilt. His first game as OC was in the 1991 Orange Bowl against Notre Dame, a 10-9 Colorado victory that enabled CU to win its first national championship in football.

During his eight seasons as an assistant coach at Colorado, he coached some very high profile players, most notably Lee Rouson, Eric McCarty, Mark Hatcher, the late Sal Aunese, George Hemingway, Erich Kissick, Kordell Stewart and the winningest quarterback in CU history, Darian Hagan.

Northwestern was 3-8, 2-9 and 3-7-1 in his first three seasons in Evanston, with the 8-24-1 mark almost identical to McCartney's 7-25-1 in his first three years at Colorado before he turned around the fortunes of the CU program.

Barnett was born May 23, 1946 in Lakeland, Fla., and graduated from Parkway Central High School in Chesterfield, Mo. He is married to the former Mary Weil, and they have two grown children, Courtney and Clay. Courtney graduated from Northwestern in 1997 and Clay from Georgetown in 2000. An avid golfer and runner, he was the official starter for the 2000 Bolder Boulder.

A Beta Theta Pi fraternity member in college, he was named as a coach on the 2001 NIC All-Fraternity All-America team.

Q&A WITH GARY BARNETT

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up?
"My mother and father."

Who were your favorite sports heroes growing up?
"Ken Boyer, Stan Musial and Johnny Unitas."

What did you want to be when you were little?
"A major league baseball player."

What made you decide to get into coaching?
"I couldn't live without football. It's in my blood."

What do you personally get out of coaching?
"A lot of headaches, a lot of heartaches but a great sense of fulfillment. I believe in my players, take them to where they cannot take themselves, and want a program that operates with one heartbeat."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive?
"Nelson Mandela."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of?
"The 1996 Rose Bowl (Northwestern-Southern Cal) and the 1991 Orange Bowl (when CU defeated Notre Dame 10-9 to win the national championship.)"

TOP PLAYERS COACHED (when a position coach)—All-Americans (1): Darian Hagan. All-Big Eight Performers (3): Hagan, Eric McCarty, Kordell Stewart. Bowl Game Most Valuable Players (1): Charles Johnson. NFL Players/Draft Picks (4): Hagan, Vance Joseph, Rouson, Stewart.

RECORD—Barnett is 72-77-2 as a head coach: 29-21 at Colorado, 35-45-1 at Northwestern and 8-11-1 at Fort Lewis. He has been a head coach for 151 Division I-A games, but has coached in 245 games overall when including his eight years as a CU assistant (during which the Buffs posted a 59-34-2 record). He has coached in 10 bowl games (five New Year's Day).

Mary Barnett Active In AFCWA

Mary Barnett, Gary's wife of 35 years, served as president of the American Football Coaches Wives Association for 2002, and she remains active as a board member of the organization.

Her biggest task was coordinating a membership drive among the wives of the thousands of coaches who belong to the AFCA. She wrote several newsletters over the course of her term, articles specifically designed to inform and connect the membership. The AFCWA also published a directory and went on-line with a new website for the first time by the end of her term.

CU was 59-34-2 during his tenure as an assistant coach under Bill McCartney. In his last three seasons at Colorado, the Buffaloes did not lose a Big Eight Conference game (20-0-1). He was named head coach at Northwestern on Dec. 18, 1991, but did accompany CU to Miami to coach in the Blockbuster Bowl against Alabama.

NOTE: For year-by-year as head coach at Colorado, please refer to the record section later in this guide.

THE ASSISTANT COACHES

BRIAN CABRAL

Assistant Head Coach/Inside Linebackers

Brian Cabral is in his 15th season at CU, his 14th as a full time assistant coach, as he joined the Buffalo staff as graduate assistant in 1989. He was promoted to assistant head coach on Feb. 1, 1999, shortly after CU hired Gary Barnett as head coach. He also coaches the punt return unit on special teams.

His 2001 punt return team led the nation with a 17.4 average, and also boasted the nation's top individual return man in Roman Hollowell, who averaged 18.0 per return and scored two touchdowns. In 2002, freshman

Jeremy Bloom averaged 15.0 yards per return and was 13th in the nation. Cabral prides himself on the team being composed largely of non-starters, drawing comparison to his roots when he was special teams captain of the Chicago Bears.

In the summer of 2002, he was one of 500 nationwide recipients of the AFLAC National Assistant Coach-of-the-Year Award. Coaches on all levels were honored, from youth to professional, and he was one of 10 selected regionally to receive the award.

His 14 years as a full-time assistant rank as the third most in CU history, as he trails two legendary Franks: Potts and Prentup, both of whom assisted Buff head coaches for 18 years, and the late Dan Staveland, who coached 15.

Cabral, 47, tutored the inside linebackers his first year in Boulder as a grad assistant, and assumed full-time duties in the same capacity in 1990. He returned to Colorado, his alma mater, from Purdue, where he coached the inside linebackers for two seasons (1987-88). He also is the director of CU's summer football camps.

He is a 1978 CU graduate, as he earned a B.S. degree in therapeutic recreation. He lettered three seasons for the Buffs at linebacker from 1975 to 1977 under Coach Bill Mallory, as he was a captain and played a big role on CU's Big Eight champion team in 1976. He led CU with 13 tackles (12 solo) in the 1977 Orange Bowl against Ohio State.

Cabral had 297 tackles in his CU career (120 solo, 177 assisted), a number that still has him tied for 11th on Colorado's all-time list. A unique fact is that he has coached five of the players on the list ahead of him: Matt Russell, Greg Biekert, Ted Johnson, Chad Brown and Michael Jones. A sixth, Jashon Sykes, is the player he is tied with.

He was a nine-year NFL veteran, as Atlanta drafted him in the fourth round in 1978. He played two seasons with Atlanta, one with Green Bay and six with Chicago. As the captain of the Bears' special teams, he was a member of Chicago's Super Bowl XX champion team in 1985. He was selected as the Frito-Lay Unsung Hero in the Bears' win over New England, as he had two solo and two assisted tackles on special teams.

Known as one of the top linebacker coaches in the nation, his students have included Matt Russell, the 1996 Butkus Award winner, and all-Big Eight performers Greg Biekert, Chad Brown and Ted Johnson, who have gone on to stardom in the National Football League. He also recruited Rashaan Salaam, the 1994 Heisman trophy winner, and Chris Naeole, a 1996 All-American.

He was born June 23, 1956, in Fort Benning, Ga, but grew up in Kailua, Hawaii. He is married to the former Becky Lucas, and they have three children. Kyle (25), Maile (21) and Mele (15). He is an active member in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He has authored a book ("Second String Champion"), and his hobbies include surfing, skateboarding and snowboarding.

VINCE OKRUCH

Defensive Coordinator/Safeties

Vince Okruch is in his fifth season of his second stint at Colorado, as he returned with Gary Barnett to where he worked two seasons as a graduate assistant in the 1980s. He was named co-defensive coordinator and outside linebackers coach shortly after Barnett was hired on Jan. 20, 1999. He came to CU from Northwestern, where he spent seven seasons on Barnett's staff, including the last two as co-defensive coordinator.

Prior to the 2002 season, CU switched defensive schemes and he took over coaching the safeties. He also coaches the punt unit with Barnett on special teams.

He was named the sole defensive coordinator on June 24, 2002, as he assumed the entire coordinator responsibilities after his cohort for the first three seasons, Tom McMahon, passed away from complications due to cancer earlier that month.

Okruch, 48, tutored the running backs during his two years in Boulder (1983-84), as he worked directly with Barnett when he first joined Bill McCartney's staff. He moved on to the University of Minnesota, where he coached one more season as a grad assistant before being hired full-time. He coached the running backs for the Golden Gophers, both as a G.A. in 1985 and for his first two years as a full-fledged assistant, and then switched sides of the ball and coached the linebackers for the next four seasons (1988-91).

He made the move to Northwestern in 1992 when Barnett was hired as head coach, coaching the defensive line for five seasons (1992-96) before being promoted to co-defensive coordinator in 1997. He handled that role for the last two years, also coaching the inside linebackers.

He was a four-year letterman at Culver-Stockton College (Canton, Mo.), lettering twice at quarterback and two more times at tight end from 1973-76. He also lettered in four times in baseball.

Okruch graduated from Culver-Stockton in 1977 with a bachelor's degree in physical education, and earned his master's from the school in 1980. He broke into coaching as defensive backs coach at his alma mater in 1977, and then moved on to Northeast Missouri State for two years (1978-79) as a graduate assistant working with the quarterbacks and wide receivers. He returned to Culver-Stockton in 1980, where he was head coach for three seasons.

He was born Aug. 9, 1955 in Buffalo, N.Y., where he prepped at Cardinal O'Hara High School, earning all-city and honorable mention all-state honors at quarterback as a senior. He is married to the former Janet Hammons, and they have two children, daughter Taylor (18) and son Jordan (14).

Q&A WITH VINCE OKRUCH

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My father and my high school coach."

Who was your favorite sports hero growing up? "Joe Namath."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A jet fighter pilot."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "My passion for football."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "Helping young men to get where they couldn't take themselves."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Eric Clapton."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "The 1996 Rose Bowl (Northwestern-Southern Cal), Super Bowl XXV (Buffalo-N.Y. Giants), and the World Series."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (3): Barry Gardner, Mark Mariscal, Darrell Thompson. All-Big 12 Performers (1): Mariscal. All-Big 10 Performers (2): Gardner, Thompson. NFL Players/Draft Picks (7): Frank Boudreaux, Gardner, Ron Goetz, Eddie Miles, Matt Rice, Lee Rouson, Thompson.

RECORD—Okruch has coached 198 games as a full-time coach in the Division I-A ranks, 49 at Colorado (29-21), 81 at Northwestern (35-45-1) and 67 at Minnesota (28-37-2). He was also a part of 34 more as a graduate assistant (22 at Colorado and 12 at Minnesota). He has coached in seven bowl games (three New Year's Day).

SHAWN WATSON

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Shawn Watson joined the Colorado staff as quarterbacks coach on Jan. 22, 1999, coming to CU from Northwestern with head coach Gary Barnett after holding a similar position for two seasons at Northwestern.

He was named offensive coordinator almost exactly a year later, on Jan. 19, 2000, following the departure of Tom Cable, who had held the position for one season before leaving to become head coach at Idaho. In his first game as CU's O-coordinator, the Buffs gained 532 yards against Colorado State, the most ever by a Buff team in their first game under a new offensive "pilot." In 2001, CU was 20th in the nation in total offense (434.4 yards per game), but was only the third team in Buff history to average both 200 yards rushing and passing.

Watson, 44, was hired by Barnett at Northwestern in 1997 after he spent three seasons as head coach at Southern Illinois. During his three years at the helm of the Salukis, SIU compiled an 11-22 record, but produced 20 all-conference players. Two of his standout players included Mark Gagliano, who led the nation in punting in 1996, and tight end Damon Jones, who was drafted in the fifth round by Jacksonville in the 1997 NFL draft.

Watson tutored quarterback Mike Moschetti his first year in Boulder, watching his senior signal-caller set a school record for completion percentage for a single season, 61.6 percent. Moschetti completed 204 of 331 passes for 2,693 yards, with 18 touchdowns and 12 interceptions. He also helped bring along redshirt freshman Zac Colvin, who became only the fifth freshman to start a game for CU, and just the second to lead the team to victory in CU's 16-12 win at Iowa State.

Watson first attended Illinois on a football scholarship, but then transferred to Southern Illinois, where he would eventually play two seasons at strong safety. He began his coaching career at SIU as a graduate assistant in 1982, the same year he earned his bachelor's degree in health education. He moved on to the University of Illinois for the next four seasons (1983-86), coaching a host of positions while he worked on his master's degree, also in health education. He was a graduate assistant for the first two years, and then was the full-time tackles and tight ends coach in 1985 and the ends and wide receivers coach in 1986. The Illini went to the Rose and Peach bowls during his stay in Champaign.

After working with wide receivers, tight ends and special teams at Illinois, he moved on to Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, where he would coach the next seven seasons. He was the tight ends coach his first three years there (1987-89), then the wide receivers mentor (1989-91) and then quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator for his final two years (1992-93).

He was born Sept. 21, 1959 in Carbondale, Ill., and graduated from Carverville (Ill.) High School where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He is married to the former Anita Wente and is the father of three, Amber (23), Aaron (17) and Adam (15).

What made you decide to get into coaching? "My high school coach (Mike Deck) and college coach (Rey Dempsey) both extolled the virtues of the business and really got me interested in it."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "I enjoy the hard work and challenges coaching provides, as well as developing players both on and off the field in a game I love and respect."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Jesus Christ."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "Chicago Bulls' games and watching Michael Jordan compete."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (5): Coe Bonner, Cap Boso, Mark Gagliano, Damon Jones, David Williams. All-Big 10 Performers (2): Boso, Williams. NFL Players/Draft Picks (2): Boso, Jones.

RECORD—He has been a full-time assistant coach for 197 Division I-A games, along with his 33 as head coach of a Division I-AA program. Colorado is 29-21 in his four years in Boulder; Illinois was 27-18-1 his four years in Champaign-Urbana, while Miami was 28-44-5 in his seven years and Northwestern 8-16 in two years. He has coached in six bowl games (two New Year's Day).

DAVE BORBELY

Offensive Line

Dave Borbely is in his second year as offensive line coach, as he joined the Colorado staff on Feb. 15, 2002. He also coaches the offensive field goal/PAT unit on special teams.

Borbely, 44, came to CU with an outstanding resume, topped off by spending the last four seasons at Notre Dame. In South Bend, he coached the entire offensive line in 1998 and 1999 and solely the guards and centers in 2000 and 2001. While with the Irish, he coached in two New Year's Day bowls ('99 Gator and '01 Fiesta), as was on the same staff in 1998 as the late CU co-defensive coordinator Tom McMahon. His 2000 Notre Dame line, anchored by third-team All-American Mike Gandy, helped pave the way for the Irish to average 213.5 yards rushing per game, 14th in the nation.

In his first year at Colorado (2002), the Buffs finished sixth in the NCAA in rushing, largely due to an offensive line, minus two NFL draft picks, melding together.

He was set to coach the offensive line at Kansas in the spring of 2002, but the CU position opened when Steve Marshall left the Buffs a little over a month later to join the NFL expansion Houston Texans. Gary Barnett made quick work to get him to Boulder.

Q&A WITH DAVE BORBELY

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My parents."

Who was your favorite sports hero growing up? "Ernie Banks."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A fireman."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "I had a great passion for the game of football as a player, and I couldn't imagine anything else I wanted to do other than coach."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "I get a great sense of satisfaction seeing a group of young men molded into one unit, achieving more as a group than they ever could as individuals."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Mick Jagger."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "I've coached in some great games and places, but it's a three-way tie: my son Joe's first football game, my daughter Laura's first gymnastics practice, and my son Brian's first hockey game."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (3): Mike Gandy, Wayne Lucier, Mike Rosenthal. All-Big 12 (2): Justin Bates, Lucier. All-SWC (1): Courtney Hall. AP All-East (1): Dick Beck. All-Big East (2): Tre Johnson, Brian Krulikowski. NFL Players/Draft Picks (11): Brad Bager, Bates, Gandy, Hall, Johnson, Jim Jones, Lucier, James Parrish, Luke Petitgout, Rosenthal, Jerry Wisne.

RECORD—He has coached in 196 games as a full-time collegiate assistant coach, 220 including his time as a grad assistant at Tennessee. That includes 14 at Colorado, with a record of 9-5. He has coached in seven bowl games (two New Year's Day).

A 1981 graduate of DePauw University, he earned his degree in history while lettering four times in football, being named the team's top lineman twice. His first taste of coaching came at the University of Evansville, where he worked two years (1981-82) as a graduate assistant while earning his master's degree in secondary education.

He moved on to become the defensive line coach for the freshman team at Penn in 1983 (a part-time position), and then worked the next two seasons as a graduate assistant at Tennessee, with both Volunteer teams going to bowl games ('84 Sun and '86 Sugar).

His first full-time coaching position followed at Rice University in the fall of 1986, and it was the first of four successive three-year stints at different programs around the country. He moved from Rice to Temple in 1989, then to Tulane in 1992 and then to Stanford in 1995 before settling at Notre Dame in 1998. Along the entire way he coached the offensive line, and he was also a coach of two Stanford teams that went to the post-season ('95 Liberty and '96 Sun bowls). No less than six of the players he has coached have been drafted into the National Football League.

He was born April 5, 1959 in Hammond, Ind., and graduated from Hammond (Ind.) High, where he lettered in football, baseball and wrestling. He is married to the former Bev Beard, and they have three children, Joseph (14), Laura (12) and Brian (10).

TED GILMORE

Wide Receivers

Ted Gilmore is in his first season on the Colorado staff, as he was hired as wide receivers coach on Feb. 20, 2003.

Gilmore, 36, joined the CU staff after serving two years as the receivers coach at Purdue University. He has roots in the Rocky Mountain area, as he graduated up the road from the University of Wyoming.

After transferring to Wyoming from Butler Community College (Eldorado, Kan.), he lettered at receiver for the Cowboys in 1988 and 1989. He caught 40 passes for a team-high 594 yards and three touchdowns as a junior, and snared 32 receptions for 445 yards and two scores as a senior, when he earned second-team all-Western Athletic Conference honors. He played in one bowl game, a Wyoming loss to Oklahoma State in the Holiday Bowl his junior year. He earned his bachelor's degree from Wyoming in sociology in 1991.

He began his coaching career at his alma mater, working as a graduate assistant with both receivers and tight ends for three seasons (1994-96) under Wyoming's then-head coach, Joe Tiller. He was then hired as the full-time receivers coach by the Cowboys for the 1997 and 1998 seasons. He moved on to Kansas for the 1999 season where he coached the tight ends, and then to Houston as its receiver coach for the 2000 season, where he coached the Cougars' all-time receptions leader, Orlando Inglesias. He then rejoined Tiller on the Purdue staff in the spring of 2001.

At Purdue, he coached perhaps the top receiver duo in the league in 2002, sophomore Taylor Stubblefield and junior John Standeford. The pair combined for 152 receptions for 2,096 yards; Stubblefield was seventh in the NCAA in receptions per game (77 in 10 games), while Standeford caught 75 passes for 1,307 yards and 13 touchdowns, ranking 11th in the nation in yards and tying for third in TD receptions. Purdue was one of the top offensive teams in the nation in 2002, averaging 452.2 yards per game (seventh in the NCAA), including 255.7 yards passing.

He was born March 21, 1967 in Wichita, Kan., and graduated from Wichita South High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He is married to the former Jennifer Schey, and the couple has two small children, daughter Taylor (3) and son T.J., born last December 9. Jennifer, a Longmont native, is the daughter of Dave Schey, one of the top amateur golfers in Colorado history.

Q&A WITH TED GILMORE

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My mother."

Who was your favorite sports hero growing up? "Dr. J (Julius Erving)."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A fireman."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "Pure and simple: the love of the game."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "The day-to-day challenge of dealing with so many different people, and the difference you can make on just one life."

Who is the one person in the world you would really like to meet: "Dr. J."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended? "My older sister's high school playoff game."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (1): Marcus Harris (Biletnikoff Award winner). All-WAC (2): Harris, Wendell Montgomery. All-Conference USA (2): Orlando Inglesias, Brian Robinson. All-Big 10 (1): John Standeford. NFL Players/Draft Picks (1): Sean McDermott.

RECORD—He has coached in 72 Division I-A games as a full-time coach (36-36), 107 games including his time as a graduate assistant. Wyoming was 15-9 his two full-time seasons there (37-22 including his GA years), while Kansas was 5-7, Houston 3-8 and Purdue 13-12 when he was on staff. He has coached in two bowl games (none yet on New Year's Day).

VANCE JOSEPH

Cornerbacks

Vance Joseph is in his second year as a full-time assistant on Gary Barnett's Colorado staff, as he officially was named cornerbacks coach on June 24, 2002. Hired at the age of 29, he was the youngest full-time coach hired by the Buffaloes in nine years. He also coaches the kickoff coverage unit on special teams.

Joseph, now 30, returned to his alma mater after a brief stint as the secondary coach at Wyoming, where he was hired in April 2002 following two years as a graduate assistant at CU. His return was bittersweet, however, as he replaced his mentor as a GA, co-defensive coordinator Tom McMahon after he succumbed to cancer in June 2002.

He was first hired as a grad assistant in December 1999, and worked the 2000 and 2001 seasons (spring and fall). He assisted McMahon with the secondary; when McMahon took ill in 2000 but successfully beat a first bout with cancer, Joseph's duties were stepped up and he wound up coaching a bit more than the usual grad assistant role called for.

Joseph was no stranger to the CU football program or to many members of the coaching staff. He lettered three times during his collegiate career at CU, which spanned five years (1990-94). He was a true freshman who saw some spot action on Colorado's 1990 national championship team, and as a quarterback, was under the tutelage for two years by Barnett, who was coaching the quarterbacks and fullbacks as an assistant on Bill McCartney's staff. His redshirt year came in 1992, and he was moved to tailback the spring of his senior year, playing behind Heisman Trophy winner Rashaan Salaam and frosh sensation Herchell Troutman in 1994.

Joseph completed 34-of-61 passes for 454 yards and four touchdowns (with no interceptions) during his CU career, and though he never started a game, he often came on in "relief" in injury situations. In one of those games, against Kansas in 1991, he directed an 8-play, 80-yard drive in the final two minutes to rally the Buffs to a 30-24 win. He also had 50 career rushes for 237 yards and a touchdown, and was recruited to CU by then-assistant Bob Simmons, now the head coach at Oklahoma State.

He graduated from CU in the August prior to his senior season (1994), earning his bachelor's degree in marketing. He signed as a free agent with the New York Jets in 1995, but as a defensive back. Pressed into a starting role due to injuries, he played 17 games in the NFL with New York and Indianapolis over the course of two seasons, and he had two interceptions. He also spent a year working as a salesman for BWD Sports Insurance.

Born Sept. 20, 1972 in Marrero, La., he graduated from Archbishop Shaw High School in Marrero, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. As a 12-year old, he was honored as "Mr. Biddy World," a prestigious award presented to the best 11- and 12-year old basketball player in the country. His hobbies include golf, softball and basketball, and he is married to the former Holly Pittman, who is a registered nurse. They have a daughter, Nataly (3).

Q&A WITH VANCE JOSEPH

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My mother."

Who was your favorite sports hero growing up? "Julius Erving."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A professional football player."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "The love of the game and to pass on what I've learned to make others better."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "I find it gratifying to watch a player improve his game."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Bill Clinton."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "The '91 Orange Bowl when Colorado beat Notre Dame to win the national championship."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Big 12 (1): Michael Lewis. NFL Players/Draft Picks (3): Lewis, Robbie Robinson, Donald Strickland.

RECORD—He has coached in 14 Division I-A games as a full-time coach, all at Colorado, with a 9-5 record. CU was 13-11 in his 24 games as a graduate assistant, and he coached in two bowl games (2002 Fiesta, 2002 Alamo). As a player, Joseph was on a great era of CU teams, as the Buffs were 47-10-4 in his five years as an undergraduate.

Shawn Simms is in his first year as a member of the Colorado football staff, as he was hired on Jan. 15, 2003 to coach the running backs.

Simms, 40, joined the CU staff after coaching the running backs the previous two seasons at the University of Pittsburgh. His experience includes stops at Illinois and Ohio State.

Simms earned his bachelor's degree in business education from Bowling Green in 1986, where he lettered as a linebacker and was an all-Mid America Conference performer as a senior in 1984. His first taste of coaching came in 1985 with Heidelberg in nearby Tiffin, Ohio, as he coached the linebackers one year and the secondary in another while finishing up his degree at Bowling Green. He then moved on to San Diego State, where spent one season (1987) as a defensive grad assistant; while at SDSU, he studied in its master's program in educational administration.

His first full-time position was as running back coach with Oberlin, where he worked one year (1988), before accepting his first full-time Division I-A job with Miami, Ohio.

After two seasons as outside linebacker coach with Miami (1989-90), he moved on to Toledo, where he again coached the running backs for four seasons (1991-94). Simms then spent the 1995 and 1996 seasons as running backs coach at Illinois, where he tutored Robert Holcombe, who set single game, season and career rushing records for the Fighting Illini. Holcombe went on to earn a Super Bowl ring with the '99 St. Louis Rams.

Simms moved on to Ohio State for the 1997 through 1999 seasons, switching sides of the ball in coaching defensive ends, including standout performers James Cotton and Rodney Bailey, future NFL draft picks. He also recruited four players who saw plenty of action for the Buckeyes on their 2002 national championship team, including starting defensive end Will Smith.

Prior to joining the Pittsburgh staff in 2001, he coached the running backs at Rutgers for the 2000 season. At Pitt, he coached junior Brandon Miree, who gained 943 yards in 2002 to help lead Pittsburgh to a 9-4 record and near upset of No. 1 Miami.

He was born Feb. 15, 1963 in Fremont, Ohio, and graduated from Fremont's Ross High School, where he lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track. His half brother, Charles Woodson, won the Heisman Trophy in 1997 as a collegian at Michigan and is currently with the Oakland Raiders. He is married to the former Victoria Trail and the couple has two boys, Tre' (6) and Trent (1).

Q&A WITH SHAWN SIMMS

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My mother."

Who was your favorite sports hero growing up? "I played linebacker, and I loved Hollywood Henderson. I even wore his jersey in high school."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A professional football player."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "I really loved my high school football coach, Wayne 'Pete' Moore. I wanted to stay in football and I wanted to stick with it somehow. But Pete was a big influence on me."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "You get competition, and you get to try to coach and teach guys to be their best, become what they want to be, have them evolve into a complete person and a complete player. But most of all, is to provide a good example of someone to look up to and who will do the right things in life."

Who is the one person in the world you would really like to meet? "Tiger Woods."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended? "Having the opportunity to watch my brother (Charles Woodson) play in the National Football League on a professional level is something special."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Big 10 (2): Rodney Bailey, James Cotton, All-ECAC (1): Raymond Kirkley, NFL Players/Draft Picks (3): Bailey, Cotton, Robert Holcomb, Kenny Petersen.

RECORD—In 14 years in the Division I-A ranks, he has coached in 161 games with Miami, Ohio (7-13-2), Toledo (23-19-2), Illinois (7-14-1), Ohio State (27-10), Rutgers (3-8) and Pittsburgh (16-9). He has coached in four bowl games (two New Year's Day).

CHRIS WILSON

Defensive Line

Chris Wilson is in his fourth year at CU, as he joined the Buffalo staff as defensive line coach on May 26, 2000. He became only the second full-time coach hired at the school after the conclusion of spring football since 1982. He also coaches the field goal and PAT defensive unit on special teams.

Wilson, 34, came to CU from Army, where he had joined the Cadet staff in January, 2000, as defensive line coach when Todd Berry replaced Bob Sutton as head coach following Sutton's dismissal in December. Wilson had spent the 1998 and 1999 seasons with Berry at Illinois State. The Redbirds advanced to the NCAA I-AA semifinals in 1999, finishing with an 11-3 record and a 6-0 league mark to win the Gateway Conference title.

A four-year letterman at linebacker for Oklahoma between 1988-91, he recorded 303 tackles, a number that still stands as 14th best in Sooner history. He had 104 tackles as a sophomore, 86 as a junior, despite missing two-plus games to injury, and posted 97 as a senior. He was a preseason nominee for the '91 Butkus Award. Wilson earned second-team all-Big Eight honors three times and was a third-team All-America selection as a junior by the Football News. A two-time team captain, he graduated from OU with a degree in communications in 1992.

Ironically, some of his top career games came against Colorado, as he had 11 tackles, a pass broken up and a forced fumble in the '89 game in Norman won by CU, 20-3; he was OU's Big Eight defensive player-of-the-week nomination. He had nine tackles in the 1990 game in Boulder and led the Sooners with eight stops in the '91 contest, both games again won by the Buffs. He played for both Barry Switzer and Gary Gibbs at Oklahoma, and played in three bowl games.

The Chicago Bears drafted him in the 12th round in 1992, but eventually did not make the final roster. He entered the coaching ranks in 1993 as a graduate assistant at Indiana State, and was then hired by the Sycamores full-time in the spring of 1994 to tutor the inside linebackers. He moved on to Northern Illinois in 1995, coaching the outside linebackers and coordinating the team's nickel package. He was the defensive coordinator and line coach for Northeastern Oklahoma A & M in 1996, and then returned to Indiana State for the 1997 season as outside linebackers coach and recruiting coordinator before joining Berry at Illinois State and then Army. He has also had three minority internships with NFL teams, Dallas (1995), Arizona (1997) and Miami (1998).

Wilson was born Jan. 8, 1969 in Dallas, Texas, and graduated from Richardson (Texas) High School, where he lettered in football and track. He is married to the former Tina Brown, a schoolteacher, and they have two children, son Caleb (7) and daughter Colby (3). His hobbies include collecting old music, particularly jazz.

Q&A WITH CHRIS WILSON

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My mother and grandfather."

Who was your favorite sports hero growing up? "Lawrence Taylor."

What did you want to be when you were little? "The President of the U.S.A."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "It chose me."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "I love seeing the team as well as the individuals reach their potential."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Jesus Christ."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "The 1988 Orange Bowl for the National Championship when I was a freshman at Oklahoma."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (2): Damien Gregory, Chad Pegues. All-Big 12 Performers (1): Justin Bannan. NFL Players/Draft Picks (3): Tyler Brayton, Gregory, Pegues.

RECORD—Wilson has coached in 49 Division I-A games, 38 with Colorado (22-16) and 11 with Northern Illinois in 1995 (NIU went 3-8). He coached in 47 games on the Division I-AA level as a full-time coach (58 including his grad assistant year), 25 at Illinois State (16-9) and the balance at Indiana State. He has coached in two bowl games (one New Year's Day).

JOHN WRISTEN

Tight Ends

John Wristen, now in his fifth year on the Colorado staff, returned to his native state with Gary Barnett, as he was named running backs coach on Jan. 22, 1999. He had accompanied Barnett to Northwestern in 1992 after spending the previous two seasons as a graduate assistant for the Buffaloes, when Barnett was a CU assistant.

He switched assignments in January 2001, as he took over coaching the tight ends. He also assumed coaching the kickoff return unit on special teams in 2002.

In his first two seasons as a full-time coach in Boulder, he helped tutor Cortlen Johnson, who rushed for 1,657 yards in just 19 games. In his third season, he coached senior tight end Daniel Graham, who was selected a unanimous All-American and was named the recipient of the second annual John Mackey Award as the nation's top tight end.

Wristen, 41, has lived all but seven years of his life in Colorado. He was a star quarterback at Southern Colorado, lettering four years between 1980-83 and earning first-team NAIA All-America honors as a senior.

Q&A WITH JOHN WRISTEN

Who provided the greatest inspiration to you growing up? "My mother, father and grandmother."

Who was your favorite sports hero growing up? "Johnny Unitas."

What did you want to be when you were little? "A pro football quarterback."

What made you decide to get into coaching? "When I knew I couldn't play any more, plus when I thought of all the coaches who gave me so much, I decided that I wanted to give that back."

What do you personally get out of coaching? "The joy of taking a player where he can't take himself, both on the field and off. And the relationship with your players."

Who would you really like to meet, or have met while they were alive? "Garth Brooks."

What is the most memorable sporting event you have ever attended or been a part of? "The 1996 Rose Bowl (Northwestern versus Southern Cal) and the 1991 Orange Bowl/National Championship (Colorado's 10-9 win over Notre Dame)."

TOP PLAYERS COACHED—All-Americans (2): Darnell Autry, Daniel Graham (John Mackey Award winner). All-Big Eight/12 Performers (2): Graham, Darian Hagan. All-Big 10 Performers (2): Autry, Matt Hartl. NFL Players/Draft Picks (4): Autry, Hagan, Dennis Lundy, Lamont Warren.

RECORD—Wristen has been a part of 156 games in Division I-A, 81 with Northwestern (35-45-1), 25 with Colorado as a graduate assistant (19-4-2), and 50 with the Buffaloes as a full-time coach (29-21). He has coached in seven bowl games (four New Year's Day).

Upon his graduation from "the other" USC in 1983, where he earned his bachelor's degree in physical education, he worked as a student teacher at his alma mater in 1984. He was a free agent in the Denver Broncos' training camp that summer. He got his start in coaching at Weslaco (Texas) High School in 1985, working as the offensive coordinator. He went back to school to earn his master's in special education, which he did from Adams State College (Alamosa, Colo.) in 1987. While attending school at Adams State, he was the head coach at nearby Rocky Ford High School for two years (1986-87).

He popped over to Colorado's western slope for two years, as he was the offensive coordinator at Fort Lewis College in Durango for two years (1988-89), before joining the CU coaching ranks for the first time in 1990 as a graduate assistant. He worked directly for Barnett at Colorado, helping with the quarterbacks and fullbacks in CU's national championship season in 1990, and then with the running backs in 1991. He then followed Barnett to Northwestern when he was named head coach in Dec., 1991.

He coached the running backs for seven seasons at Northwestern, including Darnell Autry, an All-American and Heisman Trophy finalist in 1995, and Dennis Lundy. Lundy set many school records under Wristen's tutelage, only to see Autry break most of them just one year later.

He was born April 15, 1962 in Denver, and graduated from Pueblo (Colo.) South High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He is married to the former Sue Forward, and the couple has three children, daughters JoVanna (16) and Bailey (6) and son Clay (8). His hobbies include golf and fishing.

DAVID HANSBURG

Coordinator of Football Operations

David Hansburg is now in his second "tour of duty" on the Colorado football staff, as he returned to the Gary Barnett's Buff program in January 2002 as the coordinator of football operations.

Hansburg, 35, held the same position at Colorado for the 1999 season before leaving Boulder for the University of Idaho where he was an assistant coach (safeties) for the Vandals in both 2000 and 2001. He also was the special teams coordinator his second year there under former CU offensive coordinator Tom Cable, who took Hansburg with him when he was named head coach.

He was associated for five years (1994-98) with Northwestern under Barnett, working the first three years as a graduate assistant coach with the defensive backs. He was present for the Wildcats' 1995 and 1996 Big 10 championship seasons, which earned Northwestern appearances in the '96 Rose Bowl and '97

Citrus Bowl. In the spring of '97, he was hired full-time as the coordinator of football operations.

Hansburg graduated from Amherst (Mass.) College in 1990, where he played football for one year (free safety) and lettered four times in lacrosse (defenseman) while earning his bachelor's degree in history. He earned his master's while working in the football office at Northwestern, receiving his degree in higher education administration in 1996.

He was the head junior high football coach at Dwight-Englewood (N.J.) High School for two years (1990-91), and coordinated the defense there for the varsity lacrosse team for four seasons (1991-94). In 1992, he was named head coach of the varsity football team at DEHS, serving in that capacity for two years. As a head coach, he oversaw the entire program, was the offensive coordinator and worked specifically with the offensive and defensive backs. He was the youngest head coach in the New Jersey High School ranks when he was hired at the age of 23 in 1992.

He was born Oct. 1, 1968 in New York City, and graduated from Roslyn (N.Y.) High School, where he lettered in football, lacrosse and track. He is married to the former Holly Kreiman and they have two children, Paxton (3), and Zoe (born last Sept. 14).

RECORD—Idaho was 6-16 in his two years there, as IU was making the tough transition to Division I-A. Colorado is 16-10 in his two seasons on the staff.

FOOTBALL SUPPORT STAFF

JASON ECK
Graduate Assistant

Jason Eck is in his second year as a graduate assistant on the Colorado staff, as he assists the offensive coaches in addition to other administrative chores.

Eck, 26, was hired in February 2002 and came to Colorado from the University of Wisconsin, where he had worked two seasons as a graduate assistant, specifically with the offensive line. He coached in two bowl games (wins over Stanford in the 2000 Rose and UCLA in the 2000 Sun), and he helped coach seven former Badgers who are currently playing in the National Football League. He also helped tutor three Buffs in 2002 who were drafted or signed as free agents in the NFL.

He lettered as a senior playing center under coach Barry Alvarez, as he was the back-up center for Wisconsin's 1998 Big Ten champion team. He earned academic all-Big 10 honors that season, also earning Athletic Board Scholar honors. He was a member of three teams that went to bowl games, including a 38-31 win over UCLA in the Rose Bowl his senior year, when the Badgers finished 11-1 and were ranked No. 5 in the nation by the coaches (No. 6 in the Associated Press poll).

He graduated from Wisconsin in 1999 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology, and also earned his Master's in business from Wisconsin in 2001.

Born Aug. 11, 1977 in LaCrosse, Wis., he graduated from Atlanta's St. Pius X High School, where he lettered in football. His father was the head basketball coach at Toledo and Wisconsin-Stevens Point, and was an assistant at Bradley, Pittsburgh and Loyola-Chicago (he played collegiately at Xavier). He is married to the former Kim Tribbey, and they have a son, Quentin, born last October.

Jean Onaga is in her 18th year with the Colorado football program, and she handles all secretarial duties for the offensive coaches. She graduated from Kapiolani C.C. in Honolulu, Hawai'i, with a degree in business. Onaga's first season with the Buffaloes was in 1986. A native of Honolulu, she is married (Loren).

Kathy Brent is in her third year on the Colorado staff, as she is the administrative assistant to head coach Gary Barnett. She joined the staff in March 2001, returning to Colorado from Seattle, where she had lived for the previous seven months. Prior to her journey to the Pacific Northwest, she managed a Bed & Breakfast in Boulder (Gunbarrel Guest House) for seven years and has otherwise lived in Colorado since 1983. A native of Canyon, Texas, she is the mother of two, daughter Amy (a recent CU graduate) and son Matt (a fireman in Snowmass). Her hobbies include fly-fishing and touring.

Karyn Bennett is in her second year on the staff, and she is the secretary for the defensive coaches. A native of Longmont, she graduated from Gonzaga University with a degree in international studies. She came to CU from Amazon.com, where she worked in customer service.

LEE GOLDSTEIN
Graduate Assistant

Lee Goldstein is in his second year as a graduate assistant on the Colorado staff, as he assists the defensive coaches in addition to other administrative chores.

Goldstein, 28, was hired in March 2002 and came to Colorado from Tulane University, where he had worked the previous four seasons, one as an offensive intern and three as the defensive grad assistant. In his season as an offensive intern, the Green Wave concluded a 12-0 season with a 41-27 win over Brigham Young in the Liberty Bowl and finished No. 7 in the nation.

He graduated from the University of Arizona in 1998, earning his bachelor's degree in biology. He played wide receiver under coach Dick Tomey for the Wildcats, and won the Mary Roby Award for academics. He anticipated earning his MBA in both management and marketing this summer from Tulane.

He has also worked at Dream Street, a camp for kids with disabilities, training counselors and directing the athletic program.

Born Aug. 28, 1975 in Jackson, Miss., he graduated from St. Andrews High School in Jackson, where he lettered in football, soccer and track. He is single.

William Woodruff is in his third year as the recruiting assistant/intern for the Colorado football program. A 2001 graduate of the University of Georgia, where he earned his bachelor's degree in recreation and leisure studies, he had worked for a year-and-a-half in Georgia's football recruiting as a student assistant. Born Feb. 17, 1978 in Newnan, Ga., he graduated from Monroe (Ga.) Area High School where he lettered in football. He is single.

HEAD COACH GARY BARNETT QUOTES

Quick Thoughts On The 2002 Season

"You have to look back and marvel at the job that our seniors did, and our coaches did, holding the team together through a lot of hard times, and to have it persevere and excel the way it did. I hate to be trite and say it speaks volumes to... but it does, it speaks volumes to the kind of character we have on this football team, the kind of leadership and the job our assistant coaches did."

On If He Was Satisfied Despite The Results Of The Big 12 Title Game And The Alamo Bowl

"I think of course you get a little to a degree, because you have to recruit with that, with the positives that came out of the overall season, and that's what you parade around for the next year. But deep down inside, the bowl game and the way it ended up; and the Big 12 championship game, I think that will always leave a little scar."

On The Offense (Multiple)

"I think we accomplished a lot in the spring, three guys were able to handle the load and they're developing on schedule. Though we didn't name a starter after spring ball, we're definitely more comfortable there than we were going in. We'll look at the freshmen in the fall, as we will have to separate out a couple quarterbacks, but the main thing is we've got to figure on who four of the five offensive linemen are going to be. I think we'll always have to customize our offense for a particular year based on our personnel, and we have a little bit better idea of that after spring practices though we don't exactly know what our personality is going to be next fall. You look at last fall; we had change of personality because once Robert (Hodge) took over at quarterback we became a different team than what we had planned to be. We have the talent on the offensive line, but developing chemistry takes a while, and you have to stay healthy."

On Challenge Of Finding Correct Personnel

"It is fun; nothing is ever the same, that's the challenge of it all from our end of it. I have no idea how it's going to turn out. I know one thing, we're not going to force a square peg in a round hole."

On The Defense (Multiple/4-2-5 Base)

"The defense comes in with the highest degree of consistency, with the most experience returning, and therefore is going to have to carry the burden of this football team early. I also think that defensively scheme-wise, we'll take a step forward. Last year, in the infant stages of us being in that scheme, we were pretty simple. I think we learned a lot this past year, and continued that process in the spring. We've had a chance to talk to some other programs that were running it and I think that we'll be able to take the next logical step with our defense, in its evolution this year."

On Special Teams And The Kicking Game

"Obviously the placekicking game is going to be up for grabs, and it's probably going to come down to a couple of freshmen. It's open heading into the fall, but everyone's responding, but we still could very well be looking at playing a couple young freshmen there. In the punting game, I feel good about John Torp's development, and he's going to be the guy. I like the number of guys we have returning on our punt return unit, especially the return guys, and we ended up doing pretty well in the kickoff return game last year, but we will have to find some return men. All in all, I look at special teams to be a strength for us this season."

On What Five Questions Come To Mind Regarding 2003

"Who's going to win the quarterback position? Which four guys are going to play along with Marwan Hage on the offensive line? Who's our placekicker going to be? Who will be our punt returner? Can we survive the 2003 preseason schedule?"

On The Team's Strengths And Areas Of Concern

"Our receiver corps is the first thing you see, and I think the second thing is our defensive front, and then our running back position even though we lost two guys; I still see that as a strength. Our tight ends are going to be very good, too. Areas of concern are our offensive line, just because we have to fill four spots; I think that we're still very talented, and the ambiguity of who's going to be our quarterback. You have to wonder who's going to take care of the kicking chores, but we have good guys to choose from."

On The 2003 Recruiting Class

"I think that they will contribute. I don't look for anyone to come in and right away have an impact as a starter, except at placekicker and perhaps at the corner position. I think there is a chance that one of these three corners could come in and immediately impact our team. I guess the quarterback position is a little bit of a long shot at that happening too, but I think that's a possibility."

On The Big 12 Conference

"You look at our division, it's going to be us, Nebraska, Kansas State, and I think you have to throw Missouri in there. And look at the run Iowa State had last year, and they're in the mix as well. Then you look at the south and they're going to be five deep. We're proud of the fact that we've won 14 of our last 16 conference games and that'll be a source we can draw from once we hit league play in October. We just have to get to October. Our non-conference schedule is a beast (Colorado State in Denver, UCLA, Washington State, at Florida State), and that's first up before we hit league play."

2003 OUTLOOK

The recipe for the University of Colorado's 2003 football team has some most interesting ingredients.

Take a total of 10 snaps by all the quarterbacks in the program, combine with only one returning starter on the offensive line, mix with no game action last fall by any of the healthy cornerbacks in the spring, add a non-conference schedule featuring four opponents that most schools would face over four years instead of four weeks, and one might think the end result could be a cake left out in the rain, to paraphrase an old song.

But Gary Barnett, in his fifth season as head coach of the Buffaloes, and his staff are looking forward to the challenge.

"It is fun; nothing is ever the same, that's the challenge of it all from our end of it," Barnett said. "I have no idea how it's going to turn out, I know one thing, we're not going to force a square peg in a round hole."

However, if those schools lining up across from Colorado think the two-time defending Big 12 Conference North Division champions are down, they'll be severely mistaken. While there are some question marks, the cupboard is anything but bare and the Buffs are still very much a top 25 program with designs on becoming the first school in the Big 12 to claim three straight division titles.

Colorado returns 43 lettermen from its 9-5 squad in 2002, the first in school history to play 14 games. Spending the bulk of the season in the nation's top 25, the Buffs rebounded from a 1-2 start to win eight of its next nine games, in eventually finishing ranked No. 20 after consecutive season-ending losses to Oklahoma in the Big 12 Championship game and to Wisconsin (in overtime) in the Alamo Bowl. Despite the sour ending, it was the best comeback in school history after opening a season with two losses in the first three games.

Injuries basically caught up with CU by the end of the season, and for the second straight year, the Buffaloes placed the brunt of the load on the shoulders of a backup quarterback. Though the Buffs couldn't repeat as league champions, CU's 14-2 record in its last 16 conference games is currently the best in the league and the fourth best all-time in the seven-year history of the Big 12.

"You have to look back and marvel at the job that our seniors did, and our coaches did, holding the team together through a lot of hard times, and to have it persevere and excel the way it did," Barnett said. "I hate to be trite and say it speaks volumes to... but it does, it speaks volumes to the kind of character we have on this football team, the kind of leadership and the job our assistant coaches did."

Eleven starters from 2002 are back, three on offense and eight on defense, with another five returning that have some starting experience in their careers. Guard Marwan Hage and receivers Derek McCoy and John Donahoe are the starters back on offense, with tailback Bobby Purify, tight end Quinn Sypniewski and tackle Karl Allis as three others with plenty of time on the field, including several starts. But having to find replacements at quarterback, four starters on the line, and perhaps most important to CU's running success the last two years, fullback Brandon Drumm, it's no wonder that Barnett will be looking for his defense to carry the team through as the Buffs will attempt to navigate one of the nation's toughest non-league schedules.

"I think the defense comes in with the highest degree of consistency, with the most experience returning, and therefore is going to have to carry the burden of this football team early," Barnett said. "I also think that defensively, scheme-wise, we'll take a step forward. Last year, in the infant stages of us being in that scheme, we were pretty simple, and we learned a lot this past year. We've had a chance to talk to some other programs that were running it and I think that we'll be able to take the next logical step with our defense in its evolution this year."

The Buffs switched up from its 4-3 base defense it had been running since 1995 to a 4-2-5 scheme last year, dropping the outside linebacker position in lieu of a third (weak) safety. It was the first move in gearing future CU defenses to become quicker and faster, especially with how offenses have evolved over the past decade.

The players that will line up on defense for the Buffs represent the most diverse group in recent memory when it comes to eligibility. Five seniors, a junior, two sophomores and three freshman redshirts were the first-teamers when spring opened, but the blend of veterans and youth has the look of forming a pretty good defense... with the speed the coaches are looking for.

Ends Marques Harris and Gabe Nyenhuis, tackle DeAndre Fluellen, linebacker Sean Tufts and free safety Medford Mooror were the five seniors the defense was to be built around in the spring, with a sixth, cornerback Phil Jackson, to rejoin the fold in the fall once healed from shoulder surgery. But injuries to Harris and Fluellen saw Matt McChesney and Brandon Dabdoub rise to the occasion, as both were one-timer starters. Tackle Sam Wilder, a junior, completes the defensive front, while sophomores J.J. Billingsley, Akarika Dawn and Brian Iwuh have designs on starting at two of the safety slots, though Billingsley missed the last half of spring to concentrate on academics. Freshman redshirt Sammy Joseph had a great spring in competing for the corner slot opposite Jackson in the fall. And there are others, including several frosh redshirts, capable of making noise and landing high on the depth chart. Youngsters will likely have a role in filling the second ILB spot, as the competition there will be wide open into August.

Barnett's list of the five most pressing questions regarding his 2003 Buffaloes included, "Who's going to win the quarterback position? Which four guys are going to play along with Marwan Hage on the offensive line? Who's our placekicker going to be? Who will be our punt returner? Can we survive the 2003 preseason schedule?"

Ah, the quarterback position. The players on the roster, including those arriving in August, have a total of 10 collegiate snaps in games on their resumes. Sophomores Joel Klatt and Erik Greenberg and frosh redshirt James Cox duked it out in the spring, with Klatt emerging just ahead of the other two at the conclusion of April drills. How young is the position? The fourth QB, Colt Brennan, is a freshman walk-on (from Worcester Academy) who joined the team in January. As expected, the battle will carry into the fall, with the coaches to see what two incoming freshmen can bring to the table, but it's likely the starter will come from the trio who received most of the spring snaps.

As for who will team up with Hage on the offensive line, there are at least six players who will continue to vie for starting positions into the fall. The only other senior O-lineman is guard Karl Allis, who missed the bulk of the spring healing from a chronic foot injury. Sophomore tackles Gary Moore and Clint O'Neal have the most experience after Allis, but after those two, the depth is peppered with freshman redshirts, including two at center, where Mark Fenton emerged from the spring as the top snapping candidate. Another frosh redshirt, Jack Tipton, got plenty of reps at guard in Allis' absence.

Placekicking was an Achilles heel for the Buffs last fall; when all was said and done, there were 15 missed field goal attempts and three botched extra points, and though three of the kicks were blocked, there were simply too many misses and often in left the Buffs in precarious position, including the overtime loss in the bowl game. Three kickers contended for the job in the spring, with junior J.T. Eberly slightly ahead of freshman recruit Kevin Eberhart, Colorado's all-time leading kick scorer in high school (Eberhart was a December graduate and enrolled at CU for the spring semester). Sophomore Justin Zaitz remains in the hunt, and another recruit, Mason Crosby, will join the trio in the fall.

As for the punt game, sophomore John Torp will take over for Mark Mariscal, who won the Ray Guy Award as the nation's best punter in 2002. Torp had a solid 49.7 average for three kicks in games, and often matched Mariscal in practice. As for the top punt return man, it rests on if Jeremy Bloom opts to play football after another successful winter on the international ski circuit. A 2002 United States Olympic team member, Bloom returned to punts for touchdowns last year and ranked fifth nationally. Donahoe had a solid spring returning punts, so if Bloom comes back, he'll have to win his job back in the fall.

A third consecutive division title is something the 2003 team will be shooting for, but the road will be treacherous getting to that point. The Buffaloes will line up across from intrastate rival Colorado State in Denver, christen the Folsom Field expansion against a revenge-minded UCLA, follow that up against defending Pac-10 champion Washington State, and then travel to the deep south to play at Florida State in what will almost unbelievably be the first meeting ever between the two traditional powers.

Our annual refresher: when Barnett returned to CU as head coach in 1999, he coined the phrase, "Return to Dominance" (or RTD). The proclamation included a list of things he felt would accomplish the mission. CU came very close to fulfilling all of them in its run to the 2001 Big 12 championship, as well as in defending its North Division title last year. The "report card" for 2002:

- Install a balanced offense and bringing back the constant threat of the big play. The offense was fairly well balanced the first three of the Barnett years, especially in play selection, but last year, the scales tipped to rushing mainly because of injuries and what CU felt it could do in the passing game. Amazingly, CU rushed 65% of the time, for 65% of its yards, with passing doing the 35% for 35% thing. The Buffs had 58 plays of 20 yards or longer, the same exact number as in 2001, with 157, gaining 10 or more yards.
- Being able to run the football for a first down on third-and-short. The Buffs converted at a 38 percent clip on third downs, a little lower than in '01 (41%), but were 73 percent (37-of-51) on third-and-short (one, two or three yards). On rushing tries alone, CU was 35-of-71 overall on third downs (51%, better than 2001's 49%). And the Buffs have converted on 61 percent of its fourth down tries in the last 42 games (39-of-64), many of which were good, old-fashioned smashmouth power running plays.
- Inspiring awe and fear into the opponent. The toughest thing annually on this list to gauge, because no one would admit they were in either. When the running game clicked, opponents were on their heels, and the morphing defense, as it got comfortable in its new scheme, showed at times that it could shut down the most powerful of opponents, i.e., Kliff Kingsbury and Texas Tech.

- Game day discipline, as in cutting down on the number of penalties and correctable mistakes. Many of the penalties were due to aggressive defensive play; CU had only 23 offensive penalties in 13 regular season games, a number most teams would envy. CU has clamped down on opponent long plays (only 15 of 40 or more yards the last 27 games), has minimized long opponent returns (only 15 of 30 or more yards, and nine of those were kick-offs), and has had only four kicks blocked in 38 games, while blocking 13).
- Dictating the game against unranked and lesser opponents. From start to finish, CU dictated the action four times in 2002, but did take over the game early in the second half on another three occasions. CU played the nation's 13th toughest schedule in the NCAA.
- Returning as a mainstay in the national polls, similar to CU's consecutive 143-week run between 1989 and 1997. The Buffs opened the year at No. 6, and would be ranked for all but three weeks of the year in finishing No. 20 for the season.
- Playing games in November, December and January that have significant meaning. Other than landing in a bowl game that had a December 28 date, the Buffs met this goal for the second straight year.

The Big 12 will be as tough as ever. "You look at our division, it's going to be us, Nebraska, Kansas State, and I think you have to throw Missouri in there," Barnett said. "You look at the south and they're going to be five deep. There are no easy Saturdays in the Big 12."

Fortunately (or unfortunately), the Buffs will have plenty of practice at not having an "easy" Saturday in 2003.

2003 IN-DEPTH LOOK AT THE BUFFS

Offense

Quarterback To say the quarterback position is wide open could be an understatement, since the players competing for the position, both spring and fall, have a collective 10 collegiate snaps in games; and those only came in proverbial "garbage" time, when the game was already decided. Sophomore Joel Klatt exited the spring atop the depth chart, and though he may lack experience (he had eight snaps in '02), two years he spent in the minor league system of the San Diego Padres certainly has wise to the ways of the world; he joined the team as a walk-on last fall. Redshirt freshman James Cox watched and learned last fall, figures into the equation as much as anybody, and is right there with Klatt heading into the fall. Sophomore Erik Greenberg was the other scholarship quarterback for the spring, back in the fold after taking two years off to serve his Mormon mission, required when a young man turns 19 (he took two snaps against Missouri in 2000). He quietly put up some nice numbers at times during the spring as well and is playing his way back into football shape. All three scholarship players matured during spring drills, to the point where the coaches now feel a lot more comfortable at the position than they did going in. Recruited walk-on Colt Brennan (true freshman) and fellow walk-on Ben Carpenter (a redshirt frosh) rounded out the players at the position in the spring, with two more true frosh to join the quintet in the fall: Bernard Jackson and Brian White.

Running Back The Buffs has the most yards out of the tailback position each of the last two years in college football, a good portion of that thanks to Chris Brown. But Brown, the nation's third-leading rusher last fall, decided to opt for the NFL draft after his junior year. With a new running backs coach, Shawn Simms, the Buffs should again be a force at running back, as senior Bobby Purify (739 yards in '02, 916 in '01) and sophomore Brian Calhoun are a solid 1-2 punch. Easily the best receiver among CU's tailbacks the last few years, and with blocking ability equal to or possibly even better than Brown's, Purify will get his chance at the spotlight. Calhoun, who came on at the end last year when both Brown and Purify were ailing, is the burner with 4.3 speed; he had 100-plus yard games at Nebraska and against Oklahoma in the Big 12 title game and pulled even with Purify atop the depth chart by the end of spring. Redshirt frosh Brandon Caesar will get a look as he is in the mix as well, especially since the Buffs have made a habit out of using at least two, if not three tailbacks in their running game success. Heralded recruit Daniel Jolly joins the fold in the fall.

Fullback CU has the task of replacing Brandon Drumm, who surely would have been an All-American had the teams selected a fullback. Sophomore Lawrence Vickers and junior J.P. diZerega figure to battle for the starting honors, with sophomore transfer Jeff Tolbert a third player to keep an eye on; Vickers has the edge after spring practice. Come fall, once healthy, junior Chad Gardner will get a look as he comes over from defensive end.

Offensive Line The Buffs have had solid offensive line play the last two years, and the job O-line coach Dave Borbely did in 2002 to replace an All-American guard and All-Big 12 tackle was stupendous. But last year's retooling of the line might seem like a piece of cake compared to the job Borbely is faced with this year, as the Buffs must replace four starters, as well as the first player who rotated in; in short, players who lined up for 3,540 of the 4,530 snaps by offensive linemen a year ago have graduated (78%). The one returning starter, senior guard Marwan Hage, played 860 snaps and led the team in knockdown blocks while allowing just one sack and being called for no penalties. A solid veteran to build around, Hage enters the fall with 29 career starts, including the team's longest current streak at 27. The other four spots are up for grabs, and players returning combined for just 130 snaps in 2002, but though the group is lacking experience and will need time to build chemistry and jell, the talent is in cupboard. Sophomores Gary Moore and Clint O'Neal have been joined by redshirt frosh Del Scales and Frederick Staugh at tackle, with the former pair atop the depth chart at the end of spring drills. Senior Karl Allis likely has the inside track on the split guard spot opposite Hage, with redshirt frosh Jack Tipton his backup (he also had several reps at center). Frosh Mike Sutton is penciled in as Hage's backup, as the '02 recruit enrolled this January and still has a redshirt year available to him. The competition at the center position should be pretty good, with redshirt frosh Mark Fenton looking good at the spot (he caught the coaches' eyes during bowl practices). Another frosh redshirt, walk-on Taylor Landry, is the backup snapper after spring, but junior Derek Stemrich will return from a knee injury in the fall to compete for time. Sophomore tackle Drew Shader will make things interesting in August when he hopefully returns from a nagging shoulder injury that kept him out in the spring. Four scholarship recruits will also come on board this fall. Senior tackle Clint Werth has continued to have knee injury problems and has decided to take a medical redshirt, ending his career.

Receiver One of the strongest, and deepest, positions on the team, giving new receivers coach Ted Gilmore a lot to work with. It's too early to tell if CU will use a three, four or even five-man rotation, but four in the mix for sure are seniors Derek McCoy and John Donahoe (last year's starters) and D.J. Hackett, along with junior Ron Monteilh. McCoy led the team in receiving a year ago, and was the top wide receiver as a sophomore behind Mackey award winning tight end Daniel Graham; known for catching anything near him, it's just as exciting watching him block downfield, an area he excels in. Donahoe was steady a year ago, and Hackett came on at the end.

OG Marwan Hage

Freshmen redshirts Blake Mackey and Tyler Littlehales will get further looks in fall camp, when sophomore Jeremy Bloom hopefully will be back in the fold; he concentrated on his World Cup skiing in the spring (he won four races) and was not enrolled in school. There are several walk-ons at the position, including Barry Kunkel and Evan Judge, top special team performers last year, the Gonzales brothers (Dan and Marcus) and Mike Duren.

Tight End The depth chart rings like an orderly roll call: a senior, Quinn Synniewski, then a junior, Jesse Wallace, then a sophomore, Joe Klopfenstein, and then a redshirt freshman, Paul Creighton (a walk-on who has been awarded a scholarship). Synniewski has the most experience, with 11 career starts and countless plays as the second man in when CU has utilized a two-tight end formation. Wallace saw the most playing time of his career as a sophomore, including one start, and Klopfenstein some spot action as a true frosh in 2002; he really came on toward the end of spring and will definitely see significant playing time. A key position in the offense, more for blocking last season but with a history of being a receiving outlet as well, this position will be crucial as the offensive line will need time to form chemistry.

Defense

Defensive Front This might very well emerge as the team strength in 2003, with three starters back, three others with previous starting experience, and youngsters waiting for their chance to shine. Seniors Gabe Nyenhuis and Marques Harris anchor the defensive end position (25 tackles for loss between them), with Nyenhuis at rush end and Harris the man on the freelance side (though he missed the last two weeks of spring drills with a bulging disc, he should be 100 percent by fall). Junior Sam Wilder moved into a starting role the fourth game last fall and started at tackle the rest of the way, responding with 10 tackles for loss. Mainstay Tyler Brayton needs to be replaced, but senior DeAndre Fluellen and junior Brandon Dabdoub have multiple career starts and bring experience, while redshirt frosh Marcus Jones could be ready to bloom, adding 30 pounds of muscle to his frame since he arrived at CU. Sophomore Vaka Manupuna had a brief trial on offense, but he missed several spring practices when his mother passed away and returned to defensive tackle for the last week of drills. There's some talented depth at defensive end, led junior Matt McChesney, another former starter, returns from assorted injuries and an academic issue; he had an outstanding spring. Sophomore James Garee could bust into the regular rotation, and watch out for freshman redshirt Alex Ligon, a three-time winner of the team's defensive scout team award a year ago. Sophomore Nick Clement provides some depth at tackle, while the only other end on the roster, Greg Pace, is primarily a special teams performer (short snapper). And bolstering the defensive front will be the arrival of two heralded junior college transfers in the fall, tackles Jon Guydon and one-time CU frosh recruit Mackenzie Tilmon, as well as a pair of freshman recruits.

Linebacker The altered defensive scheme calls for fewer linebackers in the lineup than usual, but the two inside spots that CU staffs are very strong in keeping with tradition. Senior Sean Tufts, with a clean bill of health following a season of frustrating injuries, has often been compared to some of the past CU greats by linebacker coach Brian Cabral. Opposite Tufts at the other first-team spot for the first part of spring was Thaddaeus Washington, a redshirt freshman who turned many a head last year in practice and on the scout team; he was suspended for violation of team rules halfway through spring drills and is out indefinitely. Sophomore Chris Hollis and redshirt freshman Jason Ackermann are in the mix, as both saw increased time at the end of spring drills with the first unit. Hollis played sparingly as a freshman as he was hospitalized late in the year with a virus. Sophomore Andrew Ward decided Boulder wasn't for him and told the coaches after spring ball he wanted to transfer closer to home. The numbers at the position will increase in August when two scholarship freshmen join the fold.

Safety CU's switch to a 4-2-5 base defense a year ago forced the outside linebackers to convert to safeties, which the graduated Kory Mossoni did to near perfection. The Buffs have recruited to the new alignment in the last two classes, and what will soon emerge is a quicker overall defense. Senior Medford Moorer, who is also the captain of the entire defense when it comes to making calls, is the top returning safety (the free position); he was second on the team in tackles and led in interceptions in 2002. Sophomore J.J. Billingsley made six starts when the Buffs opened in dime, and was one of the nation's top freshman tacklers; technically a free safety, he can play all of the spots. Sophomore Brian Iwuh came on strong and started the last two games of the season at weak safety, and picked up where he left off as he had an outstanding spring. Sophomore Akarika Dawn was a solid special teams performer last fall, and figures to bring a new, distinctive look at strong safety, where he is penciled in first on the depth chart. A couple of players to keep an eye on are redshirt frosh Tyrone Henderson and sophomore walk-on Kyle Griffith, who was a big hitter on special teams a year ago; both had pretty impressive springs. Injuries have sidelined seniors Clyde Surrell and Omar Stewart this spring, but both are expected back at 100 percent this fall. Tom Hubbard joins the group, as he moved over from wide receiver in the spring.

Cornerback CU's leading tackler a year ago, Donald Strickland, was a cornerback; his 109 tackles are exactly that many more than the number of snaps played by all healthy cornerbacks in the spring. Senior Phil Jackson will be the main man at the position, but following shoulder surgery in the off-season, he is only able to participate in non-contact work until the fall. As for the spring, freshman redshirt Sammy Joseph really stood out (another redshirt, Gerett Burl, was dismissed from the team after multiple violations of team rules). The lone healthy scholarship backup is junior Allen Mackey, who sat out last fall due to academics, but is back in good graces and had a nice spring. He was joined by Marcus Moore, who came over from wide receiver and ended the spring tied with Mackey atop the depth. Sophomore Vance Washington will also figure in the mix come fall, but is out for the spring after suffering a shoulder injury in a car accident. The secondary will be bolstered in August with the arrival of six scholarship recruits.

Kicking Game/Special Teams

Special teams was a key component in CU's 2001 Big 12 title run and the '02 North Division champion repeat, and should be solid again this fall. CU has to replace punter Mark Mariscal, the Ray Guy Award winner, but sophomore John Torp has a similar leg and averaged 49.7 yard on three kicks a year ago. Placekicking was the only real weak spot last year (15 missed field goals, three PATs), and that competition will remain wide open into the fall among junior J.T. Eberly, sophomore Justin Zaitz and true frosh recruit Kevin Eberhart; another freshman joins the trio in the fall (Mason Crosby). Both the coverage and return units were solid, with most of the players returning; kickoff return man Rod Sneed has to be replaced (27.5 average, tops in the Big 12, ninth in the NCAA), but there will be plenty of candidates to fill his shoes. The question at punt returner is if Jeremy Bloom returns to school after another successful ski season; his 16.8 average was second in the league and fifth in the nation. But Derek McCoy has also returned punts, and John Donahoe had a good spring in taking over in Bloom's absence. The short and long snappers return (Greg Pace, Jake Jones), and Donahoe is expected to assume the holder duties as Jason Burianek graduated.

2002 Summary Colorado opened the season with a 19-14 loss to in-state rival Colorado State, as the Buffs had fought back from a 13-0 deficit to take a one-point lead, and then drove inside the CSU 15 as the game neared its end, but couldn't punch in the winning six. Two weeks later, CU was saddled with a 1-2 record after a win over San Diego State and a 40-3 loss to Southern California, which was just one of those games where everything went wrong. The turning point of the season came in a 31-17 road win at UCLA, where the Buffs firmly established their running game in the dominant win. That would be the first of eight wins in nine games for the Buffs, including a second straight 7-1 mark in Big 12 Conference play, winning the North Division by a game over Kansas State. CU posted impressive wins over Kansas State (35-31), Texas Tech (37-13) and at Nebraska (28-13) in defending its division title. A second shot at Oklahoma in the Big 12 title game, after the Buffs fell short 27-11 at Norman in the regular season, proved unsuccessful, as the Sooners broke open a close game in the final stages of the third quarter in winning, 29-7. The Buffs earned a spot in the Alamo Bowl against Wisconsin, and what turned out to be the highest rated game on cable television in 2002. Wisconsin rallied for a 31-28 win over CU. CU finished the year with a 9-5 mark, its best ever by far after opening a season with two losses in the first three games.

Historically Colorado is in its second century of intercollegiate football, as the Buffaloes finished their 113th season of competition following 2002 with an all-time record of 630-384-36 in 1,050 games. CU currently stands 15th on the all-time win list and is 22nd in all-time winning percentage (.617). Only Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska from the Big 12 rank ahead of CU on each list, and only 12 Division I schools have played more seasons of intercollegiate football than Colorado. In Boulder, the Buffs are 263-125-10 in 78 seasons on the "hilltop" (Folsom Field). Against Big 12 opposition, CU is 224-191-13 against the other 11 members of the conference, formed in 1996.

Tenth Best Since 1989 Colorado has the nation's ninth best record over the last 14 seasons, or since the start of 1989, as CU is 120-46-4 in this span. CU posted the 10th best record for the 1990s decade (87-29-4, .742) for teams that were Division I-A the entire 10 years. Colorado's seven bowl wins in the '90s were second only to Florida State's eight (the Seminoles went 8-2, CU 7-2). Over the last 17 seasons, Colorado's 147-64-4 mark is 12th nationally, from the time then-coach Bill McCartney reversed CU's fortunes by switching to the wishbone on offense. The best Division I-A record from the start of the 1989 season to the present (through 2002 bowl games):

In-The-Polls Colorado was ranked No. 20 in the Associated Press (media) and No. 21 in the USA Today/ESPN (coaches) final polls of Friday, Jan. 3, as the Buffs drop1ped seven spots in the AP ballot (and eight by the coaches) following the overtime loss to Wisconsin in the Alamo Bowl. CU has been ranked in 180 of the last 230 polls (AP; 78.3%), including a tremendous run of 143 consecutive between 1989 and 1997 (the 10th longest streak of all-time). Since 1989, CU has played the third most ranked teams in the nation (74), trailing only Florida State (81) and Florida (78).

Road-Sweet-Road The Buffs have enjoyed their fair share of success, and then some, on the road over the last 15 seasons. CU has been victorious 52 of the last 74 times in enemy stadiums and is 60-27-1 dating back to the 1985 season (a 68.8 winning clip). During this span, CU won a school record 10 straight road games (between 1994 and 1996), before the streak ended in the '96 regular season finale at Nebraska, 17-12 (it bested the old mark of eight straight set between 1922 and 1924). Over the last 15 seasons, Colorado is 51-21-1 away from home (a 70.5 winning percentage), which stands seventh nationally and second among Big 12 Conference teams in this span. The Buffaloes own a 41-15-1 mark in their last 57 road conference games (Big 8 & Big 12—five losses at Nebraska, two at Kansas, Kansas State and Oklahoma, and one each at Oklahoma State, Missouri, Texas and Texas Tech; the tie was at K-State in 1993). CU is 16-12 on the Big 12 road since 1996. The Buffs were 4-1 on the road in 2002, and are 7-2 away from home over the last two years. This does not include neutral site games, some of which were anything but neutral (i.e., Texas at Irving for the Big 12 title).

Chart Watch Here's where several Buffs rank on some of CU's all-time statistical charts through the 2002 season (note—Colorado will not follow the NCAA lead and won't count bowl stats into career totals):

- ⇒ WR JEREMY BLOOM is 21st in punt return yards (336) and is tied for fifth in punt return touchdowns (2).
- ⇒ WR DEREK MCCOY is 13th in receiving yards (1,155), is 16th in receptions (71); is tied for 11th in TD receptions (9), first in two-point conversions made (4) and is 74th in scoring (62 points).
- ⇒ FS MEDFORD MOORER is 98th in tackles (145), and is tied for 56th in solo tackles (102).
- ⇒ TB BOBBY PURIFY is 20th in rushing yards (1,832), is tied for 53rd in receptions (32), and is 34th in all-purpose yards (2,168).
- ⇒ HC GARY BARNETT is seventh in games coached (50), eighth in wins (29) and tied for sixth in league wins (22).

Trends I Since 1985, when the Buffs returned to their traditional winning ways after six frustrating years, Colorado is 148-65-4, the 12th best record nationally in this span). In these 217 games, CU has posted the following records (including bowls):

♦ with 400-plus yards total offense	93-11-2
♦ with 500-plus yards total offense	46- 4-0
♦ when leading in time of possession	97-14-3
♦ when making 20-plus first downs	95-22-1
♦ when converting 50 percent or better on 3rd down	60- 5-1
♦ when punting three or fewer times	54- 9-1
♦ when scoring first	93-15-1
♦ when coming from behind (from the outset)	55-50-3
♦ with two or fewer turnovers (25-6-2 with zero)	107-28-2
♦ when holding opponent to 17 points or less	91-14-1
♦ when holding opponent under 100 yards rushing	72- 4-1
♦ when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense	76-11-1
♦ when leading after three quarters (122-8-3 in last 133)	126-10-3
♦ when leading at halftime (107-9-2 in last 118)	123-11-2
♦ when scoring 24 or more points	121-14-2
♦ when scoring 14 or more points	145-40-4
♦ when held to 13 points or less	3-25-0
♦ when passing for more yards than rushing	53-38-2
♦ when holding edge in 1st downs & possession time	83-10-2

Trends II Since 1989, when the Buffs became a regular in the national rankings, Colorado has posted the nation's 10th best overall record at 120-46-4. Here's are some trends during this time frame (170 games, including bowls):

➤ when running more plays than the opponent	70-18-3
➤ with 400-plus yards total offense (40-4 with 500-plus)	79-11-2
➤ when scoring 30 or more points (84 in last 165 games)	79- 4-1
➤ when leading in possession time (43-29-1 when not)	76-12-3
➤ when making 20-plus first downs	82-19-1
➤ when converting 50 percent or better on 3rd down	46- 4-1
➤ when scoring first (60-6-1 the last 67 times)	71- 9-1
➤ with two or fewer turnovers (19-6-2 with zero)	89-22-2
➤ when holding opponent to 17 points or less	67- 7-1
➤ when holding opponent under 100 yards rushing	56- 4-1
➤ when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense	55- 6-1
➤ when average field position is CU 30+ (22-2 40+)	86-19-2
➤ when play selection is 50 percent rushing calls	103-16-2
➤ when rushing for 200-plus yards	69- 4-1
➤ when rushing for 250-plus yards	49- 1-1
➤ when rushing for 300-plus yards	30- 0-1
➤ when rushing and passing for at least 200 yards	29- 2-0
➤ when passing for 200-plus yards	61-24-2
➤ when passing for 300-plus yards (7-0-1 400-plus)	20- 7-1
➤ when passing for more yards than rushing	53-38-2
➤ when holding edge in 1st downs & possession time	65- 9-2
➤ when holding edge in field position	94-13-1
➤ when out-rushing the opponent (60-3 the last 63)	98- 5-3
➤ when owning the edge in return yards	95-16-2

Trends III Gary Barnett took over the reins of the CU program in 1999. CU has a 29-21 overall record with him as mentor, and here are some trends during his tenure (50 games, including bowls):

■ when scoring 30 or more points	22-2
■ when taking a lead after trailing (12-2 last 14)	17-8
■ when leading in possession time (10-14 when not)	19-7
■ with two or fewer turnovers (2-3 with zero)	8-3
■ when turnover margin is plus for CU or even	25-11
last 18 games when plus or even	16-2
■ when converting 50 percent or better on 3rd down	9-2
■ when holding edge in possession time	18-7
■ when scoring first (8-19 when not)	22-2
■ when leading at halftime	23-3
■ when trailing at halftime (1-2 when tied)	5-16
■ when holding opponent to 17 points or less	12-2
■ when holding opponent under 100 yards rushing	14-3
■ when holding opponent under 300 yards total offense	8-2
■ when play selection is 50 percent rushing calls	25-8
■ when rushing for 200-plus yards	17-2
■ when rushing for 250-plus yards	15-0
■ when rushing for 300-plus yards	8-0
■ with a 100-yard rusher (16-2 last 18)	19-7
■ when rushing and passing for at least 200 yards	7-1
■ with 400-plus yards total offense	20-6
■ with 500-plus yards total offense	12-2
■ when out-rushing the opponent	25-3
■ when owning the edge in return yards	23-8
■ with 75 or more return yards in a game	11-5
■ when following a loss	10-6

Starting Shuffle All the injuries Colorado had to deal with back in 1998 meant different starting lineups—weekly in fact, and it was the start of an incredibly unique streak. In 1998's 12 games, CU started 12 different lineups on offense and 11 on defense (starting the same 11 for the Kansas State and Texas Tech games). That was 23 different starting lineups in 12 games when combining offense and defense, the most in CU history until 1999 and 2000, when CU did not start the same lineup two weeks in succession the entire year. The previous high since 1971 (the start of 11-game seasons) was in 1991, when CU used 13 (seven on offense and six on defense).

- In 1999, CU started 20 different lineups (12 offense, 8 defense), due to personnel and formations in about half of the instances and to injuries for the rest. The 20 were the second most in team history to the 1998 count. In 2000 and now 2001, the numbers continued to grow.
- In fact, CU had started different lineups on offense for 41 consecutive games, last starting the same 11 in the OSU and KU games back in 1997, prior to starting the same 11 for the first four games in '01. Over on defense, the Buffs started a different 11 for 30 straight contests until having the same starting lineup in there for games two and three in 2001 (CSU, San Jose State).
- With 21 different lineups (11 offense, 10 defense) in 2002, CU has now utilized 101 different starting lineups in its last 63 games, or just 25 under the maximum.

Sixteen First Starts In 2002, 16 players made their first career starts. Three did it in the opener against Colorado State: WR John Donahoe, TT Josh Foster and DE Gabe Nyenhuis, with three others doing the same in game two: FB J.P. diZerega and DBs J.J. Billingsley, Lovell Houston and Clyde Surrell. Against USC in game three, QB Robert Hodge made his first Division I-A start; and at

True Freshman Participation The below chart shows the participation of true freshmen at Colorado since 1986, when almost half the incoming recruits saw action. The speculation was that several members of this year's class would play; and through four games, 11 have, the most true frosh to play in the last 17 seasons (and in at least the last half century). It's only the second time in the 17 seasons that over 40 percent of the rookies have seen action, along with 2000 (10 of 19 played). The list is solely scholarship frosh, and does not include Prop 48 sophomores (3 in 1987, 1 1991), or one partial qualifier in 1997 and 1998:

WR/KR Jeremy Bloom

UCLA in game four, DT Sam Wilder was rewarded with his first career start. In game six at Kansas, TE Jesse Wallace made his first start as CU opened in a two tight end set, and in game seven versus Baylor, three players started for the first time: DE Dylan Bird, OT Rawle King and WR Ron Monteilh. In the home finale against Iowa State, hometown WR Jason Burianek got the starting nod, and in the Big 12 Championship game against Oklahoma, two true freshmen made their first starts, TB Brian Calhoun and DB Brian Iwuh. The most first starts in recent memory came in 1998, when there were 27 first-time starters for the Buffaloes, 17 on offense and 10 on defense. It was the most since 1984, when 29 made their first starts (15 on offense). The annual number of first-time starters since 1984:

1984 (29), 1985 (9), 1986 (15), 1987 (14), 1988 (16), 1989 (7), 1990 (16), 1991 (23), 1992 (15), 1993 (7), 1994 (6), 1995 (11), 1996 (8), 1997 (14), 1998 (27), 1999 (14), 2000 (16), 2001 (12) and 2002 (16).

All-Americans Colorado signed seven high school seniors who earned some kind of All-American honor in 2002, one with multiple All-America accolades. The most All-Americans in any single CU recruiting class has been 20 (1992, 1995, 1996, 1997), with the most multiple choices being 17 in the 1995 class. And remember, it's all subjective, and there are no more Who's Who All-Americans or USA Today honorable mention selections that added to the count quite a bit (well over half of those years with 20 were honored by one or the other). There were 14 in last year's class, but this year's group was consistent in racking up a bevy of state and regional honors. Here's a closer look at this year's All-America honors; all listings are first-team and are postseason, unless otherwise indicated (*—selected a preseason team only):

Class Notes Here are some quick tidbits about the 25 members of this year's recruiting class. The Buffs had a solid year in Texas for the second straight recruiting season, snaring eight players this year and 18 total over the last pair:

LB Alonzo Barrett was born in Denver and lived there through ninth grade, attending Thomas Jefferson as a freshman; he's been a Buff fan since he was eight, when he idolized Rashaan Salaam... ILB Travis Berry hails from New Orleans but loves to hunt and fish... and tackle. He had 143 as a senior inside linebacker... ILB Walter Boye-Doe (boy-doe) was born in Korofidua, Ghana, and his parents are Ghana natives... being an African native, it's no surprise that he's played soccer since he practically walk... DB Dominique Brooks had a three interception game in high school and has ambitions of going into the restaurant business after his playing days... DB Isaiah Crawford is not only a talented player, he has some acting in him; he's part of a group that travels to local schools that puts on skits to warn about the dangers of drunk driving... PK Mason Crosby spent two years as youngster in Fort Collins, and attended several CU games during that time which led him to become a Buff fan... OL Brian Daniels was the first commit of Colorado's 2003 class, doing so on signing day, 2002... that's the earliest known commit in recent memory...

PK Kevin Eberhart has already enrolled and will participate in spring ball; a Broomfield High grad, he's the state's all-time kick scoring leader with 255 points... DE Chadd Evans lists cooking among his favorite hobbies (his fried shrimp is tops), and his first cousin is Orlando Magic rookie Ryan Humphrey of Notre Dame fame... DT John Guydon lists his main hobby as comedy, as in stand-up comedy; he's performed in several southern California clubs and has met comedians Tommy Davidson and Martin Lawrence... DB Lionel Harris can deliver a hit and take one, too; he's an accomplished bull rider and has several top finishes in organized competitions... OL Edwin Harrison is this year's winner of having the longest bio (see attached); with hobbies ranging from being an Eagle Scout to traveling to the Bahamas, he's from a great bloodline as his grandfather (Calvin Jones) won the Outland Trophy in 1955, the second of his two consensus All-America seasons with Iowa.

QB Bernard Jackson loves to coach his little brothers in youth football; but can he pass on his skills from the game where he completed four passes for 246 yards (61.5 per)?... RB Daniel Jolly has mastered the Korean Martial Art of "Kuk Sool," starting when he was just three years old. He also likes to be called just "Jolly" which we can assume is similar to Sting and Bono of music fame. OL Kharylake Martin is this year's unique first name winner; it's simply pronounced carry-lake. The lake is fitting, as he is an avid fisherman of the streams, lakes and offshore variety... OL Tyler Polumbus has two intimate CU connections; his father (Tad) lettered in football in the mid-1960s, while an uncle (Gary) was one of the school's premier golfers of the same decade... WR Stephone Robinson averaged almost 26 yards per catch and ran up 1,600 all-purpose yards in basically eight games, missing the better part of four with a nasty ankle sprain... DB Chris Russell and TE Joe Sanders both come to CU from Nashville's Hillsboro High School, and CU basketball center David Harrison helped recruit the pair; Harrison and Sanders lunched on the latter's recruiting visit as the three have known each other for five years. Russell is one of the nation's top defensive backs and is active with Habitat for Humanity; Sanders appeared in several television commercials as a child actor and was in the cable movie Proud Heart... DB Lorenzo Sims, whose nickname is "Spiderman," is a cousin of UCLA defensive back Ricky Manning and has two cousins in the NBA: DeShawn Stevenson (Utah) and Bruce Bowen (San Antonio)... WR Dusty Sprague's older siblings (Aaron and Russell) made name for themselves up the road at Colorado State. A Holyoke legend, he's considered the top small school athlete in the state... DT McKenzie Tilton signed with Colorado the first time around in 2001, and he kept his pledge to return to CU as he once again signed out of NE Oklahoma A&M (junior college). He collects Deion Sanders memorabilia... RB Terry Washington averaged over 10 yards per carry in rushing for 2,230 last fall, with 27 trips into the end zone. He's big on school and community service... DB Terrence Wheatley was an effective two-way player who averaged 35 yards on kickoff returns... QB Brian White passed for 2,000 yards last fall and is the lone surfer in this year's recruiting class.

Big 12 Run The Buffaloes were only the third team to return to the Big 12 Championship game, but seven years in, the league is still looking for its first repeat champion. Regardless, CU's 14-2 record is the fourth best over any 2-year span in in conference play since the conference was formed in 1996 (see chart). No team has won two straight league titles since the formation of the group, and in seven seasons, the same schools have met only twice for the title (Nebraska and Texas played for the crown in '96 and '99). The 2002 game was the sixth original match-up.

McMahon Memorial Fund Established

The Tom McMahon Memorial Fund, in honor of the late University of Colorado co-defensive coordinator, has been established to help ensure that his two surviving sons have the monies necessary to complete a college education. Coordinated by former CU assistant coach and long-time program supporter Mike Tanner, and with approval by Tom's widow, Marilyn, the goal of the fund is to raise $40,000 by this May when their youngest son, Kevin, will graduate from high school. Over $8,000 has already been raised.

McMahon passed away last June 9 after a two-year battle against lung cancer. He entered coaching in the mid 1970s and had stops at nine schools, with his first full-time position at Colorado State with his last for three years with the Buffs, joining Gary Barnett's initial CU staff in 1999.

"This was awkward for Marilyn at first, but after much soul searching and some words of encouragement from Gary Barnett, she has agreed to accept our generosity," Tanner said. "Tom touched many lives, and everyone who crossed his path knew him to be a man with great passion and conviction for his family, his profession, his players and the people around him. Once you made friends with Tom, he was a friend for life."

Those interested in contributing can do so by sending a check payable to the Tom McMahon Memorial Fund, 1869 W. Littleton Blvd., Littleton, CO 80120. For more information, please call Tanner at 303-738-8994.

LETTERMEN PICTURE

Colorado has 42 lettermen scheduled to return for the 2003 season, including 22 on offense and 20 on defense but no kick specialists. CU lost 13 starters and two first-team specialists overall from the program, as the Buffs have 11 starters back, a number that includes two defensive backs, J.J. Billingsley and Clyde Surrell, who had multiple starts in CU's dime package. Returning starters are listed in bold, and () denotes letters earned primarily on special teams. The breakdown:

THE PLAYERS

JASON ACKERMANN, ILB

6-2, 215, Fr., RS

Louisville, Colo. (Boulder Fairview)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—He had a solid spring, posted 17 tackles, four for losses, in the three full scrimmages. With only three healthy inside linebackers for much of spring ball, he received plenty of quality reps and should contend for playing time this fall. 2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he practiced the entire fall at inside linebacker. Originally slated for January enrollment, some attrition enabled him to join the team in fall camp after the first week of drills.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered Prep Football Report all-Midwest and PrepStar and SuperPrep all-Midlands honors. Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 17 ILB in the land. He was the all-Colorado Defensive Player-of-the-Year (Rocky Mountain News), and was also all-Colorado by the Denver Post and first-team all-state by both newspapers. He was all-Boulder County (Boulder Camera) and all-Centennial League as both a junior and senior. As a sophomore, he was Fairview's Newcomer-of-the-Year, as he played the last half of the year with varsity, including starts in four games (two playoff). He totaled some gaudy numbers in his prep career, topped by 388 tackles, over 120 for losses, 18 quarterback sacks, 17 forced fumbles, 11 blocked kicks and six interceptions. As a senior, he was in 189 tackles (108 solo), with an amazing 82 for losses including eight quarterback sacks. But the numbers didn't stop there, as he had over two dozen hurries, 11 forced fumbles, five recoveries (one for a touchdown), three interceptions (returning one for a TD) and five blocked kicks (four FG, one punt). As a junior, he was in on 132 tackles, including 83 solo stops, 30 tackles for loss and six sacks, to go with four forced fumbles, three interceptions and three blocked kicks (two FG and a punt he returned eight yards for a score). He had 67 tackles, four sacks, two forced fumbles and three blocked kicks as a sophomore. He played some spot tight end throughout his career, primarily as a blocker though he did have three career receptions. His top games as a senior: in a 21-17 win over Columbine, he had 22 tackles (seven TFL's, two sacks) and two forced fumbles; in a 20-13 victory over rival Boulder, he had 18 tackles (four TFL's, one sack), an interception, a forced fumble and a blocked punt; and in a 38-14 win over Mullen, he had 17 tackles (eight TFL's, one sack), an interception, a forced fumble, and a 34-yard kickoff return. Fairview was 12-2 his senior year, reaching the state championship game (a 9-3 loss to Chatfield), 9-2 his junior season and 10-2 his sophomore year under coach Tom McCartney, winning the Centennial League title all three years. He also lettered twice in basketball (power forward) and once in baseball (centerfielder).

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on what he will major in at Colorado, but is enrolled in the School of Arts & Sciences. Owner of a 3.62 grade point average in high school, he was one of nine 2001 Colorado Chapter National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame Scholar-Athletes.

PERSONAL—He was born Jan. 19, 1984 in Boulder. His hobbies include most sports, camping, fishing, drama, music and dancing. He is also active with Young Life, Student Venture and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. His cousin, Amber Metoyer (another Fairview student), is a sophomore on CU's women's basketball and outdoor track teams. An aunt (Sonja Hardy) was a U.S. Olympic hurdler at the '76 Summer Olympics; several uncles played college football: Mike Metoyer (at Colorado, a defensive end on the 1973 team), Lucien Hardy (UNLV) and Travis Hardy (Kansas), with a cousin (Lucien Hardy, Jr.) playing at Weber State.

KARL ALLIS, OG

6-5, 310, Sr., 3L

Little Rock, Ark. (Catholic)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—He enters the fall listed first at split guard, with the coaches hopeful that his previous experience will be a boon in the transition of replacing five of six regular offensive linemen from a year ago.

2002 (Jr.)—He entered the fall listed No. 1 at the tight guard position, but was sidetracked after breaking a bone in his foot during summer conditioning. He missed the first three games of the season because of it, and the foot was also sore at times over the bulk of the year. He would see action in 10 games, including the Alamo Bowl, mostly on the field goal/PAT unit, but did get into five regular season games on offense in playing 52 snaps from scrimmage (and saw scrimmage action in the bowl as well). He graded out to 78.8 percent in that brief action, with three knockdown and two downfield blocks. He was one of 15 players to earn spring Victory Club honors, as he was injury-free for all of spring and met the in-season standards required as well.

2001 (Soph.)—He saw action in all 13 games including the Fiesta Bowl on the field goal/PAT unit (67 snaps), and played six games on offense, mainly as the backup tight-side tackle, but has played guard as well. In 41 snaps from scrimmage, he had four dominant blocks and graded out to 1.402 in line coach Steve Marshall's system. He missed spring practice while undergoing rehabilitation following shoulder surgery after the 2000 season, but was full-go by August camp.

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He started the first six games of the year at the tight guard position, but a shoulder injury he suffered in practice and the reinjured in the Texas game limited his action to a couple of spot appearances the rest of the way. He was in for 285 snaps from scrimmage, grading out for the year to 1.340. His best grade was in a win at Texas A&M (1.445), and he had 10 domination blocks on the year to go with two touchdown blocks and three downfield blocks. He had plenty of reps in the spring, as the expected starter at the spot, Tom Ashworth, was out due to an injury.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at both tackle and guard.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-state, all-conference (5A central) and all-metro (Arkansas Democratic-Gazette) honors, and was generally considered one of the top prospects in the state of Arkansas prior to the season. SuperPrep selected him to its all-Southwest team, ranking him the No. 9 player in Arkansas and the second offensive lineman. He was a first-team all-conference performer as a junior, and the Gazette selected him on its "Super Soph" team as a sophomore. He allowed only two sacks his junior and senior seasons, and helped block for a 500-yard tailback for a team that had its struggles on offense. He was a three-year starter on the offensive line, playing either tackle or guard depending on the opponent. He saw some spot action on defense throughout his career: he had 16 tackles, four for losses with a quarterback sack, five hurries and two forced fumbles as a senior at nose tackle. He played some defensive tackle as a junior (15 tackles, three for losses and one sack, three hurries, one forced fumble) and as a sophomore (three tackles, one for loss). His top games as a senior came against Mountain Home, when he graded to over 90 percent and did not allow a sack in Catholic's first homecoming win in 14 years (28-6). In a 34-20 loss to Little Rock Fair, when his tailback gained 190 yards including several on a center reverse which he pulled on. Catholic was 2-8 his junior and senior years and 5-5 when he was a sophomore under coach Roy Davis. He also lettered in basketball as a center as a freshman and played baseball (freshman and junior varsity).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado, and is a member of SAAC, CU's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee. In high school, he was a class representative as a freshman, sophomore and junior, and participated in Boys State, an American Legion sponsored event where government leaders talk with aspiring politicians. He owned a solid B average, and was the student body president as a senior.

PERSONAL—Born July 15, 1981 in Little Rock, Ark. Hobbies include hunting, video games, cooking and watching movies. Grandfather (Ed Allis) was an accomplished amateur golfer who won many national tournaments. Full name is Edward Karl Allis IV.

A.J. ANDERSON, CB

6-3, 170, Soph., VR
Omaha, Neb. (Central)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed as a reserve cornerback. He saw plenty of spring action due to injuries at the position, and thus received some quality reps.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He was not enrolled in school.

2001 (Fr.)—He joined the team as a walk-on the first week of classes and practiced at wide receiver most of the season. He did not see any game action.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered in football at Omaha Central High School.

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is taking several pre-journalism courses.

PERSONAL—Born April 8, 1983. First name is Angelo.

ALONZO BARRETT, DE

6-3, 225, Fr., HS
Alabaster, Ala. (Thompson)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—Projected as a defensive end, it is likely that he will delay enrollment until January, when he would join the team for the spring semester.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team Super all-Metro Birmingham honors (all classes), in addition to first-team all-metro 5A and all-Shelby County accolades, as well as honorable mention all-state honors. SuperPrep named him to its all-Dixie region team, ranking him as the No. 26 player in Alabama (the second defensive end). He earned first-team all-metro and all-county honors as a junior. As a senior, playing defensive end, he was in on 94 tackles (65 solo), with over 20 for losses including 12 quarterback sacks; he also forced six fumbles, recovered two and had five passes broken up. He had 98 tackles as a junior (72 solo), with eight sacks, nine pass deflections, seven forced fumbles and one recovery he returned for a touchdown. He played as a backup as a sophomore. He played some tight end as a sophomore and senior, mainly as a blocker (no career catches). At Denver's Thomas Jefferson his freshman year, he played tight end on offense and linebacker on defense on the junior varsity, but was called up to the varsity for the playoffs. Two of his top career games came against rival Pelham; as a junior, he had a career-high 15 tackles in a loss, but as a senior, he had nine tackles, two sacks and a forced fumble in a 48-20 win, snapping a 10-year losing streak. He matched his career high with 15 tackles against Oak Mountain his senior year, adding two sacks, a forced fumble and a pass broken up in a 13-10 overtime victory. Thompson was 7-4 his senior year and 6-5 his junior year under coach Ricky Seale, and was 8-5 his sophomore year for David Stapleton, reaching the state quarterfinals before losing to eventual champion Hoover. He also will letter twice in track, participating in the 400-meter dash, discus and shot put.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business management as his major at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born April 23, 1985 in Denver. He lived in Denver through his freshman year in high school, and attended Thomas Jefferson for one year before his father took a job in Alabaster, a suburb of Birmingham. His hobbies include playing video games, listening to music and basketball. An older brother, Jamal, is a sophomore offensive tackle at Texas A&M. A distant cousin, Ken-Yon Rambo, is a wide receiver with the Dallas Cowboys (he played collegiately at Ohio State), and a second cousin, Brandon Gipson, was a defensive back at Colorado between 1999 and 2001. He has been a CU fan since he was eight years old, with one of his favorite Buffs growing up being Rashaan Salaam, the 1994 Heisman Trophy winner.

TRAVIS BERRY, ILB

6-0, 225, Fr., HS
New Orleans, La. (O. Perry Walker)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—Projected as an inside linebacker in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-state, all-district (10-4A) and all-metro New Orleans honors, and SuperPrep named him to its all-Southwest team and PrepStar to its all-Southeast team. SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 14 overall player in Louisiana, and the No. 1 linebacker, while Rivals.com rated him the No. 16 inside linebacker in the nation (and the No. 13 player in Louisiana). He was the defensive most valuable player in his district for a second straight time as a senior; and as a junior, he was the metro New Orleans player of the year along with garnering all-state, all-district first-team honors. He also earned all-state mention as a sophomore, when he played outside linebacker. At inside 'backer, he was in on 143 tackles as a senior (116 solo), with 25 for losses including 10 quarterback sacks. He had amazing numbers on the side, as he forced 15 fumbles, recovered seven, with an estimated 40 quarterback hurries, 20 passes broken up, two interceptions and two safeties (one on a tackle, the other on a blocked punt). As a junior, he was in on 120 tackles (90 solo, 30 for losses with 15 sacks), 12 forced fumbles, three recoveries, 20 hurries, 10 pass deflections and an interception. He made 110 tackles his sophomore year (90 solo, 10 sacks), with three interceptions and a blocked punt for a safety. Top career games came three weeks apart against Carver as a senior: a 26 tackle, six-sack and one interception performance in a 43-0 win in late November, and a 20 tackle, two PBU, with four forced fumbles in a 35-15 win earlier that month. He also had 16 tackles and four sacks in a 23-7 win over Archbishop Shaw as a senior, and had 20 tackles, four caused fumbles and two sacks in a 20-0 win over John Curtis as a junior. O. Perry Walker was 9-1 his senior year and 8-2 his junior year, winning the district championship both seasons under coach Frank Wilson. He also lettered in track (shot put, discus).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in sports medicine/kinesiology as his major at Colorado. He was a member of the senior honor roll in high school.

PERSONAL—He was born Dec. 27, 1983 in New Orleans, La. His hobbies include playing video games, trout fishing, deer hunting, and studying, which he says comes first. Two brothers went on to play college football: Leslie was a guard at Alabama-Birmingham (1996-99), and Marrious will be a senior inside linebacker at UL-Lafayette this fall.

J.J. BILLINGSLEY, S

5-11, 190, Soph., 1L

Aurora, Colo. (Eaglecrest)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed second at strong safety, but proved versatile enough as a freshman to lineup almost anywhere in the secondary. He sat out the second half of spring drills to concentrate on academics (he needed to catch up a bit), but enters the fall in good standing.

2002 (Fr.)—A first-team Freshman All-American by both the FWAA and The Sporting News, he was also first-team Freshman All-Big 12 and the recipient of CU's Lee Willard Award, presented by the coaches to the team's most outstanding freshman. He played in all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, with six starts; he saw most of his action in CU's dime package, and played the bulk of his snaps at free safety. In earning his way on to CU's prestigious Victory Club, he finished seventh on the team in tackles with 67, a number that ranked him eighth in the NCAA for tackles by a true freshman. It also set a CU record for the most tackles in a season by a true frosh, as he broke the old mark of 52 set by Jashon Sykes in 1998. In his first start against San Diego State, he established a school record for the most tackles by a true freshman when he posted 15, including 12 solo stops. He had 47 unassisted tackles on the year, with seven for losses and a quarterback sack. He had two third down stops, a fumble recovery and two forced fumbles, one of which was huge: it came in overtime at Missouri, preventing a Tiger first down as Kory Mossoni recovered the ball to end the game. Other top games came against Kansas (12 tackles) and Baylor (10), and in the bowl game against Wisconsin he had one tackle (for a 4-yard loss). He also finished second on the team in special team points with 13, on the strength of nine tackles (one inside-the-20), two knockdown blocks and a forced fumble. He also won a "CUSPY," as he was selected as CU's Male Freshman of the Year for all sports.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered PrepStar and SuperPrep All-America accolades along with first-team all-Colorado honors (Denver Post, Rocky Mountain News), with the Post selecting him to its 12-man Blue Chip list. He also earned first-team all-state and all-conference honors playing slot back, with Prep Football Report and SP both selecting him to their all-Midlands teams. Rivals.com ranked him No. 34 in its special "athlete" category; PrepStar had him as the No. 6 athlete out of the Midlands. As a junior, he earned first-team all-league honors at linebacker, and was an honorable mention all-state performer. He amassed 1,177 total yards as a senior, including 736 rushing (105 carries, 7 touchdowns) and 441 receiving (17 catches, 5 TDs). He had five touchdowns of 70 yards or longer in length; two came on 89- and 81-yard runs against Smoky Hill. He did not play defense as a senior; as a junior, he was in on 80 tackles, with four forced fumbles, two sacks, three interceptions and a recovery playing linebacker, the same position he logged 50 tackles and an interception as a sophomore. Over on offense, he racked up just shy of 1,000 yards, as he had 700-plus rushing and 200-plus receiving with two scores. He also returned a kickoff for a touchdown as a junior showing his versatility. Top games included the 42-20 win over Smoky Hill as a senior, when he had 226 yards and three scores; he had 14 carries for 184 yards and three scores in a 28-21 win over Overland and in a 35-24 loss to Mullen, he had 170 yards and two scores. Eaglecrest was 8-3 his senior year, reaching the state quarterfinals, and was 2-8 his junior and 4-6 his sophomore seasons under coach Gary Thompson. He also lettered in twice in basketball as a guard/forward and three times in track (hurdles and relays). He was a member of the state champion 4x100 relay team as a junior, and was the state champ in the 110- and 300-meter hurdles (14.02 and 37.37 times, respectively) and on the 800-meter winning relay team (1:27.09) as well as a senior.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in journalism or communication as possible majors at Colorado, and is currently enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

PERSONAL—He was born Nov. 16, 1983 in Denver. His hobbies include listening to music and video games. His father (Jon, Sr.) played college football at Central Methodist College, with a cousin, Micha Billingsley, played wide receiver first at Fort Lewis and is now a junior at Northern Michigan. J.J. stands for Jon, Jr.

JEREMY BLOOM, WR

5-9, 175, Soph., 1L

Loveland, Colo. (Loveland)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall as CU's top return man, and is expected to blossom at receiver. He announced on June 4 to resume his college football career, as he was not enrolled in spring classes at CU as he returned to skiing competitively. He did take a correspondence course allowed by NCAA rules specifically for Olympic athletes. He made a "cameo" appearance in the spring game, fielding a punt in street clothes in the second quarter (after the whistle, a few players "dog-piled" on him for laughs).

The Sporting News has ranked him as the nation's No. 15 punt returner heading into the season, while Phil Steele's College Football selected him third-team all-Big 12.

2002 (Fr.)—As a kick return man, he was a first-team Freshman All-America team member by both the FWA and collegefootballnews.com, which also selected him as an honorable mention choice on its overall team; The Sporting News tabbed him a third team frosh All-American. He saw action in 13 games, including the Alamo Bowl (no starts; he missed the USC game due to a broken sesamoid bone in his left foot) and had quite an impact, as he was electric almost every time he touched the ball. By the time the season was over, he participated in three of the five longest plays involving a true freshman in CU history. The first time he touched the ball as a collegian, he returned a punt 75 yards against Colorado State to get the Buffs on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter. Against Kansas State, he had a 94-yard catch and run reception for a touchdown, the longest pass play in school history (also his first career catch). And versus Oklahoma in the Big 12 Championship, an 80-yard punt return for six turned the momentum CU's way for a time in the third quarter. Including the bowl game, he averaged 15.0 yards for 23 punt returns to rank 13th in the nation (he was fifth at 16.8 through the regular season, but the NCAA included bowl stats for the first time). He was the first CU freshman (true or redshirt) to return more than one punt for scores in a single season. After the Big 12 Championship game, he began training for the ski season, taking his final exams early as he left Dec. 15 for Finland to compete in a FIS World Cup event (he rejoined the team in San Antonio for the bowl; in Finland, he missed a bronze medal in the moguls by two-hundredths of a second). He returned three punts against Wisconsin in the Alamo Bowl (for a net 8 yards). Prior to the start of fall drills, he challenged the NCAA in court, as he wants to pursue a promising skiing and endorsement career outside of football. Though chastising the NCAA for missing an opportunity to do the right thing, the judge upheld the enforcement of its rules by the NCAA in ruling against Bloom. He and his attorneys have appealed, and the case is still active as of June 2003.

2001—He wound up delaying his enrollment to pursue his dream of making the U.S. Olympic ski team for the 2002 Winter Olympics, which he accomplished (see skiing notes below). He did report with his class for fall camp, participated in the freshman and a couple of varsity practices, and then left for San Diego for training.

SKIING—A very accomplished moguls skier, he has competed for the United States Freestyle Ski Team since 1998, the newest addition to U.S. Skiing, headed by former CU athletic director Bill Marolt (Bloom's coaches are Scott Rawles, Liz McIntyre and Donny St. Pierre). Prior to the 2002 Salt Lake City Olympics, he was named to the U.S. Ski Team on the strength of his third place finish in the moguls in the 2001 USA Championships. He finished ninth in the moguls at the Olympics, but bounced back a month later to win the World Cup moguls title in Ruka, Finland. In winter 2003, he posted three World Cup victories in six races, and won both Gold and Silver medals in the World Championships held in Deer Valley, Utah. He has won several NorAm races in his career, and finished third (claiming the bronze medal) at the 2000 Junior World Championships in Italy. He was only three when he made his first mogul run (Geronimo) at Keystone.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned PrepStar and SuperPrep all-Midlands honors, as he was listed as the No. 68 player overall (the seventh receiver) in the area by SP. He also earned first-team all-state from the Denver Post and all-area honors. As a senior, he caught 48 passes for 1,116 yards and 12 touchdowns, and ran a few successful reverses, gaining about 200 yards on five attempts. He also occasionally returned punts. As a junior, when he garnered all-area accolades, he caught 19 passes for 550 yards and six touchdowns. His career totals were thus: 67 catches for 1,666 yards and 18 touchdowns. He was on the junior varsity as a sophomore, and was the quarterback (and a defensive back) on the freshman team. His top games include a 35-12 win over Lakewood in the 2000 state playoffs, when he broke three school records with nine receptions for 204 yards and four touchdowns. He also had 135 yards on four receptions in a win over Northglenn, and as a junior, he opened the year with four catches for 110 yards and two scores in a 14-12 win. Against Rampart in the 2000 playoffs, he had his best day as a runner, rushing three times for 85 yards. Loveland was 13-1 his senior year, claiming the Colorado 4A state championship, and was 8-2 his junior year under coach John Poovey. He has lettered in track three times (relays, sprints), and is a three-time all-state performer; he helped Loveland to the state title his junior year as a member of the 4x200 relay team.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business as his major at Colorado. He was an honor roll student all four years in high school, as he has maintained a grade point average in excess of 3.3 despite his hectic travel schedule.

PERSONAL—Born April 2, 1982 in Fort Collins. He selected Colorado over Colorado State and Wyoming, as it was evident he wasn't looking to go very far away from the mountains. His hobbies include skiing on a football questionnaire, and football on a skiing one. For his accomplishments in both, the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame named him the Colorado Amateur Athlete of the Year for 2002, while Mile High Sports magazine named him the state's athlete of the year. In March of 2003, he won the 30th annual Superstars Competition that took place in Jamaica; he defeated nine professional athletes in the competition, of which all had to choose seven of 10 events to participate. Bloom excelled, including wins in the half-mile run and the 100-yard dash (which he accomplished in 9.41 seconds).

WALTER BOYE-DOE, ILB

6-2, 235, Fr., HS

Keller, Texas (Keller)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—Projected as an inside linebacker in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-district (5-5A), all-Northeast Tarrant County and all-area honors, while earning mention on the Texas Top 100 and Lone Star Top 100 lists. Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 57 linebacker in the nation. He earned first-team all-district and all-NE county honors as a junior and second-team all-district accolades as a sophomore. Playing inside linebacker, he had 105 tackles as a senior (89 solo), with 35 tackles for loss including 15 quarterback sacks. He was estimated to have 45 hurries, with five passes broken up, two forced fumbles and an interception (returned for a TD). As a junior at defensive end, he was in on 125 tackles (80 solo, 22 for losses with 12 sacks), 50 hurries, three blocked kicks, two forced fumbles and an interception. He had 105 tackles with four sacks and two fumble recoveries as a sophomore, when he played defensive tackle. He played some spot fullback as a junior and senior, mainly in short yardage, blocking situations. Top career games came his senior year against Western Hills (15 tackles, two sacks, including a key one in overtime in a win), cross-town rival Fossil Ridge (18 tackles, two sacks and forced fumble in another OT win) and against Boswell (an interception return for the winning TD in a 21-14 win). Keller was 5-5 his senior year under coach Kevin Atkinson, and was 6-3 his junior season and 4-6 his sophomore year under Ken Maisel. He also lettered twice in basketball (center; did not play as a senior), and in track (sprints). He played club soccer from the time he was a youth until his freshman year in high school.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in kinesiology as his major at Colorado. A member of the "A" honor roll at Keller, he owns a 3.2 grade point average.

PERSONAL—He was born Oct. 3, 1984 in Koforidua, Ghana (Africa). His parents are also Ghana natives, and the family moved to the Dallas area when he was four as his father took a job in the states. His hobbies include playing soccer, video games and listening to music. An older brother, Howard, will be a junior linebacker this fall at Wisconsin. He is active in volunteer work, including the Special Olympics, Adopt-A-Highway and local blood drives. (Last name is pronounced "boy-doe.")

COLT BRENNAN, QB

6-3, 185, Fr., HS

Santa Ana, Calif.

(Mater Dei/Worcester Academy)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—Enters the fall listed fourth on the depth chart at quarterback. He joined the team as a walk-on for the spring semester, when he first enrolled in college (he had a previous relationship with CU offensive coordinator Shawn Watson). He completed 4-of-7 passes for 37 yards in the three main spring scrimmages, and rushed 10 times netting 24 yards.

PREP SCHOOL (2002)—Though he had a scholarship offer from Utah State after his high school career, he decided to attend prep school on a merit scholarship at the Worcester (Mass.) Academy. He started seven games, completing 101-of-158 passes for 1,707 yards and 15 touchdowns (and only four interceptions). Despite missing two games with a fractured finger, he earned first-team All-New England Prep School honors. He completed 16-of-22 passes for 287 yards and touchdowns in a 28-26 upset of Mount Ida, and had 390 yards and four touchdowns in a 35-20 win over Valley Forge. Worcester was 5-4 under coach Pat Smith.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-league honors at quarterback and was his Mater Dei's offensive most valuable player. In completing over 68 percent of his passes, he threw for 16 touchdowns against only four interceptions, while rushing for over 200 yards and another score. He passed for 340 yards and two touchdowns in a CIF playoff game against previously undefeated Redlands in helping his team advance to the semifinals. Mater Dei was 9-5 his senior year, 11-2 his junior season and 9-1 his sophomore campaign under coach Bruce Rollinson. MDHS was a CIF champion as a sophomore, when it defeated powerhouse DeLaSalle. He also lettered as a senior in basketball (forward), helping his team to the CIF championship.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Aug. 16, 1983 in Newport Beach, Calif. Hobbies include fishing, surfing, snowboarding and hunting. Two cousins also played college football, Brad Brennan (a wide receiver at Arizona) and Bill Brennan (Cal-State Fullerton).

DOMINIQUE BROOKS, S

6-2, 200, Fr., HS

Mesquite, Texas (North Mesquite)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—Projected as a safety in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-Dallas/Fort Worth Area and all-district (10-5A) honors, with Prep Football Report and SuperPrep naming him to their all-Southwest teams and PrepStar tabbing him all-Midlands. Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 33 safety in the nation, SuperPrep had him as the No. 40 player in Texas and PFR the No. 57 player in the region (the ninth defensive back). He played in the Coca-Cola All-Star game, racking up seven tackles. As a junior, one of only four who saw action on the team, he was second-team all-state and first-team all-area and all-district. As a senior, playing free safety in what Prep Football Report called "the country's finest secondary," he had 77 tackles (53 solo), six pass deflections, three interceptions, two forced fumbles, two recoveries and a blocked punt. He had 73 tackles as a junior (43 solo), with eight interceptions, five passes broken up, two caused fumbles and one recovery. He also returned punts on occasion, averaging just over 25 yards for nine career returns. Top career games included two efforts as a junior: he had seven tackles and three interceptions in a 37-0 win of Namaan Forrest, and in an overtime playoff loss to Plano, he had 17 tackles and two passes broken up. In two years on the varsity, North Mesquite was 8-2 his senior year and 7-4 his junior year under coach Steve Bragg; it lost in the first round of the playoffs both years, both times by three points in overtime. He also lettered twice in track (sprints, relays), and played two years of basketball.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business management as his major at Colorado. A member of the "A-B" honor roll as a senior, and also made it once as a junior and sophomore.

PERSONAL—He was born May 28, 1985 in Paris, Texas. His hobbies include video games and he has a keen interest in computers. He would like to one day go into the restaurant business.

BRANDON CAESAR, TB

5-10, 190, Fr., RS

Broussard, Quebec CANADA

(Avon, Conn., Old Farms Prep)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—He enters the fall listed third at tailback. He received plenty of quality reps in spring practice, and carried 24 times for 49 yards in three spring scrimmages, with almost all of those carries against the first-team defense.

2002 (Fr.)—He was recruited as a safety, but was on offense (tailback) from day one after his arrival on campus. He missed about seven weeks of practice in the middle of the season due to a turf toe and dislocated shoulder. He won the Scout Team Offense Award on two occasions, for the USC and Iowa State games. He continued to attend prep school after he did not qualify to attend Colorado the previous year, as he was a member of the Buffs' 2001 recruiting class. He made it this time around and arrived in Boulder in May to begin working out.

2001—He did not initially qualify academically out of prep school, thus did not enroll at CU; he remained in prep school.

HIGH SCHOOL—He attended Old Farms Prep in Avon, Conn., for three years. As a senior, he earned all-New England honors when Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 53 running back in the nation. He was a two-time all-Erickson Conference selection at both running back and defensive back. As a senior, he rushed 162 times for 1,236 yards and 12 touchdowns, averaging 7.6 yards per carry, as he gained over 100 yards in eight of nine games. On defense, he had well over 100 tackles, with four interceptions, three forced fumbles and 10 pass deflections. He allowed only two completions all year, despite often being assigned to cover the opponent's best receiver in third-and-long situations. As a junior, he rushed for 876 yards and nine scores, while again making around 100 tackles on defense with eight pass deflections and allowing only three or four passes to be completed on him. He played both safety and cornerback. Top games his senior year came against Trinity Pawling, when he rushed 17 times for 289 yards and scored all five of his team's touchdowns in a 35-14 win, and against Taft, when they ran the option for one game and he picked up 135 yards on just 10 carries. He had several games with 10 or more tackles, including a high of 20 in one game. Avon Prep was 5-4 his senior year and 6-3 his junior year, claiming the Erickson League title, under coach Kevin Driscoll. He was one of the top performers at the December (2000) Team Canada tryouts. He also lettered three years in basketball (power forward) and four times in track. He is considered to be the second fastest sprinter in New England, and has run the 100-meters in 10.5 and the 200 in 21.5 (he also runs the anchor leg on the relay team).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in computer graphics as his major at Colorado, and is currently enrolled in the School of Arts & Sciences.

PERSONAL—Born Dec. 16, 1981 in Montreal, Quebec. An uncle (Selwyn Caesar) played professional cricket in the West Indies (Trinidad). Hobbies include playing basketball, running, drawing, playing video games, dog breeding and creating musical beats. He decided to attend prep school in the United States for both exposure and the education; some have called him the best running back ever to come out of Canada. (Last name pronounced like the Roman ruler; see-zer)

BRIAN CALHOUN, TB

5-10, 190, Soph., 1L

Oak Creek, Wis. (Oak Creek)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall in contention for starting honors at tailback, ending the spring tied for atop the depth chart at the position. He had a tremendous spring, earning the Fred Casotti Award as CU's most outstanding offensive back, and was one of 13 players to earn prestigious Spring Victory Club honors. He had 24 carries for 120 yards in the three main scrimmages, including the longest rush of the spring (46 yards) in the Black & Gold Game.

2002 (Fr.)—He played in all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, making one start (against Oklahoma in the Big 12 Championship game). Used sporadically during the first 11 games, he got his chance in the regular season finale at Nebraska due to injuries at tailback, and he made the most of it. He had 20 carries for 137 yards, and then followed that up with 20 attempts for 122 yards against Oklahoma. He first got some attention against Kansas State, as he caught a 71-yard touchdown pass from Robert Hodge, the first chance he had to showcase his 4.28 speed to the fans in Boulder. It was the third longest reception by a Buff running back in a 21-season span. For the year, he rushed for 298 yards, the seventh most by a true frosh in CU history, as he had five runs of 10 or more yards (all against NU and OU), and 21 of five yards or longer. In the bowl game against Wisconsin, he had nine carries for 16 yards, most of the carries coming late after CU had lost two linemen to injuries. He also saw some spot action returning kickoffs; he had six for a 13.2 average.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered Prep Football Report, PrepStar and SuperPrep All-America honors, with Rivals.com ranking him as the nation's No. 12 running back and Student Sports the No. 25 RB. As both a junior and senior, he earned first-team all-state (Associated Press, Wisconsin Coaches), all-CNI, all-region and all-Southeast Conference recognition, and as a junior, he was the state's Gatorade player-of-the-year as well as the region and conference player-of-the-year. He was a second-team all-league performer as a sophomore. The G&W Recruiting Report called him the No. 1 recruit in the state of Wisconsin prior to his senior year. In his prep career, he rushed for 4,790 yards and 82 touchdowns; as a senior, he gained 1,275 yards and scored 26 touchdowns on just 120 carries, averaging 10.4 per. with a long run of 80. In addition, he caught 15 passes for 300 yards and two more scores, all despite battling ankle injuries a good part of the season. As a junior, he rushed 177 times for 1,967 yards and 38 touchdowns (11.1 per carry), with 12 catches for 173 yards and two TDs. He had gaudy averages on special teams, returning 10 punts for a 37.8 norm (1 TD) and eight kickoffs for a 45.0 average (1 TD). As a sophomore, he had 105 carries for 1,548 yards and 18 touchdowns. Top career games included a 28-6 win over Muskego his senior year, when he rushed 25 times for 295 yards and four touchdowns, and a 52-28 win over Racine-Horlick his junior year, when he scored seven touchdowns (6 rush, 1 kickoff return). He had 20 carries for 250 yards in that game to go with a pair of kickoff returns for 185 yards and two receptions for 25 yards, or 460 all-purpose yards in all. Oak Creek was 12-2 his senior year, reaching the state semifinals, and was 9-1 his junior year and 10-2 his sophomore season under coach Joe Koch. He also lettered twice in basketball (11 points and six assists per game as a junior), and four times in track, participating in sprints and jumps. Owns career bests of 10.5 in the 100, 21.2 in the 200, 24-3 in the long jump and 6-8 in high jump as he was a four-time team MVP. He led Oak Creek to its conference title as a senior by winning all four of those events and scoring 40 of his team's 119 points.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in journalism/mass communication as his major at Colorado. He was the sports editor of his high school newspaper, and was on the technical crew for the school's daily video announcements.

PERSONAL—He was born May 8, 1984 in Atlanta, Ga. His hobbies include lifting weights, playing pool and ping-pong. An accomplished drummer, he won several competitions over a six-year period. He participated in the World Youth Championships in Athletics, placing seventh in the long jump (24-3) in 2001 in Budapest, Hungary; it's basically a lower-level Olympics for those 18-and-under. He was honored with two "Code of Conduct" awards for citizenship, and was a member of TATU (Teens Against Tobacco Use), speaking to kids about the dangers of tobacco.

BEN CARPENTER, QB

6-4, 205, Fr., RS

Des Moines, Iowa (Dowling)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed fifth at quarterback. He completed 1-of-4 attempts for nine yards in the three main spring scrimmages.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at quarterback after joining the team as a walk-on for August drills.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned all-conference honors at quarterback, when he passed for 1,900 yards and 14 touchdowns. Dowling won the Iowa 4A State Championship during his junior and senior years, compiling a 26-0 record over the two seasons under coach Matt Dillon. He was also the 2001 state tournament MVP. He lettered twice in both football and basketball, and was named to both academic all-conference teams during his prep career.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in business and pre-medicine at Colorado. He earned the prestigious 4.0 Club Award for a perfect grade point average his freshman year in college.

PERSONAL—Born Dec. 28, 1983 in Des Moines, Iowa.

NICK CLEMENT, DT

6-2, 270, Soph., VR

Colorado Springs, Colo.

(Cheyenne Mountain)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed third at one of the two defensive tackle spots on the depth chart. He had two tackles, including a third down stop, in the three main spring scrimmages.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He dressed for nine games, but did not see any game action. He practiced both inside and outside on the defensive front, starting the year at end before settling in at tackle. He earned the Scout Team Defense Award for his play in practice for the Kansas State game. In the spring, he had two tackles, one quarterback sack and a pass broken up in the three main scrimmages.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; joined the team as a walk-on for August drills and practiced the entire year at defensive end.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned second-team all-state honors and honorable mention all-conference honors at defensive end, when he had 75 tackles (50 solo and 10 for losses), seven quarterback sacks, four passes broken up, two forced fumbles and two recoveries. He was a first-team all-conference inside linebacker as a junior, posting 125 tackles (75 solo, 15 for losses), eight passes broken up, two sacks and an interception. He had 100 tackles at the same position as a sophomore, with 10 for losses and two sacks, earning second team all-conference accolades. He earned four letters in football as he had over 300 career tackles playing for coaches Carl Feters and Bruce Gross. Cheyenne Mountain was 8-3 his senior year, 5-6 his junior year, 4-6 his sophomore season and was the conference champ his freshman year with an 11-2 mark. He was an honorable mention all-area performer in lacrosse as a senior, earning his school's Most Improved Player honor. He also lettered three times in track (shot put, discus) and once in wrestling.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in film studies Colorado, as he is interested in becoming a movie producer after college.

PERSONAL—Born June 3, 1982 in Peoria, Ill. Hobbies include snowboarding, and a sport he invented with his friends, "4 x surfing." (Last name is pronounced cluh-ment.)

JAMES COX, QB

6-3, 210, Fr., RS

Simi Valley, Calif. (Royal)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed second at quarterback. He received plenty of reps during the spring and is progressing nicely; he completed 15 of 31 passes for 194 yards and two touchdowns in the three main scrimmages (but was sacked 13 times).

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action. He practiced the entire fall at quarterback, and was the Scout Team Offense Award winner on two occasions (the Baylor and the first Oklahoma game).

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered SuperPrep all-Far West honors (both pre- and postseason) and PrepStar All-West accolades, with Rivals.com ranking him as the No. 24 quarterback nationally in its "dual-threat" category. He also earned first-team all-Ventura County, all-Southern CIF Section and all-Marmonte League honors. He was a second-team all-league and honorable mention all-county performer as a junior. He had a 2½-to-1 ratio of touchdown passes to interceptions (35-14) his junior and senior seasons combined. As a senior, he completed 160-of-296 passes (54 percent) for 1,800 yards and 18 touchdowns, with just seven interceptions. He also rushed 101 times for 560 yards and eight scores with a long run of 84, and also caught three passes for 90 yards and a touchdown (that covered 65 yards). As a junior, he completed 56 percent of his passes for 1,780 yards and 17 touchdowns, again throwing only seven picks. He rushed for 465 yards and 13 touchdowns to compliment his passing stats. On defense, starting at both safety and cornerback, he had 59 tackles, four pass deflections, three interceptions and two forced fumbles as a senior. He played one game on defense as a junior, racking up 10 tackles and two interceptions in barely 20 plays. Top games included a 28-21 loss to Ventura in the third round of the playoffs his junior year; he completed 20-of-30 passes for 250 yards and two touchdowns, along with rushing for 80 yards and a third score. In a 34-28 overtime loss to Thousand Oaks that same year, he was 19-of-31 for 285 yards and a TD, with 100 rushing yards and two touchdowns. He wrapped up his prep career by being named the MVP in the East/West Ventura County All-Star game, completing 11-of-20 passes for 176 yards and a touchdown. Royal was 5-6 his senior season (losing in the first round of the playoffs), 7-4-1 his junior year (advancing to the third round) and 4-6 his sophomore year under coach Gene Uebelhardt (his freshman team went 10-0). He also lettered twice in basketball (averaged nine points and eight rebounds as a junior), and twice in track (sprints: has career bests of 23.4 in the 200 and 54.0 in the 400). He also played baseball.

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on what his major in at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences. He was a 2001-02 National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete Award recipient.

PERSONAL—He was born Dec. 29, 1983 in Northridge, Calif. His hobbies include riding dirt bikes and snowboarding. A grandfather (Doug Martin) played guard for the Minneapolis Lakers, and an uncle (Doug Martin, Jr.) is the head golf pro at Rancho Vista in Lancaster, Calif.

36 ISAIAH CRAWFORD, S

5-10, 190, Fr., HS
Vista, Calif. (Vista)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—Projected as a safety in his true freshman year as a collegian, though it is likely that he will delay enrollment until January, when he would join the team for the spring semester.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-region and all-Palomar League honors at linebacker, and was second-team at running back. He was second-team all-league on defense as a junior and honorable all-league on offense as a sophomore. As a senior playing mostly outside linebacker, he was in on 79 tackles (70 solo), with 13 for losses and three sacks and a forced fumble. He knocked down 20 passes and had 30 quarterback pressures. On offense, he rushed 132 times for 700 yards and 13 touchdowns, and caught four passes for 76 yards and a score. He had two kick returns on the year, returning both for TDs (a 74-yard punt return and a 99-yard kickoff return). As a junior, also at OLB, he made 40 tackles (34 solo), with 16 for losses and seven sacks, to go with two forced fumbles, three recoveries, 13 hurries, 15 passes broken up and a blocked punt. He gained 683 yards with 8 TDs on offense (97 carries), following up his sophomore year when he had 50 rushes for 438 yards and five scores. (He had 279 career rushes for 1,821 yards, 6.5 per attempt, with 26 touchdowns.) Top career games included a smorgasbord effort in a win over Bonita Vista as a senior, when he rushed 13 times for 120 yards and two scores, returned a punt 74 yards for a third TD, and had nine tackles, two for losses including a sack, a forced fumble and three pass deflections. In a 49-0 win over San Marcos, in just over a half of action, he had 22 rushes for 199 yards and two scores, with seven tackles and two sacks on defense. Vista was 10-3 his senior year and 11-2 his junior year, winning the Palomar League title both years under coach Chris Hauser; VHS was the Southern CIF champ in 2001 and the runner-up in 2002. He also lettered twice in track in sprints (bests of 11.3 in the 100 and 23.0 in the 200) and jumps (6-1 high jump best), and played basketball (shooting guard).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business or architecture as his possible major at Colorado. A two-time Union Tribune scholar-athlete award winner (an in-season award for balancing academics and football).

PERSONAL—He was born Feb. 26, 1985 in San Diego, Calif. His hobbies include reading, lifting weights and playing video games. He's also active in community service, as he is a member of a group that travels to local high schools that puts on skits to warn against the dangers of drunk driving.

87 PAUL CREIGHTON, TE

6-5, 235, Fr., RS
Niwot, Colo. (Niwot)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed fourth on the depth chart at tight end.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action but practiced all year at tight end. He earned the Scout Team Offense Award for the Big 12 Championship game against Oklahoma. He joined the team as a recruited walk-on prior to August drills, and was placed on scholarship for the spring semester (he was originally going to enroll in January, but was invited into camp when a space opened for him).

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three times in football, playing tight end and defensive end. He garnered all-state honors as a senior, as he set school records for all-time receiving yards and sacks in a season (20.5). He had 33 catches for over 800 yards and eight touchdowns on offense as a senior, with 100 total tackles, 20 quarterback sacks, two forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and three pass deflections. His top games included a win over Sterling as a senior, when he had nine tackles and four sacks, one being the game-saver. Against Valley, he reeled in six catches for 180 yards and two touchdowns, while his top high school moment came against Steamboat Springs in the 2001 state playoffs, as Niwot won after a tough a goal line stand. Niwot was 9-3 his senior year under new coach Ron Tesone, 3-7 his junior year and 2-8 during his sophomore season (when he played offensive guard). He also lettered four years in basketball at forward, as he is Niwot's all-time leading scorer and shot blocker. He earned all-state (honorable mention) honors his senior year, and was also all-conference and all-region selection in the 110-meter hurdles (three track letters).

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

PERSONAL—Born July 22, 1983 in Tecumseh, Neb. Hobbies include snowboarding, fishing and playing basketball.

16 MASON CROSBY, PK

6-2, 185, Fr., HS
Georgetown, Texas (Georgetown)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—Projected as a placekicker in his true freshman season, but also brings some impressive punting abilities as well.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-district honors (13-5A) at placekicker, punter and free safety, and was all-Central Texas at kicker. PrepStar named him to its all-Midlands team, while Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 3 placekicker in the nation. He was first-team all-district and second-team all-region at kicker as a junior.

As a senior, he converted 7-of-11 field goals (long of 59) and 23-of-25 extra point kicks; he owned a 39.8 average for 40 punts (61 long), with 10 inside-the-20 and five inside-the-5. He also kicked 60-plus yard field goals consistently in practice. At free safety, he had 78 tackles (26 solo), eight for losses, three interceptions, three passes broken up, three forced fumbles and two recoveries. As a junior, he made 8-of-10 field goals (52 long) and 17-of-20 PATs (all misses were blocked). He averaged 37 yards on 60 punts (64 long), with eight inside-the-20. He had 58 tackles (25 solo, 10 for losses), with three interceptions, four passes broken up, three hurries and two fumble recoveries. Top career games included a 30-20 loss to Copperas Cove as a junior, when he made three field goals (52, 46 and 39 yards) against a team that came in with five straight shutouts. In a 10-3 loss to Cedar Park his senior year, he made the longest field goal in Texas in eight years when he drilled a career-best 59-yarder: it tied him for the third longest in state history. He also had a 61-yard punt in the game. And in a 21-7 win over Round Rock as a senior, he had seven tackles and two interceptions, returning one for a touchdown and kicking the PAT following the score. Georgetown was 5-5 his senior year and 6-4 his junior season under coach Larry Moore. He also earned two letters in soccer (defense/midfielder), earning all-district honors as both a sophomore (14 goals) and junior (17 goals).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business (marketing) as his major at Colorado. He was a consistent member of the "A-B" honor roll throughout high school (five out of six semesters).

PERSONAL—He was born Sept. 3, 1984 in Lubbock, Texas. His hobbies include hunting (deer/exotic), fishing, playing basketball and hiking. Father (Jim) was a fullback at Texas-El Paso in the mid-1970s, and a grandfather (Harry Crosby) ran track at Marshall. He spent two years in Fort Collins as a youngster, and attended several CU games during that time and became a Buff fan. In high school, he was very active in his community, including local mission and church youth group work.

CHAD CUSWORTH, S

6-0, 205, Fr., RS
Highlands Ranch, Colo.
(Thunder Ridge)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall as a reserve safety; he missed spring drills while recovering from a nasty skiing accident.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall with the team after joining the squad as a walk-on for August drills.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned Class 4A first-team all-state defensive honors at linebacker (The Denver Post), first-team all-Prairie League honors and academic all-state honorable mention accolades. He had 131 tackles, with 88 solo and 11½ quarterback sacks as a senior, including a monster game in a 7-3 win over Broomfield for the 4A championship. In that contest, he recorded 17 tackles (all solo), with one sack, a pass broken up and two touchdown-saving tackles. He also had three forced fumbles, two recoveries and an interception. He recorded 95 tackles and five interceptions as a junior. Thunder Ridge was 13-1 his senior season, winning the 4A state title, and was 8-3 his junior year under coach Joe Johnson; TRHS was 11-1 his sophomore season under coach Marty Heaton; his teams won league championships as a soph and junior. In addition to the three letters he earned in football, he also lettered four times in baseball, as Thunder Ridge was the league champion his sophomore and senior years (he lettered as a frosh at Pueblo County High School). He played centerfield and earned honorable mention all-league honors as a senior, when TRHS went to the 5A Regionals. Also as a freshman at Pueblo County, he lettered in hockey.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business as his major at Colorado. He owned a 3.5 grade point in high school (a perfect 4.0 as a freshman), and was an honorable mention academic all-state team member (baseball) as a senior.

PERSONAL—Born Nov. 19, 1983 in Pueblo, Colo. He lived in Pueblo through his freshman year of high school (attended Pueblo County High School), and then moved to Highlands Ranch. His hobbies include hunting, fishing, camping, and skiing. Astronaut Neil Armstrong, the first man to walk on the moon, is a distant cousin. Several colleges recruited him out of high school to play baseball.

BRANDON DABDOUB, DT

6-1, 290, Jr., 2L
Metairie, La. (Archbishop Rummel)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Enters the fall listed first at one of the two defensive tackle spots. He had a pretty solid spring, as he was one of 13 players to earn prestigious Spring Victory Club honors. He was in on four tackles, with one sack, in the three main spring scrimmages.

2002 (Soph.)—He saw action in 10 games, including one start that came against Southern California, as he played 184 snaps overall. He had two tackles in three different games, posting nine overall, which included a quarterback sack against San Diego State. He had entered fall drills in a battle for a starting position, coming off an impressive spring. He owned the second best bench press (445 pounds) on the team in the spring conditioning tests.

2001 (Fr.-RS)—He earned second-team freshman All-America honors from The Sporting News, as he played in all 13 games, including the Fiesta Bowl, and making seven starts. In 299 snaps from scrimmage, he had 21 tackles (12 solo), with one for a loss to go with a hurry and a pass broken up. In his second start at Kansas State, on his 20th birthday, he had a season/career-high five tackles, one behind the line for a loss. He also had four tackles against Texas A&M.

2000 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at defensive tackle. He was the Scout Team Defense award winner for the Kansas game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned SuperPrep all-Southwest honors (the No. 18 player out of Louisiana), PrepStar all-Southeast honors and Rivals.com Southeast-West Top 100 mention. He also was named first-team all-state (Louisiana Football Magazine) and all-district (New Orleans Times-Picayune, WWL-TV), with the Times-Picayune selecting him to its Top 20 Blue Chip list. He was the third ranked defensive lineman in the state and a Purple & Gold Top 100 list member, along with making all-Catholic Elite Team, all-metro and all-East Bank. As a junior, he earned all-district honors from the area coaches, along with all-metro, all-East Bank and all-Catholic Elite Team accolades. He played both defensive tackle and end as a senior, racking up 95 total tackles, with 27 for losses including 12 quarterback sacks. He also had eight hurries, six passes broken up, four forced fumbles, one fumble recovery and an interception he returned for a touchdown. His top games included a 12-tackle, two sack and a fumble recovery effort in a 20-3 playoff loss to St. Augustine; 15 tackles, one sack and a forced fumble in a 34-27 overtime win over Jesuit; and 10 tackles, three sacks and an interception returned for a touchdown in a 28-14 win over South Lafauche. Playing primarily tackle, he had 65 tackles as a junior, 23 for losses including 10 sacks, with seven hurries, five forced fumbles, three recoveries, three passes broken up and an interception. He returned the pick and one of the fumbles for scores, and was the state player-of-the-week on one occasion (10 tackles, three sacks and the fumble return for a TD). Archbishop Rummel was 10-2 in his senior year and 7-4 his junior season, losing in the second round of the playoffs both years, under coach Jay Roth. He participated in track for the first time as a senior (shot put).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Oct. 6, 1981 in New Orleans, La. His hobbies include fishing (he'd like to be a tour guide someday), reading, golf (career best of 80), running and lifting weights. An older brother (Alan) played football at Louisiana State. He selected Colorado because he said the Buffs were a childhood favorite. Five high school teammates received scholarships at Division I-A schools. (Last name pronounced dab-doo.)

66 BRIAN DANIELS, OL

6-5, 300, Fr., HS
Evergreen, Colo. (Mullen)

AT COLORADO—This Season (Fr.)—Projected as an offensive lineman, most likely a tackle, in his true freshman year as a collegian.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned All-America honors from Parade, PrepStar (Dream Team), Student Sports and SuperPrep, also earning first-team all-Colorado, all-state, all-district and all-Centennial League honors. He was one of 17 offensive and/or defensive linemen to make the prestigious 55-man Parade All-America team. Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 1 player in Colorado, the No. 4 offensive tackle in the nation, and the No. 44 overall player in country. SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 20 player in its Midlands region (the sixth OL), while Prep Football Report rated him No. 24 in the region and the eighth O-lineman. As a junior, he garnered all-Colorado, all-state and all-league honors, with Student Sports naming him to its postseason junior All-America team. He was a second-team all-league selection as a sophomore. He was a three-year starter at offensive tackle, playing both the left and right sides. He averaged six pancake blocks per game as a senior, when he did not allow a single quarterback sack. He averaged four pancakes as a junior, also not allowing a sack. He started two games at tight end as a freshman, when he also played some fullback (he caught four passes and carried just a couple of times). He saw action on defense occasionally at tackle, in two games as a senior in short yardage situations. Mullen was 10-2 his senior year, 10-3 his junior year, 11-2 his sophomore season and 10-3 his freshman year under coach Jay Madden. MHS reached the state quarterfinals all four years and advanced to the semifinals his junior campaign. A three-time letter-winner in wrestling, he was ranked No. 1 as a senior and finished third in the state as a junior (heavyweight, 28-4 record). Also the No. 1 ranked powerlifter in the state in the high school ranks as a senior, he placed second in the state as a junior and lettered three years. He also lettered in track as a freshman (shot put).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in kinesiology as his major at Colorado. An honor roll student throughout high school, he is also a member of the National Honor Society as he owns a 3.8 grade point average.

PERSONAL—He was born Oct. 31, 1984 in Denver. His hobbies include skiing, fishing and off-roading. A cousin (Brad Boyer) is a sophomore third baseman for the University of Arizona (he batted .351 as a frosh). He was the first player in Colorado's 2003 class to commit—he did so on signing day in 2002.

AKARIKA DAWN, S

6-2, 225, Soph., 1L
Sugarland, Texas (Kempner)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed first at string safety. He had a solid spring, racking up 13 tackles in the three main scrimmages, including eight solo, one sack along with a pass broken up.

2002 (Fr.)—He saw action in all 14 games (no starts), mainly on special teams but did get in 18 snaps on defense at strong safety. He finished fourth on the team in special team points with 10, on the strength of six tackles, one inside-the-20, two knockdown blocks and a fumble recovery. The latter came against San Diego State, when he scooped the ball up after SDSU's return man lost the ball at his 8-yard line; he took it in for his first collegiate score. On defense, in his limited action he had one tackle (a third down stop at that) and a pass deflection during the regular season, but against Wisconsin in the bowl game, he had two tackles, including a sack, both on third down plays to prevent first downs.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered PrepStar all-Midlands and SuperPrep all-Southwest honors, with Rivals.com ranking him as the No. 42 outside linebacker nationally. He also made the prestigious Texas 100 list and earned first-team All-Greater Houston (Houston Chronicle) and all-district (20-5A) honors; he was an honorable mention all-state selection by the Texas Sports Writers Association. As a junior, he earned second-team all-district honors at linebacker, and was Kempner's defensive MVP. As a senior, he was in on 98 tackles (64 solo), with 11 passes broken up, three interceptions, three fumble recoveries and a blocked field goal, seeing action at linebacker as well as both safety positions. On offense, he played some tight end as well as receiver and caught four passes for 37 yards and a touchdown. As a junior, he had 92 tackles (62 solo), with five quarterback sacks, two passes broken up, two fumble recoveries and an amazing six blocked kicks. He added four receptions for 60 yards on offense playing tight end. He had 60 tackles (35 solo) and a sack as a sophomore, as he played linebacker exclusively as a soph and junior. Top games as a senior included a 28-21 win over Hightower, when he had 20 tackles (15 solo) and two PBU's, and a 35-7 win over Lamar Consolidated, when he had 17 solo tackles and an interception he returned for a touchdown. As a junior, in a 30-23 loss to Willowridge, he had 13 tackles, two receptions, two passes broken up and a pair of blocked punts. Kempner was 10-1 his senior year, claiming the 20-5A district title before losing in the regional playoffs, and was 5-5 his junior year and 2-8 his sophomore season under coach Tom Henderson. He also lettered twice in track (hurdles, high jump; he was a regional qualifier in the latter) and once in soccer (goalie).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in film studies at Colorado, with an interest in journalism and broadcast production. He earned academic all-district honors as a high school senior.

PERSONAL—He was born Jan. 10, 1984 in Houston, Texas. His hobbies include reading, watching movies and participating in sports. He also plays four musical instruments, speaks fluent Spanish (his fiancé is from Colombia), and likes to vacation in Canada. (First name is pronounced ock-ah-reek-ah.)

Lakewood, Colo. (Wheat Ridge)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Enters the fall listed second at fullback.

2002 (Soph.)—He saw action in all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, mainly on special teams; but he did make one start at fullback against San Diego State. He played all 69 snaps on the field goal/PAT unit, and was on a couple of other units as well. He had five special team points, as he had four tackles on coverage duty, one inside-the-20. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for his practice play leading up to the Nebraska game. He moved from defensive end to fullback for spring drills, and made a good transition to his new role.

2001 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in 12 games including the Fiesta Bowl, all on special teams, as he played 71 total snaps on the field goal/PAT unit as well as some occasional action on other units.

2000 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at defensive end.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned All-America honors from both PrepStar and SuperPrep, which ranked him as the No. 41 line-backer in the nation, and the No. 28 player overall in the Midlands region. He earned all-Colorado honors from the Denver Post, garnered first-team 4A all-state honors from the Post and Rocky Mountain News and made the Blue Chip list by both papers. He was also a first-team all-Jefferson County League selection on defense. As a junior, he earned first-team all-conference and second-team all-state honors. As a senior, he set Wheat Ridge's all-time record for solo tackles in a season with 84, and finished with 125 total, including 10 for losses and a quarterback sack. He also had three fumble recoveries, two forced fumbles and an interception. On offense, playing primarily as a blocking tight end, he caught five passes for 210 yards and two touchdowns (30 and 60 yards). As a junior, he had 84 total tackles with eight for losses and a sack, while catching three passes for 80 yards on offense. He occasionally played on the kickoff coverage unit on special teams. His top games included a 19 tackle effort in a 34-20 loss to Dakota Ridge as a senior, which enabled him to break the Farmers' single-season record, and a 12 tackle performance in a 21-10 win over Lakewood in snowy conditions, when he caught one of his TD passes on offense. Wheat Ridge was 7-3 his senior year, 8-3 his junior season and 9-2 his sophomore year under coach Lee Kunz, and was 13-1 his freshman year (state champs) under coach Ed Stevens. He also lettered twice in lacrosse as a junior and senior.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado. He owned a 3.3 grade point average in high school.

PERSONAL—Born June 9, 1982 in Glenwood Springs, Colo. Hobbies include lifting, running, Frisbee golf and spending time with friends. An uncle (Scott Klune) played football for CU in the early 1970s, and a grandfather played at Northern Colorado. J.P. stands for Joseph Patrick. (Last name pronounced dee-zair-ig-uh.)

84 MIKE DUREN, WR

5-9, 190, Jr., VR

Lakewood, Colo.

(Arvada West/Nebraska)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Enters the fall listed as a reserve at the "X" receiver position. He had a solid spring, establishing himself as a reliable wide out, while he also saw action some action at returning punts and kickoffs. In the three main spring scrimmages, he reeled in five catches for 107 yards and one touchdown (a 53-yard grab from Erik Greenberg).

2002 (So.)—He joined the team as a recruited walk-on in August, after transferring from Nebraska's baseball program. He was used solely on special teams in the four games he played in. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Kansas game.

Other Years—He was a member of the University of Nebraska's baseball team in 2000 and 2001 as a scholarship outfielder, but he did not see any game action.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered four times in football, playing on all three phases of the game as a running back, defensive back, and punt/kick returner. As a senior he garnered all-state (honorable mention) and first-team all-Jefferson County League honors. He rushed for 200 yards and 10 touchdowns on 22 attempts, and also gained 400 yards and 10 scores through the air with 30 receptions. Of the three punts he returned, two went for touchdowns, while his only kick return also yielded a touchdown. As a junior, he earned all-state (honorable mention) accolades and was named to the first-team all-conference squad. He rushed 150 times for 1,110 yards and 20 touchdowns that season, also netting 20 catches for 300 yards and 5 touchdowns. Three of his five punt returns were returned for scores. Arvada West was 5-5 his senior year, 8-3 his junior year and 12-2 his sophomore season, winning the 5A state championship under coach Dave Logan. He was a four-year letterman in baseball, earning honorable mention all-state and first-team all-conference honors his junior and senior seasons at shortstop (he was a second team all-conference pick as a sophomore). He also lettered in track (sprints) two years.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado. He was named to the academic all-state team as a senior in high school.

PERSONAL—Born Sept. 16, 1981 in Lakewood, Colo. Hobbies include listening to music and recreational shooting. He is the next in a long line of Duren's to play at Colorado, as father (Gary) was a defensive back in 1973-74, and his brother (Matt) was a safety in 2000-01.

KEVIN EBERHART, PK

5-10, 175, Fr., HS

Broomfield, Colo. (Broomfield)

AT COLORADO—This Season (Fr.)—Projected as a placekicker in his true freshman year in college. He graduated from high school in December, and chose to enroll at CU for the spring semester. He participated in spring drills, making 2-of-3 field goals (25, 31 yards) in the three main scrimmages.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-Colorado (Denver Post, Rocky Mountain News), all-state (4A), all-region (Boulder Camera) and all-Skyline League honors. Prep Football Report and SuperPrep both named him to their All-Midland teams (the top placekicker regionally in both; PFR also called him one of the nation's top punters), while Rivals.com rated him as the No. 24 kicker in the nation. He was a second-team all-league performer at his scrimmage positions, receiver and strong safety. He was also all-state and all-league at both kicker and punter as a sophomore and junior. He finished his career as Colorado's all-time state leader in points by kicking (255) and field goals made (36), along with tying the record for the most career extra points made (147). As a senior, he made 10-of-15 field goals, including a 57-yard kick against Monarch that was the sixth longest in Colorado prep history. He also converted 28-of-29 PAT kicks, and owned a 43.6 average on 30 punts. He not only handled the placekicking and punting chores, but played receiver on offense (15 catches for 60 yards and a TD) and strong safety on defense (98 tackles, 66 solo, with 12 for losses and four sacks; he also had three passes broken up, three hurries and two forced fumbles). As a junior, he made 7-of-12 field goals (55 long) along with 61-of-67 PAT kicks. He was in on 50 tackles on defense (30 solo), with two pass deflections. One of just a handful of players in state history to make two field goals of 50-yards or longer in the same season, his top career game came against Monarch as a senior when he nailed the 57-yard three-pointer; he was in on 23 tackles (18 solo), with a forced fumble, one PBU and a second field goal from 35 yards out. A 32-yard field goal against Monarch his sophomore year gave Broomfield a two-point win and clinched the Skyline title. Broomfield was 8-3 his senior year, 13-1 his junior season (league champs, state runner-up) and 10-3 his sophomore year (league titleists) under coach Gary Davies. He also played basketball as a freshman.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in aerospace engineering at Colorado (wants to work for NASA or Ball Aerospace as an engineer after graduation). A consistent member of the "A" honor roll throughout high school (3.733 grade point), he was one of 11 scholar-athletes in Colorado for 2002 as selected by the Colorado Chapter National Football Foundation/College Hall of Fame.

PERSONAL—He was born Nov. 28, 1984 in Denver. His hobbies include snowboarding, drawing and hunting.

J.T. EBERLY, PK6-1, 195, Jr., VR
Littleton, Colo. (Mullen)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—He goes into the fall atop the depth chart at placekicker, but the position is long from decided. He had a solid spring, converting on all three PAT kicks and 1-of-4 field goals in the three spring scrimmages.

2002 (Soph.)—He saw action in three games (Kansas, Kansas State and Texas Tech), making good on his only placement kick (a PAT against Tech). He also kicked off four times, with three being returned and one fair caught. He made good on 2-of-3 field goals in spring scrimmages (long of 31), as well as converting all three of his PAT kicks in the spring game.

2001 (Fr.-RS)—Did not see any game action, but did dress for all home games and the Fiesta Bowl. He nailed his lone field goal try in CU's four full spring scrimmages from 48 yards out.

2000 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall with the team after joining the fold as a walk-on prior to August drills.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned second-team all-Centennial League honors at placekicker, when he was 37-of-41 on PAT kicks and made 8-of-9 field goals (with a long of 45). It was the only year he played football, and Mullen posted an 11-2 record under coach Mick McCall. He lettered four times in track (hurdles), with career bests of 15.6 in the 110-hurdles and 42.0 in the 300-hurdles as Mullen was a three-time 4A state champion in his career. He also lettered twice in soccer (midfielder) and played forward one season on the basketball team.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in business (finance and marketing) at Colorado. He made the Dean's List at CU (Spring 2001) and is a two-time member of the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll.

PERSONAL—Born Oct. 17, 1981 in Littleton, Colo. Hobbies include fly-fishing, hunting and playing golf.

CHADD EVANS, DE6-4, 250, Fr., HS
Tulsa, Okla. (Booker T. Washington)

AT COLORADO—This Season (Fr.)—Projected as a defensive end in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned all-Midlands honors from PrepStar, Prep Football Report and SuperPrep, in addition to garnering all-state, all-district (4-5A) and all-metro area accolades (PFR called him the top tight end prospect in the state of Oklahoma). He was the Green Country League defensive player of the year, and was invited to play in the Oklahoma All State game. He earned all-district and all-metro honors as a junior, and scored honorable mention honors on both teams as a sophomore. A three-year starter on both offense and defense, he caught 26 passes for 320 yards and three touchdowns as a senior. But he was a monster on defense, racking up 120 tackles at his defensive end spot (81 solo), with 16 quarterback sacks, 29 tackles for loss, 27 quarterback hurries, seven fumble recoveries, five forced fumbles and 11 passes broken up. As a junior, he had 124 tackles (84 solo), with 22 for losses and 10 sacks, seven pass deflections and two fumble recoveries. He played mostly guard on offense, but did play enough tight end to snare three touchdown passes. He also played tight end as a sophomore and both end and nose guard on defense. Top games as a senior included 15 tackles, three sacks and two fumble recoveries in a win over Tulsa Central, and a 12 tackle, three sacks and one recovery in a win over Nathan Hale. Booker T. Washington was 13-1 his senior season, losing in the state title game, 9-4 his junior year and 13-1 his sophomore season, reaching the semifinals. They were two-time 5A-4 conference champions under coach He also lettered three times in basketball (forward); averaged 12 points, seven rebounds and six assists as a senior). He has earned all-district and all-Green Country League honors.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in economics or business (marketing or international) as his major at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born March 22, 1984 in Tulsa. His hobbies include basketball and cooking, with his favorite dish to prepare being fried shrimp. His first cousin is Ryan Humphrey, a rookie forward with the NBA's Orlando Magic who played collegiately at Notre Dame. In high school, he was active with his school's student council and did volunteer work with the Red Cross.

MARK FENTON, OL6-4, 295, Fr., RS
Inglewood, Calif. (Westchester)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS): Enters the fall listed first at center, as he had a solid spring evolving at the position.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action but practiced all fall on the offensive line (mainly at guard). He dressed for nine games and was the Scout Team Offensive Award winner for the Missouri game. He shined in the Alamo Bowl practices, using the sessions to impress the coaches with his play at center. Enrolled in school in January in time for the spring semester, which means he still counts as a member of Colorado's 2001 class. He participated in spring drills, playing guard throughout.

2001—He delayed his enrollment until January, as despite playing well in the California-Texas All-Star game, he underwent a second surgical procedure to repair a broken metatarsal bone in his hand, as well as to improve on his academics. He was set to report as a defensive lineman out of high school and was an original member's of CU's 01 recruiting class.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned all-Southern California, all-district (city), all-South Bay area, all-West side (Los Angeles Times), all-Western Conference and all-city honors. He was named to the California All-Star team, and played in the California-Florida game this past June. He played both defensive tackle and center his senior year, as he racked up 35 tackles (20 solo), with eight for losses, including five quarterback sacks on defense, and registered 40 pancakes and allowed only two sacks on offense. As a junior, he earned first-team all-conference honors on offense, when he made 25 pancake blocks. Top games included a convincing win over Palisades his senior year, when he had 11 pancake blocks and at least eight quarterback hurries in helping to hold nationally ranked Palisades to 300 yards under its average on offense. Other top performances includes the '99 Palisade game (also a win), when he had three sacks in one quarter, and a win over Crenshaw his junior year when his blocking helped running back Sam Cunningham rush for 240 yards. Westchester was 9-2 his senior year, 10-2 his junior season and 9-2 his sophomore year, qualifying for the CIF playoffs all three seasons, under coach Larry Wein.

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in the School of Arts & Sciences.

PERSONAL—Born Nov. 14, 1983 in Hawthorne, Calif. Hobbies include playing video games.

DeANDRE FLUELLEN, DT

6-1, 300, Sr., 2L

Houston, Texas

(Forest Brook/NE Oklahoma A&M)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall listed second at one the two defensive tackle positions, but will see plenty of action as CU rotates three or four players in the mix. He missed the second half of spring drills after undergoing internal surgery (not related to an injury).

2002 (Jr.)—He played in all 14 games including the Alamo Bowl on defense, including starts in the first two games of the season. He saw action for 301 snaps overall, posting 17 tackles (10 solo), with a third down stop and a fumble recovery. He checked in for this fall at about 20 pounds lighter than his playing weight at the start of his sophomore season. He owned the best bench press on the team (475 pounds) in the spring conditioning tests.

2001 (Soph.)—He saw action in all 13 games, with four starts including the Fiesta Bowl, playing 383 snaps from scrimmage in the regular season. He had 23 tackles (15 solo), including three quarterback sacks, tied for third most on the team. He had six tackles for loss in all, also tied for third, and added two third down stops, a forced fumble and a key recovery, coming at the CU 1 to stop a third quarter scoring threat by Nebraska. His force came when he sacked Texas quarterback Chris Simms in the Big 12 championship game, setting up a Buff touchdown; his other sacks came against Kansas State and Iowa State. He had a season-high five tackles at Iowa State, and had four in the bowl game against Oregon, which included two for losses.

AT NE OKLAHOMA A&M: 1999-2000 (Fr./Fr.-RS)—He was ranked as the No. 11 defensive lineman in the nation by SuperPrep, which named him to its JUCO 100 list. He played one year at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M, sitting out as a freshman as he wasn't quite all the way back from a broken fibula he suffered in his last high school game. As a sophomore for the Golden Norsemen, he had 115 tackles (90 solo), with 23 tackles for loss that included eight quarterback sacks. He also added three fumble recoveries, two forced fumbles and 12 hurries for 8-2 NEO, which was coached by Dale Patterson. His top game came against Butler County, when he had 17 tackles (11 solo), with four tackles for loss, one sack, and a forced fumble. He played exclusively on defense on the JUCO level.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he was a member of the Houston Chronicle Top 100 for the state of Texas, when USA Today also selected him as its defensive player of the year for the state. SuperPrep and Prep Football Report selected him to their all-Southwest teams, with PFR ranking him as the No. 87 player in the state. He was also an All-Greater Houston team member at defensive tackle as a junior and senior, and was a three-year, first-team all-district performer at both offensive and defensive tackle his sophomore through senior years. As a senior, he was in on 130 tackles, with 15 quarterback sacks, 10 forced fumbles (with six recoveries) and an interception; he was the leading tackler on a defense that allowed just 171 yards per game. He also blocked three kicks in his career. On offense, he started at tackle for three years, never allowing a sack and being called for only two penalties. He suffered a broken fibula in his last prep game, when Forest Brook lost in the second round of the playoffs. He once had a five-sack game (against Friendswood his senior year). FBHS was the District 21-4A champion his sophomore, junior and senior campaigns, posting a 9-2 mark his senior year and 10-2 record his junior year under coach Ronald Holmes.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Oct. 13, 1980 in Houston, Texas. He was a high school teammate of current Buff Corey Alexander. Hobbies include weightlifting, running and playing video games. (First name pronounced dee-on-dray; last name pronounced flu-ellen.)

CHAD GARDNER, FB

6-2, 235, Sr., 3L

Orangevale, Calif. (Granite Bay)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—He has been moved from defensive end to fullback, but he has yet to practice at his new position as he missed spring drills recovering from knee surgery.

2002 (Jr.)—He saw action in 11 games, all on special teams, and had one tackle on coverage duty; he was the Scout Team Defense Award winner for the San Diego State game. He injured his knee in Alamo Bowl practices and it required surgery, this he missed the bowl game. He missed spring practice (violated team rules), but was back in good standing by summer.

2001 (Soph.)—He saw action in the final eight games of the year, including the Fiesta Bowl, all on special teams. He had two assisted tackles on coverage unit duty, and was the Scout Team Defense Award winner for the Texas A&M game. He had 10 tackles, including a third down stop, in the four full spring scrimmages.

2000 (Fr.)—He was "activated" from a possible redshirt year in the fifth game of the season, and he wound up playing in six games, all on special teams.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned All-America honors from PrepStar, which ranked him as the No. 8 linebacker in the West region. He also earned first-team all-state honors (Cal-Hi Sports), all-Sacramento Metro (Sacramento Bee) and all-Sierra Foothill League honors. As a senior playing outside (rush) linebacker, he was in on 130 tackles (83 solo), with some monster garnish: he had a whopping 55 quarterback hurries, 29 tackles for loss, 14 quarterback sacks and three blocked kicks (two field goals, one punt). He also had four forced fumbles, three fumble recoveries, three passes broken up and an interception, and had 10 or more tackles in 10 games. As a junior, he made 85 tackles with 20 for losses and 10 sacks, with 42 hurries and three blocked kicks. He holds the school record for career quarterback sacks (24). He played both running back and inside linebacker on the junior varsity as a freshman and sophomore. Top games as a senior included a battle against the No. 1 team from Nevada, McQueen, when with 1:50 remaining, he chased down the quarterback, and in the process of sacking him forced a fumble that Granite Bay recovered to preserve a 29-28 win. He had 17 tackles and three sacks in that game, and in a 14-0 win over Placer, he had 20 tackles and two quarterback sacks. Granite Bay was 13-0 his senior year, claiming the CIF San Joaquin Section championship, and was 8-2 his junior season and 5-5 his sophomore year under coach Bob Sebring. He lettered four times in track, participating in the shot put (50-6 career best) and the discus (155-4).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in film studies at Colorado. He owned a 3.0 grade point in high school.

PERSONAL—Born April 9, 1982 in Polson, Mont. Hobbies include working on cars, especially classic Volkswagen "Bugs."

82

JAMES GAREE, DE

6-5, 255, Soph., 1L

Colorado Springs, Colo. (Mitchell)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—He enters the fall listed second at defensive end, and figures to be in the rotation during games this fall. He had a big spring game, as he was in on seven tackles, with all six of his solo stops being quarterback sacks (he had nine tackles in the three spring scrimmages, seven for losses, all sacks).

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in seven games (no starts), including four on defense. He was in for 39 plays, making five solo stops including a sack (against Baylor). He had three points on special team duty, as he assisted on a tackle inside-the-20 and had a wedge break.

2001 (Fr.)—The coaching staff named him the winner of the Lee Willard Award, presented to the most outstanding freshman. Even though he was redshirted, he really developed on the scout team and was named the scout team player of the week three different times (for the Colorado State, San Jose State and Iowa State games). He was the first frosh redshirt to win the award since 1972, the last season true freshmen were not eligible to play.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned PrepStar, SuperPrep and Prep Football Report all-Midlands honors, as he was listed as the No. 62 overall recruit by PFR and No. 69 by SP. He was tabbed All-Colorado by the Rocky Mountain News, which also named him first-team all-state; the Denver Post selected him honorable mention all-state. He played in the all-state game at the University of Northern Colorado this past March. As a senior, he posted 117 tackles (80 solo), with 16 for losses, including 13 sacks. He complemented those with seven quarterback hurries, four passes broken up, two forced fumbles, three recoveries, the first interception of his career and three blocked kicks (two punts, one field goal). He also started on offense at tight end and caught 12 passes for 200 yards and three touchdowns. As a junior, he made 95 tackles, with eight sacks and three forced fumbles, earning first-team all-Metro North Conference accolades and was named to the Colorado Springs Gazette-Telegraph's all-area team. He also started as a sophomore at defensive end, and had three fumble recoveries and around 60 tackles. He had a couple of catches (for 25 yards) on offense. Top games as a senior included a 12-tackle, three-sack effort in Mitchell's 28-7 victory over Palmer and a two-sack performance in a win against Doherty. As a junior in 1999, he racked up 14 tackles in a losing effort to Wasson. Mitchell was 12-2 his senior year, 7-3 his junior campaign and 5-4 his sophomore year under coach Tom Sandoval; MHS fell in the second round of the 2000 state playoffs to Fruita Monument. He also lettered in track, competing mostly in the relays (particularly the 4x200). He wrestled his first two years in high school, competing at the 160-pound class his freshman year and then as a heavyweight as a sophomore (mainly because of a lack of big wrestlers in the program).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. He was an honor roll student in high school, maintaining a 3.12 grade point average.

PERSONAL—Born May 8, 1982 in Denver. He says the biggest moment in his high school career was when he officially signed with the Buffaloes. Hobbies include basketball and jumping on a trampoline in his spare time. (Last name is pronounced Gary.)

Grand Junction, Colo.

(Grand Junction/Scottsdale CC)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall listed as a reserve wide receiver.

2002 (Jr.)—He returned to CU for spring drills after honing his skills in junior college; he dressed for eight games but did not see any game action.

2001 (Soph.)—He practiced with CU in the spring (at "Z" receiver), but transferred to Scottsdale Community College for the fall. He played in eight games, snaring 10 receptions for 225 yards (no touchdowns). SCC won the ACCAA title but lost to Garden City CC in the Valley of the Sun Bowl.

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He dressed for five games but did not see any action.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action but practiced the entire season at wide receiver. He joined the team as a walk-on in time to participate in August drills.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three times in football at Grand Junction, ranking in the top 10 in receptions and yards. He had 45 receptions for 469 yards and six touchdowns as a senior, 13 catches for 245 yards and a score as a junior, and 25 for 243 as a sophomore with eight TDs. As a junior, he ran the fastest 20-yard shuttle (4.13) at the NIKE training camp in Boulder. Grand Junction was 5-5 his junior year and 7-4 his senior season under coaches Doug Cogan and Rocky Whitworth. He also lettered four times in track (sprints and hurdles), with career bests of 10.67 in the 100, 21.54 in the 200 and 37.75 in the 300-intermediate hurdles (good for second in the state his senior year; it was also the fourth fastest time in Colorado state history). All three of those times were school records.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in economics at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Oct. 28, 1980 in Mesa, Ariz., but calls Orchard Mesa, Colo., outside of Grand Junction, his hometown. Hobbies include hunting and fishing. His paternal bloodline has roots in major league baseball: his father (Daniel) was a centerfielder with the Expos and Brewers, and his grandfather (Danny) was an outfielder with the Giants and Indians. His younger brother, Marcus (also a receiver), joined the Buffaloes in the fall of 2002.

MARCUS GONZALES, WR

6-4, 185, Soph., VR

Grand Junction, Colo.

(Central/Scottsdale CC)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed as a reserve wide receiver. He caught three passes for 33 yards in the three main spring scrimmages.

2002 (Soph.-RS)—Redshirted; he transferred from Scottsdale Community College, and practiced the entire fall at receiver after joining the squad as an invited walk-on in August. He did not see any playing time, but did dress for eight games, including the Alamo Bowl. Thus, he automatically redshirted for the year.

AT SCOTTSDALE CC (Fr.)—He lettered as a wide receiver in 2001, nabbing 21 receptions for 460 yards and four touchdowns, scoring in each of the last four games. SCC won the Arizona Athletic Conference title, but lost to Garden City CC in the Valley of the Sun Bowl. His junior college coach was Ken Giovando.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered twice in football at Grand Junction, reeling in 27 catches for 680 yards and nine touchdowns as a senior, and 13 receptions for 210 yards as a junior. 13

ERIK GREENBERG, QB

6-2, 200, Soph., VR

Colorado Springs, Colo. (Rampart)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—He enters the fall listed third at quarterback, but considering that he didn't pick up a football for two years, he had a pretty good spring. He completed 26-of-46 passes for 417 yards and three touchdowns, as he completed 57 percent of his passes without throwing an interception. He was sacked five times in 51 pass plays, but avoided two others with positive runs.

2001-02—He was on sabbatical from the team, as he served his Mormon Mission, as required of 19-year olds in the Church of Latter Day Saints.

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He dressed for all games, and got in at the tail end of one, Oklahoma State, but did not have any statistics. He was placed on scholarship for the season.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the entire season at quarterback, and was actually No. 3 on the depth chart at times due to injuries and other attrition at the position. He joined the team as a walk-on prior to the start of August drills.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three times as a quarterback at Rampart, setting a school record for passing yards and touchdowns as a senior. He earned first-team all-state (4A) and all-league honors as a senior, when he completed 106-of-153 passes for 2,053 yards, throwing 27 touchdown passes and only seven interceptions. Rampart was 14-0 his senior season, winning the state's 4A title, and was 9-1 his junior year and 10-1 his sophomore season under coach Mike Sirko. He also lettered three times in baseball (outfielder), starting all three years and helping Rampart to a league title as a senior.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in Spanish for the professions at Colorado. In high school, he earned honorable mention academic all-state honors as a senior and was an honor roll student.

PERSONAL—Born Oct. 2, 1980 in Mesa, Ariz. Hobbies include all sports. He served his two-year mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints in the Bolivia Cochabamba Mission from January 2001 to December 2002.

KYLE GRIFFITH, S

6-2, 205, Soph., 1L
Broomfield, Colo. (Broomfield)

AT COLORADO: This Season (So.)—Enters the fall listed second at strong safety. He had an impressive spring, and should provide solid depth at safety for CU's year-old 4-2-5 base defense. He racked up 15 tackles (seven solo) in three major spring scrimmages, adding two sacks for 19 yards and a pair of pass deflections.

2002 (Fr.)—He joined the team as a recruited walk-on for August drills, and soon established himself as a gritty performer on special teams. He played in the last nine games of the season, and finished the year with two tackles and one knockdown, earning himself three special team points. He was one of three true freshmen walk-ons to play in 2002, but they are in a group of only four who have done so dating back to 1986.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three times in football at Broomfield, as he garnered second team all-conference (Skyline) honors his senior year. He finished the season with 52 total tackles (32 solo) including six for loss, four sacks, two fumble recoveries, one forced fumble, one pass deflection and one interception. Broomfield was 13-1 his senior season, winning the league championship and advancing to the 4A state title game, and was 12-2 his junior year (league titleists) under coach Gary Davies. He also lettered twice in baseball as a catcher and leftfielder.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in business at Colorado (sequence undetermined), as he intends on owning his own business someday.

PERSONAL—Born July 27, 1984 in Westminster, Colo. He hails from the same high school that produced recent Buff graduate and current New Orleans Saint Kory Mossoni. Coincidentally they both played the same position, and Mossoni tutored him his freshman season. Brother (Zach) was an inside linebacker and special teams performer for the Buffaloes in 2001-02.

JOHN GUYDON, DT

6-2, 300, Jr., JC
Yorba Linda, Calif. (El Dorado/Fullerton Community College)

AT COLORADO—This Season (Jr.)—Projected as a defensive tackle in his first year of Division I football. He was still attending junior college in the spring and thus did not enroll at CU for spring drills.

JUNIOR COLLEGE—As a sophomore, he earned second-team JUCO All-America honors and unanimous first-team all-Mission Conference honors. SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 79 player on its JUCO Top 100 List (the seventh DL), CFN.com ranked him as the No. 43 JUCO (the 11th DL), and JCFootball.com ranking him among eight D-tackles in its Top 101. He earned second-team all-conference honors as a freshman. As a senior, he was second among all Mission Conference defensive linemen with 60 tackles (23 solo, 19 for losses, two sacks). He also forced two fumbles and recovered two. As a freshman, he made 35 tackles (19 solo), with 16 for losses, two sacks and an interception. His top game came his soph year against rival Santa Ana: in a 24-21 win, he had 10 tackles, three hurries and a sack in helping to limit Santa Ana to just 86 yards on 46 rushes. Fullerton CC was 3-7 his sophomore year and 6-5 his freshman season under coach Gene Murphy.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three years in football, a two-way starter every season. He had 65 tackles as a senior playing as a 250-pound defensive tackle, along with four sacks and an interception; he racked up 55 stops with sacks and a pick as a junior defensive end. He had roughly 40 tackles at tackles as a sophomore. On offense, he started at guard for all three seasons and did not allow a quarterback sack. El Dorado was 2-8 his senior year and 6-5 his junior and sophomore seasons under coach Rick Jones. He also lettered twice in track, throwing the shot put and discus.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in communication and broadcast journalism as his major at CU. A 3.0 student in junior college, he is a finalist for a student-athlete achievement award for southern California junior colleges.

PERSONAL—Born August 18, 1983 in Compton, Calif. His main hobby is comedy; he's performed stand-up in several California comedy clubs, and cites comedian Dannon Greene as his mentor. He's also met legendary comedians and actors Tommy Davidson and Martin Lawrence. Other hobbies include entertainment of all kinds, music, movies and live performances. He also excels at performing "Beat Box," which he has done for a couple of major Southern California radio stations. His second cousin, Damian Anderson, played tailback at Northwestern (under current CU coach Gary Barnett) and is now with the Arizona Cardinals in the NFL. A self-proclaimed "late bloomer," he wasn't recruited out of high school (Last name is pronounced "guy-dunn".)

D.J. HACKETT, WR

6-3, 200, Sr., 1L
Ontario, Calif. (San Dimas/
CSU-Northridge)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall listed second at the "X" receiver position and is in the mix for starting honors, but regardless will see plenty of action as the Buffs rotate in as many as four receivers regularly.

2002 (Jr.)—He played in 13 games including the Alamo Bowl (no starts), coming on strong the second half of the season. He was fourth on the team with 15 receptions, averaging 12.1 per reception (181 yards). He had touchdown receptions against Kansas and Iowa State, and had nine receptions for 143 yards over the last five games of the regular season. His top game came against the Cyclones, when he had four receptions for 69 yards to go with his 8-yard TD reception, and he had three catches for 54 yards in the first game against Oklahoma. He shined in the bowl against Wisconsin, snaring three passes for 30 yards, including touchdown catches of 10 yards from Robert Hodge and 11 yards from Zac Colvin. The coaches named him to CU's prestigious Victory Club, as he posted qualifying grades in at least nine games on the year. He transferred to Colorado in time to begin the spring semester, as he was a casualty when Cal State-Northridge eliminated its football program last Nov. 20. NCAA rules dictate that players can transfer and have immediate eligibility in such cases, so he came to CU with two years of eligibility remaining. He worked his way into CU's two-deep at the position in spring practices, and in team conditioning tests, he had the second best vertical leap at 41 inches. A suffered a sprained knee (LCL) during the second half of spring drills, but the injury did not require surgery and he was fine by the first of July.

AT CSU-NORTHRIDGE (2001, Soph.)—In starting all 10 games, he caught 53 passes for 778 yards, or 14.7 per reception, with a long play of 69. He also had 10 touchdown catches, one in every game, to end his CSUN career with at least one TD grab in 13 straight games. He had a pair of 100-yard games, as he had 10 catches for 123 yards at UC-Davis and eight for 122 at Stephen F. Austin. He also rushed one time for 12 yards as the team posted a 3-7 record.

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He started all 11 games for the Matadors and finished second on the team with 47 receptions for 729 yards and seven touchdowns, averaging 15.5 yards per catch, with a long of 76. Top game came at Sacramento State, when he caught 12 passes for 170 yards and a touchdown. He had five grabs for 143 yards and two scores against Northern Arizona, and also had two TD catches at Weber State in a nationally televised game on ESPN2. CSU-Northridge was 4-7 on the season.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action but practiced the entire fall at receiver.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned all-Valle Vista League, all-CIF and all-Inland Valley honors as a senior, when he was also an L.A. Times All-Star. He earned three letters in football playing for coach Ted Clark. He also lettered three times in basketball (forward) and three times in track (200, 400).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in kinesiology at Colorado. He earned second-team Academic All-Big 12 honors as a junior in 2002. He was an honor roll student in high school and maintained a 3.5 grade point.

PERSONAL—Born July 3, 1981 in Fontana, Calif. Full name is DeAndre James Hackett, but he has gone by D.J. as long as he can remember. Father (Eddie) played briefly with the Minnesota Vikings, with two cousins also having played college football, Orlando Hackett (Arizona State) and Jay Hackett (Montana State). Hobbies include fishing, golfing, fixing up imported cars, video games and playing cards and dominoes. Full name is DeAndre James Hackett.

MARWAN HAGE, OG

6-3, 290, Sr., 3L

Montreal, Quebec (Vanier Prep)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Colorado's starting split guard, with 27 consecutive starts at the position. The Sporting News selected him as a first-team preseason All-American (Street & Smith's tabbed him honorable mention), while he was also a consensus pick on the first-team all-Big 12 preseason teams. The Sporting News ranked him as the No. 2 guard in the nation, and also named him to its all-spring team; Lindy's Big 12 Football slotted him as the No. 6 guard in the nation. He won the Joe Romig Award as the team's outstanding offensive line in the spring, and he also was one of 13 players to earn prestigious Spring Victory Club honors.

2002 (Jr.)—He earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from both the Associated Press and Big 12 Coaches, while the CU coaches named him to the prestigious Victory Club for the year. He started all 14 games at split guard, and in the bowl game, he moved to center in the second half due to injuries, a position he hadn't played even in practice since early his freshman season. He graded out to 83.4 percent for the year, third best of all the offensive linemen, and led the O-men with 43 knockdown blocks. He also had 15 downfield and 11 touchdown blocks. He allowed just one quarterback sack (and that was in the 13th game), only six pressures and was never called for a penalty in 860 snaps from scrimmage, the fourth-most on offense. He had the single-game high for knockdowns with eight against Texas Tech, with his personal best grade an 88.8 figure in the win over Kansas State. He played an additional 50 snaps on CU's field goal/PAT unit on special teams.

2001 (Soph.)—Started all 13 games including the Fiesta Bowl. At split-side guard, he earned his way on to CU's prestigious Victory Club by grading out with a winning performance in at least eight games. He was second on the team (O-linemen) with 94 domination blocks, tying for the individual season-high with 15 against Missouri. He added 31 downfield blocks and 14 touchdown blocks in 808 plays from scrimmage, while allowed only one-and-a-half sacks and three pressures. He graded out to 1.443 in line coach Steve Marshall's unique grading system, fifth on the team; but he was only .40 out of the lead. He put close to 25 pounds of muscle on his frame between arriving at CU and the middle of his sophomore year.

2000 (Fr.)—He saw action in five games at split guard, including two starts (against Kansas and Oklahoma State). He played 148 snaps from scrimmage and had 11 dominant blocks and three downfield blocks. He did not get called for a penalty and did not allow a sack. He enrolled at CU in January in time for classes, and thus, the opportunity to practice with the team in the spring.

HIGH SCHOOL—He attended Vanier Prep for one semester (fall 1999), and played high school football at Sun Youth High, as his own high school, Mont de La Salle, did not sponsor the sport. He earned SuperPrep All-Far West honors, as the publication groups the country into its West review, and was ranked as the No. 3 player in Canada. As a senior, he earned first-team Team Canada, Team Quebec and Quebec all-star honors. As a junior, he earned first-team Team Canada and Team Quebec accolades, and was the youngest member on the Team Quebec squad. He was a four-time most valuable player in the Quebec All-Star game. He played offensive guard his last three years as a prep. Vanier was 7-2-1 in 1999, while Sun Youth posted records of 3-7 (his 11th grade year) and 8-2 (10th grade). Top games included a great effort in a 24-14 loss to Vieux Montreal, when he held Michigan recruit Alain Kachama to no sacks. He also had four pancakes against Marc Andre Dion, a top prospect in Quebec, in a 28-14 loss to Lennoxville. Prep coaches were Ray Gagnon (Vanier Prep) and Earl De La Peralle (Sun Youth).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in business (management) at Colorado, and earned first-team Academic All-Big 12 honors as a freshman and second-team as both a sophomore and junior. In the spring of 2003, he was one of five recipients of the MacAllister Scholar Award, presented to five CU sophomores or juniors who exhibit outstanding leadership skills for CU and the community. He owned an 82 percentile average in high school.

PERSONAL—Born Sept. 14, 1981 in Beirut, Lebanon. Hobbies include volunteering to work with kids at Christmas and acting. One older brother, Rudy, was also a member of the 2000 CU recruiting class, but had to give up the game for medical reasons; another older brother (Elias) played football at East Texas State. His mother (Hayat) was a member of the Lebanese National Volleyball Team. The Hage family moved to Montreal from his native Beirut, Lebanon, in 1990, fleeing a war-torn neighborhood to a Canadian city that had a sizeable Lebanese community. He speaks English, French and Arabic all fluently. (Last name pronounced similar to age with an h: hayg)

MATT HAMMOND, WR

6-3, 205, Soph., VR
 Sherwood, Ore. (Jesuit)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall as a reserve wide receiver. He rejoined the team for spring drills, as he was a tight end as a true freshman in 2001; he moved over to receiver the second time around, as he weighed about 15 pounds less than he did as a freshman.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He decided to not play football, but remained enrolled in classes at CU.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he did not see any game action. He joined the team as a recruited walk-on for August drills, and practiced all fall as a tight end.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned honorable mention all-state and first-team all-conference honors at tight end, as he caught 15 passes for 280 yards and five touchdowns, including one in the state title game. He played some spot action on the defensive line, posting 22 tackles (10 solo, two quarterback sacks), with two forced fumbles and two passes broken up. Jesuit, located in the Portland suburbs, was the state champion his senior year (14-0 record) and three-time Metro League champion under coach Ken Potter. JHS was 12-1 both his junior and sophomore seasons. He also lettered three times in track (11.9 best in the 100-meter run, 150-0 in the discus), as he was a member of a three-time league champion as well his sophomore through senior years. He played the post one year in basketball.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in psychology at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Jan. 29, 1983 in Portland, Ore. He earned a letter in choir as a prep, as he lists singing and playing the piano among his hobbies. A grandfather helped start the Hanford project in the Tri-Cities after World War II.

LIONEL HARRIS, CB

6-1, 195, Fr., HS
 Manvel, Texas (Alvin)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as a cornerback in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-district (24-5A) honors, along with first-team all-Brazoria County mention (he was also a preseason all-Greater Houston team member). SuperPrep named him to its all-Southwest team (the No. 79 player in the region, and the 13th defensive back), while Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 60 safety in the nation. He was invited to play in the Down Under Bowl in Australia this June. He earned second-team all-district honors and first-team all-county accolades as a junior, and was second-team all-county as a sophomore. As a senior, he posted 105 tackles (85 solo, two for losses) at his free safety spot, and also forced three fumbles with eight passes broken up and a blocked punt (for a safety). He averaged 16 yards on 10 punt returns and 18 yards on five kickoff returns. As a junior, he had 60 tackles (47 solo), with five interceptions, five pass deflections, two forced fumbles and two recoveries, while averaging 14 yards on eight punt returns. He played corner as a sophomore, making 37 tackles (22 unassisted, three for losses), with seven PBU's, two interceptions, two fumble recoveries and one caused fumble. His top game came against Fort Bend Elkins his senior year (14 tackles, one forced fumble, 2 PBU's), and he three different games with 11 tackles and two pass breakups. He also had an 11-tackle game with two passes broken up and two tackles for loss as a junior against Galveston Ball. Alvin was 7-3 his junior and senior seasons and 6-4 his sophomore year under coach Mike Bass. He also lettered twice in track (sprints and relays) and once in basketball.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in pre-law as his major at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born Jan. 5, 1985 in Galveston, Texas. His hobbies include shooting pool, playing video games and weightlifting. He also was an accomplished bull rider from seventh to 10th grade, including a win and a runner-up finish in organized competitions.

MARQUES HARRIS, DE

6-2, 235, Sr., 3L
 Grand Junction, Colo.
 (Grand Junction)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall as one of CU's starting defensive ends. He missed the last two weeks of spring drills after suffered an inflamed vertebrae, but he was fine by the end of May. Street & Smith's tabbed him as a preseason honorable mention All-American and a first-team All-Big 12 selection; Athlon's also selected him first-team all-conference, while The Sporting News made him a second-team pick.

2002 (Jr.)—He earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from the Big 12 Coaches, and the CU coaches named him to the team's prestigious Victory Club for the season. He started all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, and played 755 regular season snaps at defensive end. He posted 68 tackles (48 solo) for the year, including a team best 14 tackles for losses, and added six more stops against Wisconsin in the bowl. He was second on the team in quarterback pressures (11), first in near-sacks (5) and tied for third in sacks (4). He also had seven third down stops and an interception, which he made in the first Oklahoma game. He had a season-high eight tackles against Missouri, and had five or more on seven occasions. He added two tackles and a touchdown block on special teams duty. He practiced the first portion of spring drills at outside linebacker, but he returned to his familiar position for the last half of practice as the coaches tried a few experiments on defense. He had 11 tackles, four sacks and four third down stops in the three main spring scrimmages. He was the speed-strength and conditioning champion in the spring for the 221-242 pound weight class.

2001 (Soph.)—He started all 13 games, including the Fiesta Bowl, at defensive end, earning his way on to CU's prestigious Victory Club by grading out with a winning performance in at least eight games. He played 649 snaps from scrimmage, racking up 51 tackles (38 solo), six for losses, including three sacks. He tied for the team lead in hurries with eight, was fourth on the team with 11 third down stops, had three pass deflections and an interception (against Kansas State). He had a career-high nine tackles at Iowa State, including five solo and three third down stops. He was CU's defensive player of the week for the KSU and ISU games; he had four solo tackles and two hurries in addition to the pick against the Wildcats, and other top efforts include seven tackle games against Texas in Austin and Oklahoma State. He was also fourth on the team in special team points with 13, as he had seven tackles (four solo, two inside-the-20) and four knockdown blocks.

2000 (Fr.)—He played in all 11 games, including two starts as the nickel defensive back against Oklahoma State and Missouri. In six games on defense, he saw action for 160 snaps from scrimmage and was in on 14 tackles (nine solo). He had two third down stops and three pressures, and also finished the year with 3½ quarterback sacks, the most by a freshman in five years. On special teams, he had two solo tackles, a knockdown block and a blocked punt (at Texas A&M which set up a CU touchdown). He was going to get looks at both wide receiver and defensive back in fall camp, but he wound up at the hawk linebacker position. He moved to the drop position due to injuries, and then made the move to defensive end prior to the third game of the season (Washington). But because he weighed in at around 210 pounds, it was easy for him to play the nickel position on occasion.

HIGH SCHOOL—He played outside linebacker and slot-back his senior year in high school, when he earned PrepStar All-America honors. SuperPrep selected him to its all-Midlands team, and made the all-Colorado team by the Denver Post, which included him on its list of the state's top Blue Chips. The Post selected him first-team all-state (5A) at linebacker, while the News picked him first-team all-state (5A) at tight end. He was a first-team all-Southwestern League as a junior and senior, and a first team Colorado Springs Metro League (5A) performer as a senior. He played eight games on defense as a senior, racking up 72 tackles (47 solo), with 20 for losses, including 10 quarterback sacks; he also forced five fumbles, had three passes broken up and blocked a punt. On offense, he caught 48 passes for 632 yards and seven touchdowns, averaging 13.2 yards per catch. He also scored two touchdowns rushing, and returned 10 kickoffs for 298 yards (no TDs). As a junior, he was in on 112 tackles (86 solo), with 13 tackles for losses and four sacks. He added three blocked punts, two interceptions, three fumbles recoveries, two passes broken up and averaged 15.2 yards on six punt returns. Top career games included a 32-29 loss to Arapahoe in the first round of the state playoffs his senior year. He had 12 tackles, 10 receptions for 111 yards and a touchdown (including five catches on the last drive, where a field goal to tie the game was no good), and blocked a punt his team returned for a score. In a 54-14 win over Montrose, he had a whopping 11 tackles for loss, including four sacks. Grand Junction was 5-5 his sophomore and senior years and 6-5 his junior season under coaches Doug Cogan and Rocky Whitworth. He lettered four times in wrestling, winning the 5A state title as a senior, going 32-0 in his weight class (189-lbs). He finished fourth in the state as both a sophomore and junior, earning all-state honors three years in all. He also lettered as a freshman and sophomore in baseball as a catcher and outfielder.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado, and also has an interest in elementary education. An honor roll student in high school, as he owned better than a 3.0 grade point average.

PERSONAL—Born Sept. 20, 1981 in Salt Lake City, Utah. His hobbies include snowboarding, backpacking, camping and fishing. An uncle (Chuck Wiman) was a one-time member of the CU football team in the 1970s, and his biological father is Alvin Phillips, who played linebacker and defensive line for the Buffs from 1972 to 1976. In October 2002, he founded Harris's Kids Inc., a private non-profit organization to help underprivileged kids who need mentoring, and soon thereafter developed Baseline Inc., a similar group.

EDWIN HARRISON, OL

6-5, 300, Fr., HS

Houston, Texas (Westbury)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as an offensive lineman in his true freshman year as a collegian.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned Prep Football Report and SuperPrep all-Southwest honors, with PrepStar naming him to its all-Midlands team. PFR ranked him as the No. 66 player in the region (the seventh offensive lineman), while SuperPrep placed him No. 108 in the region (the 21st OL) and Rivals.com tabbed him as the No. 30 offensive lineman nationally and as the No. 70 player in Texas. He earned first-team all-district (18-5A) and Houston Chronicle All-Greater Houston honors, in addition to being named to the Texas Top 100 Lists by both the Chronicle and the Dallas Morning News (he also made several other top player lists). He also claimed a host of awards, including the George Bush/Kiwanis Club Sports Hero Award and the Houston Touchdown Club Scholar-Athlete Award, and was named as an outstanding high school senior by the Derrick Thomas Foundation. He earned first-team all-district honors as a junior, when he was the team's most valuable lineman and was an All-Greater Houston Underclassmen Team selection; he was also second-team all-district as a sophomore. A three-year starter at offensive tackles, he had 70 dominant (pancake) blocks and 15 touchdown blocks as a senior, when he did not allow a sack or get called for a single penalty. He blocked for the district's leading passer, Michael Nichols (1,800 yards and 20 TDs) and a two-back rotation that gained 1,200 yards. As a junior, he had 65 dominant and 13 touchdown blocks with no sacks allowed while being flagged just one time. He had 60 dominant and 10 touchdown blocks as a sophomore, when he allowed just one sack and was penalized once. Thus, he had 195 career pancakes and 38 touchdown blocks while allowing just one sack and being called for only two penalties. Some top games included a battle against Lamar his senior year, when he had six pancakes and a touchdown block in shutting down John Williams, the Houston Chronicle's area defensive player of the year. He had a career-high eight 'cakes with two TD blocks against Worthing the same year. Westbury was 5-5 both his junior and senior seasons, and was 6-4 his sophomore year, finishing third in the district, under coach George Campbell. He also lettered in outdoor track (shot put).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in psychology as his major at Colorado. He was an active member of the National Honor Society, the English Honor Society and the French Honor Society, and also belonged to the National Science Scholars.

PERSONAL—He was born Nov. 18, 1984 in Houston, Texas. His grandfather (Calvin Jones) won the Outland Trophy as the nation's outstanding interior lineman as a senior at Iowa in 1955; Jones was the first two-time consensus All-American in Iowa history, and his No. 62 was retired by the Hawkeyes. His hobbies include traveling, as he lists the Bahamas as his favorite place he has ever visited, and skiing. He received the Eagle Scout Badge in 2001 for helping build a library for "The Project Royal," which helps single moms and kids. He was also active with his church in both choir and youth fellowship.

J.P. HEATON, P

6-2, 200, Fr., HS

Novato, Calif. (Marin Catholic)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—Enters the fall listed as second on the depth chart at punter, after joining the team as a walk-on in January. He had some work at placekicker during the spring, but should solely hold backup punting duties come fall. He punted four times for a 32.8 average in the three main spring scrimmages.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered two times in football at Marin Catholic, as he played wide receiver, linebacker, punter and kicker. He was a first-team all-league (NCS) selection his senior year when he set the school record for most field goals in a career (13). He nailed 6-of-8 attempts that year, including a long of 46 yards. Punting, he averaged 48 yards on 15 boots, with a long of 63 and seven traveling 50 or more yards. He also placed four punts inside the 20. As a junior, he set the school record for most field goals in a season in making 7-for-9 for the year. He also boomed 12 punts for a 44-yard average, including a long of 58, with five going 50-yards plus and three landing inside the 20. He lists his top high school moment as the fumble he recovered and returned for a 96-yard touchdown against national powerhouse De La Salle his junior year. Marin was 12-0 his senior year (league champions), 8-3 his junior year and 11-1 his sophomore season under coach Scott Morrison. He also lettered once as a pitcher in baseball, as he was a member of the league champion as a junior.

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is interested in business and communication.

PERSONAL—Born Feb. 29, 1984 in Orange County, Calif. Hobbies include snowboarding, and he's worked construction jobs in the summer. His father (John) played defensive end at Indiana University in 1966. J.P. stands for John Patrick.

18

TYRONE HENDERSON, S

6-0, 180, Fr., RS

Oakland, Calif. (McClymonds)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the spring listed third at free safety. He led the team in tackles in the three main spring scrimmages with 24 (15 solo, four for losses with a quarterback sack), a total which also included a team-high 11 in the Black & Gold game.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action but practiced all fall in the secondary. He was the Scout Team Defense Award winner for the Texas Tech game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-America honors, as the magazine ranked him as the No. 8 "athlete" in its West region. Prep Football Report and SuperPrep both named him to their All-Far West teams, while Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 54 cornerback in the nation. He earned first-team all-state, all-metro, all-city and all-Oakland Athletic League honors, and was named an A&G All-Star, listed as one of the Bay Area's Top 15 recruits and made the East Bay's "Cream of the Crop" Top 20. He earned second-team all-city and all-league honors and was honorable mention all-A&G as a junior. As a senior, he made 138 tackles (97 solo), with 31 for losses including five quarterback sacks. He added a whopping 49 passes broken up to go with six interceptions, seven hurries, six forced fumbles and six recoveries. He was in on 83 tackles as a junior (20 TFL's, two sacks), with 27 pass deflections, six hurries, two forced fumbles and a recovery. He also rushed for 500 yards and four touchdowns, while completing 24-of-50 passes for 400 yards and three more scores. He caught two two-point conversions both as a junior and senior, and he also punted on occasion as well. He played junior varsity as a sophomore. Top games as a senior included 13 tackles (five for losses totaling 30 yards), a forced fumble and a pass deflection in a 45-28 win over Skyline (he also caught two two-point conversion passes), and 10 tackles, three PBU's and a fumble recovery in a 64-14 win over Piedmont. McClymonds was 11-1 his senior year, winning the Oakland Athletic League title and the Silver Bowl, and was 7-4 his junior season under coach Alonzo Carter. He also lettered four times in basketball (15 points, six rebounds and five assists per game as a senior), four times in track (sprints and relays), twice in cross country and will play baseball the first time as a senior. He posted bests of 22.0 in the 200-meter run, 49.3 in the 400 and 2:03 in the 800 in track.

CHRIS HOLLIS, ILB

6-1, 235, Soph., 1L

Denver, Colo. (Aurora Hinkley)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed second at inside linebacker. He had a fine spring, racking up 12 tackles (nine solo, three for losses with a sack) in the three main spring scrimmages. 2002 (Fr.)—He saw action in five games over the first half of the season, getting on defense in four games (24 plays in all, no tackles). He had three special team points on the strength of two tackles and a knockdown block. He was hospitalized with a life-threatening virus prior to the Buffs' departure for the Alamo Bowl, and did not suit up for the game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned SuperPrep All-America honors (both pre- and postseason), as the magazine ranked him as the No. 25 linebacker in the nation. He also earned Prep Football Report and PrepStar All-Midlands accolades, with Rivals.com ranking him as the No. 16 inside linebacker in the country. Closer to home, he earned first-team All-Colorado honors (Denver Post, Rocky Mountain News), all-state (both papers) and all-Prairie League honors, with the Post naming him to its 12-player Blue Chip List. As a junior, he was first-team all-state, all-league (the defensive player-of-the-year), and also earned first-team All-Colorado honors from both newspapers. He was a first-team all-Continental League performer as a sophomore, when he also was a second-team all-state selection. As a senior, he made 179 tackles (100 solo, 79 assists), with 15 for losses and five quarterback sacks; he also had 10 hurries, nine passes broken up, four fumble recoveries, three forced fumbles and an interception and had five games with 20 or more tackles. On offense, he rushed for 220 yards and eight touchdowns and caught 15 passes for 115 yards and another score. As a junior, he was in on 184 tackles (nine TFL's, four sacks), with 10 hurries, nine PBU's, six interceptions, five recoveries and two forced fumbles (he rushed for 120 yards and four TD's on offense). He had 147 tackles as a junior, with four for losses including two sacks, nine hurries and an interception. Top games included a win over Lakewood as a junior, when he had a career-high 29 tackles, four for losses, with a forced fumble and a recovery. In a 50-12 win over Lakewood as a senior, he came back with 20 tackles, two for losses, with a fumble force and an interception. Hinkley was 4-6 his senior year, 9-1 his junior season (Prairie League champions) and 6-4 his sophomore year under coach John Pounder. He also lettered three times in basketball (forward) and twice in track (sprints, with bests of 11.1 in the 100 and 23.0 in the 200).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in economics at Colorado. He was an honor roll student in high school.

PERSONAL—He was born July 12, 1984 in Aurora, Colo. His hobbies include lifting weights and cooking, and he is very active with his church, playing the drums in an ensemble and mentoring for a youth group.

NICK HOLZ, WR

5-11, 180, Fr., RS

Danville, Calif. (De La Salle)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed as a reserve wide receiver.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced at receiver most of the fall after joining the squad as a walk-on after the first day of classes.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered two times in football at De La Salle, as he was named the team's Most Inspirational Player his senior season. He finished the year with 10 catches for 93 yards, while he also rushed four times for 21 yards and one touchdown and completed 2-of-3 passes for 10 yards. His junior year, when he was named the squad's Most Improved Player, he netted two receptions for 21 yards, ran once for nine yards and gained three yards on 1-for-2 passing. De La Salle, who holds the nation's longest winning streak at 138 games, was 25-0 during his career under coach Bob Ladoceur. They won the 2001 and 2002 national championships, claiming the state and league (NCS) titles both years along the way. He lists his top high school moment as beating No. 2 ranked Long Beach Poly for the national title in 2002.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in journalism as a major at Colorado. During high school, he was a NCS League Scholar Athlete during both his junior and senior years.

PERSONAL—Born March 26, 1984 in Walnut Creek, Calif. Brother (Jeff) played golf for Fresno State.

6-5, 210, Soph., VR

Limon, Colo. (Limon)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—He moved from receiver over to defense for spring drills, where he practiced at free safety. He had five tackles, including three solo and a third down stop at his new position in the three main scrimmages.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He was to be moved to receiver (from quarterback) for spring practice, but he injured a knee in conditioning in February and did not participate in drills. He was 100 percent by August, and made the move then; he dressed for nine games, but did not see any action.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he practiced at quarterback the entire fall.

HIGH SCHOOL—He was the recipient of the 30th annual Fred Steinmark High School Athlete of the Year Award, presented by the Rocky Mountain News (one of the state's most prestigious prep honors). As a senior, he earned first-team all-state honors at both quarterback and defensive back. He completed 80-of-155 passes for 1,928 yards and 21 touchdowns as a senior (with only eight interceptions), also rushing for 450 yards and seven scores on 50 attempts. On defense, playing strong safety, he made 60 tackles and had three interceptions, returning all three for touchdowns. As a junior, he completed 55-of-130 passes for 1,101 yards and nine scores, and threw for 850 yards as a sophomore. Limon was 10-3 his senior year, 9-3 his junior year, 3-5 his sophomore season and 9-1 his freshman campaign under coach Dave Grimes. He lettered four times in baseball (shortstop/pitcher) and was a two-time first-team all-state selection, as he hit five home runs and batted .410 as a senior, when he was also 6-1 with a 2.34 earned run average. He lettered four times as well in track (hurdles, relays), with career bests of 14.9 in the 110-meters and 40.01 in the 300-meters (both school records); he was second twice in the state meet in the 110 and third three times in the state in the 300. He picked up three more letters in basketball (guard/forward), averaging 18 points and 10 rebounds per game as a senior when he was first-team all-state. Thus, he earned 15 total varsity letters as a prep standout.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in business (accounting) at Colorado. He is a four-time member of the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll, and he earned CU's prestigious 4.0 Club Award for a perfect grade point average his second year in college. He was the valedictorian of his senior class at Limon, as he was an honor roll student throughout high school in maintaining a perfect 4.0 grade point average, twice earning prestigious Army Reserve Scholar Athlete honors.

PERSONAL—Born Feb. 10, 1983 in Hugo, Colo. Hobbies include hunting and fishing. A brother (Jim) played college football at Bethany, and a sister (Linn) played small college volleyball. He was the recipient of a National Football Foundation Scholarship for his senior year.

BRIAN IWUH, S

6-1, 215, Soph., 1L
Houston, Texas (Worthing)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—He enters the fall listed first at weak safety, as he had quite a spring. He was the recipient of the Hale Irwin Award as the outstanding defensive back as selected by the coaches, and was one of 13 players to earn prestigious Spring Victory Club honors. He has bulked a bit, adding 10 pounds of muscle to his frame from the 205 he played at as a freshman.

2002 (Fr.)—He saw action in 13 games, including starts the last two games of the year (against Oklahoma in the Big 12 Championship game and Wisconsin in the Alamo Bowl); he really matured in CU's defensive schemes as the season progressed. On defense, he saw most of his action at the weak safety position, in for three games from scrimmage (121 total plays). He had 21 tackles on the season, with one pass breakup, but the bulk of those came against the Sooners, when he posted 14 (seven solo, seven assisted). That tied him for the second most ever in a game by a true frosh at Colorado. He played in all 12 of his games on special teams, missing the UCLA game after having surgery for a broken thumb. He returned after missing just one game, and played several in a soft cast as the injury healed. He had six tackles, including four solo and one for a loss, against Wisconsin in the bowl game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As the senior team captain, he earned first-team all-league honors (Houston Independent Schools) and second-team all-district (17-5A) honors. He played in Houston's North-South All-Star game after the season, and was named to the area Blue Chip list. He was an honorable mention all-district and all-league performer both as a sophomore and junior. As a senior, playing strong safety, he was in on 91 tackles (six for losses, two sacks), with five passes broken up, three interceptions and five forced fumbles. He played defensive end as a junior, and made 110 stops, with eight for losses (five sacks), 15 hurries, five fumble recoveries, three forced fumbles and a PBU. Top games as a senior included a 31-24 overtime playoff win over Westbury, when he had eight tackles, an interception and forced fumble, and in a loss to Madison, when he had 15 tackles, one sack and a PBU. He had 16 tackles, his career-high, against Westbury as a sophomore. Worthing was 9-3 his senior year, advancing to the second round of the playoffs, and was 5-5 his junior and 7-3 his sophomore years under coaches Eddy Snow and Cogor Coverson. He also lettered four times in track (sprints and relays, best of 47.4 in the 400 and 1:53 in the 800), twice in basketball and once in swimming. He was the track team's MVP as a senior, when he was also captain.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in kinesiology at Colorado. An honor roll student in high school, as he maintained a 3.2 GPA.

PERSONAL—He was born March 8, 1984 in Houston, Texas. Hobbies include playing video games, working out and working on cars with his grandfather. He has three most famous distant cousins: baseball players Reggie Jackson (his grandfather's third cousin) and Ralph Garr, and Outland Trophy winner Russell Maryland. He has been an active participant in the Houston area Junior Olympics, as his 4x400 relay team has won a gold medal every year since fifth grade. He also belongs to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. (Last name is pronounced E-woo.)

BERNARD JACKSON, QB

6-2, 190, Fr., HS
Corona, Calif. (Santiago)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as a quarterback in his true freshman year as a collegian.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-CIF, all Riverside County and all-Mountain View League honors, while both PrepStar and Prep Football Report named him to their all-West teams and SuperPrep selected him to its all-Far West team. PFR ranked him as the No. 45 player in California and the No. 12 quarterback; SuperPrep ranked him No. 39 overall in California (the No. 6 QB), while Rivals.com rated him the No. 10 quarterback in the nation (and No. 61 in all of California). As a captain, he was his team's most valuable player and offensive player of the year for a second straight time his senior year; as a junior, he garnered all-league first-team and all-county honorable mention honors. A true dual-threat quarterback, an opposing high school coach said he "has the arm strength, decision-making skills and running ability to make a name for himself at the next level." He rushed 160 times for 1,032 yards and 14 scores, with a long run of 65 yards. He also completed 82-of-162 passes (50.6 percent) for 1,314 yards and 15 touchdowns, with just six interceptions. As a junior, he rushed 70 times for 660 yards and four touchdowns, with a long of 55. He completed 50 percent of his passes (65-of-130) for 1,042 yards and 11 touchdowns, tossing just four interceptions to compliment his rushing stats. He saw limited action as a wide receiver his sophomore season. Top career games included a playoff win over San Bernardino his senior year, when he completed 4-of-10 passes for 246 yards (a gaudy 61.5 yards per pass) and three touchdowns. He also rushed eight times for 100 yards and two scores, one for 65 yards. In a 35-14 win over Placoma Valley the same year, he was 6-of-12 passing for 200 yards and two scores, and added 60 yards rushing on five attempts. Santiago was 9-3 his senior season (losing in the CIF quarterfinals), 9-3 his junior year (losing in the quarterfinals once again) and 4-6 his sophomore year under coach Steve Mitchell. He also played baseball and basketball as a freshman.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in psychology as his major at Colorado. He owns a 3.3 grade point average as a prep.

PERSONAL—He was born April 2, 1985 in Los Angeles, Calif. His hobbies include playing basketball, lifting weights and helping coach his little brothers (12, 9) in football.

PHIL JACKSON, CB

6-1, 190, Sr., 3L

Colorado Springs, Colo. (Sierra)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall as one of CU's starting cornerbacks, despite sitting out all contact drills in spring practice while mending from shoulder surgery he had after the bowl game. The Sporting News selected him as a second-team preseason all-Big 12 performer and ranked him as the No. 15 cornerback in the nation.

2002 (Jr.)—He started all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, at the right corner slot, seeing action for 799 snaps, the fourth most on defense in the regular season. He had 51 tackles on the year, with 43 of those solo stops, with nine pass deflections and nine third down stops. He was second on the team with three interceptions, and all three came in the red zone; he snared two in the end zone (against Colorado State and Iowa State) and picked off one against Nebraska at the CU 13. The CU coaches named him to the team's prestigious Victory Club, as he graded out to the coaches satisfaction and requirements in at least nine games this year. He had a season-high seven tackles in the opener against Colorado State, and had five or more on four other occasions. Against Wisconsin in the bowl, he had five tackles, holding his own while playing with a dislocated shoulder he suffered in the Big 12 title game against Oklahoma. On special teams, he blocked an extra point against Oklahoma in the Big 12 title game.

2001 (Soph.)—He played in 11 games, including the Fiesta Bowl, and made five starts, but he was hampered from the sixth game on after suffered two broken bones in his hand in the Kansas State game. He was in for 422 snaps from scrimmage and made 20 tackles (19 solo), with eight pass deflections, a tackle for loss, two third down stops and a fumble recovery (that he returned three yards against Missouri). His top games were against San Jose State (six tackles) and Kansas (five tackles, all solo, with three pass deflections). Against Oregon in the bowl game, he was in on three solo tackles.

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He earned third-team freshman All-America honors by The Sporting News, as he started at right cornerback for the first time against Washington in the third game of the season and was entrenched in the starting lineup the rest of the year. He played 710 snaps on defense, the third most on defense, as only the starting safeties, Michael Lewis and Robbie Robinson, played more. He was in on 45 tackles (36 solo), with six tackles for losses, seven third down stops and four passes broken up. He has two interceptions on the season, and returned the first of his career 28 yards for a touchdown against Washington to make his first start that much more memorable. His other interception came at Missouri, when he three third down stops in most unique fashion: one tackle, one pass deflection and the pick. He had career highs of eight solo tackles and 11 stops in all against Oklahoma State, and made seven tackles against Texas and six on two other occasions. He had an outstanding spring, and was in on 10 tackles with a pass deflection in the two major spring scrimmages.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action but practiced the entire fall in the secondary. He was the Scout Team Defense award winner for the Oklahoma game as selected by the coaches.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned honorable mention All-America honors from USA Today, as well as first-team all-Colorado and all-state honors from both the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. He also earned first team all-Colorado Springs Metro South League honors. He played only four games due to a back injury as a junior, but still earned second-team all-league honors, the same accolades he garnered as a sophomore. As a senior, he was in on 47 tackles playing cornerback, including four for losses. He had nine interceptions, of which he returned five for touchdowns and had 219 total return yards, and also had 11 passes broken up and a fumble recovery he returned 46 yards for a touchdown. On offense, he had 23 receptions for 549 yards and five touchdowns, and rushed 11 times for 133 yards and two scores. He also had 11 kickoff returns for 319 yards (2 TDs), and 16 punt returns for 109 yards (1 TD). All told, he scored 16 touchdowns and three two-point conversions for 102 total points. He had five interceptions in four games in his injury-shortened junior season, but as a sophomore, he was fourth in the state in interceptions, snaring 10. Top games as a senior came against Green Mountain (four touchdowns: two on interception returns, one punt return and one rushing), Air Academy (three interceptions, one for a TD, and the fumble return for a score) and Palisades (three interceptions). Sierra was 12-2 his senior year, losing to cross-town rival Rampart in the state's 4A championships game; the Stallions were 10-1 his junior season and 5-5 his sophomore year, and were Colorado Spring Metro South champs as a junior and senior under coach Kirk Sullivan. He also lettered three times in basketball (guard, averaging 18.5 points as a senior), and four times in track. He participates in the 110-high hurdles (owns the school record of 14.13) and the high jump (6-6 career best); he medaled in both events as a junior at the state meet.

ACADEMICS—He graduated from CU with a bachelor's degree in ethnic studies in May 2003.

PERSONAL—Born Oct. 29, 1979 in Wichita, Kan. He is married (Roniesha), and they are the parents of two daughters, JaShayla (3) and Tamia (1); he loves playing "super dad" to his kids. Hobbies include video games. A brother (DeWayne Long) is a wide receiver at Northern Colorado, where a cousin (Martin Jones) plays cornerback. Another cousin (B.J. Williams) played basketball at Kansas, and yet another cousin (Kendall Boyd) played hoops at Mesa Community College in Arizona.

DANIEL JOLLY, TB

6-1, 230, Fr., HS

San Antonio, Texas (John Marshall)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as a tailback in his true freshman year in college. He arrived on campus in June, and between his workouts back home and the CU weight room, he had added 10 pounds to his frame since signing day.

HIGH SCHOOL—A three-time first-team all-district (28-5A) performer, he scored all kinds of honors his senior year. PrepStar named him to its all-Midlands team, SuperPrep tabbed him all-Southwest (ranking him as the No. 81 player in Texas, and the fifth running back), while Rivals.com rated him the No. 18 running back nationally. He was the district most valuable player, and was also named the San Antonio player of the year. He was a first-team all-state selection by the Associated Press, with the coaches placing him on their second-team. As a senior, he rushed 292 times for 2,109 yards and 23 touchdowns, averaging 7.2 yards per carry with a long run of 70 yards. He topped the 100-yard mark 10 times in 11 games, with the only exception against Warren, when he rushed twice for 62 yards and two scores in a 42-0 win. As a junior, he rushed for 1,282 yards and 15 scores, and had 963 yards and 13 TDs as a sophomore. He caught 20 passes for 100 yards and two scores as a sophomore; five passes for 20 yards as a junior and none as a senior. He also averaged 20 yards or more on kick returns all three seasons. He played some fullback as a freshman, picking up 112 yards on 12 tries. Two of his top career games came his senior year: against O'Connor in a 28-21 win, he rushed for 300 yards and three touchdowns, including the game winner. In a 37-35 win over William Taft, he scampered for 278 yards and four touchdowns, gaining 198 of the yards in the second half. As a junior, he previously had lit up the Taft defense, going for 225 yards and two scores in a 24-14 victory. John Marshall under coach Mike Carew was 10-2 his senior year, winning the district title before falling in the second round of the playoffs, and was 7-5 his junior year and 14-1 his sophomore season (reaching the state semifinal after winning the city championship with an undefeated regular season). He also lettered in track (sprints, relays), and played AAU basketball from seventh to ninth grade. With his team ranked in the nation's top 25 in ninth grade, earning a trip to nationals (he averaged 20 points and 10 rebounds that year).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in communications as his major at Colorado. A consistent member of the honor roll at John Marshall, he owns a 3.0 grade point average and is in the "Gifted & Talented Program."

PERSONAL—He was born Sept. 3, 1984 in Fairfield, Calif. Hobbies include the Korean Martial Art "Kuk Sool", as he started when he was just three and at the time was the youngest to receive the black belt at age 8 and followed that up by being the youngest to win a world championship (at age 9). He also enjoys computers, video games, electronics and video editing (says he's a "Tech-head"). He likes to just be known simply as "Jolly" (perhaps he'll become the "Sting" or "Bono" of college football). Committed to CU around Father's Day 2002, one of the early ones in the class to do so.

JAKE JONES, TE

6-5, 260, Sr., 2L

Yucaipa, Calif. (Yucaipa)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall as CU's deep snapper on punts, and the backup for the placement snaps. He is also a reserve tight end.

2002 (Jr.)—He played in all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, on special teams, as he was CU's deep snapper on the punt team. He played all 69 snaps, plus six more in the bowl, and all came off without a hitch.

2001 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games, including the Fiesta Bowl, as he assumed the role as snapper during two-a-days when Neal Hannifin was out with an injury. He retained the long snapping role over the entire season (61 snaps) in addition to 25 plays on the field goal/PAT unit.

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He did not see any action, but did dress for nine games. He had the chance to get plenty of reps in spring drills, as injuries played havoc with the position. He caught one pass for 16 yards in the two major spring scrimmages.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action, but practiced the entire fall at tight end.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, SuperPrep named him to its All-Farwest Team (the No. 158 player in the region and the No. 15 tight end), and earned second-team all-Southern CIF Section, first-team all-CIF, all-San Andreas League and all-San Bernardino County honors. He was a first-team all-league performer as a junior. He started three years at tight end, posting career numbers of 93 receptions, 1,486 yards and 17 touchdowns, and caught 63 passes for 1,003 yards and eight TDs as a senior. He had 27 catches for 432 yards and seven scores as a junior, and three for 51 yards and two touchdowns as a sophomore. As a senior, he played defensive end for a couple of games, making about 10 tackles, and also punted, averaging 35 yards for around 30 punts. His top games his senior year included the season opener against Redlands, when he caught 10 passes for 120 yards, and in a playoff loss to Cathedral City, when he had six catches for 120 yards and two touchdowns. He had four catches for 100 yards and a touchdown against Redlands as a junior. Yucaipa was 5-6 his senior year, 12-2 his junior season (league champ and CIF finalists) and 7-5 his sophomore campaign under coach Jim Taylor. He also lettered three times in basketball (power forward; averaged 15 points and 10 rebounds per game as a senior) and lettered twice in baseball (first baseman).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in economics at Colorado, but is undecided on which sequence. He owned a 3.7 grade point average in high school and was a three-time Scholar Athlete Award winner.

PERSONAL—Born July 20, 1981 in Fontana, Calif. He advanced to the next-to-last stage in the national Punt, Pass & Kick competition as a 13- and 14-year-old (he was six yards on a kickoff away from advancing to the finals at the NFC Championship one year). Hobbies include working on and restoring cars (he recently restored a '59 Chevy pickup), golf, water sports and snowboarding.

MARCUS JONES, DL

6-5, 270, Fr., RS

Klein, Texas (Klein)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed third at one of the two defensive tackle positions, but with three upperclassmen occupying the top four spots on the depth, he figures to get in some reps with a bright future at the position. He's gained 25 pounds of muscle since he arrived at CU as a freshman.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he did not see any game action, but practiced all season on the defensive line, mostly at tackle. He was the Scout Team Defense Award winner for the Baylor game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned Prep Football Report and SuperPrep all-Southwest honors, as PFR ranked him as the No. 56 player in the state of Texas (and the 12th defensive lineman). He also earned first-team all-Houston, all-district (15-5A) and all-conference accolades, and was invited to play in two prestigious all-star games: the all-Greater Houston game and World Class contest in Hawaii. He was an all-conference performer as a junior. As a senior, he had 72 tackles, including 17 for losses with seven quarterback sacks, along with 13 hurries, five passes broken up, five forced fumbles, two recoveries and an interception. He was in on 70 tackles as a junior (13 TFL's, eight sacks), with 12 hurries, three fumble recoveries, two forced fumbles and a pair of PBU's. Top games as a senior came against rival Klein Oak, as in the 10-7 setback he had 12 tackles, four TFL's including one sack, and a pass broken up; he had 10 tackles, six for losses with two sacks, in a tough 20-17 loss to Tomball. Klein was 5-5 his senior year and 8-3 his junior year, taking second in the district and qualifying for the state playoffs, under coach Ray Kenjunora. He also lettered four times in track (throws; career bests of 48-0 in the shot put and 155-0 in the discus).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in business management at Colorado. A consistent honor roll member in high school, he owned a 3.4 grade point average as a prep.

PERSONAL—He was born Jan. 5, 1983 in Klein, Texas. Hobbies include playing video games and lifting weights. A brother (Charles Lyles) played football at Minnesota-Morris, and an uncle (Jezell Lyles) played basketball at Prairie View A&M.

SAMMY JOSEPH, CB

6-1, 180, Fr., RS

Marrero, La. (Archbishop Shaw)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed first at one of the two cornerback positions, as he is coming off a tremendous spring. In earning the Most Improved Defensive Player award as selected by the coaching staff, he had 12 tackles, six pass deflections, three third down stops and an interception in the three main spring scrimmages. He was a preseason first-team all-Big 12 pick at corner by ATS Consultants (a preseason publication).

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action. He possibly was ticketed to play early, but an ankle sprain suffered in practice sidelined him for three weeks.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned Prep Football Report All-America honors (pre- and postseason), while SuperPrep tabbed him as a preseason All-Am and a post-year all-Southwest team member. SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 10 player in Louisiana overall (the first DB), with Rivals.com ranking him as the nation's No. 16 cornerback, while Student Sports penciled him in at No. 24. He earned first-team all-district and first-team all-Catholic League honors as both a junior and senior. As a senior, he was in on 65 tackles and had a school record 17 pass deflections; he also had four interceptions, returning two of those for touchdowns, added three forced fumbles, two recoveries and two tackles for loss. He returned three punts for touchdowns on the year and averaged close to 24 yards per return. As a junior, he had 35 tackles, 15 PBU's, six interceptions (two returned for TDs), two forced fumbles and two recoveries. He had 10 interceptions, 10 pass deflections and 30 tackles as a sophomore. Top games as a senior came in a win over Holy Cross, when he had two interceptions, returning one for a score; and in a win over St. Augustine, he had an interception and returned a punt 65 yards for a touchdown. Archbishop Shaw was 8-3 his senior year, 13-2 his junior season (losing in the state final to West Monroe) and 8-2 his sophomore year under coach Hank Tierney. He also lettered four times in track (sprints and relays, with a career best of 49.6 in the 400) and once in basketball, as a freshman (he averaged 12 points and six assists, but didn't pursue hoops).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born May 10, 1983 in Marrero, La. Hobbies include lifting weights, listening to music and simply hanging out with friends. Two older brothers played major college football: Mickey (Nebraska, 1987-90) and Vance (Colorado, 1990-94); Vance also played two seasons in the NFL (N.Y. Jets, Indianapolis) and is his position coach, as he was named CU's cornerbacks coach in June 2002. A cousin (Derick Joseph) is currently a wide receiver at Tulane.

EVAN JUDGE, WR

6-2, 200, Soph., 1L

Scottsdale, Ariz. (Chaparral)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed third at the "Z" receiver position, and also figures to be a top special teams performer. He had six catches for 148 yards a touchdown in the three main spring scrimmages, his long play a 53-yard scoring grab from Erik Greenberg.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He played in all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, on the punt return unit on special teams. He registered CU's only blocked punt of the year, when he beat his man off the edge and got a block against USC in the third quarter. He was credited with a four-yard punt return on the play. In the spring, he had three catches (for 23 yards) in CU's three main scrimmages.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at receiver. He was CU's Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Colorado State game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-region, all-city and all-East Valley honors, in addition to being selected third-team all-state. He caught 32 passes for 700 yards (21.8 per catch) and 12 touchdowns as a senior, with a long grab of 96 yards (a school record). He set numerous other records his senior year, including most receiving yards and touchdowns for a single game and season and the most punts blocked in a game and season (two and four). As a junior, when he was second-team all-region, he caught nine passes for 200 yards and one touchdown. As a freshman, he had 33 tackles (12 for losses) playing defensive tackle, and averaged 23 yards on three kickoff returns. He lettered three times for coach Ron Estabrook, as Chaparral was 14-0 his junior and senior years, claiming the state, region and city championships. In fact, his class posted a 44-0 record during his years as a prep. He also lettered twice in basketball (forward), averaging 10 points, seven rebounds and five assists as a senior when he earned second-team all-city and second-team all-region honors. He was a McDonald's High School All-American nominee as a senior.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in business at Colorado. He earned second-team Academic All-Big 12 team honors as a redshirt frosh in 2002, and is a two-time member of the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll. He won many academic awards in high school, and was a perennial honor roll member.

PERSONAL—Born Oct. 2, 1982 in Grand Haven, Mich. Hobbies include sports and watching television; he's also coached a YMCA youth basketball team.

JOEL KLATT, QB6-1, 195, Soph., 1L
Arvada, Colo. (Pomona)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall slightly ahead in the battle to be CU's opening day quarterback. He had a good spring running CU's offense, and was really adept at limiting mistakes (he threw just one interception and didn't take a sack in the three main spring scrimmages). He completed 27-of-42 passes for 326 yards and two touchdowns, and showed some running ability with seven runs for 43 yards.

2002 (Fr.)—He played in three games, against Baylor late in some mop-up duty at quarterback, and in two others (Missouri, Iowa State) on the punt return team as a rusher/blocker. He threw three passes against the Bears, all falling incomplete. He was one of 11 "recruited" walk-ons that joined the team for August camp; he became one of three true freshmen walk-ons to play in 2002, but they are in a group of only four who have done so dating back to 1986. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Colorado State game.

PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL—He played three seasons of minor league baseball, and was in spring training in 2001 and 2002 with the San Diego Padres. He was on three different Class A teams, Peoria (2000, where he led the team in doubles with 16), Idaho Falls (2001) and Eugene (2002). He was selected as a third baseman by the Padres with their 11th round pick of the 2000 amateur baseball draft.

HIGH SCHOOL—He was a two-time, first-team all-Jefferson County performer at quarterback, earning second-team all-state honors as a senior. As a senior, he completed 78-of-125 passes (62.4%) for 1,250 yards and 16 touchdowns. On defense as a junior, he had four interceptions playing in the secondary. Pomona was 5-5 his senior year and 10-3 his junior year, winning the Jefferson County league championship, under coach Gary Klatt (his father). He also lettered three times in basketball (guard), earning second-team all-conference honors as a senior. In baseball, as primarily a shortstop, he earned first-team all-state and all-conference honors as a senior, helping PHS to a runner-up finish in the state tournament. He set several school records, including ones for home runs (10), runs batted in (46), slugging percentage (1.126) and hits (52). He also set three summer school records, in homers (26), RBI's (99) and in slugging (1.147).

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born Feb. 4, 1982 in Arvada, Colo. An older brother (Jason) played collegiate and minor league baseball.

JOE KLOPFENSTEIN, TE6-5, 240, Soph., 1L
Aurora, Colo. (Grandview)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed third at tight end, but figures to be a regular in the rotation, especially when CU's in its two-tight end set. He had a solid spring, as he led all players on offense with 11 receptions; he averaged 12.5 yards per catch (137 yards) and caught two touchdown passes. His blocking also continued to improve.

2002 (Fr.)—He saw action in seven regular season games, but did not catch any passes.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-America honors, with the publication ranking him as the No. 6 tight end in its Midlands region. Student Sports ranked him as the No. 20 tight end in the country, with Rivals.com ranking No. 27. Prep Football Report and SuperPrep both named him to their All-Midlands teams, and closer to home, he earned first-team all-state (Rocky Mountain News) and all-Grand Peaks League honors at defensive end. He was second team all-league at linebacker as a junior, and was an honorable mention all-league performer at the position as a sophomore. As a senior, he played slot-back, rushing 16 times for 103 yards and catching 10 passes for 130 yards a touchdown. He had 53 tackles on defense (21 solo), with 14 for losses including eight quarterback sacks, seven quarterback pressures and three passes broken up. He had 50 tackles as a junior (12 TFL's, seven sacks), five hurries and a forced fumble, and 45 tackles with four sacks, a forced fumble and a recovery as a sophomore. He played guard on offense as sophomore and junior, and played quarterback as a freshman. He also handled placement kicks on occasion (usually field goals) and kicked off as well. Top games his senior year came against Broomfield (five catches for 50 yards and a touchdown, 12 tackles and a sack on defense in a 38-14 win) and versus George Washington (2-30 receiving, 15 tackles, including three sacks). Grandview was 9-2 his senior year, advancing to the state playoffs, and was 7-3 his junior and 3-7 his sophomore year under coach Rocky Whitworth. He also lettered once in baseball (first baseman) and in track (ran the 200 and relays as a senior).

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado. He was an honor roll student in high school.

PERSONAL—He was born Nov. 9, 1983 in Denver. Hobbies include skiing, participating in several sports, going to the movies and lifting weights. (Last name is pronounced Klop-N-stein; the P is silent.)

BARRY KUNKEL, WR

6-2, 195, Sr., 2L
Broomfield, Colo. (Horizon)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall listed fifth at the "Z" receiver position, but figures once again to be a key contributor on special teams.

2002 (Jr.)—He played in all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, on special teams, and a few on offense at receiver. He completed a 29-yard pass on the old throwback play to quarterback Robert Hodge at UCLA, leading to a key CU touchdown two plays later. He had one knockdown block on special teams duty, as he performed on several units. He started spring at receiver, but was switched over to defense as the secondary really needed some bodies. He had two tackles in the spring game playing free safety, but returned to offense for fall camp.

2001 (Soph.)—He saw action in 12 games, including the Fiesta Bowl, with all of his action coming on special teams (he had one knockdown block on return duty).

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He played in the final five games of the year on the punt team, seeing enough action to earn his first letter.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he did not see any action. He practiced the entire season at wide receiver after joining the team as a walk-on prior to the start of August drills.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three times as a quarterback at Horizon, setting school records for the most rushing yards and touchdowns by a quarterback as a senior, when he earned first-team all-conference honors. He was a second-team all-metro performer as well, earning offensive player-of-the-year honors. As a senior, he rushed 160 times for 1,204 yards and 16 touchdowns, while completing 74-of-112 passes for 800 yards, with 10 touchdowns and four interceptions. As a junior, he completed 50-of-85 passes for 700 yards (two touchdowns, seven interceptions), and rushed 75 times for 555 yards and eight touchdowns. He returned punts and kickoffs as a freshman and sophomore, returning three kicks for scores. Horizon was 5-5 his senior year, 1-9 his junior season and 3-7 his sophomore year under coach Glenn Gielas. He also lettered three times in baseball (pitcher) and twice in basketball (guard/forward).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in design studies at Colorado. He was a three-time academic all-conference selection in high school, earning his way on the academic all-state team as a senior.

PERSONAL—Born Nov. 20, 1980 in Delta, Colo. His hobbies include playing the guitar.

TAYLOR LANDRY, OL

6-0, 275, Fr., RS
Houston, Texas (Episcopal)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed at third on the depth chart at center. In spring conditioning tests, he set the all-time CU freshman record for the bench press (430 pounds) and the squat (616 pounds).

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall on the offensive line after joining the squad as a recruited walk-on for August drills.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three times in football at Episcopal playing defensive tackle and on the offensive line. A team captain his senior season, he garnered all-conference honors and was named his school's Male Athlete of the Year. He had 50 tackles, seven sacks and recovered three fumbles during the season, as he later went on to play in the Greater Houston All-Star Classic where he was named the game's most valuable player. During his junior year, he racked up 42 tackles, two sacks and recovered one fumble, and also posted 39 tackles and recovered two fumbles as a sophomore. Episcopal was 2-7 his senior year, 1-8 his junior year and 1-8 his sophomore year under coach Dick Phillips. He lettered three times in track (shot put) and was an all-conference selection as a senior. He also lettered once in lacrosse as a defenseman.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in humanities at Colorado, but is also quite interested in kinesiology.

PERSONAL—Born Feb. 23, 1984 in Houston, Texas. Hobbies include lifting weights, watching movies and watching ESPN's SportsCenter. Father (James) played football and Lacrosse at Cornell University.

ALEX LIGON, DE

6-4, 240, Fr., RS
Torrance, Calif. (North Torrance)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed third at one of the two defensive end positions, but could work his way into the rotation. He had seven tackles, including two for losses and a sack, with two hurries in the three main spring scrimmages.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action. He was quite the practice player, as on three different occasions the coaches named him as the Scout Team Defense player of the week (for the UCLA, Kansas and first Oklahoma games).

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned SuperPrep all-Far West and PrepStar all-West honors, along with first-team all-state (Cal-Hi Sports), all-CIF, all-area (L.A. Daily Breeze) and all-Ocean League honors, and was second-team all-CIF for all divisions. He was the CIF Division 10 defensive player-of-the-year as both a junior and senior, and also earned first-team all-league honors as a sophomore and junior. As a senior, he was in on 80 tackles, with 20 for losses including 11 quarterback sacks, along with 12 hurries, five forced fumbles, four fumble recoveries, three passes broken up and two blocked punts playing both outside linebacker and defensive end. As a junior, he played linebacker and was in on 147 tackles (the third most in school history), with 11 for losses and five sacks; he also had four PBU's, four hurries, three forced fumbles, two recoveries, two blocked kicks and an interception. He had 85 tackles as a sophomore, also playing linebacker, with 10 for losses, three sacks and six PBU's. He was primarily a blocking tight end on offense, as he caught one pass his junior (for 36 yards) and senior (16) seasons. Top career games: in a 28-14 loss to Beverly Hills as a junior, he had 26 tackles, five for losses, with three PBU's; in a 42-33 win over Inglewood as a senior, he has 12 tackles (three TFL's, one sack), three fumble recoveries and a blocked punt; and his sophomore year in a 28-10 win over El Segundo, he had 15 tackles, three for losses, and four PBU's. NTHS was 12-2 his senior year (division champs and CIF runner-up), 6-4-1 his junior campaign and 7-5-1 his sophomore season under coach Todd Croce; they were the Ocean League champs his sophomore and senior years. He also lettered once in track (shot put).

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is interested in criminal justice or social sciences.

PERSONAL—He was born Aug. 25, 1984 in Gardena, Calif. His hobbies include lifting weights, movies and going to his grandmother's house (his mom was a flight attendant so he spent a lot of time there and loves her cooking). He also collects movies, and has over 300 in VHS and DVD collection. His father (Alfred) played free safety at UNLV in 1982-83 and signed with the Kansas City Chiefs as a free agent, but injuries cut short his attempt to make the team. Active in his community, as he volunteers at a center for neglected children over the Christmas holidays. (Last name is pronounced lih-gone.)

TYLER LITTLEHALES, WR

6-4, 200, Fr., RS
Boulder, Colo. (Boulder)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed fourth at the "Z" receiver position. He caught one pass (for 13 yards) in the Black & Gold game to end spring drills. He's dropped a little over 10 pounds since arriving at Colorado, increasing his speed in the process. 2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the entire fall at wide receiver.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered PrepStar all-American honors, as the magazine ranked him the No. 5 athlete in the midlands. Both SuperPrep and Prep Football Report named him to their all-American teams (pre- and post-season), while Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 19 wide receiver in the nation. He earned all-Colorado honors as a senior and junior (Denver Post, Rocky Mountain News) along with first-team all-state and all-Centennial League (Post, News). Designated as one of the state's Top 12 2001 Blue Chips (Post), he was one of 74 players nationally and one of two Coloradans to play in the U.S. Army All-American Bowl in San Antonio, helping the West team to victory. Participating on both sides of the ball throughout three years on the Boulder varsity squad, he compiled 138 total tackles on defense, six interceptions and 35 passes broken up at safety. As a wide receiver, he gained 1,253 yards and 17 touchdowns on 52 receptions. Also serving as his team's punter, he finished his career ranked No. 2 in state history with a 44.2 yards a punt average. As a senior, with limited time on defense, he was in on 20 tackles, had two interceptions, 15 PBU's and returned a fumble for a 98-yard touchdown. With four 100-yard receiving games at wide out, he caught 28 passes for 636 yards and 10 touchdowns while also gaining 317 yards and eight touchdowns on 30 carries. Averaging 43.4 yards a punt on special teams, he also saw time as a returner and averaged 19.5 yards a punt return and 30.2 on kickoffs, scoring two touchdowns. As a junior, he made 78 tackles, with six being for loss, had four interceptions and 12 PBU's. On offense, he caught 24 passes for 617 yards and seven touchdowns, while he averaged 45.5 yards a punt on special teams. When combining his junior and senior year stats, he made 51-of-59 PAT kicks, only had 26 of 64 kickoffs returned, and had four punts over 75 yards. His top career games included a 17-10 win over rival Fairview his junior year when he caught touchdown passes of 79 and 23 yards, kicked a 32-yard field goal, returned an interception 48 yards for a touchdown and boomed a 78-yard punt. In a 52-32 win against Smoky Hill his senior year, he had three rushing touchdowns on five carries for 63 yards, two touchdowns on four receptions for 166 yards and a 37-yard field goal. His best game as a punter may have come against Cherry Creek as a senior when he booted a season-long 82-yard punt. Boulder was 5-5 his senior year, 6-5 his junior season and 2-8 his sophomore year under coach Bob Carskie. He lettered three years in baseball, playing mainly outfield and doing a little pitching. He batted .379 as a year (22-of-58), with eight home runs and 23 runs batted in as he earned first-team All-Boulder County honors. He was recovering from shoulder surgery as a junior, but as a sophomore, he batted .450, had six homeruns and 80 RBI when he was a first-team all-league performer and was clocked at throwing a fastball at 90 miles per hour.

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in the School of Arts & Sciences. He was named to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll for his freshman spring semester.

PERSONAL—He was born Oct. 20, 1983 in Boulder. His hobbies include lifting weights, hiking and listening to music. He also volunteers his time as a referee for youth basketball games at the YMCA. The Colorado Rockies drafted him as an outfielder in the 2002 June draft, but he would have likely been taken in the first three rounds had he not wanted to pursue football. His father (Brad) played football at the University of Pittsburgh (1966-68) while an uncle (Eddie Littlehales) was a punter at Marshall University.

ALLEN MACKEY, CB

5-11, 190, Jr., VR
Bakersfield, Calif. (Bakersfield)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Back in good academic standing, he had a solid spring; he received plenty of quality reps at cornerback, and ended drills as one of the starting cornerbacks (it was Phil Jackson's spot; he missed spring due to injury, but Mackey made the most of the opportunity). He had six tackles and two deflections in the three main spring scrimmages.

2002 (Soph.)—He was ruled academically ineligible prior to the start of the season, and thus had to sit out the entire fall. He had a productive spring and received plenty of reps, making 11 tackles in CU's three main scrimmages, including four solo stops in the spring game.

2001 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in one game on special teams (Texas A&M), but dressed for and traveled to all 13 games, including the Fiesta Bowl. He was the Scout Team Defense Award winner for the Kansas game.

2000 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire fall at cornerback. The coaches selected him as the Scout Team Defense Award winner for the Kansas State game.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned PrepStar all-West and SuperPrep all-Far West region honors as a senior, when he also made the Rival.com Top 100 list for the state of California. SuperPrep ranked him No. 81 among all players from California, Hawaii and Nevada, in noting his "good cover skills and quick feet." He also earned all-state honors from Cul-Hi Sports, which ranked him as the No. 4 cornerback in California, and was a Hometown All-Star. He was also a first-team all-Southeast Yosemite League and all-area pick as both a junior and senior. As a senior playing corner, he had 35 tackles, four for losses, with 13 pass deflections, a forced fumble and an interception he returned for a touchdown. He also saw action at running back, rushing for 580 yards and eight touchdowns on 92 attempts (6.3 per rush), and caught nine passes for 250 yards (27.8 per) and two more scores. As a junior, he was in on 51 tackles, with 21 passes broken up and three interceptions, while rushing for 850 yards and 15 TDs on 106 attempts (over 8.0 per carry). He scored seven touchdowns on kick returns in his prep career (four kickoff, three punt), including five as a junior. Top games included a 34-13 win over Foothill his senior year, when he scored three touchdowns (one each receiving, interception and kickoff return). He also held No. 1 ranked De La Salle's star receiver, Charles Savroth (Washington State bound), to zero catches in a 48-20 loss. As a junior, in a 28-0 win over Golden West, he had 13 carries for 186 yards and two touchdowns in the first game he ever played. Bakersfield was 5-6 his senior year and 13-3 his junior season under coach Tim Harnett. He has also lettered in track (sprints), and was third in the Valley 100 as a junior.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado. An honor roll student in high school, as he owned a 3.2 grade point average.

PERSONAL—Born Oct. 30, 1981 in Bakersfield, Calif. His hobbies include PlayStation, lifting weights and watching movies. His younger brother Blake, one of the nation's top high school wide receivers, signed with CU in the 2002 recruiting class. A cousin (Jason Howard) in a high jumper at Texas Christian, and another cousin (Brian Howard) also ran track at TCU and is a member of the Santa Monica Track Club, one of the west coast's premier teams. He was the recipient of Bakersfield's Jockey Club Award as a prep. Full name is Joseph Allen Mackey, Jr., but he's always gone by Allen.

BLAKE MACKEY, WR

6-3, 190, Fr., RS

Bakersfield, Calif. (Bakersfield)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed fourth at the "X" receiver position. He caught four passes for 54 yards in the three main spring scrimmages. He might go out for CU's track team after the season, as he has run 21.24 in the 200 and 47.45 in the 400.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action. He dressed for 11 games, and was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the San Diego State game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered PrepStar and SuperPrep All-America honors, and an invitation to play in the California-Florida Bowl. He made the prestigious Long Beach Press-Telegram's Best-in-West team, with seven out of a possible 10 votes from Pac-10

Conference recruiting coordinators. Rivals.com ranked him as the nation's No. 90 overall player, while The Sporting News ranked him at No. 91; both had him ranked as the country's No. 9 receiver. PrepStar ranked him as the No. 5 receiver in the West region, while SuperPrep ranked him No. 21 nationally. He also earned first-team all-state, all-CIF, all-Central District, all-area and all-league honors. He was a second-team all-area selection as a junior. As a senior, he caught 57 passes for 910 yards and 11 touchdowns, averaging 16.0 yards per catch, also returning a few punts and kickoffs on occasion. As a junior, he caught 29 passes for 750 yards and 13 touchdowns (25.9 per reception), and rushed for about 200 yards and another score. He also returned two kickoffs and one punt for touchdowns, giving him 17 total scores. All in all, he had 86 career receptions for 1,660 yards and 24 touchdowns, averaging 19.3 yards per catch with eight 100-yard receiving games. Top games as a senior included a 46-14 win over Bakersfield West, when he caught eight passes for 235 yards and three touchdowns, and in a 42-14 win over Clovis, when he snared six passes for 150 yards and two scores. Bakersfield, under coach Tim Harnett, was 25-1 his two seasons on the varsity, going 13-0 his senior year to win the Division I Central Section championship, and 12-1 his junior season, losing in the final. He lettered four times in track, and was a four-time all-area performer in sprints and relays. He owns prep career bests of 21.67 in the 200 and 47.7 in the 400, and as a senior, he was the CIF state champion in the 400 (winning with a 47.9 time). He also lettered twice in basketball (shooting guard), playing as a sophomore and junior. He also ran track for four years.

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on a major at Colorado. He made the honor roll as a senior at Bakersfield.

PERSONAL—He was born Sept. 24, 1983 in Bakersfield, Calif. His hobbies include fishing, watching movies and playing video games, and he's officiated basketball in the summer. His older brother, Allen, will be a third-year sophomore this fall on the Buffaloes, as he plays defensive back. A cousin (Jason Howard) in a high jumper at Texas Christian, and another cousin (Brian Howard) also ran track at TCU and is a member of the Santa Monica Track Club, one of the west coast's premier teams.

VAKA MANUPUNA, DT

6-1, 290, Soph., 1L

Kaneohe, Hawaii (St. Louis)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—He missed six spring practices as he returned home to be with his family after the sudden death of his mother. He had moved to offensive guard for the first portion of spring, but when he returned for the last week of practices, was shifted back to defense. He had two tackles, including a sack, and a hurry in two spring scrimmages.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He played in 10 games including the Alamo Bowl (no starts), getting in on special teams in all 10 and playing some defensive tackle in three games. He posted one tackle on the year, a tackle for loss at that for a couple of yards at UCLA. He saw action for 44 snaps on defense. He suffered a torn PCL (posterior cruciate ligament) in the final days of spring practice, but the injury didn't require surgery. He was attentive to a rehabilitation program for the knee, and was 100 percent by fall camp.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire season at defensive tackle.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-state honors from both the Honolulu Advertiser and Star-Bulletin. SuperPrep named him to its All-Far West team, ranked as the No. 72 player overall in the region, and he also earned first-team all-Interscholastic League of Honolulu (ILH) honors for a second straight year. As a senior, he registered 37 solo tackles (about 60 overall), with four fumble recoveries, three forced fumbles and three quarterback sacks. As a junior, when he also earned all-state mention, he was in on 28 solo tackles, with seven tackles for loss (three sacks), two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries. Started every game his last two years in high school at defensive tackle. He moved to Oahu prior to his junior year; he had also started every game at defensive tackle as a sophomore at Maui High School. Top game as a senior came against Samoa of American Samoa, when he had seven tackles, three for losses, a fumble recovery and a sack. Against Samien the same year, he had 10 tackles, two sacks and a fumble recovery. St. Louis was 13-1 his junior and senior seasons and the ILH champions under legendary coach Cal Lee, winning the state title his junior year but missing out on a repeat championship his senior year (lost to Kahuku in the finals).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in history at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born June 30, 1982 in Honolulu, Hawai'i. His hobbies include playing to studying the history of the people and islands of the South Pacific, basketball, listening to music, spending time at the beach. He is also adept at husking—coconuts. Given first name is Lafaele. (First name is pronounced vah-ka; last name pronounced ma-na-poo-ha-na).

KHARYLAKE MARTIN, OL

6-5, 345, Fr., HS
Dayton, Texas (Dayton)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as an offensive lineman in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-state, all-district 21-4A and all-Greater Houston area honors. PrepStar named him to its all-Midlands team, while SuperPrep tabbed him all-Southwest, ranking him as the No. 78 player in Texas (and the 13th offensive lineman). Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 66 offensive lineman in the nation. As a junior, he played at the Marine Military Academy in Arlington, but saw action in only six games, missing the middle portion of the season after he suffered a torn meniscus and partially torn LCL. A three-year starter at offensive tackle, he posting 110 pancake blocks as a senior, with 32 scoring blocks while blocking for a 1,600-yard rushing quarterback and a 1,500-yard tailback. He had 90 pancakes as a junior, when he did not allow a quarterback sack or pressure, again blocking for two 1,000-yard plus backs, and in four games as a sophomore, he had 20 pancakes and five scoring blocks. He played some defensive tackles as a soph, racking up 25 tackles, five hurries and two tackles for loss. Three of his top career games came as a senior: he graded out to 99 percent in a 64-14 win over Channel View, when his 12 pancake blocks helped his team to 500 yards of total offense (400 rushing). He graded to 95 percent in a 55-17 win over Smiley, again with 12 'cakes with the offense picking up 400-plus running yards, and he received a 94 percent grade in a 54-26 win over Forest Brook, with 12 pancakes as the team gained 570 yards, 500 on the ground. Dayton was 12-1 his senior year, advancing to the third round of the playoffs, and was 8-4 his sophomore season under coach Jerry Stewart (Marine Military Academy was 6-4 the season he was there). He also threw the shot put on the track team, and in power lifting, he was the alternate at the state meet his junior year after recording a 355 bench press, 600 pound squat and 575 dead lift.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in mechanical engineering as his major at Colorado. A member of the "A-B" honor roll during high school, he sported a 4.3 grade point average (on a 5.0 scale).

PERSONAL—He was born June 24, 1985 in Houston, Texas. His hobbies include hunting and fishing (both off-shore and stream); he is also an Eagle Scout and has worked for Habitat for Humanity. (First name is pronounced "carry-lake".)

MATT McCHESNEY, DE

6-4, 290, Sr., 2L
Longmont, Colo. (Niwot)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall listed second at defensive end, and could be called on to play some tackle as well. Some college football experts may have forgotten he was out there, but based upon his spring, it appears he's ready to make a name for himself this fall. In CU's three main spring scrimmages, he was in on 15 tackles, with six for losses including four-and-a-half sacks. He was one of 13 players to earn CU's prestigious Spring Victory Club honors. 2002 (Jr.)—He sat out the entire year after suffering a nasty ankle injury that required surgery during the season. He also missed spring practice, as he was suspended from CU (by the University for violating the school conduct code), but was reinstated in good standing in June.

2001 (Soph.)—He played in 12 games, making two starts (Fresno State and Missouri) and playing 406 snaps. He had 29 tackles (18 solo), with four tackles for losses (two quarterback sacks) and a fumble recovery. He was coming on at the end of the season, with some big plays against both Nebraska and Texas (he had a tackle for loss and a fumble recovery in the Big 12 title game). He had a career-high six tackles in the win at Iowa State, and had two sacks (for 24 yards in losses) at Kansas State. A natural end, he was moved inside to play the tackle position early in the year, mainly due to the fact that the Buffs only had one returning experienced DT. He wound up playing several snaps at both positions. He got off to a great start during fall camp but suffered a sprained elbow that sidelined him for a week. He had also missed one day of practice earlier in camp due to Giardia, a protozoan parasite that is most commonly picked up by drinking out of a stream. McChesney said it just felt like a bad case of the flu. He was suspended for the bowl game by Gary Barnett, and thus did not travel to the Fiesta Bowl.

2000 (Fr.)—He saw action in seven games at defensive end (no starts), as he didn't play until the third game of the season and had his year cut short when he suffered a dislocated elbow at Missouri in the ninth game of the year. His playing time was increasing at the time of his injury, as he ended the year playing 127 snaps and nine tackles (seven solo). He also had a tackle for loss, a third down stop and a quarterback pressure. He zoomed up the depth chart quickly upon his arrival, securing the second-team spot on the depth chart by mid-August.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned PrepStar, SuperPrep and USA Today (honorable mention) All-America honors as a senior, and also made Prep Football Report's Top 250 list (the No. 117 player overall in the nation). Rivals.com ranked him No. 20 on its Top 100 DE list in the preseason, while SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 32 defensive end in the nation (and the No. 22 player overall in the Midlands). He earned 4A first-team all-state honors from the Rocky Mountain News (the Denver Post selected him honorable mention), but the Post placed him on its top Blue Chip list for the state. He earned first-team all-area honors his sophomore through senior years, while the Boulder Daily Camera selected him first-team all-Boulder County as a junior (defense) and senior (offense, though the Camera selected him second-team on defense). He was a three-time all-conference selection, in the Metro North League his final two years and in the Front Range League as a sophomore. As a senior, he posted some monster numbers: he was in on 107 tackles, including 25 for losses and 11½ quarterback sacks, along with 11 forced fumbles, five fumble recoveries and nine passes broken up. On offense, playing left tackle, he had 25 pancake blocks with about 75 percent of Niwot's rushing yards coming on his side of the line. As a junior, he made 89 tackles, with 17 for losses and nine sacks, forced 14 fumbles, recovered eight, and had four PBU's. He also returned an interception and a blocked punt for touchdowns and had about 20 pancake blocks on offense (tackle). He had 60 tackles, 14 sacks and two caused fumbles as a sophomore, and 55 tackles, nine sacks and five forced fumbles as a freshman. That's 33 forced fumbles in his prep career, which saw him start all four years on defense. As a frosh, he sacked Longmont's Joe Chrisman (now at Nebraska) three-and-a-half times and knocked him out of the game. Top games included a 25-24 win over No. 1 Dakota Ridge his junior year when Niwot was No. 2; he had 12 tackles, blocked a punt for a touchdown, and had a PBU on the last play of the game to help preserve the win. He had a school record 22 tackles in a 48-14 win over Hinkley, also as a junior, and had three sacks and a 78-yard interception return for a score in the game as well. In a 27-24 loss to Centaurus as a senior, he had 11 tackles, three forced fumbles and a recovery. Niwot was 3-7 his senior year, 7-3 his sophomore and junior seasons, and 5-5 his freshman year under coach Tiny Koehler. He ended his prep career with six tackles and a quarterback sack in the All-State game in June 2000.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in history at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Nov. 6, 1981 in Santa Cruz, Calif. His hobbies include snowboarding, and he's worked six years on a family ranch. He was the first commit of the 2000 class, doing so on March 7 of the previous year, fulfilling a childhood dream of wanting to play at CU since he was in grade school.

DEREK McCOY, WR

6-3, 205, Sr., 3L

Thornton, Colo. (Skyview)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—The CU starter at the "Z" receiver position, as Street & Smith's selected him as a preseason honorable mention All-American. He was one of 13 players in the spring to earn CU's prestigious Spring Victory Club honors. He enters his senior year ranked 13th in receiving yards (1,155), 16th in receptions (71), tied for 11th in touchdown receptions (9) and 74th in scoring (62 points) all-time at Colorado, where he has already set a school record for the most two-point conversions scored in a career with four.

2002 (Jr.)—He started all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, and earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from the league coaches, while the CU coaches named him to the team's prestigious Victory Club. He caught 41 passes for 643 yards and seven touchdowns for the year, numbers that ranked 15th, 15th and sixth for a single-season at CU. He caught three or more passes in eight games, two or more in 10 and at least one in 12, being shut out only against USC. His top game came in the overtime win at Missouri, when he hauled in six passes for 118 yards and a touchdown; he had five games with 70 or more yards all told. He matched his career long play when he caught a 75-yard touchdown pass against Colorado State (from departed quarterback Craig Ochs), but he also had a few long ones from Robert Hodge, including catches of 51 and 47 yards against Missouri, the latter for a TD on the first series of the game. His seven TD receptions covered some serious distance, covering 205 yards in all, an average of 29.3 per score. He caught two-point conversion passes twice, against UCLA and Oklahoma. Amazingly, he was shutout in the bowl game against Wisconsin. He had an outstanding spring, despite being hampered a bit late by a slight hamstring strain and a mild knee sprain. Four of his six receptions in major scrimmage action went for touchdowns.

2001 (Soph.)—He arrived on the scene so-to-speak, as he finished second on the team in receiving and emerged as a legitimate deep threat in the passing game. He played in all 13 games, making 11 starts including the Fiesta Bowl. He caught 30 passes for 512 yards and two touchdowns, with his 17.1 average per catch the fourth best in the Big 12 Conference. His top game statistically was a five-reception, 113-yard effort against Texas A&M; he caught a 75-yard pass from Craig Ochs against the Aggies that was CU's longest play from scrimmage for the year. Other solid games included a six-catch, 76-yard effort against Fresno State, and a five-catch, 50-yard game versus Missouri. He caught at least two passes in eight regular season games in qualifying for CU's prestigious Victory Club by grading out with a winning performance in at least eight games. In the bowl game against Oregon, he caught five passes for 66 yards, and also had a 27-yard touchdown reception incorrectly ruled no good by an SEC official. He made great strides during spring ball, and caught nine passes (for 94 yards) in spring full scrimmage action in gaining the confidence of the quarterbacks.

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He played in all 11 games, mainly on special teams but spot appearances on offense as well (though he did not make any catches). He finished third on the team in special team points with 10, on the strength of five solo tackles, three knockdown blocks, a forced fair catch and a recovered blocked kick.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he did not see any action. He had a look at both receiver and defensive back before settling in on offense, and practiced the entire year there. He was the final signee of the 1999 recruiting class (doing so in June).

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned first-team all-Skyline League and honorable mention all-state honors at wide receiver as a senior, and was a second-team all-league performer as a junior. He caught 25 passes for 380 yards and six touchdowns as a senior and had 27 receptions for 402 yards and three scores as a junior. He played receiver all four years in high school, with one TD catch as a freshman and two as a sophomore. On defense, he played outside linebacker his senior year, averaging six tackles per game with three quarterback sacks, five fumble recoveries, three forced fumbles and two interceptions. He played free safety as a sophomore and junior; he had seven interceptions, two fumble recoveries and averaged close to six tackles as a junior, and he made three interceptions as a sophomore. Skyview was 2-8 his senior year, 1-9 his junior year and 4-6 his sophomore year under coach Dean Huffman. He also lettered four times in basketball, and was a three-time first-team all-Skyline pick, earning honorable mention all-state honors as a junior and senior. Primarily a 3-guard, he averaged 13 points, seven rounds and 3.2 assists his senior year. He lettered twice in track, performing in the long jump (22.4 career best), triple jump (43-4) and the 100-meter run (11.04). He finished sixth in the state as a senior in the long jump. The Skyline League selected him as its Male Athlete-of-the-Year for all sports for the 1998-99 academic year.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in business (marketing) at Colorado, and earned first-team Academic All-Big 12 honors for the 2000 season. He owned a 3.86 grade point average in high school, graduating 15th in his class. He earned was an academic all-state selection, made the Dean's List, was a regular on the Honor Roll and was a member of the National Honor Society.

PERSONAL—Born Nov. 13, 1980 in Yakima, Wash. He considers himself a "gym rat." An uncle, Marcus McCoy, was a cornerback at Colorado State in the 1970s, and his father (Leander) played junior college football. He is the father of a daughter, Alexandria Marie, born March 28, 2000.

RON MONTEILH, WR

6-1, 195, Jr., 1L

Beverly Hills, Calif.

(Beverly Hills/Oregon State)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Enters the fall as the No. 2 man at the "X" receiver position. The coaches selected him as the recipient of the Most Improved Offensive Player Award for the spring, when he was also one of 13 players to earn CU's prestigious Spring Victory Club honors. He had four receptions for 37 yards in scrimmages, and two reverse runs for 35 yards, but he really shined in practice daily to snare the honors.

2002 (Soph.)—He played in all 14 games including the Alamo Bowl (no starts), catching 12 passes for 95 yards during the regular season and adding one for 20 yards in the bowl against Wisconsin. He never really had the chance to break loose after one of his catches, although a nice 36-yard gain against San Diego State was negated due to a penalty. He had three catches in the opener against Colorado State, and caught two passes in four other games. Four of his 12 catches on the year were against Oklahoma (for a combined 37 yards), and five earned first downs. He was bothered for much of the spring by a nagging hamstring injury, but it was all but healed by the end of April.

2001 (Fr.-RS)—Transferred to CU from Oregon State, arriving in Boulder during two-a-day practices. He was required to sit out the season due to NCAA transfer rules. He had a solid spring at OSU, where he finished up drills as the No. 2 flanker.

AT OREGON STATE: 2000 (Fr.)—Redshirted; he practiced the entire season at flanker and was a member of OSU's scout squad.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned PrepStar and SuperPrep (preseason) All-America honors as a senior, when he was also first-team all-Westside (Los Angeles Times), all-Bay League, all-CIF Division II and all-CIF Southern Section for all schools. He was an honorable mention selection on the Long Beach Press-Telegram's prestigious Best In The West team, as he garnered four of the maximum 10 votes. As a senior, he made 58 receptions for 950 yards (16.4 per grab), scoring 13 touchdowns with a long of 68; he also added a pair of touchdowns running the ball. He returned 16 kickoffs for 512 yards as a senior, a healthy 32.0 yards per return. As a junior, he caught 41 passes for 940 yards (22.9 average), scoring 13 touchdowns that included one of 99 yards. On defense, he had 20 tackles and returned both of his interceptions for scores. On return team duty, he brought back 22 kickoffs for 546 yards (24.8 norm), including a 99-yard return for a score. He had 29 catches for 340 yards and five scores as a sophomore (with a long of 77). Top career games included a 12-reception, 192-yard effort against Peninsula High his senior year. Beverly Hills was 6-4 his senior year, 8-3 his junior year and sophomore seasons, and 11-1 his freshman year under coach Carter Paysinger. He lettered three times in basketball (guard; he averaged 15 points and eight rebounds as a junior; he did not play as a senior). He also lettered three times in track (sprints). He owned the school record in the 100-meters (10.63). He was Beverly Hills' male athlete of the year all four years he attended the school.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in economics at Colorado. He earned honor roll status in his one year at Oregon State. As a high school senior, he was vice-president of the Black Student Union and was an honor roll student.

PERSONAL—Born Jan. 18, 1982 in Culver City, Calif. Hobbies include playing basketball and video games, especially John Madden Football (and claims he is one of the best in the country at it). His mother (Marissa) is a writer. Colorado had recruited him as a prep, but he signed with Oregon State. His uniquely spelled last name is pronounced mon-tay.

GARY MOORE, OL6-7, 325, Soph., 1L
Aurora, Colo. (Overland)

MARCUS MOORE, CB5-11, 175, Sr., 1L
Westmont, Ill. (Downers Grove South)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed first on the depth chart at the tight tackle position.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He was the backup at tight-side tackle the entire season, seeing action in five regular season games as well as the Alamo Bowl against Wisconsin. He was in for 27 plays from scrimmage, grading out to 77.8 percent (21 plus plays) during the 13-game regular season, and played almost two dozen more in the bowl game. He had three knockdown blocks and one downfield block on the year. In an impressive off-season conditioning program, he worked hard to drop 45 pounds from his frame, down to 325 from the 370 he weighed when he reported to CU.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire season on the offensive line. Prior to the Kansas game, he sang "God Bless America" at Folsom Field in the first game following the tragic Sept. 11 terrorist attacks. He was CU's Scout Team Offensive Award winner for that game as well.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned PrepStar All-American and all-Midlands honors as a senior as the No. 7 defensive lineman in the region and the No. 29 player overall. Also named all-Midlands by the Prep Football Report and SuperPrep, who respectively named him as the No. 5 and No. 10 offensive linemen in the region. He was named all-state by the Rocky Mountain News and honorable mention by the Denver Post, and was also selected to the Colorado blue chip list by both newspapers. He also made the Las Vegas Sun's Super 11 honorable mention team (showcasing the best 33 players in the west). A two-time, first-team all-Centennial Conference selection as a junior and senior. He predominantly played offensive guard, but did see occasional action on defense in short yardage situations, registering four tackles. He tore his MCL late in October of his senior year (against Boulder); he underwent reconstructive knee surgery shortly thereafter and missed the remainder of the season. Top games as a senior before the injury included a 24-17 win over Arapahoe, when he helped pave the way for Overland tailback Marcus Sias' 200-yard rushing day, and a 24-21 overtime victory over Smoky Hill that sent the Trailblazers into the playoffs. Defensively, his best career game came against Mullen as a junior, where he knocked down five passes in a 33-17 losing effort. Posted 22 tackles as a junior, five for losses, one fumble recovery and the five PBU's from that one game. Overland was 7-4 his senior season, losing to Northglenn in the first round of the state playoffs, 3-7 his junior year and 6-4 his sophomore year under coach Tony Manfredi. In the Rocky Mountain News, Manfredi said of Moore, "(He is) one of the most dominating offensive linemen to pass through this state in several years." SuperPrep backed him up in writing, "He is totally dominating along the trenches." He also lettered three times in basketball, averaging 8.2 points and 6.0 rebounds per game as a junior on the varsity team. He also lettered twice in track, throwing the discus and shot put.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in economics at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Nov. 14, 1982 in Denver. He loves music, especially gospel music and sings in his church choir. Hobbies include singing and drawing.

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall in the mix for playing time at cornerback, as he really developed at the position as the spring progressed. He had seven tackles, five pass deflections and an interception in the three main spring scrimmages. He switched back to defense during spring drills, as injuries depleted the cornerback position, and he used it to his advantage in ending spring in the hunt for playing time at the position.

2002 (Jr.)—He saw action in all 14 games on special teams, including the Alamo Bowl, and appeared occasionally on offense at receiver. He caught one pass for 5 yards against Baylor. He was third on the team in special team points with 11, on the strength of seven tackles (one inside-the-20), a forced fumble, a knockdown block and a downed punt. In the bowl against Wisconsin, he recovered a fumbled punt early in the third quarter, which set up CU's tying touchdown. He looked good during the spring, and had two catches (for 24 yards) in the spring game. He was the speed-strength and conditioning champion in the spring for the 181-pound and under weight class.

2001 (Soph.)—He played in seven games, including the Fiesta Bowl (no starts), mainly seeing action on special teams. He had four special team points on the year, making two tackles, one inside-the-20, and downing a punt inside the 10. He was a vital performer on the scout team, as he was thrice honored with the Offensive Scout Team Award (for the San Jose State, Texas A&M and Iowa State games). He was able to utilize the spring to settle in at wide receiver, as he had jockeyed back-and-forth between there and running back. He caught four passes in main scrimmage action during the spring.

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in four games, playing tailback, finishing the year with 11 carries for 37 yards. He had 23 yards on six carries at Kansas for his top game, also when he caught two passes for eight yards, his only receptions on the year. He had plenty of reps at tailback in the spring, and had 28 rushes for 41 yards in the two major spring scrimmages.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action, though at times he came close to being "activated" due to the injury situation. The coaches twice selected him as the Scout Team Offense award winner, for the San Jose State and Texas Tech games.

TRACK—He joined the indoor and outdoor track teams as a long jumper the spring of his junior year. He competed in the Big 12 Outdoor meet (20-9½).

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he was named first-team all-state by the Illinois High School Coaches Association, the Chicago Sun-Times and the Champaign News-Gazette (the Chicago Tribune selected him second-team). He was named to the prestigious Chicagoland Top 25 list by the Sun-Times, and was the Suburban Life selection for the area most valuable player. Prep Football Report selected him to its all-Midwest team, ranking him as the No. 57 player overall (and the No. 13 running back). He also garnered all-area and all-West Suburban Gold Conference honors, earning league MVP honors in the process, and was a first-team all-area and all-conference performer as a junior. As a senior, he rushed 204 times for 1,852 yards and 21 touchdowns, averaging 8.5 yards per carry. He also caught 12 passes for 154 yards and two scores, and returned one punt and one kickoff for touchdowns as well (thus scoring 25 times as a senior). He rushed for over 200 yards four times as a senior, and on all four occasions, played only one or two series in the second half. He rushed for 1,310 yards and eight touchdowns as a junior. He did not play on defense, as his high school had a large enough enrollment to guarantee two platoons, but he always felt he could have been a top notch defensive back. Top games as a senior came in wins over Morton (270 yards, four touchdowns) and Hinsdale South (255 yards, three touchdowns). Downers Grove South was 9-2 both his junior and senior seasons, winning the West Suburban Gold Conference both years and reach the second round of the state playoffs each time under coach John Belskis. He lettered twice in basketball, and averaged 12 points and eight rebounds per game as a senior. Also lettered in track, as he had prep bests of 10.5 in the 100, 21.4 in the 200 and 24-0 in the long jump. He earned all-state honors in track as a member of the 4x100-relay team.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in journalism (broadcast news) at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born June 26, 1981 in Melrose Park, Ill. Hobbies include music, watching and reading about sports, and video games.

MEDFORD MOORER, S

6-2, 200, Sr., 3L

Los Angeles, Calif. (Locke)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—CU's starting free safety, he is one of 37 candidates on the preseason watch list for the Jim Thorpe Award. Street & Smith's selected him as a preseason honorable mention All-America, and he was a consensus preseason first-team All-Big 12 pick by most publications. The Sporting News ranked him as the No. 6 free safety in the nation, while Lindy's Big 12 Football tabbed him No. 15. He was one of 13 players in the spring to earn CU's prestigious Spring Victory Club honors. With five career interceptions, he's poised to join CU's all-time list with just one more.

2002 (Jr.)—He earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from both the Associated Press and the league coaches, though the Dallas Morning News tabbed him as a member of its first-team. The CU coaches selected him as a member of the team's prestigious Victory Club, as he graded out to 80 percent or better in at least 10 games. He started all 14 games including the Alamo Bowl at free safety, though he often bounced between safety positions depending on the defensive call in CU's new defense it unveiled for the year. He was second on the team with 107 tackles, and was second in solo stops with 75, including six tackles for loss. He had team-highs of four interceptions and 15 third down stops, and added nine pass deflections, two forced fumbles and a recovery. He returned the fumble he snared 71 yards for a touchdown versus Iowa State, a key play in the game as it stifled a Cyclone game-tying drive. He also returned one of his interceptions for a score, racing 51 yards for six points against Texas Tech, one reason he was named the Big 12 defensive player of the week; he also had eight tackles, all solos, three third down stops, a fourth down stop, a PBU and a second interception. In the bowl game against Wisconsin, he had a mini-season: a game-high 15 tackles (10 solo), a forced fumble, a pass deflection, a hurry and a third down stop. Over the course of the year, he added four more tackles on special team coverage duty. He had a solid spring, with 13 tackles in CU's three main scrimmages, and was one of 15 players to earn Spring Victory Club honors.

2001 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games including the Fiesta Bowl, making two starts (versus Missouri and Iowa State). He capped off the regular season by returning an interception 64 yards for a touchdown in the Big 12 championship win over Texas (his first career theft). He played 313 snaps from scrimmage and posted 24 tackles (18 solo), with three third down stops, one tackle for loss and a pass deflection. Against San Jose State, he had a career-high seven tackles (four solo), and he had four versus Colorado State and three solo stops in the Nebraska win. He had an assistant tackle and knockdown block on special teams duty. Against Oregon in the bowl game, he was in on three tackles, one for a loss. He returned to action well ahead of schedule, as he underwent a summer of rehabilitation following a pair of ACL surgeries. Original estimates had him returning around the first of October, but he joined the team with full-go status for the entire August camp. He did miss all of spring practice undergoing rehab, as he first tore the ligament against Texas in 2000, but reinjured it on campus slipping on some ice.

2000 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in the first six games of the season, but he had it cut short when he suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament against Texas. He played 108 snaps from scrimmage as he was in 14 tackles, including nine solo. He was gaining a reputation for making the big play, as he had five third down stops and a forced fumble. He had a season-high five tackles, including three third stops, against Colorado State in the season opener, and he had four stops in the win at Texas A&M. On special teams, he had knockdown block and a fumble recovery. He enjoyed an excellent spring, and the coaches selected him as the winner of the Most Improved Defensive Player Award for spring practice in citing his play. He tied for the team-lead with 16 tackles in the two major spring scrimmages, and added two forced fumbles and a recovery.

1999 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire year at both free and strong safety. He was the Scout Team Defense award winner for the Kansas State game, as selected the coaches.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he was named the defensive most valuable player in the Southeast Division Conference, earning first-team all-league and all-city honors at free safety from the Los Angeles Times. Prep Football Report selected him on its all-West team, ranking him No. 71 overall and as the seventh best defensive back. As a junior, he was a second-team all-conference performer. As a senior at free safety, he was in on 106 tackles (89 solo), forced an incredible 18 fumbles, made seven interceptions and had 15 passes broken up. On offense (wide receiver), he caught 18 passes for 475 yards and nine touchdowns. He also was his team's punter as a senior, averaging almost 55 yards per punt on 18 kicks (with a long of 75). His junior year, he had 80 tackles (59 solo), with four interceptions, eight passes broken up and five forced fumbles, while catching 27 passes for 375 yards and seven TDs on the other side of the ball. He was called up to the varsity for the playoffs as a sophomore, and he responded with an interception and two forced fumbles. In two years of junior varsity action, he played safety and outside linebacker and racked up 125 tackles, 10 pass deflections, nine forced fumbles and seven interceptions. He played tight end on the junior varsity, with two-year totals of 57 catches for 700 yards and 19 touchdowns. His top games as a senior came in wins against Roosevelt, when he scored two touchdowns, forced two fumbles and had an interception, and against Bell, when he forced three fumbles. Locke was 7-4 his senior year, losing in the first round of the CIF playoffs, and was 3-7 his junior year under coach D.C. Robinson. He also lettered in basketball, averaging 13 points per game as a senior, and in track, reaching the city finals in the 110-hurdles as a junior.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. In 2002, he was the recipient of the Clancy A. Herbst Student-Athlete Achievement Award, presented to the student-athlete who overcame personal, academic and/or emotional difficulties to success academically while participating in athletics. He was an honor roll student in high school.

PERSONAL—Born Nov. 28, 1980 in Los Angeles. Hobbies include watching football and basketball games, listening to music and golf. He has worked with kids in day care several summers and is interested in becoming a special education teacher after college. He was the first player to commit to CU from Locke since Darian Hagan and Vincent Smith in 1988; Hagan of course led CU to three Big Eight titles and a national championship. A pregame ritual is to listen to James Brown before every game he competes in.

EMERY MUELLER, TB

6-0, 210, Fr., RS

Dhahran, Saudi Arabia

(Hun School of Princeton, N.J.)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr-RS)—Enters the fall listed fourth at tailback.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced at running back for most of the fall after joining the squad as a walk-on after the first day of classes.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered twice in football at the Hun School (of Princeton, N.J.), as he was a two-year starter at running back and linebacker. His senior year, he earned first-team all-prep honors at both positions, rushing for over 1,000 yards and six touchdowns, while participating in 75 tackles with three interceptions. Hun was 3-6 his senior year and 4-5 his junior season under coach Dave Dudek. He also lettered in baseball playing centerfield, as his team won the Prep A State Championship.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in geology at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Sept. 28, 1983 in Houston, Texas; he basically grew up in Saudi Arabia. Hobbies include riding dirt bikes, playing all sports and video games.

GABE NYENHUIS, DE

6-4, 275, Sr., 1L

St. Charles, Ill. (St. Charles/

Northwestern/Garden City CC)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall as one of CU's starting defensive ends, and is in position to have a monster year. Lindy's Big 12 Football selected him to its preseason second-team All-Big 12 team, but otherwise he didn't get much notoriety. That should prove a mistake, as he won CU's Dan Staveland Award as the outstanding defensive lineman in the spring, when he was one of 13 players to make the Buffs' prestigious Spring Victory Club. He had nine tackles in the three main spring scrimmages, six for losses including four sacks and three third down stops. He figures to play at around 275 as a senior, up about 13-15 pounds from his junior year.

2002 (Jr.)—He earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from the league coaches, as he quietly put together a solid season. In playing in 13 games, starting 12 including the Alamo Bowl (he was side-tracked by a sprained knee at midseason, and he missed the Baylor game), he posted 34 tackles, 27 solo and 11 for losses, including four quarterback sacks. He also had three third down stops, nine pressures, two forced fumbles and five pass deflections. He had a season-high six tackles in the first meeting with Oklahoma, including two for losses, and a four tackle game at Nebraska were all comprised of TFL's. In the bowl against Wisconsin, he had four tackles (three solo) and a quarterback pressure. He had quite a spring after enrolling in school in time for the spring semester, as he had nine tackles in CU's three main scrimmages, including four sacks and six total tackles for loss. He was the speed-strength and conditioning champion in the spring both overall and for the 243 to 264-pound weight class; included in his results was a team-best 10-7 standing long jump. As a 4-2-4 transfer, he had two years of eligibility remaining and no red-shirt year available to him upon his arrival at Colorado.

AT GARDEN CITY: 2001 (Soph.)—Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 23 JUCO player in the nation (the second defensive end), as he earned second-team all-conference honors. In helping GCCC to a 9-2 record, he was in on 55 tackles, with five quarterback sacks and three fumble recoveries. His coach at GCCC was Bob Larson.

AT NORTHWESTERN: 1999-2000 (Fr./Fr-RS)—He redshirted as a true freshman at Northwestern in 1999, as Barnett recruited him before he was named head coach at CU. He was named scout of the week twice. In 2000, he played in two games at defensive end, making five tackles (three solo).

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered SuperPrep All-American honors, along with Prep Football Report All-Midwest status, first-team all-state and all-area by the Chicago Sun Times; the Chicago Tribune, Champaign News-Gazette and the IFSFCA also selected him first-team all-state. The Kane County Chronicle selected him as the player of the year on defense for the area. He earned first-team all-Upstate Eight Conference honors as a junior and senior, when he was also the league's defensive player of the year for both years (and his team's most valuable lineman as well). He earned all-state special mention as a junior by the Tribune, Sun-Times and News-Gazette his junior year. As a senior, he had 100 tackles (76 solo), including 31 for losses totaling 189 yards; he also had 17 hurries, forced six fumbles, blocked two kicks, had two pass deflections and had one fumble recovery. He was in on 108 tackles (81 solo) as a junior, with 16 for losses and 10 hurries. St. Charles was 31-3 in his three years as a starter, including a pair of 11-1 records and league titles as a sophomore and senior. He played for coach Buck Drach at St. Charles, where he also lettered in volleyball.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born June 26, 1981 in Corpus Christi, Texas. His hobbies include racing BMX bikes (he was a world cup champion in 1998). A grandfather (Sam Sublett) ran track at DePaul, and a younger sister (Dani) is a sophomore on the volleyball team at the University of North Carolina. He committed to CU in January 2001, before ever playing at Garden City. (First name is Gabriel; last name pronounced nine-heiss.)

CLINT O'NEAL, OL

6-6, 280, Soph., 1L

Weatherford, Texas (Weatherford)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed atop the depth chart at the split tackle position. He is about 10 pounds heavier than his playing weight his redshirt season.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He was the backup at the split-side tackle position for the season, and saw action in six games, including the Alamo Bowl (no starts). He was in for 24 snaps from scrimmage in the five regular season games (grading out with 17 plus plays and seven minus), and added about a dozen more in the bowl game against Wisconsin.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced the entire year on the offensive line, mainly at tackle.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned pre- and postseason PrepStar All-American honors, and was one of 18 offensive linemen to earn mention on the Houston Chronicle Texas Top 100 list. He was named to the all-Southwest teams by both Prep Football Report (the No. 81 player overall) and SuperPrep (No. 85). PrepStar also ranked him as the No. 12 offensive lineman in the Midlands, while SuperPrep tabbed him as the No. 43 player in the state of Texas in the preseason. He also earned all-state, all-area and all-district honors as a senior, when he graded out to better than 90 percent on his assignments, did not allow a quarterback sack and was called for just one penalty in making 55 pancake blocks. He blocked for tailback Mark Pierce, a 2,000-plus yard runner who is headed for Arkansas. Head coach at Weatherford was Mike Sneed. He transferred to Weatherford from Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) High after his junior year; he had started at offensive tackle as both a junior (registering 46 pancakes) and a sophomore (30). He did not allow a sack as a junior and was called for only two penalties in being named all-state and all-district, only one of three underclassmen selected to the either team.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in history at Colorado. He owned a 3.0 grade point average and was an honor roll student in high school.

PERSONAL—Born April 27, 1983 in Fort Worth, Texas. He was selected for the United States Olympic Academy (on leadership and athletic ability) to teach individuals to be leaders on and off the playing field and to help bring back to your state the knowledge for programs to help your school be successful. A cousin (Kerry Knox) played baseball at Texas Christian and was drafted by the San Diego Padres. Hobbies include hunting and fishing. He is also a member of FFA (Future Farmers Association), Young Life, the Link Program (for handicapped children), and has worked extensively with the Special Olympics. He was the second player to commit to CU for the 2001 class, doing so less than two weeks after attending the 2000 Buffalo Football Technique School.

GREG PACE, SN

6-0, 240, Soph., 1L

Hinsdale, Ill. (Central)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall as CU's short snapper for placement kicks. He's the only non-kicker or punter on the roster who doesn't line up at an offensive or defensive position, though he practiced some at defensive end as a freshman.

2002 (Fr.)—He played in 12 games, including the Alamo Bowl, all on special teams as the short snapper on the field goal/PAT unit. When he made his first appearance in the Southern California game, he became the first freshman walk-on to play at Colorado since 1986, when wide receiver Jeff Campbell did so (two other frosh walk-ons joined him later in the season. He saw action for 60 snaps on the unit, doing well for a true frosh in some pressure situations.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned all-conference honors playing on the defensive line, when he racked up 70 tackles, 11 for losses, including six quarterback sacks. He lettered twice in football, as he also had 50 tackles (eight for losses, four sacks) as a junior. He was also his team's long snapper both seasons, and won several special team awards in the state for his performance at the position as he attended special camps throughout his high school career specifically teaching special teams skills. As a senior, AFS listed him as the top Division I long-snapping prospect in the nation. In the summer prior to leaving for college, he was the MVP at the Chicago Combine specifically for specialists. Hinsdale was 9-2 his senior year, winning the league championship, and was 6-3 his junior season under coach Ken Schreiner. He also lettered twice in wrestling (215-pound classification), as he was a sectional qualifier as a senior, when he was also a captain. He was also a team captain for track, as he lettered twice in the shot put; he earned all-conference honors as he was a two-time conference champion. He qualified for the state meet his senior year. Overall, he earned six varsity letters in the three sports.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado, and was named to the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll for the spring 2003 semester. An honor roll student in high school, he was also an active committee member on SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions).

PERSONAL—Born May 3, 1984 in Hinsdale, Ill. Hobbies include water skiing (which he can do barefoot). He has also worked as a camp counselor and a youth baseball coach, and has done volunteer work with the Wellness House Cancer Awareness and Pop Warner Football. His father (Greg, Sr.) played football at the University of Illinois; an uncle (Bill Dickenson) was a defensive tackle at Cornell; and twin cousins are on the water polo team at Miami of Ohio.

TYLER POLUMBUS, OL

6-8, 270, Fr., HS,
Englewood, Colo. (Cherry Creek)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as an offensive lineman in his true freshman year in college. He weighed 245 on signing day, but had bulked up to 270 by the first of July.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned SuperPrep All-American and all-Midlands honors, while Prep Football Report and PrepStar named him to their first-team all-Midlands squads. PrepStar also named him to its pre-season all-Midlands team. SuperPrep tabbed him the No. 42 offensive lineman in the country (the No. 30 overall player in the Midlands), with Prep Football Report selecting him as the No. 16 player in the Midlands (the fifth offensive lineman). Rivals.com selected him as the No. 58 tackle in the nation (and the No. 6 player in Colorado.) He was named first-team All-Colorado and all-state (5A) by the Denver Post, as he also garnered all-state second team honors from the Rocky Mountain News. He also received first-team all-Centennial League honors on his way to being voted his team's most inspirational player. As a junior, he earned second-team all-state honors (Rocky Mountain News) and first-team all-league accolades. As a senior, he blocked for a 1,200-yard rusher, as he allowed no sacks, just four pressures and racked up 78 domination blocks and 12 touchdown blocks. As a junior, he plowed the way for a pair of 1,000-yard rushers, as he recorded 75 domination blocks, 14 touchdown blocks, and allowed only one sack. He had 55 domination and eight touchdown blocks as a sophomore, allowing just three sacks. Top career games included a 21-14 win over Mullen his junior year, when he allowed zero sacks, had seven domination blocks and threw a key block on the game winning touchdown run. In a win against Bear Creek his senior season, he once again allowed no sacks or quarterback pressures, as he recorded a career-high 15 domination blocks and two touchdown blocks. Cherry Creek was 6-4 his senior year, 9-3 his junior season (losing to Mullen in the state semifinals) and 5-5 as a sophomore under coach Rocky Martin. He also lettered in basketball twice as a center, and also played baseball.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business as his major at Colorado. He owns a 3.1 grade point average as a prep and scored a 1210 on the SAT.

PERSONAL—He was born April 10, 1985 in Denver. His hobbies include playing basketball, golf, video games and tinkering with computers. He is also an avid-churchgoer and a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Two members of his family played sports at CU: Father (Tad) lettered in football (1965-66), and an uncle (Gary Polumbus) lettered three years in golf and twice made it to the NCAA Championships. His father had 14 career receptions at CU... out of 15 passes thrown to him. A sister (Heather) played tennis for the University of San Diego, and a grandfather (Jim Rickey) was on the track team at Kansas.

BOBBY PURIFY, TB

6-0, 200, Sr., 3L
Colorado Springs, Colo. (Palmer)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall in a tight race for starting tailback honors, though he'll get his carries regardless. Street & Smith's tabbed him as a preseason honorable mention All-America, while The Sporting News and Lindy's Big 12 Football selected him to their preseason second-team All-Big 12 teams. Phil Steele's College Football ranked him as the nation's No. 27 running back entering the season. He was one of 13 players to earn CU's prestigious Spring Victory Club honors for his efforts during spring drills. He goes into his senior season ranked 20th all-time in rushing yards at Colorado (1,832), and is 34th in all-purpose yards (2,168) and tied for 53rd in receptions (32).

2002 (Jr.)—He earned honorable mention All-Big 12 honors from the league coaches, and the CU coaches named him to CU's prestigious Victory Club. As the second half of the nation's most prolific 1-2 rushing punch (with Chris Brown), he had 739 yards on 132 carries, a healthy 5.6 average per carry, with three touchdowns. He had a pair of 100-yard games, which came back-to-back when he rushed for 119 yards on 19 tries in CU's overtime win at Missouri, and followed that up with 174 yards on 20 carries against Iowa State. He had 70-plus yards in five games, and on the year, he had 24 rushes for 10 or more yards and 44 for five or longer. Also dangerous as a receiver, he was second on the team in receiving as well with 21 catches for 224 yards, a 10.7 average; he scored a receiving TD on a 36-yard catch and run against Texas Tech. He was third on the team in first downs earned with 46 (33 rushing, 13 receiving). Overall, he had 96 all-purpose yards, going over 100 yards four times, all against quality opponents (128 at UCLA, 102 at Oklahoma, 128 at Missouri and 183 vs. Iowa State). A nasty high ankle sprain limited him to just a couple of plays in the Big 12 championship game and kept him out of the Alamo Bowl against Wisconsin; otherwise, he appeared in 13 games, including a start at Nebraska. He participated in conditioning drills only in spring ball as he was recovering from shoulder surgery and was thus held out of contact (he had the surgery in January).

2001 (Soph.)—He earned honorable mention all-Big 12 honors from the Associated Press, and also earned his way on to CU's prestigious Victory Club by grading out with a winning performance in at least eight games. He played in all 13 games including the Fiesta Bowl, making one start (Missouri) as he finished second on the team in rushing with 916 yards on 157 carries, a most healthy 5.8 yards per carry. He ranked eighth in the Big 12 and 62nd in the NCAA in rushing for the season. He scored five touchdowns and also caught 11 passes for 92 yards. He had three 100-plus yard games, topped by a 21-for-191 effort against Colorado State; others included a 20-for-154 day against Nebraska and a 23-for-109 effort at Oklahoma State. He came close on two other occasions with 92 yards against both San Jose State and Missouri. His long run of the year came in the Big 12 title game against Texas, as a 51-yard jaunt helped set up a Buff touchdown. A member of the "hands" team, he recovered an Iowa State on-side kick attempt late in the game to help preserve CU's 40-27 win. He rushed six times for 19 yards in the bowl game, with a long run of 15 yards.

2000 (Fr.)—He had the misfortune of breaking a bone in his foot on the first day of practice, forcing him to miss the first six weeks of the season. He bounced back, though, and played in the final five games of the year, including one start (against Oklahoma State). He gained 177 yards on 45 carries, a 3.9 average, on the season, with his best game coming in the snow against Iowa State, when he had 78 yards on just 11 carries. He earned eight first downs on the year.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned PrepStar and SuperPrep All-America honors, with Rivals.com naming him to its Top 100 running backs list (No. 75 nationally) in the preseason, while SuperPrep ranked him as its No. 13 skill athlete. He was a first-team all-Colorado and all-state selection by the Denver Post, while the Rocky Mountain News named him second-team all-state; both newspapers placed him on their state blue chip lists. He earned first-team all-conference honors as a junior and senior (second-team as a sophomore), and he was also honorable mention all-state as a junior (Post). As a senior, he rushed 269 times for 2,102 yards and 24 touchdowns, averaging 7.8 yards per carry and finishing second in the state overall. He also caught eight passes for 115 yards, and had seven games where he rushed for over 200 yards (and five for over 250 yards). He played sporadically on defense as a senior, seeing action at cornerback usually in goal-line situations. He may have led the nation in blocked kicks—he had seven (five extra points and two field goals). As a junior, he led the state's 5A schools in rushing with 1,865 yards on 295 carries, scoring 23 touchdowns in averaging 6.3 per attempt despite playing tailback in just eight games. He had 14 touchdown runs of 50 yards or longer, and had two interceptions playing free safety and some corner on defense. He rushed 90 times for 700 yards and 11 touchdowns as a sophomore. He had a two 300-yard plus games in his career: the first in a rout of Lakewood his junior year, when he had 17 carries for 360 yards and five TDs—and he only played in the first half. In a 48-42 win over Coronado as a senior, he had 38 carries for 396 yards and five touchdowns; he also had 275 yards and four touchdowns versus Doherty that same year. Palmer was 5-5 his senior year, 3-7 his junior season and 2-8 his sophomore year under coach Rod Baker. He rushed for 71 yards on 16 carries in the All-State game (June 2000) to end his prep career. He lettered three times in basketball (guard), averaging 10 points, seven assists and eight rebounds per game as a senior. He led his team to the 5A state championship and a 24-0 record, as he was named the MVP of the tournament by the Rocky Mountain News. He also lettered in track (high jump and relays). He finished sixth in the state in the high jump as a junior, clearing 6-5.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Dec. 19, 1981 in Long Beach, Calif. He is well versed in sign language, which he learned as a sophomore in high school; he helped coach his younger brother's Pop Warner football team, which had a few deaf youngsters. He has a most famous uncle, Webster Slaughter, who was a wide receiver at San Diego State who went on stardom in the NFL with the Cleveland Browns and Houston Oilers. And remember the pop-soul group James & Bobby Purify from the 1960's? They were cousins—James is his uncle and Bobby his grandfather. They teamed on such songs as "I'm Your Puppet," "Let Love Come Between Us," and a popular remake of "Shake A Tail Feather." He was the second member of the 2000 class to commit, doing so officially on April 7, 1999.

NICK RILEY, PK

5-10, 190, Sr., VR

Kingwood, Texas

(Kingwood/Colorado State)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall listed as a reserve placekicker. He made both is extra point kicks in spring scrimmage action.

2002 (Jr.)—He rejoined the team after the first day of classes, as he did not participate in spring practice.

2001 (Soph.)—He transferred to Colorado from Colorado State, and joined the team as a walk-on after the first day of classes. He was ineligible to play as he had to sit out the year due to NCAA transfer rules.

AT COLORADO STATE: 1999-2000 (Fr./Fr.-RS)—He attended Colorado State and made the team as a walk-on place kicker, but did not see any action.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three times in football (placekicker) at Kingwood under coach Ken Herring. As a senior, he was the second leading scorer on the team, as he made 12 field goals (including a long of 47 yards) and all of his PAT kicks. He also played soccer.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Jan. 15, 1980 in Lusk, Texas. Hobbies include any kind of water sport, fishing and golf. A cousin (Mark Phister) played linebacker football at Ohio State.

STEPHONE ROBINSON, WR

5-9, 170, Fr., HS
Denver, Colo. (Mullen)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as a wide receiver in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned all-Midlands honors from PrepStar, Prep Football Report and SuperPrep, as PFR ranked him as the No. 18 player in the region (the second receiver), and SuperPrep tabbing him No. 36 regionally (and as the third WR). Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 27 receiver in the nation, and called him "arguably the top prospect in Colorado." He also garnered all-Colorado (all classes) and all-state (5A) honors from both the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. A two-time first-team all-Centennial League pick, he was also first team all-Colorado and all-state as a junior. A four-year starter at wide receiver, as a senior, he caught 35 passes for 896 yards and eight scores, averaging 25.6 yards per catch, and including his kick return yardage, he accounted for over 1,600 all-purpose yards despite missing the better part of four games with a sprained ankle. As a junior, he led the state in receiving with 73 catches for 1,230 yards and 10 touchdowns, while returning four kicks (two punts, two kickoffs) for touchdowns. He averaged over 18 yards per punt return and 30-plus yards on kickoff returns. He caught 20 passes his sophomore year, six for scores, and he had 19 receptions as a freshman. He saw some brief time on defense as a junior (safety/cornerback), making around 25 tackles in four games. Mullen posted a 40-11 record during his time there; the Mustangs were 10-2 his senior year and 9-4 his junior season under coach Jay Madden, and were 11-2 his sophomore year (reaching the state semis) and 10-3 his freshman year under Mick McCall. He also lettered two years in basketball (guard) and twice in track (sprints and relays).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business and sports marketing as potential majors at Colorado. He was a member of the French Honor Society in high school, when he owned a 3.57 grade point average and was one of 11 statewide honorees to receive the prestigious National Football Foundation/College Football Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete Award.

PERSONAL—He was born Dec. 31, 1984 in Denver. His hobbies include playing basketball, listening to music and lifting weights. An uncle (Thadus Swazer) played college football, starting out at Colorado in 1992 and finishing up at Kansas State. (First name is pronounced "steph-on".)

CHRIS RUSSELL, CB

6-3, 185, Fr., HS
Nashville, Tenn. (Hillsboro)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as a cornerback in his true freshman year as a collegian.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered all four years during his high school career, and as a senior, he earned PrepStar All-American honors, while Prep Football Report named him to its all-Southeast team. SuperPrep selected him to its all-Dixie team, as he was tabbed the No. 5 player in Tennessee (and the No. 1 defensive back), with Rivals.com ranking him the No. 15 defensive back in the country. He was selected second-team all-Tennessee, while earning first-team all-state (4A) honors. He also received first-team all-Midstate honors from the Nashville Tennessean, first-team all-region (11-4A) and all-city accolades. His junior year, he was once again named to the all-state, all-Midstate, all-region and all-city first-teams, as he garnered all-region and all-city honorable mention honors both his sophomore and freshman seasons. As a senior, he was in on 44 tackles, had four interceptions, 20 pass deflections and three forced fumbles. On offense he saw some limited, but very valuable time at receiver, as he caught five passes for 154 yards and three touchdowns. His junior year, he had 40 total tackles (two for losses), as he finished with three interceptions and 25 pass break ups. On offense, he reeled in four catches for 95 yards and one score. During his sophomore campaign, he totaled 35 tackles (20 solo), adding one recovered fumble, 18 pass deflections and a career-best five interceptions. He also played sparingly on offense catching three passes for 40 yards and one touchdown. He started as a freshman and finished the year with 31 total tackles, four interceptions and 15 pass break ups. Top career games all came during his senior year: in a 19-13 win over Smyrna, he had a 67-yard touchdown reception that gave Hillsboro the lead. On defense, he was in on seven tackles, had eight passes deflections, with the most important coming on Smyrna's last-second desperation pass which he tipped to teammate Joe Sanders for an interception. In a 42-7 win against Antioch, he had a 58-yard reception for a score, and finished with eight tackles, one interception and three pass break ups. In the state semifinal game, he helped lead Hillsboro to a 7-6 victory, as he racked up nine tackles, six pass deflections and two forced fumbles. Hillsboro compiled an impressive 50-6 record during his career under coach Ron Aydelott, as it won its region all four years. Hillsboro was 14-1 his senior year (falling short in the state championship game to Maryville, 29-26), 14-1 his junior season (Maryville won this won, 34-27, in the state title game), 13-1 his sophomore year (losing in the state semifinals to Memphis East) and 9-3 his freshman season. He had one tackle (for a 5-yard loss) in the Tennessee-Kentucky All-Star game in June of his senior year. He lettered four times in basketball, as he earned all-region (11-5A) first-team honors at forward as both a junior and senior, the latter when he averaged 22 points, 10 rebounds and five blocks per game. He has lettered once in track, participating in the 100 meters (10.9) and several relays.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in communication as his major at Colorado. He is a Distinguished Scholar (honor roll) member at Hillsboro.

PERSONAL—He was born Aug. 14, 1984 in Nashville, Tenn. His hobbies include watching movies, cooking and playing video games. He is an usher at his church and a member of his school's "100 Scholars" program which helps with Habitat for Humanity and several area food drives. He has known prep teammate and fellow CU recruit Joe Sanders since age 11, as well as CU basketball player David Harrison from Brentwood Academy (also in Nashville) since 1998. A cousin (David Mimms) played receiver and cornerback at Middle Tennessee State from 1993-95.

JOE SANDERS, TE

6-4, 220, Fr., HS

Nashville, Tenn. (Hillsboro)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He was projected as a tight end in his true freshman year in college, but his participation will be delayed. He was injured in the practices leading up to the Tennessee-Kentucky All-Star game, and he was set to undergo shoulder surgery in July that will force him to either redshirt or delay enrollment until January.

HIGH SCHOOL—A standout at both tight end and linebacker, he lettered all four years during his high school career. As a senior, he earned PrepStar all-Southeast honors at tight end and was tabbed the No. 5 player in Tennessee, while Rivals.com ranked him the No. 34 tight end in the country. He was selected as the Nashville Tennessean's player of the year in Tennessee, also claiming the defensive player of the year honor and was a finalist for the class 4A Mr. Football award. He was named to the all-state, all-Midstate, all-region (11-4A) and first-team all-city at both tight end and linebacker. One of his Hillsboro's captains, he was also selected defensive MVP for his region, city and team. He was invited to play in the Tennessee-Kentucky All-Star game (summer 2003). His junior year, he was once again named to the all-state, all-Midstate, all-region and all-city first-teams at both positions, as he garnered all-region and all-city honorable mention honors during his sophomore year. As a senior, he caught 25 passes for 480 yards and seven touchdowns. On defense, he totaled 133 tackles (65 solo), 30 tackles for loss, three sacks, four fumble recoveries (one for a 65-yard touchdown), two forced fumbles, two interceptions, 20 quarterback hurries and 15 pass deflections. As a junior on offense, he had 34 receptions for 650 yards and 15 touchdowns. On defense, he was in on 105 tackles (15 for loss), had 15 sacks, three fumble recoveries, one forced fumble, three interceptions, 40 quarterback hurries and 15 pass deflections. During his sophomore year, he caught 15 passes for 280 yards and six touchdowns, adding 63 total tackles (10 for loss), six sacks, three fumble recoveries, one forced fumble and 10 passes broken up on defense. He did not play offense as a freshman, but started at free safety and was in on 58 tackles, had two sacks, one forced fumble, one fumble recovery, five interceptions and 20 pass deflections. Top career games included a state semifinals win over Pearl-Cohn as a junior, when he caught four passes for 120 yards, including a game-winning 72-yard touchdown. On defense, he added nine tackles (one for loss), two sacks and one forced fumble. That same year, in a 19-13 win over Smyrna, he had two catches for 60 yards. On defense, he added nine tackles (two for losses), one sack, one pass deflection and a game-clinching interception that was tipped by teammate Chris Russell on a desperation pass to the endzone. His senior season, in a win over Overton, he had three receptions for 85 yards and one score, in addition to 14 tackles (three for losses), one sack and one pass break up. Under coach Ron Aydelott, Hillsboro compiled an impressive 50-6 record during his career, as it won its region all four years. Hillsboro was 14-1 his senior year (falling short in the state championship game a second straight year to Maryville, 29-26), 14-1 his junior season (Maryville won it, 34-27), 13-1 his sophomore year (losing in the state semifinals to Memphis East) and 9-3 his freshman season. He lettered three times in basketball, as he earned first-team all-region (11-5A) honors at power forward his junior year, averaging 13 points, eight rebounds and three assists a game. He has lettered once in track (sprints and hurdles).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in psychology as his major at Colorado. He is a member of the Nashville chapter Jack & Jill Inc., which is a leadership group for local high school students.

PERSONAL—He was born March 2, 1985 in Nashville, Tenn. His hobbies include bowling, golf, lifting weights and volunteering. He belongs to his church's youth group, where his father serves as pastor, and traveled to South Africa in 2001 to volunteer at an orphanage. Acted in several commercials at age 9, with the most notable a "Miss Goldie's Chicken" ad and a junior golf spot. He was also in the cable TV movie Proud Heart with actress/singer Lori Morgan. He has known teammate and fellow CU recruit Chris Russell since age 11; and CU basketball center David Harrison (from Nashville's Brentwood Academy) since 1998. His father (Edwin) played fullback at Connecticut Wesleyan in 1965, while his great grandfather played hockey and was the first African American to play collegiate lacrosse at Springfield (Mass.) College during the early 1900s.

DEL SCALES, OL

6-6, 295, Fr., RS

Flower Mound, Texas (Flower Mound)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed second at split-side tackle. Has added 25 pounds to his frame since reporting as a true freshman.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the entire year on the offensive line, mainly at tackle.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned honorable mention (5A) all-state honors from the Texas Sports Writers Association, and he also garnered first-team all-district (6-5A) and all-area accolades. Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 34 offensive tackles in the nation, with Prep Football Report and SuperPrep naming him to their all-Southwest teams. (SuperPrep ranked him as the No. 15 O-lineman in Texas). PrepStar named him to its honorable mention all-Midlands region team. He started 20 games at offensive tackle for Flower Mound his junior and senior seasons combined, and played some defensive tackle on the goal line defensive unit (he had three tackles as a senior). He graded out to well over 90 percent as a senior, allowing only one sack in helping the offense churn out 216 yards rushing per game. He also allowed only one sack as a junior, on a team that had 315 passing attempts. Top games as a senior came against The Colony, as in a 37-36 win, he graded to 96 percent and had five pancakes, and in a 35-21 win over Keller, grading to 95% with five 'cakes. He graded out to a career-best 97 percent with four pancakes in a loss to Newman Smith as a junior. Under coach Cody Vanderford, Flower Mound was 4-6 his senior year and 1-9 his junior season, the first two varsity seasons on the 5A level at Flower Mound High School (his position coach was Allen Cross). The JV team was 8-2 his sophomore year, and as a freshman, he was at Flower Mound Marcus High, which posted an 8-2 record.

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado, but is enrolled in CU's School of Arts & Sciences.

PERSONAL—He was born April 17, 1984 in Long Beach, Calif. His hobbies include trucks, off-roading, traveling and skiing, as well as playing "hoccer," a soccer-hockey combo he created with fellow CU recruit, Fred Staugh.

BRENDAN SCHAUB, TE

6-4, 225, Jr., TR

Aurora, Colo. (Overland/Whittier)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—He will redshirt, as he is ineligible to compete in games as he transferred to CU from Whittier (Calif.) College this past January.

AT WHITTIER: 2001-2002 (Fr./Soph.)— Lettered twice as a tight end, as he had 16 receptions for 180 yards and one touchdown as a sophomore in 2002 (he had 100 of those yards after the catch). In 2001, when he was the freshman of the year, he caught six passes for 94 yards in addition to being an accomplished blocker. Whittier was 1-9 his sophomore year and 2-7 his freshman season. He also lettered once as a defenseman in lacrosse, also being named the freshman of the year in helping Whittier to a No. 1 national ranking at one time (the team lost in the national semifinals in the spring of 2002).

HIGH SCHOOL— He lettered twice in football at Overland, but missed his entire senior season after sustaining broken ribs and a lacerated liver early on. Overland was 7-4 that year and 6-5 his junior season under coach Tony Manfredi. He also lettered four times in lacrosse, as he was voted team MVP his senior year and named to the Colorado All-Star team and all-Centennial League first-team.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in economics at Colorado. As a junior in high school, he earned the Student-Athlete Award for his excellence in the classroom.

PERSONAL—Born March 18, 1983 in Aurora, Colo. Hobbies include playing video games with his brother and racquetball with his dad. Uncle (Pax Beal) played football for California and played in the Rose Bowl.

DREW SHADE, OL

6-5, 285, Soph., VR

Boulder, Colo. (Mullen)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—He missed spring drills and he continued rehabilitation from a second shoulder surgery. There was a chance he would be at 100 percent by the time August drills rolled around; if not, it was hopeful he wouldn't miss a lot of work. 2002 (Fr.-RS)—He sprained the same shoulder he had previously had surgery on, and it kept him out until the fourth week of the season. He played in one game (for eight snaps at guard against UCLA), but it was decided to have another surgery and he was lost for the season. He had participated on a limited basis during spring drills, as he completed rehabilitation following shoulder surgery he had in the fall of 2001.

2001 (Fr.)—He played in two early games (Colorado State, San Jose State), but a chronic shoulder injury flared up, and he eventually had mid-season surgery on Oct. 30 and was out for the season. Because he only appeared in two games, he was able to gain back his year of eligibility.

HIGH SCHOOL—He was considered by many to be the top recruit in the state of Colorado for 2000. He settled in at Denver's J.K. Mullen High his senior year, his third school in as many years after moving from Orlando to Boulder prior to his junior season. As a senior, he earned Prep Football Report, PrepStar, Student Sports and SuperPrep All-American honors, in addition to being named All-Colorado (all classes), all-state (5A) and to the state's blue chip list by both the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. PrepStar ranked him as the No. 5 offensive lineman in the Midlands, Student Sports as the No. 17 OL in the nation (SuperPrep tabbed him No. 35 in the same category and No. 22 overall in the Midlands), and PFR ranked him as the No. 118 player overall in the nation. Max Emfinger listed him among his National Nifty 250 Blue Chips. He made the Las Vegas Sun's Super 11 second-team (best 33 players in the west). He was also an all-state and all-Centennial Conference as a junior and senior, and was an all-state selection as a sophomore in Florida. The Rocky referred to him as, "A superb pulling guard and pass protector." As a senior, he graded out to 95 percent on his assignments, did not allow a quarterback sack or pressure and was not called for a single penalty. Prior to his junior year, he was selected by Street & Smith's as one of the top 50 juniors to watch in the country (and made the magazine's list as one of the top 50 seniors to watch a year later). Mullen was 11-2 his senior year under coach Mick McCall, reaching the 5A state semifinals; he played at Boulder as a junior, his first school year in Colorado. Lake Highland Prep in Orlando, Fla., was 13-1 his sophomore year under coach Tim Borcky, losing in the 3A state semifinal. He started as a freshman on the varsity, and at the end of his 7th and 8th grade years on the junior varsity was "called up" to the varsity and lettered both years. Thus, all told, he earned six varsity letters in one sport, an extreme rarity.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in psychology at Colorado. Owned a 3.5 grade point average in high school.

PERSONAL— Born Sept. 20, 1982 in Orlando, Fla. Hobbies include snow and water skiing, scuba diving, fishing, golf, playing the drums and enjoying the music of Jimmy Buffett. His parents used to spend many summers in the Boulder area, and decided to move here permanently from Florida in 1999. He was the first commitment in CU's 2001 recruiting class, verbally stating his intentions last April 6.

22

LORENZO SIMS, CB

5-11, 185, Fr., HS
Fresno, Calif. (Edison)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as a cornerback in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered PrepStar All-American and all-West honors, while he also earned SuperPrep all-Far West and Prep Football Report all-West accolades. Rivals.com tabbed him as the No. 15 cornerback in the nation (the No. 33 player in California), with SuperPrep naming him the no. 56 player in California (the 11th defensive back) and PFR ranking him the 32nd player in the state (No. 3 defensive back). As Edison's MVP, he earned first-team all-state, all-Fresno County and all-North Yosemite district honors, while he also was named the all-Valley defensive player of the year and all-district MVP. As a junior, he garnered all-league (C section) and all-district first-team honors, earning his team's defensive player of the year (an honor he also received as a sophomore). As a senior at both cornerback and safety, he was in on 106 tackles (11 for loss, three quarterback sacks), along with seven interceptions, 15 pass deflections, three forced fumbles and four recovered fumbles. He also blocked two kicks and returned one for a touchdown. His junior year, he totaled 115 tackles (68 solo), four for loss, three sacks, seven interceptions, 12 pass deflections, three fumble recoveries and five forced fumbles; he added three blocked punts on special teams. His sophomore year, he had 112 total tackles (11 for loss), four sacks, five interceptions, 13 pass breakups, four fumble recoveries and seven forced fumbles; he also had three blocked punts. He finished his career with 19 interceptions, returning four for touchdowns. Top career games included a 26-23 loss to Clovis West his senior year, when he had 15 tackles, one interception and one fumble recovery. During his junior year, in a 42-12 win over Stockdale, he totaled 10 tackles, three interceptions (one returned for a touchdown) and a forced fumble. As a sophomore, in a 38-17 victory against Lemoore High, he finished with 15 tackles, one interception and recovered a fumble. Edison was 11-2 his senior year (winning the Valley Championship), 10-1-1 his junior year (losing in the second round of the playoffs) and 12-1 his sophomore year (Valley champion) under coach Ray Reyes. He also has lettered three times in basketball (averaging 18 points, seven assists, seven rebounds and five steals per game as a senior).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in criminology as his major at Colorado. A consistent honor roll student (a 3.1 grade point average as a prep), he also was named his school's Student Athlete of the Month at least once during all four years of school.

PERSONAL—He was born Aug. 30, 1985 in Fresno, Calif. Hobbies include coaching youth football (ages 5-8) and doing community service through his church. Cousin (Ricky Manning) was a defensive back at UCLA, while another (DeShawn Stevenson) plays guard for the Utah Jazz; second cousin (Bruce Bowen) is a forward for the San Antonio Spurs. He goes to the same high school that produced Manning and current Oklahoma defensive back Aaron Miller. Nickname is "Spiderman."

DUSTY SPRAGUE, WR

6-4, 180, Fr., HS
Holyoke, Colo. (Holyoke)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as a wide receiver in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—He won the prestigious Fred Steinmark Award, presented by the Rocky Mountain News, as it was awarded to the state's most outstanding senior for accomplishment in sport, academics and citizenship. Many have referred to him as the best small school athlete in the state of Colorado for 2002-03. As a senior, he earned both first-team all-Colorado (all classes) and all-state (1A) at defensive back from both the Denver Post and News. He was the LPAA (Lower Platte Athletic Association) player of the year (he was all-league at quarterback and free safety), and the state of Colorado's winner and representative for the Wendy's High School Heisman. SuperPrep named him to its All-America team (listing him as the No. 30 receiver nationally), while PrepStar and Prep Football Report tabbed him as an all-Midlands selection. SuperPrep rated him as the No. 24 player in the Midlands, and the third performer in the "athlete" category, while PFR ranked him No. 44 in the region (the sixth receiver). Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 37 receiver in the nation and as the fifth overall best player in Colorado. As a junior, he earned all-state honors at free safety and all-conference honors at running back, wide receiver, free safety and kick returner, and as a sophomore, he earned all-league honors at wide receiver. His senior year he rushed for 1,340 yards and 25 touchdowns, with a long run of 85 yards, threw for 756 yards, had over 200 yards receiving, and racked up 869 kickoff and 480 punt return yards. On defense (free safety), he had 127 tackles (61 solo), with two interceptions, 12 passes broken up and three quarterback sacks. Top career games included two from his senior year: in a 48-0 win over Jefferson Academy, he rushed 17 times for 180 yards and five touchdowns, along with returning a punt 70 yards; and in a win over Academy of Charter, he had 19 carries for 191 yards and four score, while completing 7-of-10 passes for 115 yards and two TDs (and did not play in the fourth quarter). Holyoke was 8-3 his senior season and 7-5 his junior season under coach Adam Archibeque, reaching the state playoffs both years. In the Colorado All-State game in June following his senior, he starred among athletes from all classes, as he caught six passes for 130 yards and a touchdown. He lettered four times in track, and was the state champion in the 110-meter hurdles as a junior and senior, the long jump champ as a junior, and the runner-up in the 100-meter run, the 300 hurdles and long jump as a senior. He also earned four letters in basketball (guard; an honorable mention all-state performer).

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business as his major at Colorado. He was third in his high school class (41 in size) with a 4.078 grade point average. The president of the National Honor Society at Holyoke and class treasurer, he is a member of the Science, Cadenza, Spanish and Drama Clubs, while also being involved with the FCCIA (Family Career and Community Leaders of America), FBLA (Future Business Leaders of America), FCA and the El Pomar Youth Community Service groups. He was a member Holyoke's Knowledge Bowl championship team while participating in Northeastern Junior College's Math and Science competition, and also ranked as the school's outstanding student in math, science and Spanish classes.

PERSONAL—He was born Aug. 9, 1984 in Holyoke, Colo. His hobbies include acting, fishing, music, reading and an interest in television production. Two brothers (Aaron, Russell) both played college football at Colorado State, with Aaron likely headed for NFL Europe this spring.

FREDRICK STAUGH, OL

6-5, 290, Fr., RS

Flower Mound, Texas (Flower Mound)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed second at tight-side tackle.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the entire year on the offensive line, mainly at tackle. He won the Scout Team Offense Award for the UCLA game.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned Prep Football Report all-Southwest honors, with Rivals.com ranking him as the No. 61 offensive guard in the country. PrepStar named him to its honorable mention all-Midlands team, and he earned second-team all-district (6-5A) honors. He was named to play in a couple of postseason all-star games. As a senior, he blocked for a 1,500-yard rusher and allowed only one sack, and as a junior, he again allowed only a single sack (in 350 team pass attempts), and helped a pair of backs combine for 1,600-plus yards. He says his top prep career game came his senior year in an overtime loss to Marcus High School, when he graded out to 94 percent, did not allow any sacks, and helped a FMHS back gain 384 yards rushing. In a loss to Louisville his junior year, he graded out to 92 percent and did not allow any sacks, despite almost 50 team passing attempts. Under coach Cody Vanderford, Flower Mound was 4-6 his senior year and 1-9 his junior season, the first two varsity seasons on the 5A level at Flower Mound High School (his position coach was Allen Cross). He played baseball as a freshman in his native Ohio.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in business (management) at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born Oct. 5, 1984 in Newark, Ohio (he lived in Ohio until moving to Texas his sophomore year in high school). His hobbies include lifting weights, listening to music, hunting and fishing, and playing a game called "hocker," which is a combination of soccer and hockey. (Last name is pronounced stah.)

DEREK STEMRICH, OL

6-6, 285, Jr., 1L

Hesperia, Calif. (Sultana)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Enters the fall listed third at center, as he missed spring practice recovering from knee surgery. He is expected to be 100 percent for fall camp.

2002 (Soph.)—He saw action in the first eight games of the season (no starts), mainly on the FG/PAT unit on special teams (43 snaps). He also got into three games on offense (center), grading out to 87.5 percent in 16 snaps from scrimmage. He injured a knee in bowl practices and had surgery on Dec. 19, thus missing the bowl game. He had suffered a patella subluxation in the same knee midway through spring practices, with the injury requiring surgery (which he had in late April). He was the speed-strength and conditioning champion in the spring for the 265 to 280-pound weight class.

2001 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in two games at split-guard, playing a total of five snaps combined against San Jose State and Iowa State. He was twice honored as the Scout Team Offense Award winner, for the Iowa State game and the second Texas game for the Big 12 Championship. He had plenty of reps during the spring as CU was down to as few as eight healthy offensive linemen at one time, gaining invaluable experience out of the situation.

2000 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any action. He practiced the year on the offensive line.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-CIF Division VIII honors at defensive tackle, the same position he was afforded all-San Bernardino County, all-area (from the Victor Valley Daily Press) and all-Mojave River League honors. The league defensive player-of-the-year as a senior, he was in on about 60 tackles, including 15 for losses and five quarterback sacks playing defensive end. Often assigned to either rush or play the gaps, he added eight hurries, two forced fumbles, two recoveries and a pass broken up. He played guard on offense, allowing just three sacks and had about a dozen pancake blocks in grading out to 90 percent or better in eight of 11 games. Top games his final prep season included 10 tackles and two sacks in a win over rival Hesperia, and when he had three pancake blocks in grading to 100 percent on pass plays and at 85 percent on run-block plays in a victory over Burroughs. As a junior, he did not allow a sack on offense and played end on defense. He started the final 21 games of his high school career, as he was a special teams performer his sophomore year. Sultana was 9-2 his senior campaign, claiming the Mojave River League title, and was 3-7 his junior year and 1-8-1 his sophomore season under coach Pete Delagardelle. He lettered twice in track and field, participating in the discus (170-0 career best), shot put (51-11) and weight throw (62-4), posting all his career bests as a senior, when he placed ninth in the weight throw at NIKE Indoor Championships.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in architecture at Colorado. He was second-team Academic All-Big 12 as a sophomore in 2002. An honor roll student in high school, he posted a perfect 4.0 the fall semester of his senior year.

PERSONAL—Born Dec. 12, 1981 in Arcadia, Calif. His hobbies include fishing. (Last name pronounced stem-rick.)

OMAR STEWART, S

5-11, 200, Sr., VR

Northridge, Calif.

(Monroe/College of the Canyons)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—He enters the fall listed third at strong safety, as he missed spring practice rehabilitating from a second ACL surgery (on the same knee) after injuring it last October.

2002 (Sr.-RS)—He suffered a nasty knee injury in the spring game, tearing both his anterior and medial cruciate ligaments and his meniscus. He had surgery in April, and it was thought at one time that he could possibly return by midseason. However, he reinjured the knee in October and had to have a second surgery. He had a redshirt year available to him and was able to use it maintain his eligibility.

2001 (Jr.)—He was moved from corner to safety early in fall camp, so there was an adjustment period to learn his new position. He didn't get into a game on defense, but he did play on special teams for 10 games, including the Fiesta Bowl, making two tackles and a knockdown block. He was selected as the Scout Team Defense Award winner twice, for the Fresno State and Missouri games. He did not participate in spring drills, as he did not arrive on campus until fall camp.

AT COLLEGE OF THE CANYONS: 1999-2000 (Fr./Soph.)—He was named an All-American by Rivals.com as a sophomore, and was also a two-time first-team all-Western States Conference performer at College of the Canyons, located in Santa Clarita, Calif. He had 48 tackles as a soph, to go with 23 pass deflections, four interceptions and two forced fumbles. He allowed seven completions in 11 games, all on underneath slant routes, as he was never beaten long. As a freshman, he was in on 35 tackles, with 19 passes broken up, an interception and a blocked kick. Top games included a 21-14 win over rival Hancock in 2000, when he had seven tackles, an interception and a forced fumble. C-of-the-C was 9-2 his sophomore year, claiming the Western Conference title, and was 7-4 his frosh year under coach Chuck Lyon.

HIGH SCHOOL—He was an all-West Valley Conference selection at cornerback his senior year, when he had 60 tackles, 20 pass deflections and six interceptions (two returned for touchdowns). He was easily one of the strongest defensive backs in the area; because of his strength (he was bench pressing well over 300 by the time he was a sophomore), he played man all four years in high school and excelled at bumping techniques at the line of scrimmage. How strong was he? Despite being just 5-11, 175 as a junior and senior, he was the second tight end in Monroe's double wing formation; he caught 20-plus passes for about 750 yards both years, scoring a combined 15 touchdowns. He was actually ranked as the seventh best tight end in the Southern California area at one point. He had 45 tackles, three picks and 15 passes broken up as a junior. He was a four-year starter at cornerback, and he played some wide receiver as a freshman and sophomore. One of his top prep games came in a win against Canoga his senior year, when he had five tackles, three pass deflections and an interception he returned for a score. Monroe was 3-7 his senior year and 4-6 his junior campaign under coach Jason Kamp. He also lettered in track, participating in sprints, relays and jumps.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. He graduated with his A.A. degree from College of the Canyons in May, 2001.

PERSONAL—Born March 18, 1981 in Philadelphia, Pa. His father is Muslim, thus the origin of his unique first name. Hobbies include weightlifting and raising his dogs (Rottweilers). (First name pronounced oh-mar.)

CLYDE SURRELL, S

5-10, 190, Sr., 3L, Aurora, Colo.
(Eaglecrest)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall listed second at weak safety, but figures to see plenty of action regardless as he established himself as a regular in CU's rotation last fall.

2002 (Jr.)—He played in 12 games (nine starts), as he was a key fixture in CU's dime package, playing mostly at the weak safety spot. In 670 snaps from scrimmage, he was fifth on the team in tackles with 71 (49 solo), with seven tackles for loss including three quarterback sacks. He also had seven third down stops, three hurries, three pass deflections, an interception and a forced fumble. He posted the team's single-game high in tackles, when he had 17 (and 15 solo) against Texas Tech, helping to shut down Tech's heralded quarterback, Kliff Kingsbury (he also had his interception in that game). He also had 12 tackles (10 solo) against San Diego State, and had nine against Iowa State and eight versus Baylor. He was ruled academically ineligible for the Alamo Bowl against Wisconsin (didn't pass the Big 12 Conference required number of hours in the fall). He missed spring practice due to academics, as he was suspended from CU and attended Aurora (Colo.) Community College. He was reinstated to the team for fall drills as he worked hard to get back into good standing.

2001 (Soph.)—He saw action in all 13 games including the Fiesta Bowl on special teams and in four on defense. He was second on the team in special team points with 16, on the strength of 11 tackles (four inside-the-20) and a knockdown block. He played 51 snaps from scrimmage at cornerback, posting six tackles (five solo), with a third down stop and two pass deflections. He averaged 16.0 yards on three kickoff returns, with a long runback of 20 yards. He missed the spring game, as he had surgery with two days remaining in drills to mend a fractured thumb. He was having a good spring, posting 12 tackles and returning an interception 54 yards for a touchdown in three of CU's full scrimmages.

2000 (Fr.)—He saw action in eight games (he sat out the first three), playing primarily special teams as he got in for one snap on defense at Texas A&M. He earned three special teams points, all coming on knockdown blocks to help spring men on return units.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned SuperPrep and USA Today (honorable mention) All-America honors as a senior, when he also was named on Prep Football Report's Top 250 list (the No. 159 player overall nationally) and to Rivals.com Top 100 running backs in the preseason (No. 54). SuperPrep tabbed him as the No. 27 skill athlete nationally, and the No. 33 player overall in the Midlands. He earned all-Colorado honors from the Denver Post at kick returner, and the newspaper also selected him all-state and listed him as a top Colorado blue chip; the Rocky Mountain News pegged him as an honorable mention all-stater. He earned first-team all-Centennial League honors as a junior and senior as well. As a senior, he was in on 96 tackles (58 solo, with seven for losses), as he had 10 pass deflections, an interception, a forced fumble and a recovery playing cornerback. He rushed 170 times for 1,194 yards and 10 touchdowns, averaging 7.0 yards per carry. He also caught 13 passes for 231 yards and three scores, returned five kickoffs for 221 yards (44.2 per), and had six punt returns for 194 yards (32.3, and that doesn't include two touchdowns of 99 and 80 yards that were called back due to penalties). He had 50 tackles as junior (28 solo), with six passes broken up, an interception and a sack, while rushing 200 times for 1,275 yards and 12 touchdowns; he also had five receptions for 80 yards and another score. As a sophomore playing at quarterback, completing 101-of-170 passes for 1,166 yards (12 touchdowns, five interceptions), in addition to rushing for 952 yards and 10 touchdowns. He topped the 300-yard rushing mark twice in his career: he had 367 and four touchdowns in a 42-28 loss to Overland as a senior, and 303 yards and three scores in a 41-11 win over Smoky Hill as a junior. Top defensive games as a senior included 11 tackles in an 18-15 win over Chatfield and 10 tackles, two for losses, and three PBU's in a loss to Fairview. Eaglecrest was 4-6 his senior year, 2-8 his junior year and 8-4 his sophomore year, losing in the state finals to Arvada West, under coach Gary Thompson. He also lettered in basketball as a freshman and sophomore and three times in track. He owns the school records in the 100-meter (10.56 personal best) and the 200-meter (21.34) dashes, winning the state championship as a junior with that time in the latter. He earned honorable mention all-state honors in track as a junior, but was first-team all-league and a Top 25 pick by Track & Field News.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado. An honor roll student as a high school senior.

PERSONAL—Born March 23, 1982 in Stockton, Calif. Hobbies include lifting weights and playing basketball. He is the father a daughter, Jada (born March 26, 2002).

55 MIKE SUTTON, OL

6-6, 325, Fr., HS
San Antonio, Texas (Roosevelt)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He originally signed with the Buffs as a member of the 2002 class, but he reported with serious high blood pressure and after just a couple of days, he returned home to San Antonio to improve his health. A year later, he has dropped 65 pounds and is much healthier, and he enrolled at CU for the spring semester and participated in spring practice. Enters the fall listed second at tight-side guard.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, 360.com ranked him as the No. 2 recruit out of San Antonio, as he garnered first-team all-state and first-team all-San Antonio honors. He also earned first-team in his district (29-4A), while being invited to the Down Under Bowl for the summer 2002 in Australia that features the nation's top high school seniors. He was also named to first-team all-district and all-city a junior. During his three years on the varsity squad, he made 181 pancake blocks and only allowed one sack (and that during his sophomore year). As a team captain his senior season, he led his team with 88 pancake blocks, helping clear the way for Roosevelt's running back's 2,070 yards and 26 touchdowns. During his junior season, he led his team in pancake blocks once again with 79. Top games included a 28-34 loss to Phlogerville his senior year, when he had 14 pancake blocks and his running back gained 215 yards and two touchdowns. Also, in a 38-28 win over Holmes High, he recorded seven pancake blocks while his running back scored three touchdowns and rushed for 115 yards. Under coach Glenn Hill, Roosevelt was 13-3 his senior year and 13-4 his junior year. Roosevelt won three consecutive district championships during his prep career, advancing to the state quarterfinals his senior year, and to the state semifinals his junior season. He was also on the track team as a freshman and competed in the shot put and discus events.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in communication as his major at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born Nov. 11, 1982 in San Antonio, Texas. His hobbies include playing basketball, working out and fishing. Interested in becoming a high school teacher, especially at the freshman level. First name is Michael, but prefers Mike.

QUINN SYPNIEWSKI, TE

6-7, 255, Sr., 3L
Granger, Iowa (Johnston)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—Enters the fall listed first at tight end, but his status at the start of camp is questionable; he has a stress fracture in the same toe he injured his junior year, though he played with the injury. He also had an emergency intestinal procedure on May 2, which sidelined him from conditioning work for about a month.

2002 (Jr.)—He played in 13 games including the Alamo Bowl (seven starts), as he caught six passes for 42 yards. He scored his first career points in the Missouri game, as he caught a clutch two-point conversion pass from Robert Hodge that padded the Buff lead to seven late in the game (though MU tied it up, CU won in overtime). He also played an additional 57 snaps on CU's field goal/Pat unit on special teams. Phil Steele's College Football cited him as a preseason third-team all-Big 12 choice. He had a solid spring, including a reception for 34 yards in the spring game.

2001 (Soph.)—He played in all 13 games, including two starts (at Oklahoma State and against Oregon in the Fiesta Bowl) when the Buffs opened in a multiple tight end set. He caught two passes on the year for 25 yards and one first down (one for 18 yards at Oklahoma State, the other for seven yards at Texas). He had six dominant blocks on offense, as he was in for roughly 40 percent of the plays for the year. He also had a kickoff return for six yards on a short pop-up kick; he also had a fair catch in another situation, and he registered five knockdown blocks in clearing the way for return men on special teams. He led the team in receiving with 12 catches for 98 yards in the four full spring scrimmages.

2000 (Fr.)—He lined up as the second-team tight end throughout the season, playing all 11 games and making two starts the last two games of the year (Iowa State, Nebraska) when CU came out in a two-tight end set. He had two catches for 12 yards on the year, but they were big ones against Texas A&M, CU's first win of the year. He added two knockdown blocks on special teams duty.

HIGH SCHOOL—Considered by many to be one of the top two recruits in the state of Iowa, he earned All-America honors from Prep Football Report, PrepStar, Rivals.com, SuperPrep and USA Today (honorable mention). He was the Gatorade Player-of-the-Year in Iowa, and earned first-team all-Central Iowa Metropolitan League honors. SuperPrep tabbed him as the No. 1 jumbo athlete in the preseason, and ranked him as the No. 3 tight end nationally following the season (the No. 46 player overall on its National 50 and the No. 7 player overall in the Midlands). PrepStar ranked him as the No. 3 tight end overall as well, while PFR had him the No. 25 overall player on its ESPN-Reebok Top 100 list. As a junior, he earned honorable mention all-league honors. His senior year he caught 22 passes for 453 yards and a touchdown, and carried the ball on occasion (six times for 30 yards). On defense, as rush defensive end, he was in on 35 tackles, with nine tackles for loss including six quarterback sacks, along with 18 pressures, two forced fumbles and a blocked punt. Top games came against Valley, when he caught a 74-yard touchdown pass, the longest in league play, and against Ankeny, when he caught five passes for 95 yards. As a junior, he had 13 catches for 130 yards and a score on offense, while posting six sacks on defense. He had eight catches for 86 yards a touchdown as a sophomore (he did not play defense). Johnston was 3-6 his senior year, 2-7 his junior season and 8-3 his sophomore year under coach Spence Evans. He also lettered four times in basketball (center), averaging 10 points and eight rebounds per game as a senior, earning honorable mention all-conference honors. He matched that with four letters in track: he was ranked No. 1 in the state in the discus as a junior (career best throw of 173-9), and also ran the 200-meter dash (23.6 PR) and the 400-meter dash (54.0).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in journalism (news editorial) at Colorado; he worked two years as a student assistant in the athletic media relations office during his off-season. He was an honor roll student in high school, owning better than a 3.1 grade point average, which included several advanced courses.

PERSONAL—Born April 14, 1982 in Des Moines, Iowa. His hobbies include most outdoor activities, especially hiking, fishing and skiing, and working on his truck. He was a member of the show choir for four years in high school, participating in several shows. He has traveled to Europe and also teaches swimming lessons. Father (George) lettered four years as an outside linebacker at Drake in the early 1970s. (Last name pronounced sip-new-ski.)

McKENZIE TILMON, DT

6-4, 315, Jr., JC

Irving, Texas

(MacArthur/NE Oklahoma A&M)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—He is projected as a defensive tackle in his true freshman year in college. He signed with Colorado out of high school, but when he didn't qualify academically, he attended NE Oklahoma A&M (junior college). He held firm with his commitment to return to Colorado once he earned his A.A. degree. He has three years to play two in eligibility.

JUNIOR COLLEGE—A PrepStar JUCO Top 125 performer, he was primarily a nose guard as a sophomore, with his main duties to clog the middle against the run. He was in on 20 tackles, five for losses with two quarterback sacks, to go with 20 hurries, a fumble recovery and a blocked field goal (NEO rotated in eight DL's all season). He made 32 tackles as a freshman (23 solo), with six for losses, two sacks, two forced fumbles and one recovery playing both defensive end and tackle. NE Oklahoma A&M was 11-1 his sophomore year and 6-4 his freshman year under coach Dale Patterson. NE Oklahoma was the Southwest Junior College champion and defeated Erie (N.Y.) Community College, 27-21, in the Red River Bowl to finish No. 2 in the nation his sophomore season.

HIGH SCHOOL—He earned both Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Houston Chronicle Texas Top 100 honors as a senior, also when Prep Football Report named him to its all-Southwest team and PrepStar to its all-Midlands squad. He was one of 14 defensive linemen on the Chronicle's list, while PFR ranked him as the No. 75 player overall in the southwest and the ninth D-lineman. He was a three-time, first-team all-district selection at defensive end, as he started his sophomore through senior seasons. As a senior, he was in on 64 tackles, with 17 for losses including seven quarterback sacks; he blocked three punts, had three fumble recoveries, two forced fumbles and three passes broken up. As a junior, he was in on 84 tackles, 20 for losses (10 sacks), along with forcing six fumbles, three recoveries, two blocked punts and two PBU's. He had 68 tackles as a sophomore, including eight TFL's and four sacks, adding three forced fumbles (two recoveries), two passes broken up and a blocked punt. He also occasionally played tight end, usually going in for blocking situations. His top career game came in a narrow loss to L.D. Bell his senior year: his assignment was to shoot the gap every play, and he finished with 11 tackles, seven for losses including five sacks, and two passes broken up. MacArthur was 3-7 his senior year, 4-6 his junior year and 6-4 his sophomore campaign under coach David Visentine. He also lettered once in basketball (played center as a junior), and threw the discus in track, finishing second in the district as a junior; his career best throw was 175-0.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in the legal world, and wants to major in pre-law at CU.

PERSONAL—Born Feb. 2, 1982 in Brownwood, Texas. An accomplished drag racer, he belongs to a racing club that participates annually in the "Texas Drag Wars." He also collects Deion Sanders memorabilia, ranging from cards and photos/posters to figurines, and got meet him as a gift on his 16th birthday. An "adopted older brother," Akin Ayodele, played defensive end at Purdue (he's one of the Boilermakers' all-time sack leaders), and is now with the Jacksonville Jaguars in the NFL; Ayodele, one of the best friends of Tilmon's older brother, lived with his family since the younger Tilmon was nine, and he views as a true brother.

JACK TIPTON, OL

6-4, 285, Fr., RS

Arvada, Colo. (Pomona)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed second at the split-guard position, though he also has logged several reps at center.

2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action. He practiced the entire fall on the offensive line, and dressed for 10 games, including the Alamo Bowl.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned PrepStar and Super Prep All-America honors, as P-Star ranked him as the No. 7 offensive lineman in the Midlands region (and the No. 1 OL from the state of Colorado). Rivals.com pegged him as the No. 34 guard in the country, and Prep Football Report named him to its all-West team (though selecting him as a preseason All-American). Closer to home, he was named first-team all-Colorado and first-team all-state (Rocky Mountain News, Denver Post), making the Post's exclusive 12-member Blue Chip List. He was voted the 2001 best offensive lineman in the Jeffco League, in which he was a two-time first-team all-conference member of as a junior and senior. As a senior, he graded out to about 88 percent for the year, allowing just one quarterback sack as he registered 50 pancake blocks and was called for just one penalty. He graded out to about 85 percent as a junior, allowing three sacks and getting called for five penalties in posting 35 pancake blocks. He also handled placement kicks on occasion throughout his career. Top games as a senior were against Chatfield and Arvada West, grading out to better than 95 percent in both. Pomona was 6-4 his senior year, 2-8 his junior year and 6-4 his sophomore campaign under coach Gary Klatt. He also lettered three years in track (throws; owns a career-best of 49-9 in the shot put) and once in basketball.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in architecture (planning) at Colorado. Owner of a 3.6 grade point average in high school (4.0 as a senior), he was a consistent member of the honor roll.

PERSONAL—He was born March 19, 1984 in Denver. His hobbies include lifting weights and hanging out with friends. Father (Steve) played basketball at Trinity, and an uncle (Steve) played tight end at Wyoming in the 1970's.

40 JEFF TOLBERT, FB

5-11, 230, Soph., TR
Cypress, Texas
(Cypress Fairbanks/UC-Davis)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed fourth on the depth at fullback.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He was ineligible to participate in games after he transferred to CU from the University of California-Davis. He joined the team as a walk-on after the first day of classes. He practiced the entire fall at fullback, and was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the Kansas State game.

AT UC-DAVIS: 2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced as a linebacker the entire fall.

HIGH SCHOOL—He lettered three times in football at Cy-Fair as a linebacker, earning all-district (16-5A) honors his senior and junior years. As a senior, he was named one of the Top 300 linebackers in the state of Texas, while he also received the U.S. Marine's Outstanding Athlete Award. A team captain, he racked up 98 total tackles (63 solo), with 12 for loss, three sacks, four forced fumbles, two recovered fumbles and two pass deflections. During his junior campaign, he had 96 tackles (54 solo), with eight for loss, five sacks, eight forced fumbles, and one recovered fumble. As a sophomore, he was in on 27 tackles, two coming for loss, with one sack, two forced fumbles and three pass break ups. Cy-Fair was 7-3 his senior year, 8-3 his junior year (district champs) and 10-2 his sophomore year (district champs) under coach Ronny Peacock.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in economics at Colorado. As a sophomore, he won academic awards in English and geometry.

PERSONAL—Born Nov. 5, 1982 in Cypress, Texas. Hobbies include lifting weights. His father (Richard) played football at Oklahoma, as did an older brother (Tim); a cousin (Andre Roberson) played at Missouri.

JOHN TORP, P

6-2, 200, Soph., VR
Lafayette, Colo. (Monarch)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—He has the inside track of becoming CU's next punter, as he's atop the depth chart entering the fall. He struggled a bit in scrimmage action in the spring (33.9 average on 12 punts), but he's demonstrated the ability to kick the ball 50-plus yards with consistency.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He was the backup to Mark Mariscal, thus he had an up-close view of the nation's 2002 Ray Guy Award winner. He did punt three times for a 49.7 average, all three placed inside-the-20 with a long of 63. His net average on the three kicks was a more than healthy 49.3.

2001—Redshirted; practiced at both punter and placekicker his first year on campus.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned all-conference honors for the third straight year when he scored 57 points, as he made good of 45-of-50 extra points and 4-of-6 field goal tries (with a long of 43). He also owned a 40.3 average for 25 punts, including a long of 65 and three inside-the-20. As a junior, he was 53-of-56 on PAT kicks and a perfect 4-of-4 in field goals, with a long of 45. He averaged 35.8 yards on 15 punts. Monarch was 9-3 his senior year, winning the league title and making the state playoffs, and was 8-3 his junior and 9-3 his sophomore seasons under coach Phil Bravo. He also lettered three times in soccer, earning all-conference honors as a sophomore, and three times in track (hurdles). He holds four school records in track: 110 and 300 hurdles, long jump and 2x400 relay.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in political science at Colorado. In high school, he was an American Mathematic Award winner and earned All-Academic honors as a senior.

PERSONAL—Born August 19, 1982 in Seattle, Wash. Hobbies include skiing and photography.

SEAN TUFTS, ILB

6-4, 245, Sr., 3L

Englewood, Colo. (Cherry Creek)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Sr.)—One of CU's starting inside linebackers, and a likely candidate for the Butkus Award. Phil Steele's College Football selected him as a fourth-team preseason All-America, also making him a second-team all-conference pick in ranking him as the No. 8 inside linebacker in the nation. Lindy's Big 12 Football ranked him the No. 15 ILB, while The Sporting News tabbed him No. 19. He was one of 13 players in the spring to earn CU's prestigious Spring Victory Club honors.

2002 (Jr.)—He played in seven games (six starts including the Alamo Bowl), as he missed six games (Kansas through Iowa State) with a nasty high ankle sprain. He only saw action for 251 snaps from scrimmage, making 34 tackles for the season (19 solo). He had two forced fumbles, one recovery and a third down stop in his limited action. In the bowl game, he had seven tackles, including five solo and one for a loss. This could have been his breakout year, as Athlon and The Sporting News selected him as a second-team all-Big 12 choice in their preseason magazines, with TSN ranking him as the No. 19 inside linebacker nationally. For the spring, he won the Hale Irwin Award as the outstanding defensive back (selected by the coaching staff), and was also one of 15 players to earn prestigious Spring Victory Club honors.

2001 (Soph.)—He earned honorable mention all-Big 12 honors from the league coaches, and also made CU's prestigious Victory Club by grading out with a winning performance in at least eight games. He started 12 games including the Fiesta Bowl and played in all 13; the lone non-start came when CU opened in the dime formation against Missouri. He was sixth on the team in tackles, as he had 33 solo and 24 assists for a total of 57, including three for losses and two third down stops. He also had three quarterback hurries, a caused interception, two passes broken up, and a blocked extra point (the latter against San Jose State). In addition to the blocked PAT, he added two knockdown blocks on special teams coverage duty. He had a career-high 11 tackles on two occasions, against Missouri and Nebraska (he added a TFL and a third down stop against the Huskers in what was likely his best game of the season). He added five tackles against Oregon in the bowl game. He had an outstanding spring, leading the team in tackles with 35 in the four full scrimmages (16 solo), including five third down stops. The coaches selected him for the Most Improved Defensive Player award for spring drills.

2000 (Fr.)—He played in nine games overall, six on defense including one start at Texas A&M, missing the season finale at Nebraska due to a shoulder nerve injury he suffered in practice a few weeks earlier. He saw action for 116 snaps on defense, posting 10 tackles (eight solo), with three for losses including half a sack. He may have earned only one special team point, but it was a unique as well as big one: he had a touchdown-springing block that helped set Roman Hollowell free for a punt return score at Kansas. He fully recovered from a knee injury that cut short his senior season in high school well before his first collegiate camp begun.

HIGH SCHOOL—He suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament in the fourth quarter of the second game of his senior season (versus Montbello), missing the remainder of the year. However, the injury didn't detract from him still receiving a host of honors: Prep Football Report, Prep Star and SuperPrep all selected him as an All-American, with PFR ranking him No. 17 on its Top 100 list. SuperPrep ranked him the No. 4 overall prospect in the Midlands (the first linebacker mentioned), and had him slotted No. 40 overall on its National Top 50 list (the seventh 'backer). The Sporting News pegged him on its prime prospect list (one of 14 linebackers), and he made both state blue chip lists by the Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News. He was a team captain as a senior, and had about 20 tackles on the year at the time of his injury. As a junior, he earned first-team all-Colorado honors from the News and Post, as well as unanimous all-Centennial League accolades. He also won the Outstanding Athlete Award at the Rocky Mountain Speed Camp. As a junior, he was in on 144 tackles (75 solo), with over 20 tackles for loss including 10 quarterback sacks, and five forced fumbles. Top games that year included 16 tackles against Fort Collins and 10 stops and a forced fumble against Ponderosa in the '98 state playoffs. He played sporadically at inside linebacker as a sophomore, and was on the offensive line as a freshman. Cherry Creek was 13-2 his senior year, the state runner-up, and was 12-3 his junior year and 10-4 his sophomore season under coach Mike Woolford... He also lettered three times in wrestling, qualifying for the state meet as a sophomore and garnering all-state honors as a junior, and three times in lacrosse (also all-state as a junior).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in sociology at Colorado. His high school grade point average was always around 3.0, as he was an honor roll student.

PERSONAL—Born March 26, 1982 in Aurora, Colo. His hobbies include four-wheeling, foosball, ping-pong and playing most sports. Father (David) played football at Colorado State in the 1960s, and an uncle (Dan Upham) played halfback at Wyoming.

LAWRENCE VICKERS, FB

6-2, 225, Soph., 1L

Houston, Texas (Forest Brook)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed first at fullback. He has really worked hard at learning the nuances of the position, as he was a tailback in high school and initially at CU.

2002 (Fr.)—He saw action in 11 games, including the Alamo Bowl (no starts), seeing time on both offense (at fullback) and on special teams; he was a regular at the end of the year in CU's Stack-I formation (two fullbacks). He had seven rushes for 25 yards on the year, and also caught one pass for seven yards. He touched the ball the most against Baylor, when he had six rushes for 22 yards and his reception. He had a tackle and a knockdown block on special teams duty.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered PrepStar All-America honors, as the magazine ranked him as the No. 8 running back in the Midlands. SuperPrep named him to its all-southwest team, while Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 11 fullback in the nation. He earned first-team all-state and first-team all-North Forest League while also being named to the first-team all-Greater Houston area. Earning offensive MVP of his district during 2001, he was named to first-team all-district all four years of his prep career. He was also named to the first-teams of the league and district his junior and sophomore years. Playing running back on the varsity squad throughout all four seasons, he finished his career with 4,610 yards rushing and 70 touchdowns on 345 carries (a gaudy 13.4 yards per carry). He also caught 72 passes for 1,950 yards and 24 touchdowns, averaging 27.1 yards per catch. As a senior, he ran for 1,600 yards on 151 attempts, scoring 21 touchdowns with a long of 85 yards. He also caught the second most passes of his career (17) and compiled 500 receiving yards and four touchdowns. As a junior, he ran for 960 yards and scored 17 touchdowns on just 89 carries. During his sophomore season he averaged 15.8 yards a carry, rushing 70 times on the season for 1,110 yards and 22 touchdowns. As a freshman, the only year he played defense, he started in every game and racked up 75 total tackles at free safety, causing 10 fumbles and intercepting seven passes. His top games included a 21-0 win over West Berry his senior year, when he rushed for 248 yards and three touchdowns on 25 carries. In a 50-47 loss to Jasper in the semifinals of the state playoffs his senior year, he rushed 10 times for 192 yards and two touchdowns and had seven catches for 200 yards and two more scores. Under coach Ron Holmes, Forest Brook went 12-1 his senior year and advanced to the semifinals of the state playoffs; FBHS was 11-1 his junior season (losing in the second round of the playoffs), and was 7-4 his sophomore year. He also lettered three years in basketball, averaging 20 points a game with 10 rebounds, three steals and three blocks a game as a senior, and lettered twice in track, competing in the high jump (career best of 6-7).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado.

PERSONAL—He was born May 8, 1983 in Beaumont, Texas. His hobbies include listening to music, watching comedy and hunting. He is also an avid churchgoer.

86 JESSE WALLACE, TE

6-3, 240, Jr., 1L
Kansas City, Mo.
(Blue Valley Northwest)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Enters the fall listed second on the depth at tight end. He was one of 13 players in the spring to earn CU's prestigious Spring Victory Club honors.

2002 (Soph.)—He played in all 14 games, including the Alamo Bowl, and made one start (at Kansas). He had two receptions for 29 yards, as he was primarily utilized in two-tight end sets and on special teams. He recorded his first career touchdown reception, coming on a 1-yard grab from Robert Hodge against Kansas State, which increased CU's lead at the time to 35-14 in the third quarter. His other catch came against Baylor.

2001 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in one game (San Jose State), catching one pass for 7 yards. He was the Scout Team Offense Award winner for the first Texas game. He had a good spring, and caught seven passes for 41 yards in the four full spring scrimmages.

2000 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced at tight end the entire year.

HIGH SCHOOL—Played primarily in two-tight end sets, sharing time, but came on late according to his high school coach. He earned first-team all-Eastern Kansas League honors as a senior, when he was also a team captain. He caught 13 passes for 200 yards and four touchdowns, and played sporadically on defense as an end (posting 11 tackles, two for losses, with five quarterback hurries, a forced fumble, one recovery and a pass broken up). He caught five passes for around 80 yards as a junior (no TDs), and had 20 tackles and a quarterback sack on defense. His top games as a senior included wins over Bishop Miege (four catches for 75 yards and a touchdown), Shawnee Mission West (five grabs for 50 yards) and Olathe East (when he caught his first career touchdown pass). Blue Valley Northwest was 10-3 his senior year and 9-3 his junior season under coach Steve Harms, winning the district title both years and the league title his senior season (losing in the Kansas state semifinals). He also lettered two times in basketball, as he averaged nine points and six rebounds per game as a senior, and lettered twice in track, participating in the 100-meter dash and javelin throw as a freshman and sophomore.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in communication at Colorado. He owned a 3.0 grade point in high school and was an honor roll member all three years.

PERSONAL—Born Aug. 20, 1982 in Oakland, Calif. His hobbies include PlayStation (claims that he is the "ultimate monster" at any sport video game), reading and rap music. Two uncles who played in college have gone on to high positions in NFL administration: Lamonte Winston, a wide receiver at San Francisco State, is the director of player development with the Kansas City Chiefs, and Kevin Winston, a wide receiver at Indiana University who is now the director of player programs with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He participated for two years in Shoulder Pads & Paragraphs, a Kansas City area program in which high school football players read with area second graders. At CU, he is a regular participant in "Read With The Buffs," for area fifth-graders.

49 THADDAEUS WASHINGTON, ILB

6-0, 235, Fr., RS
Marrero, La. (John Ehret)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.-RS)—Enters the fall listed third at one of the two inside linebacker spots. He was having a fine spring, but after violating a team rule, he was suspended for the last two-thirds of drills. He was reinstated at the end of the spring semester. 2002 (Fr.)—Redshirted; did not see any game action but practiced all fall at inside linebacker. He was the Scout Team Defense Award winner for two games (USC and the Big 12 Championship game versus Oklahoma). He was one of the first '02 recruits to hit Boulder, and he spent a lot of time in the weight room once here.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he garnered Prep Football Report and SuperPrep all-Southwest honors, with SP ranking him as the No. 8 player in Louisiana (and the second linebacker). Rivals.com ranked him as the No. 30 inside linebacker in the nation, as he was named his district's most valuable player. He was a three-time first-team all-district (8-5A) and all-Metro New Orleans performer (sophomore through senior seasons), and he garnered first-team all-state honors as a junior and senior. As a senior, he made 107 tackles, including 14 for losses and seven quarterback sacks, with an amazing 20 forced fumbles, nine recoveries, two forced fumbles and two blocked field goals. He had 89 tackles as a junior, with 23 TFL's and 15 sacks, 11 forced fumbles and three interceptions, and had 131 tackles as a sophomore and around 75 as a freshman to give him just over 400 for his career, to go with 43 forced fumbles. Top career games included a 21-12 win over Selman as a senior, when he 15 tackles, four tackles for loss, two sacks, four forced fumbles and a recovery; a 16-14 win over Neville as a junior, when he had 23 tackles, four TFL's (two sacks), four forced fumbles, a recovery and an interception; and a 38-21 win over Barbe his sophomore year, when he had 18 tackles, five TFL's/two sacks and two caused fumbles. Ehret was 5-4 his senior year, 13-1 his junior year and 10-3 his sophomore season for coach Billy North, claiming the district championship his soph and junior seasons. He also lettered three times in track (throws; career bests of 132-0 in the discus and 45-0 in the shot put).

ACADEMICS—He is undecided on his major at Colorado and is enrolled in the School of Arts & Sciences. He was an honor roll student as a senior in high school.

PERSONAL—He was born Oct. 10, 1983 in New Orleans, La. Hobbies include listening to gospel music, watching movies, playing video games, hunting and fishing. He hails from the same high school that produced former CU quarterback Kordell Stewart.

VANCE WASHINGTON, CB

5-9, 180, Soph., 1L

Friendswood, Texas (Clear Brook)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed second at one of the two cornerback spots. He is one of the fastest players on the team, and he could also contend for time returning kicks as well. He missed spring practice recovering from a shoulder subluxation, which he suffered in a January car accident.

2002 (Fr.)—He saw action in 12 games, including the Alamo Bowl (no starts), with all the action coming on special teams.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned Super Prep all-Southwest honors, with Rivals.com ranking him as the No. 35 cornerback in the nation. He also earned all-district (24-5A) honors and was invited to play in two unique high school all-star games, in Europe and Australia. He was a second-team all-district selection at running back as a junior. As a senior, he was in on 80 tackles (40 solo), with two for losses, two passes broken up, two recoveries and two forced fumbles. On offense, he caught 27 passes for 200 yards, rushed one time for a 20-yard touchdown, and owned gaudy averages for kickoff (50.0) and punt (34.0) returns. As a junior, he gained over 1,000 yards on just 82 carries, scoring 10 times with a long run of 85. He didn't play much defense as a junior, but as a sophomore, he was in 15 tackles and had 10 pass deflections and three interceptions playing corner. One of his top games was a 42-13 win over Beaumont Westbrook as a junior, when he rushed 15 times for 187 yards and four touchdowns. Clear Brook was 0-10 his senior year, 6-4 his junior season and 8-2 his sophomore campaign under coach James Smith. He also lettered four times in track, participating in sprints and relays (owns career bests of 10.27 in the 100 and 21.01 in the 200, placing third in the state in the latter in 2001).

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in computer science and mathematics, as he is pursuing a double at Colorado. An honor roll student in high school, he has consistently maintained a 3.5 grade point average as a prep.

PERSONAL—He was born Sept. 22, 1983 in Houston, Texas. His hobbies include fixing and programming computers, listening to classical music and science fiction movies.

TERRENCE WHEATLEY, CB

6-0, 170, Fr., HS

Richardson, Texas (Plano East)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as a cornerback in his true freshman year in college.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, Rivals.com tabbed him the No. 56 cornerback in the nation, as he earned all-state honorable mention honors, all-district (9-5A) first-team honors and was named to the Dallas Morning News all-area first-team as a cornerback and receiver. He was also named the Plano Star Collin County MVP, and during his junior year, he received all-district second team honors at receiver and first-team accolades at kick returner. As a senior, he was in on 82 tackles (three for loss), along with making five interceptions, nine pass deflections, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. On offense, he caught 25 passes for 410 yards and three touchdowns, as he averaged 35 yards per kick return and 15 yards per punt return on special teams. As a junior, totaled 70 tackles (four for loss), with six interceptions, 18 pass breakups, three forced fumbles and three recovered fumbles. He played running back sparingly, rushing 23 times for 200 yards, and added 11 catches for 161 yards and two touchdowns. He also averaged 25 yards per kick return and eight yards on punt returns. Top career games include a 24-21 win over Lake Highlands his junior year, when he rushed 13 times for 114 yards, and added four receptions for 70 yards, including the game winning touchdown. On defense, he had 10 tackles and one interception. In a 33-14 win over Plano his senior year, he had 65 yards receiving, nine tackles and one pass deflection, adding a 30-yard punt return average. That same year, in a 21-0 victory against Lewisville, he had 85 yards receiving, including a 79-yard touchdown reception, 10 tackles and two pass breakups in addition to a 35-yard kick return average. Plano East was 8-4 his senior season (district champions, but lost in the second round of the playoffs) and 8-3 his junior year (district champs, but losing in first round of the playoffs) under coach John Crawford. He also lettered three times in track and holds school records for the triple jump (49-11½), long jump (23-3½) and 100 meters (10.3). He was the Texas Relay champion in the triple jump winning with a 48-5 his junior year, and he won district championships in the 100, long jump and triple jump as a junior. He also was the district champion in the triple jump as a sophomore.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in architectural engineering as his major at Colorado. He is a consistent "B" honor roll student.

PERSONAL—He was born May 5, 1985 in Walnut Creek, Calif. His hobbies include playing video games, shooting pool, swimming and computers. Father (Randolph) ran track at Arizona State.

BRIAN WHITE, QB

6-5, 220, Fr., HS

Mission Viejo, Calif. (Trabuco Hills)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Fr.)—He is projected as a quarterback in his true freshman year in college. He arrived in Boulder in June to participate in voluntary 7-on-7 workouts with the offense.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned PrepStar All-American honors, as was also named to its all-West team. He garnered SuperPrep all-Far-West honors as the 48th overall player and No. 8 quarterback, while Prep Football Report named him to its all-West team as the No. 39 player in California and No. 10 quarterback. Rivals.com tabbed him the No. 21 quarterback in the nation (and the No. 69 player in California) on his way to earning all-CIF (southern section) and all-South Coast League accolades. He was an honorable mention all-league performer during both his junior and sophomore seasons. As a senior, he completed 160-of-265 passes (60 percent) for 2,006 yards and 16 touchdowns (he had 11 interceptions). He also rushed 60 times for 225 yards and three scores with a long run of 47 yards, and caught one pass for an 8-yard touchdown on a trick play. As a junior, he completed 118-of-205 passes for 1,500 yards and 10 touchdowns, with just five interceptions. He also ran for 120 yards and three touchdowns. In limited action as a sophomore, he completed 56 percent of his passes (70-of-125), throwing for 900 yards and eight scores, adding 100 yards on the ground and one TD. Top career games all came during his senior year, including a 41-19 win over Laguna Hills when he passed for 280 yards and four touchdowns on 17-of-22 attempts. Just two weeks later in a 35-14 win against Aliso Niguel, he completed 18-of-30 passes for 336 yards and three touchdowns. In his team's final game of the season, a first round playoff loss to Claremont, he completed 13-of-21 passes for 200 yards and three scores. Trabuco Hills was 6-5 his senior year (losing to Claremont in the first round), 5-6 his junior year (losing in the first round) and 2-8 his sophomore season under coach Bill Crow. He lettered three times in basketball (averaging 15 points, eight rebounds, four assists and two blocks per game as a senior), once in track (high jump; a career best of 6-0) and played baseball as a freshman.

ACADEMICS—He is interested in business (marketing) as his major at Colorado. He was named Trabuco Hills' Student of the Month during November 2002, and is also a member of his school's medical science program.

PERSONAL—He was born Sept. 20, 1984 in Cleveland, Ohio. His hobbies include bass fishing, playing basketball, playing video games and surfing. Grandfather (Ralph) played offensive line at Bowling Green and for the Baltimore Colts during the 1960s; father (Mark) was a linebacker for Bowling Green from 1980-84; and an uncle (Scott White) wrestled at Kent State.

SAM WILDER, DT

6-5, 275, Jr., 2L

Dallas, Texas (First Baptist Academy)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Jr.)—Enters the fall as one of CU's starting defensive tackles.

2002 (Soph.)—He played in all 14 games, making starts in the last 11 including the Alamo Bowl, at defensive tackle. He was moved inside from end, and after adjusting to the position, won the starting job for the fourth game of the year. In 617 snaps from scrimmage, he recorded 38 tackles, including 26 solo and 10 tackles for loss (with five quarterback sacks, second most on the team). He had seven third down stops, five pressures and a fumble recovery. He had a career high five tackles, two for losses, in the win over Kansas State, and had four tackles in five other games. He matched his career high with five stops in the bowl game against Wisconsin, with four of the solo variety including a third down stop. He was suspended from school for the spring semester, as he violated the university's code of conduct, but he was reinstated in good standing by summer. Though he did not participate in spring practice, he didn't miss a beat upon his return in the fall.

2001 (Fr.-RS)—He saw action in eight games, six on defense including the Fiesta Bowl. He played 46 snaps from scrimmage for the regular season, making one solo tackle (at Iowa State) and registering one quarterback pressure (against Missouri). He added a tackle against Oregon in the bowl. He had nine tackles and a quarterback sack in the four spring scrimmages.

2000 (Fr.)—Redshirted; was moved from end to tackle early in drills and practiced the remainder of the year there.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned first-team all-state honors at defensive tackle and earned mention on the Top 100 list by the Dallas Morning News. He was all-district as a sophomore and as a senior, as the Tapps 4A district selected him as the defensive player-of-the-year as a senior (he was second-team all-state as a sophomore). He missed his entire junior year in three sports after tearing his ACL in the final football scrimmage of the summer, but rebounded very well from it in time to play summer baseball prior to his senior year. As a senior, he was in on 120 tackles (40 solo), with 15 tackles for loss including six quarterback sacks. He also had five passes broken up, two forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries, one of which he returned for a touchdown, and a blocked punt (which his team returned for a score). On offense, he allowed just two sacks playing strong side tackle. He was in on 90 tackles as a sophomore, and played right tackle on offense. One of his top games came during his sophomore year, when FBHS played perennial state champs Dallas Christian to the end in a 6-0 loss; he had 13 tackles, two fumble recoveries and a sack against Jordan Black, one of the area's top players. First Baptist was 4-6 his senior year and 7-4 his sophomore year under coach Troy Miller. He also lettered as a freshman and sophomore in basketball, and was quite an accomplished baseball player (first baseman); he hit .550 with six home runs as a sophomore. He was a member of Team USA, an all-star team comprised of Texas high school players, and they played in a goodwill baseball tournament in Vera Cruz, Mexico, in the summer of 1999.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in economics at Colorado.

PERSONAL—Born Jan. 10, 1982 in Dallas, Texas; he was a "halftime" baby, as he was born during halftime of the '81 NFC Championship game between Dallas and San Francisco (San Fran won, 28-27, on the famous Joe Montana to Dwight Clark catch). A great uncle (Ted Wilder) played college football at Iowa. Hobbies include skiing and golf (career best of 80).

JUSTIN ZAITZ, PK

6-3, 185, Soph., VR
Boulder, Colo. (Fairview)

AT COLORADO: This Season (Soph.)—Enters the fall listed third at placekicker, but the competition is wide open for all positions (placekicking and kickoffs). He made 2-of-3 extra point kicks in the three main spring scrimmages, as well as the longest field goal (47 yards) in any of the three sessions.

2002 (Fr.-RS)—He did not see any game action, but did dress for nine games. He made both his PAT kicks in the spring game.

2001 (Fr.)—Redshirted; practiced as a placekicker the entire fall.

HIGH SCHOOL—As a senior, he earned second-team all-state honors at punter, and was first-team All-Boulder County and second-team all-Centennial League at placekicker. He scored 67 points his senior season on the strength of 15-of-17 field goal attempts (long of 49) and 22-of-22 on PAT kicks, the best season ever by a kicker in Fairview history. He nailed a 34-yard field goal in the final minute to defeat defending state champion Columbine, 13-10, as a senior in what he listed as the highlight of his prep career. He also averaged 40.1 yards punting, with a long of 54 and six kicks inside-the-20. FHS was 10-2 his senior year and were the Centennial League champions two times in his career under coach Tom McCartney. He also played soccer (goalkeeper), earning the team's most improved player honor as a sophomore.

ACADEMICS—He is majoring in both business (information systems) and economics, as he is pursuing a double major at Colorado. He is a two-time member of the Big 12 Commissioner's Honor Roll, having made it for the fall and spring semesters as a redshirt frosh. He was a four-year member of the honor roll at Fairview.

PERSONAL—Born Aug. 9, 1982 in Boulder.

2002 IN-REVIEW

COLORADO STATE 19, COLORADO 14 Game One; August 31, 2002

DENVER—Craig Ochs' fourth down pass to John Donahoe near the goal line was broken up with just 21 seconds left in the game, thus ending a Colorado comeback attempt as Colorado State defeated the No. 7 Buffaloes, 19-14.

Colorado had already rallied once, storming back from a 13-0 deficit entering the fourth quarter with two touchdowns just over five minutes apart to take a 14-13 lead. The Rams, stymied on offense for most of the second half, mustered a comeback of their own, driving 84 yards after CU's go-ahead score to take a 19-14 lead that would hold up for the win.

Dexter Wynn set up the first score of the game, returning a punt 43 yards to the Buff 39, where in just three plays, CSU took a 7-0 lead after an 8-yard touchdown run by Cecil Sapp. Turnovers and an ill-timed fumble would then help to do the Buffs in on this day.

Colorado started a drive at its own 8-yard line with 7:04 left in the first half, and Chris Brown got the Buffs out of the hole with a nice 8-yard gain on first down. However, he fumbled on the next play with Wynn recovering for the Rams at the Buff 20. Five plays later, Sapp scored from the two to put CSU up 13-0; Jeff Babcock's PAT kick hit the left upright and bounced away.

The Buffs came out determined in the second half, earning four first downs in as many plays to start the third quarter. Driving from their own 20 to the CSU 18, the Buffs looked like they were going to get on the board, but Brown fumbled and Landon Jones recovered, ending the threat. Two drives later, a muffed exchange between Ochs and Brown on a fourth-and-1 play from the Ram 3 ended another threat, as even though Donahoe recovered the ball at the 2, rules state that only the player who fumbled can recover the ball on a fourth down play.

The Buffs greeted the fourth quarter with some fireworks. On the first play of the period, Jeremy Bloom returned his first collegiate punt return 75 yards for a touchdown to get the Buffs off the schneid and cut the lead to 13-7. On CU's very next drive, Brown scored from one yard out to cap an 8-play, 81-yard march, and Pat Brougham's PAT kick gave CU its first, and only, lead of the day at 14-13 with 9:39 left to play.

CSU had just 43 yards in the second half when it took over on its own 16 following Brown's score. But the Rams marched 84 yards in seven plays, capped by a Bradlee Van Pelt 23-yard run for a touchdown. Van Pelt turned 180 degrees and backed into the end zone on the play, and then fired the ball into the face of CU safety Roderick Sneed in truly one of the most classless displays of sportsmanship the rivalry has ever seen. The officials did not see it, however, and no penalty for taunting was flagged. It wouldn't matter, as CSU's two-point try failed, leaving the margin at five points.

CU had plenty of time to mount a second comeback, and drove from its own 20 into the CSU red zone in the final minute. It wasn't easy, as twice CU converted on fourth down, both 3-yard runs by Brown and Ochs. CU had a first-and-10 at the CSU 17, and after an incomplete pass and then a 5-yard Ochs pass to Ron Monteilh, was left with a third-and-five at the 12. But passes to Bloom and then Donahoe fell incomplete to end CU's hopes of victory.

It was only the second loss experienced by Colorado in 54 games when the Buffaloes out-rushed the opponent, and the 11 drives on offense matched the fewest for CU in a game last year (coming in wins over CSU and San Jose State). On the plus side, CU was called for its fewest penalties (two) in a season opener since committing a similar number in 1976 at Texas Tech.

COLORADO 34, SAN DIEGO STATE 14

Game Two; September 7, 2002

BOULDER—Chris Brown ran for 185 yards and two touchdowns while freshman defensive back J.J. Billingsley enjoyed quite a Folsom Field debut as the No. 17 Colorado Buffaloes pulled away in the second half in defeating the San Diego State Aztecs, 34-14.

It was just the kind of start coaches like, as Colorado held SDSU to three plays and out on their first drive, and scored a touchdown on its first possession. Craig Ochs hit a streaking Beau Williams down the middle with a 22-yard touchdown pass, capping a 9-play, 77-yard drive that put the Buffs ahead, 7-0, at the 10:46 mark of the first quarter. But the Aztecs came right back, answering with a 15-play, 80-yard march that culminated with a 4-yard scoring run by Garric Simmons to tie things up with 3:34 remaining in the quarter.

But Ochs and the Buffs had an immediate response. Evading the pass rush on a 3rd-and-5 play, he found Derek McCoy about 35 yards downfield on the left sideline; McCoy raced into the end zone for a 75-yard scoring play, with the help of a Jeremy Bloom block at the Aztec 10 to steer clear of the final defender. But San Diego State again tied the score, as two drives later Michael Franklin broke through the middle for a 31-yard run for a score.

CU took the lead for good two possessions later. Faced with a 4th-and-20, Mark Mariscal boomed a career-best 66 yard punt, where Franklin may or may not have touched the ball at his own 2. Retreating into the end zone, he scooped up the ball, starting running and reached the 8-yard line, where Marcus Moore swatted the ball out of his grasp. Another true freshman, Akarika Dawn, was right there to pick it up and take it into the end zone for a 21-14 Buff lead with 7:43 left in the half.

It was the Chris Brown show in the second half, as he ran for 110 yards and two touchdowns, the first from a yard out with 3:34 to play in the third quarter. His second score came with under a minute to play, as he broke through the line and galloped 38 yards for six.

It was quite an evening for two graduates of Aurora (Colo.) Eaglecrest High School, as Billingsley, a true freshman, recorded 15 tackles to set a CU record for the most tackles by a freshman. Three of those stops were for losses, and he added a forced fumble and a quarterback hurry. Not to be outdone, junior Clyde Surrell posted 12 tackles (10 solo, including a quarterback sack and one other for a loss), a third down stop, a fourth down stop and a pressure.

The Buffs played most of the game in their dime formation on defense, utilizing six defensive backs to counter San Diego State's no-huddle offense. While Adam Hall completed 39-of-59 passes for 359 yards against the Buffs, many of them were of the "dink 'em to death" variety, with only two good for over 20 yards. The 39 completions against the Buffs were an opponent individual and team record. Both teams finished with 401 yards of total offense in the game, though SDSU ran 14 more plays than Colorado.

Ochs suffered a concussion just prior to halftime, and was transported to Boulder Community Hospital for a CT scan, which was negative. Robert Hodge played the entire second half, his first real game action at the position since earning JUCO All-American honors in 2000.

USC 40, COLORADO 3

Game Three; September 14, 2002

BOULDER—Southern California quarterback Carson Palmer continued his mastery of the Colorado defense, as he scored one touchdown and passed for another, along with 244 yards, to lead the No. 17 Trojans to a lopsided 40-3 win over the No. 18 Buffaloes.

It was a frustrating day for the Buffaloes all around, as CU could never get untracked offensively and couldn't thwart USC's balanced attack on defense. All Colorado could claim is that it won the special teams battle, thanks to a record day by punter Mark Mariscal, but that alone indicates it was a long day for the Buffs.

The Trojans methodically built a 20-0 lead by halftime, scoring three touchdowns, the first two on 80-yard drives. In perhaps what set the tone for the afternoon, Palmer hooked up with Malaefou MacKenzie on a 32-yard pass and run for the first touchdown on a 4th-and-7 play, with MacKenzie escaping tackles on three different occasions. MacKenzie ran it in from 14 yards out a couple of drives later to cap a 10-play drive and push the lead to 14-0. And with just 2:20 left before the half and the Buffs fighting to stay in the game, the backbreaker might have been a 62-yard burst over left tackle for a score by Sultan McCullough.

CU did end the half with two solid special teams plays, as a good push on the rush for the PAT kick on USC's last touchdown to hit one of its own player's helmet, and Tyler Brayton blocked a 38-yard field goal try by David Davis with 28 seconds left in the half.

Despite being outgained in the first half, 291-54, and earning just two first downs Colorado seemed determined to get back into the game in the third quarter. The Buffs held the Trojans on the first possession, with Evan Judge blocking a Tom Malone punt that set CU up at the USC 23. Chris Brown carried the ball four straight times for 19 yards, setting up a 3rd-and-1 at the 4-yard line, but quarterback Robert Hodge fumbled the snap and the play was aborted. Patrick Brougham then missed a 23-yard field goal just a shade wide left.

Two series later, the Buffs did get on the scoreboard, capitalizing on a USC punt return miscue. Mariscal's punt bounced off of Kareem Kelly as he was hit by a teammate, with Sean Tufts recovering for the Buffs at the 19. CU couldn't get any closer, but this time Brougham nailed through a 42-yard field goal to get the Buffs on the board in cutting the lead to 20-3.

Any hopes CU had were then dashed, as the Trojans countered with their third 80-yard march of the game, this time using 14 plays and 7:21 off the clock as Palmer took it in himself from the 1 with 10:24 left to play, USC added garbage time touchdowns on a blocked punt and a fumble deep in CU territory.

Few numbers on the day offered any positives for the Buffaloes, who suffered their worst defeat in 10 seasons and worst home loss in 19. CU had only seven yards in the second half, and finished with 61 for the game, its lowest total since 1964.

Mariscal averaged 57.4 yards on eight punts in the game, including a school single-game record of seven of 50 yards or longer in length. He took over the lead in the nation the next day with a gaudy 51.3 average.

COLORADO 31, UCLA 17

Game Four; September 21, 2002

PASADENA, Calif.—Chris Brown rushed for 188 yards and three touchdowns and Patrick Brougham made a career-high three field goals to lead Colorado to a convincing 31-17 win over No. 20 UCLA at the Rose Bowl.

Coming off a frustrating defeat a week earlier to the Bruins' chief rival, USC, the Buffaloes were on a mission as CU dominated the line of scrimmage, eventually wearing down UCLA en route to amassing 325 yards rushing. The Bruins scored the game's first and last touchdowns, but in-between, Colorado went on a 31-3 spree in points and 393-130 in total yards.

After a scoreless first quarter, UCLA broke the ice and got on the board on the first play of the second. A little razzle-dazzle had wide receiver Jon Dubravac throwing a 33-yard touchdown pass to Craig Bragg, who would close the day's scoring late in the fourth quarter with a second TD catch. But his first score put the Bruins up 7-0, and it came after two CU drives ended on third down sacks and the Buffs seemingly back on their heels.

But the Buffs came right back with an impressive 80 yards scoring march in just four plays to tie the game 7-7 seconds later. Brown ran over the left tackle and burst through for a 32-yard gain, followed by quarterback Robert Hodge's gain of 11 on a bootleg that set CU up at the UCLA 37. The Buffs then ran a reverse, with Derek McCoy taking the ball in for a score, but an illegal use of the hands call at the 9 penalized CU back to the 19. From there, Brown tried the left side, bounced off a sea of humanity, spun around and then raced untouched into the end zone. CU's answering quickly to the UCLA was quite a statement and set the tone for the rest of the game.

Brougham converted a 29-yard field goal to cap a 17-play, 67-yard drive just before the half that gave CU the lead for good, and then made a 39-yard nick on CU's first drive of the third quarter to make the score 13-7. What really swung things in CU's direction came next, as after Kory Mossoni picked off a Corey Paus pass at the UCLA 41, the Buffs needed just three plays to make the Bruins pay. CU tried some trickery of its own, as Robert Hodge threw the ball to Barry Kunkel, who in turn passed back to Hodge for a nifty 29-yard gain. Brown then gained five and scored from seven yards out, and Hodge and McCoy hooked up on a two-point pass play to make the score 21-7.

UCLA came back with a field goal, but used almost six minutes in doing so. CU and Brougham countered quickly, as he booted through a 35-yarder with 14:12 remaining to pad the Buff lead back to 14. Colorado then locked things up with a nine-play, 82-yard drive that was capped by Brown's third touchdown of the day, this time from eight yards out. The Bruins added a cosmetic touchdown with 4:12 left to play, but it took 13 plays and over five minutes to accomplish it.

Bobby Purify had 128 all-purpose yards to aid the CU cause, as he rushed for 87 on just 14 carries and added two receptions for 41 yards. Hodge completed 11 of 22 passes for 117 yards, as he was a bit more comfortable running the offense in his second career start.

The Buffs had a balanced attack on defense, with 11 players registering between four and six tackles. The Bruins had just 62 rushing yards at the end of the day, as Colorado finally beat UCLA for the first time in five meetings.

COLORADO 35, KANSAS STATE 31

Game Five; October 5, 2002

BOULDER—Robert Hodge threw three touchdown passes and wound up with the sixth best day by a quarterback in school history to lead Colorado to a 35-31 win over No. 13 Kansas State, as the Buffaloes successfully opened defense of their Big 12 Conference title.

In knocking off the ninth undefeated, ranked team at Folsom Field since 1989, Chris Brown rushed for 167 yards and two scores against the vaunted Wildcat defense. But the Buffs had to hold off a comeback by KSU in defeating a ranked team for the second straight game.

Colorado had offensive scores of 70-plus, 80-plus and 90-plus yards, the first time in school history those occurred in the same game. Kansas State countered with scoring runs of 80 and 71 yards as well, signifying a crazy afternoon in a game that on paper looked like it would be in the teens on the scoreboard.

The Buffs set the tone early, scoring deliberately and then quickly. Brown scored from a yard out to cap an 8-play, 81-yard march on CU's first possession for a 7-0 lead; the score was set up by a daring 41-yard pass play from Hodge to Derek McCoy to the KSU 1. The next time CU had the ball, it held it for one play, a Hodge-to-Brian Calhoun 71-yard pass for six to make it 14-0.

K-State tied the score early in the second quarter in the same fashion CU took the lead; Darren Sproles scored on a 1-yard run to polish off a 9-play drive, and Eli Roberson ran the option to perfection in rolling 71 yards for the tying score. CU answered with two of the longest scoring plays in its history, an 85-yard run by Brown, tying for the fourth longest run ever by a Buff, and a 94-yard pass from Hodge to Jeremy Bloom, the second longest play from scrimmage and the longest pass play in CU annals. It all added up to a 28-14 halftime lead for Colorado.

The Buffs seemingly put the nail in the coffin on the opening possession of the second half. Hodge hit Jesse Wallace with a 1-yard pass to complete a 13-play drive that ate up 6½ minutes on the clock and gave CU a 35-14 edge. But the resilient Wildcats came right back, with Sproles bursting through the middle to score on an 80-yard jaunt. He added a 3-yard run late in the third quarter to pull KSU to within 35-28.

K-State received a new life after Bloom fumbled a punt return try at the CU 43, the ball recovered by the Wildcats at the Buff 29. But on a fourth-and-two from the CU 2, Sproles was crushed around the left end for no gain by Donald Strickland to end the threat. KSU added a field goal on its last drive of the game, cutting the margin to four with 2:16 to play, but kicked off deep to the Buffs in an attempt to stop CU on offense instead of trying an onside kick. After two running plays, the Buffs went up top as the saying goes, with McCoy drawing an interference penalty, earning a first down and enabling the CU to run out the clock.

Roberson rushed for 178 yards and Sproles 121, but Hodge's passing was the difference, as CU had 289 yards through the air to just 83 for K-State.

COLORADO 53, KANSAS 29

Game Six; October 12, 2002

LAWRENCE, Kan. — Chris Brown ran for 309 yards and two touchdowns, while Robert Hodge threw three touchdown passes for the second straight game to lead Colorado to a 53-29 triumph over the Kansas Jayhawks.

Brown amassed the third most yards in a single game in Colorado history, as he had six runs of 10 or more yards, including 78- and 51-yard jaunts for scores, and non-scoring runs of 50 and 29 yards. He came into the game as the Big 12's leading rusher and exited as the nation's top ground gainer, averaging 164.5 yard per game.

Colorado got off to a good start in winning its Big 12 road opener for the fifth time in seven tries, as the Buffs built a 14-0 lead less than five minutes into the game. Hodge hit D.J. Hackett with a beautiful 8-yard pass on a classic fade to cap the first drive of the game, and after KU fumble, Brown scored his first six of the day on a 78-yard run.

But KU proved resilient and fought back to take a 15-14 lead, starting with a safety in seemingly what would be the rarest of ways: Johnny McCoy and Greg Cole teamed to tackle Brown in the end zone for the deuce. Bill Whittemore connected with Marcellus Jones for a 26-yard touchdown, and then scored himself from five yards out on the first play of the second quarter to bring the Jayhawks all the way back from the early deficit.

Colorado answered with three straight touchdowns, as just 45 seconds after KU took its only lead of the game, Brown ran it home from 51 yards out to put the Buffs back in the lead for good. Hodge hit Derek McCoy with the first of two touchdown throws, a 15-yard toss, and then hooked up with John Donahoe on a two-point pass to make it 29-15. KU came back and was driving, but Donald Strickland picked off Whittemore at the CU 5 and raced 95 yards for a touchdown.

That might have broken the spirit of most teams, but KU came back and marched 80 yards, with Whittemore and Jones teaming for a second TD pass, this one from 20 yards, to cut the Buff lead to 36-22 at halftime. CU held KU on its first second half possession and got a 43-yard field goal from Patrick Brougham on its first post-halftime try for a 39-22 lead. Whittemore scored on a 9-yard run on Kansas' next drive to whittle the lead to 39-29.

But that's where the KU comeback was stifled, as Hodge and McCoy hooked up again, this time from eight yards, to put CU up 46-29 with 12:32 to play. Brandon Drumm closed out the day's scoring and cemented the win with a 21-yard run to polish off a 13-play, 98-yard drive with 5:05 remaining.

The Buffs rushed for 427 yards, their most since netting 502 in a win over Missouri in 1991. The 53 points by the Buffaloes were the most scored in the 62-game series with Kansas, and the 82 combined points was also a series best. And despite allowing the Jayhawks 450 yards of offense, the CU defense did record a season-high 13 tackles for loss. Tyler Brayton led the way with 10 tackles (all solo), with three for losses, two third down stops, a pass broken up, a hurry and a forced fumble.

COLORADO 34, BAYLOR 0

Game Seven; October 19, 2002

BOULDER — No. 23 Colorado celebrated its return to the national rankings by scoring five first half touchdowns and then cruised to a 34-0 win over the Baylor Bears.

The Buffaloes, out of the polls for four weeks, got three touchdowns from Chris Brown, who ran for 167 yards and firmed up his stature as the nation's leading rusher at 164.9 yards per game. Brown's 55-yard run for a score just 63 seconds into the game put the Buffaloes ahead for good, and was his fifth of the year of 50 yards or longer, the most by CU player since Rashaan Salaam had five in 1994.

Colorado came back and put six more on the board on its next drive, as Brandon Drumm's 1-yard plunge padded the CU lead to 14-0, and there was still 10:04 on the clock. CU's next drive stalled, but Brown scored his second touchdown of the day the next time the Buffs got ball, running it in from the Baylor 4-yard line on the first play of the second quarter. The extra point was missed, leaving the score at 20-0.

The Buffaloes forced the Bears into a three-and-out on offense, one of four of BU's first six possessions, as a shanked punt by Jeremy Parker set CU up at the Baylor 38. On the second play, CU quarterback Robert Hodge was flushed out of the pocket but escaped to scamper 34 yards around the left end for a touchdown and a 27-0 CU lead.

Brown added his third score, a 1-yard run with 1:19 left in the half in what would close the day's scoring. The teams battled to a scoreless tie in the second half, though the Buffs sat down most of their starters by the end of the third quarter.

Colorado's defense was up to the task, delivering the school's first shutout since a 37-0 win at Baylor in 1999, or a span of 32 games. The first-team defense allowed the Bears just 108 yards in the first three quarters, as a combination of young players in the front seven and a few seniors in the secondary allowed Baylor to gain 143 in the fourth quarter, though they succeeded at keeping BU off the scoreboard.

CU gained 395 yard on offense, including 270 on the ground, while limiting the Bears to just 72 rushing yards. Hodge completed 13-of-16 passes for a modest 125 yards, but did have nine straight completions at one point. He spread the wealth around, as a season-high 10 players caught passes.

In the game, Brown became the fastest player to 1,000 rushing yards in a season at CU, surpassing the mark on his 143rd attempt of the season (Salaam held the old mark, doing it on his 149th try in 1994). Brown was also the second fastest to 2,000 for a CU career.

COLORADO 37, TEXAS TECH 13

Game Eight; October 26, 2002

BOULDER — Strong performances from its defense and special teams paved the way for No. 21 Colorado to counter Texas Tech's explosive passing game as the Buffaloes defeated the Red Raiders, 37-13.

CU's offense did just enough to keep Tech at an arms length, and the Buffs converted five Red Raider turnovers into 21 points as Colorado slowly pulled away in the second half.

The game had all the makings of a "score-fest," as each team put a field goal on the board with their first possession. Tech drove 75 yards in 10 plays, but was aided by two CU penalties, including an offsides call on a 4th-and-4 punt. Roderick Sneed's 46 yard kickoff return after Robert Treece's 22-yard field goal set CU up at its 46, and after a couple of nice runs by Chris Brown, Pat Brougham nailed a 48-yard field goal, his career long, to knot the score.

On the ensuing possession, Kory Mossoni picked off a Kliff Kingsbury pass and returned it 41 yards to the Tech 5. Two plays later, Brown scored from three yards out to give CU a 10-3 lead. But Tech rallied to tie the score just before the first quarter expired, again aided by a CU penalty, as this time a personal foul on a 4th-and-26 punt kept the drive alive, and Taurean Henderson's 2-yard run would pull the Red Raiders even.

Treece added a 42-yard field goal midway through the second quarter to give Tech its last lead at 13-10. The Buffs went ahead for good as a 14-yard touchdown pass from Robert Hodge to Derek McCoy with 13 seconds left before halftime; McCoy hauled the pass in at the 5 and fought his way into the end zone for six. The extra point sailed wide, leaving CU with a 16-13 intermission edge.

The Buff defensive and kick return units would turn up the heat in the second half. Sneed returned the opening kickoff 64 yards, but Brougham's 31-yard field goal try was blocked. But later in the quarter, Jeremy Bloom returned a punt 44 yard to the Tech 45, and on a 3rd-and-12, Hodge hit Bobby Purify with a textbook screen pass, with Purify dazzling the crowd with several nifty moves to race 36 yards into the end zone.

Two minutes later, Medford Mooror picked off Kingsbury and raced 51 yards for a score to up the lead to 30-13, and in the fourth quarter, defensive tackle Tyler Brayton capped a monster afternoon with a sack of Kingsbury at the Tech 14, forcing a fumble that he recovered and took in for the game's final touchdown.

Brown ran for 149 yards on 26 carries, his fifth consecutive 100-plus yard game. Though Purify was contained as a rusher, he led all CU receivers with four catches for 57 yards.

Though Tech amassed 359 yards on offense, it was some 125 below its season average. The swarming and stifling Buff defense, adhering to the coaches pleas of keeping a 10-yard catch at 10 yards or a 2-yard catch at 2, limited the Red Raiders to a paltry 4.12 yards per pass attempt. Kingsbury completed 36-of-65 passes, the latter a record for the most attempts against a CU team, but threw a season-high four interceptions.

OKLAHOMA 27, COLORADO 11

Game Nine; November 2, 2002

NORMAN, Okla. — No. 13 Colorado had more than its fair share of distractions to deal with in preparing for its game with Oklahoma, but the biggest turned out to be the Sooners' opportunistic offense and rugged defense as the No. 2 team in the country ended CU's five-game winning streak with a 27-11 victory.

The Buffs had to combat three days of snow in preparing for the game, moving indoors to CU's aging Balch Fieldhouse once, and then were delayed by three hours in departing to Norman due to mechanical problems with the charter. Then on game day, both teams had to deal with cold temperatures and rain that varied from heavy at times to a steady drizzle.

Those things seemed minor as the Buffs committed three turnovers in the first 20 minutes of the game, along with not recovering a pooch kickoff that OU was able to gather in. Those four mistakes added up to 17 points for the Sooners in helping to build a commanding 20-3 lead by halftime. Nate Hybl threw a pair of third down, 17-yard touchdown passes, the first to Antwone Savage for a 7-0 lead, with the second to Mark Clayton for the 20-3 advantage. In-between, Patrick Brougham got CU on the board with a 25-yard field goal after OU's first score, but his was answered with a pair three-pointers from OU's Trey DiCarlo.

The Sooners turned a fourth CU turnover (Robert Hodge's second interception on the day) into their final seven points, as Hybl and Clayton hooked up from 12 yards out, as OU went up 27-3 early in the third quarter. Colorado spent most of the remainder of the game in OU territory, slicing the lead to 27-11 late in the third on a nifty 12-yard run by Bobby Purify. The Buffs worked all three of their fourth quarter possessions deep into OU territory, but saw one drive end with a missed field goal and the two others ceasing on fourth down stops by the Sooners.

Chris Brown, the nation's leading rusher, ran for 103 yards against the Sooner defense, despite virtual guarantees by many Sooner players and coaches, as well as some TV talking heads, that he wouldn't come close to 100. He became the first back to top the century mark against an OU team since 1999, when Mississippi's Deuce McAllister did so in the Independence Bowl. Purify added 102 all-purpose yards, 56 on the ground and 46 receiving.

Quentin Griffin ran for 128 yards to lead the Sooners, though 63 of those came on one carry, with Kejaun Jones bolstering the OU ground game with 82 yards. But the Buff defense did plenty of stifling all afternoon, as 42 of OU's 68 plays would go for three yards or less, including 29 for zero or minus yards.

Overall, the Buffs outgained Oklahoma, 378-305, recording the second highest total offense figure against the Sooners on the season. The final irony of the week came when the team was delayed for three hours returning back to Colorado because of the weather.

The Sooners used the victory to vault from No. 2 into No. 1 in the Associated Press poll.

COLORADO 42, MISSOURI 35 (OT)

Game Ten; November 9, 2002

COLUMBIA, Mo. — Chris Brown rushed for 211 yards and three touchdowns, including the go-ahead score in overtime, and the CU defense came up big in the extra session as No. 18 Colorado prevented a frenzied Missouri comeback in winning, 42-35.

Colorado went on offense to open the overtime, and the Buffs went old school, rushing all six plays with Brown netting 22 of the yards, including a 12-yard run on a third-and-1 to the MU 4. Bobby Purify then carried to the one, and two plays later, Brown scored to put CU ahead.

Missouri, CU's first-ever overtime opponent in 1999, didn't have the same kind of fortune. It's star freshman quarterback, Brad Smith, was sacked for a 6-yard loss on first down by Marques Harris. After an 11-yard completion to Justin Gage and a five-yard false start penalty, the Tigers were looking at a 3rd-and-10. Smith completed a pass to Darius Outlaw for what would have been first down yardage, but J.J. Billingsley forced the ball loose and Kory Mossoni recovered to end the game.

The overtime excitement was preceded by a wild fourth quarter, which saw Missouri take its only lead of the day, rallying from 20 points down to go up 28-27 two minutes into the period. But Colorado responded with its with a monster 16-play, 85-yard drive that ate up some 8:24 off the clock. Brown ended it with a 15-yard scoring run, but CU converted a pair of third downs as well as a fourth down to keep the drive alive. Up by five, the Buffs went for two and Hodge connected with Quinn Sypniewski over the middle for the deuce and a 35-28 lead.

Mizzou answered that score with an 11-play, 67-yard drive, with Abron taking it in from a yard out with 1:55 left, and Mike Matheny's PAT kick tied the score. CU earned one first down when it got the ball back, but could only drive to its 42 before a Mark Mariscal 53-yard punt pinned the Tigers inside their 5, where regulation ended.

The Buffaloes cruised to a 27-7 lead and were seemingly in total control after an 80-yard drive culminated with a Robert Hodge 1-yard touchdown run to open the second half. But the Tigers answered that drive with a 75-yard march of their own, and when Taurus Ferguson returned an interception 43 yards for a touchdown late in the third quarter, CU's lead was down to 27-21 and set the stage for the fireworks to come.

CU scored on its first possession, as Hodge found a wide open Derek McCoy along the right sideline, who raced 47 yards for the game's first score. A Patrick Brougham 45-yard field goal on CU's second drive made it 10-0, as that possession chewed up some 5:26 off the clock and took 14 plays. Missouri got on the board early in the second stanza, as Zack Abron scored from 30 yards out on a 4th-and-1 call, but CU answered immediately with Brown scoring his first TD on a 10-yard run; he helped set up the score with a 52-yard jaunt. Brougham added a 20-yard field goal with 1:11 left in the half to provide CU a 20-7 intermission lead.

For the first time in school history, Colorado had a 200-yard rusher (Brown), another 100-yard rusher (Purify, 119), and a 100-yard receiver (McCoy, a career-high 118).

COLORADO 41, IOWA STATE 27

Game Eleven; November 16, 2002

BOULDER — Bobby Purify took over for an injured Chris Brown down the stretch and accumulated 225 all-purpose yards, and the Colorado defense came up big when it had to as the Buffaloes clinched their second straight Big 12 North Division title with a 41-27 win over Iowa State.

The Buffs only achieved some breathing room in the final minutes, as Iowa State was fighting for a share of the division title. The Cyclones hung in there though battle worn, as ISU ended its league slate with road games at Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas State and Colorado in a five-week span, all schools ranked in the top 10 at some point this season.

In a game that saw the lead change hands six times, CU took control with a 21-point fourth quarter that snapped a 20-all tie. Robert Hodge's 6-yard touchdown pass to Derek McCoy and ensuing Patrick Brougham PAT kick made the score 27-20 in favor of the Buffs with 10:20 left in the fourth quarter. CU forced Iowa State to punt on its next possession and took over at its 12; after a Purify 11-yard run for a first down to the Buff 27, Marcus Houston fumbled the ball with the Cyclone's Brandon Brown recovering at the CU 25 with 6:02 to play.

On its heels, the Buffs got a break. On a 2nd-and-9 at the 24, ISU quarterback Seneca Wallace fumbled the shotgun snap, with Medford Moorer right there for the Buffaloes. He scooped up the ball and raced untouched 71 yards for a touchdown. CU's 34-20 lead marked the first two-score advantage for either team on the evening.

But Iowa State, undaunted by the turn of events, came right back with an NFL-style fourth quarter march, driving 70 yards in just five plays and 72 seconds to pull within seven. Wallace completed for passes for 64 yards and scored the TD himself on a six-yard run. Instead of an onside kick, the Cyclones kicked off deep, with Tony Yelk's boot sailing through the end zone to set CU up at its 20.

At that point, it was the Bobby Purify show. Subbing for Brown, who left the game in the third quarter with a bruised sternum, he carried the ball every play in a six-play, 80-yard drive by the Buffs, ending with a 5-yard Purify scoring run. He had the big gainer, a 50-yard sprint, on the second play of the series, which iced the game and division title for the Buffs. Purify finished with 174 yards rushing, and added 51 receiving.

Brown had his eighth straight 100-yard game, finishing with 127 before exiting the game with the injury. His 5-yard TD run with 2:45 left before the half provided CU a 17-14 intermission lead, also made possible by a 31-yard yard pass from Hodge to D.J. Hackett, who made a spectacular catch at the Cyclone 5. Hackett earlier caught an 8-yard touchdown pass from Hodge and led the Buffs with 69 receiving yards.

Brougham made two field goals, the first the first points of the game, and the second knotting the score at 20. That followed a Joe Woodley 1-yard TD run for Iowa State in the third quarter, but Aaron Killion kept the ISU edge at 20-17 by blocking the PAT kick.

COLORADO 28, NEBRASKA 13

Game Twelve; November 29, 2002

LINCOLN, Neb. — Freshman tailback Brian Calhoun rushed for 137 yards, Brandon Drumm scored twice and the Colorado defense shut down Nebraska in the second half as the No. 13 Buffaloes won here for the first time since 1990 in defeating the Cornhuskers, 28-13.

In dealing the Huskers only their fifth home loss since 1988, the Buffs claimed the Big 12 Conference North Division title outright, though CU already knew it had the tiebreaker in hand and would be headed to the league's championship game. It marked only the third time in the last 43 years that Colorado defeated NU in back-to-back games.

The Buffs lit the scoreboard first, with Robert Hodge hooking up with Derek McCoy on a fade pattern for a 40-yard touchdown play and a 7-0 CU lead. It polished off an 87-yard drive, set up by a Phil Jackson interception of a Jammal Lord pass at the CU 13, his third pick of the year, all coming in the red zone to thwart scoring drives.

But Nebraska is as hard to beat at home as is any team in any sport, college or pro, and the Buffs knew they were in a dogfight. As is often the case with the NU passing game, it caught CU on a play action pass out of the option, with Lord finding Matt Herian for a touchdown catch and run that covered 80 yards that tied things up early in the second quarter.

Walk-on kicker Dale Endorf, subbing for Josh Brown who was suspended for an off-field violation of team rules, made his first career field goal from 33 yards out with 1:50 left in the half to put NU ahead, 10-7, which stood at intermission. Following a McCoy fumble at the CU 17 on the first play of the second half, Endorf booted a 49-yarder to extend the Husker lead to 13-7.

Though CU gave up three points after the turnover, one could sense momentum was swinging back to the Buffaloes, as Nebraska's went 14 yards backwards on the field goal drive. Calhoun got his chance to shine with All-American Chris Brown out of the lineup with a bruised sternum and after Bobby Purify, already nursing an assortment of nagging injuries, was felled by an ankle sprain. He sparked the CU offense in the third quarter, exactly the same time the Buff defense played perhaps their best stretch of the season in holding the Huskers to just seven yard on 10 plays, half of which went for negative yardage.

CU answered the field goal with two straight touchdown drives to take control of the game. The first march covered 80 yards in 15 plays, with Purify walking into the end zone on a 2-yard run and Pat Brougham's PAT kick putting Colorado ahead for good. Calhoun netted 33 yards on the drive, in which CU converted three third downs. After holding NU to three downs and out, all minus plays, CU took over at its 48 and Calhoun promptly sprinted 35 yards around the right end to set CU up at the Husker 17. Four plays later, Drumm bulled over from a yard out for a 21-13 CU lead. Drumm would close the scoring with a 16-yard rumble late in the fourth quarter.

Calhoun's effort tied for the fourth most rushing yards by a true freshman in Colorado history, and paced a 253-yard rushing effort by the Buffs. It was CU's first 200-plus yard rushing day in Lincoln since 1977, the most since netting 268 in 1975 (but in a 63-21 loss), and its fourth most ever at Memorial Stadium.

CU's 15-point win matched the margin of its last win in Lincoln, a 27-12 verdict in 1990. But no one defends their home turf like the Huskers: Washington triumphed by 36-21 in 1991, but that along with CU's pair of 15-point victories are NU's worst margins of defeat at home going all the way back to a 28-6 Kansas win in 1961.

OKLAHOMA 29, COLORADO 7

Game Thirteen, December 7, 2002

(Big 12 Championship Game)

HOUSTON — Quentin Griffin rushed for 188 yards and two touchdowns and Nate Hybl passed for two more as No. 8 Oklahoma wrestled the crown away from defending champion Colorado, as the Sooners downed the No. 12 Buffaloes, 29-7, to win the 2002 Big 12 Conference title.

Some say it's hard to beat a team twice in the same season, but Oklahoma pulled it off in defeating CU for the second time in five weeks. The first time, turnovers helped do the Buffs in, but this time around, Colorado never got untracked offensively.

It looked good for CU out of the gate, as freshman running back sensation Brian Calhoun scooted around the right side for a 37-yard gain on the first play of the game. The Buffs drove to the Sooner 23 before the drive stalled, and it ended without points when Pat Brougham's 41-yard field goal try sailed wide right.

Oklahoma answered with a 13-play, 77-yard drive with Hybl throwing a touchdown pass to Trent Smith on a 3rd-and-goal from the CU 3. OU made it 13-0 after a 21-yard TD pass from Hybl to Mark Clayton five minutes into the second quarter; it culminated a 12-play, 80-yard drive, but Phil Jackson snuck through to block Trey DiCarlo's extra point kick.

Two series later, CU used runs of 25 and 23 yards by Calhoun to work to the OU 14, but again was stopped by a buckling down Sooner defense. Brougham's 32-yard field goal matched his first in missing wide right, and the half would end with Oklahoma up by 13.

Colorado got back in the game and had momentum on its side for the first half of the third quarter. The defense came out of the lockerroom and held the Sooners to three-and-out on their first series. Blake Ferguson hit a 51-yard punt, fielded by Jeremy Bloom at the Buff 20; the freshman slash Olympian raced up the gut and sprinted 80 yards for a touchdown, his second punt return score of the year, and Brougham's extra point cut the deficit to 13-7.

The Buffs held the Sooners again, and on their next possession, Brandon Drumm's 44-yard run on a third-and-2 set CU up in the red zone. But once again the drive sputtered, and Brougham's 33-yard field goal just missed wide right. The Buffs were a bit deflated after that point, and OU seized the opportunity to drive 80 yards in 11 plays, with Griffin scoring from 36 yards out. The Sooners missed the deuce and took a 19-7 lead into the fourth quarter.

Any hopes of a comeback were all but dashed when Oklahoma drove from its 5 to the CU 5 over the course of a 16-play, seven-plus minute drive. Though CU kept OU out of the end zone, DiCarlo made a 28-yard field goal to extend the Sooner lead to 22-7. Griffin's 27-yard touchdown run late in the game closed the night's scoring.

Calhoun finished with 122 yards, a sterling effort since CU was without the services of Doak Walker finalist Chris Brown and sidekick Bobby Purify, who played a few snaps in special third down situations. The Buffs managed only 67 passing yards and 193 overall, while OU piled up 401 in the turnover free game.

Since 1950, CU has averaged 5.0 yards on the first play from scrimmage. Of the 53 plays, CU has passed 11 times (completing seven). CU has not scored on the first play from scrimmage since 1950, but did commit a turnover (lost fumble) on the first play in 1990. (*—at Anaheim; #—at Denver).

NOTE—CU did score the first time it touched the ball in the 1975 season opener. Mike McCoy returned a California punt 61 yards for a touch-down two minutes into the game.

DID YOU KNOW?... The last time Colorado scored on its first offensive play of any game was at Texas A&M on Sept. 28, 1996. Rae Carruth scored from 28 yards out on a reverse after CU recovered a fumble on the opening kickoff.

THE TOP CROWD EVER AT FOLSOM?... It was for a rock concert, not a football game. On May 1, 1977, for one of the popular Colorado "Sun Day" concert series, 61,500 turned out to see Fleetwood Mac, Bob Seger, Santana and Country Joe McDonald. Folsom has played host to many top national recording acts, including The Rolling Stones, The Who, Paul McCartney, The Eagles, Van Halen, REO Speedwagon, The Beach Boys, The Grateful Dead, The Doobie Brothers, Journey, Jethro Tull, John Mellencamp and the Dave Matthews Band.

Folsom Field in the 1950s

Full season statistics are available dating back to 1946; Colorado was the first collegiate program to include these in its media guide (in 2001), with an assist to the Denver Broncos, which started doing it in 1995 and is now common in the NFL. Thanks to the foresight of former SID's Dan Partner, Phil Danielson, H.J. Hicks and Fred "The Count" Casotti, Colorado's comprehensive filing system started back in 1946 and has been maintained through the years, as over 99 percent of the original play-by-plays remain on file at CU. This enabled a complete record book audit in the summer of 2001, along with the ability to compile several statistics that didn't come into being until the late 1970s. STATISTICS ARE FOR REGULAR SEASON GAMES ONLY AND THUS DO NOT INCLUDE BOWL GAMES.

KEY: *—conference game; (N)—night game. Ranks listed are those of the Associated Press polls. All TV games listed are national, unless indicated with an "r" (regional) or "l" (local). Terminology listed following offense and defense in usual lineup indicates the formation Colorado utilized that particular season. Usual lineup includes players who started close to half of the games that year or saw significant playing time in a non-starting role.

Usual Lineup: Offense (Short punt), Defense (7-Diamond)—LE John Zisch, LT Paul Briggs, LG Gus Shannon, C J.B. Dean, RG Don Creese/Bob Wise, RT Aubrey Allen, RE Rex Wagner, QB Maurice Reilly, FB Roland Gregory, LHB Jim Price, RHB Bob Phillipson/Art Tanner. Specialists—PK Jim Smith, P Don Evans/Bob Phillipson.

Notes: Texas opened the year at No. 1 a week after defeating CU; the game at Wyoming was played in near blizzard conditions.

Usual Lineup: Offense (Short punt), Defense (7-Diamond)—LE Stan Hendrickson, LT Paul Briggs, LG Bob Spicer, C Bill Simons, RG Don Creese, RT Aubrey Allen, RE Ed Pudlik, QB Dick Schrepferman/Don Evans/Harry Narcisian, FB Roland Gregory, LHB Maurice Reilly, RHB Art Tanner. Specialists—PK John Zisch, P Don Evans.

Note: A record crowd witnessed the season finale at Denver, marking the end of Colorado's tenure in the Mountain States Conference (also known as the Big Seven), as well as the final game in the 55-year old CU-DU rivalry. CU joined the six members of the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association to form a new Big Seven the following year.

Head Coach: Dai Ward, Assistant Coaches: Ray Jenkins (ends), Frank Prentup (backfield), Will Walls (tackles), Marshall Wells (guards/centers), Hugh Davidson (freshmen), Bob Beattie (freshmen assistant).

Notes: Colorado led the nation in rushing (322.4 per game) and was second in total offense (415.2). CU led No. 1 Oklahoma 13-7 in the fourth quarter, but the Sooners took the lead with 10:26 remaining in rallying for a 14-13 win. The close call was enough to knock CU out of No. 1 into No. 2.

#—Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Texas.

Usual Lineup: Offense (Switching T: Slot-I Triple Option)—TE Bob Masten/J.V. Cain, TT Greg Horton, TG Bill Kralicek, C William McDonald, SG Chuck Mandrill, ST Jake Zumbach, SE Cliff Branch/Willie Nichols, QB Ken Johnson/Joe Duenas, TB Charlie Davis, FB John Tarver/Bo Matthews, SB Larry Brunson. Defense (Wide-tackle 6)—LE Rick Kay, LT Herb Orvis/Mark Cooney, LB Randy Geist, LG Carl Taipli, LB Billie Drake/Lenny Clufo, RT Chris Havens, LB Bud Magrum/Dave Orvis, RE John Stavelly, LH Cullen Bryant, RH Brian Foster/Loren Richardson, S John Stearns. Specialists—PK J.B. Dean, P Stearns.

Notes: Artificial surfacing makes its debut in Boulder, as an AstroTurf carpet blanketed Folsom Field. CU's stunning road upsets of Louisiana State and Ohio State pave the way for a 10-2 season, as the Big Eight owned the top three spots in the final Associated Press poll after the bowls. With Nebraska (#1), Oklahoma (#2) and Colorado (#3), it was the first and to date only time in history one conference has occupied all top three positions at the end of the year.

—Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.
Head Coach: Eddie Crowder. Assistant Coaches: Dan Radakovich (DC), Duke Benz (DE), Kay Dalton (QB), Rick Duval (WR), C.B. McGowan (RB), Jim Mora (DE/OLB), Irv Ortmayer (DL), Steve Sidwell (ILB), Augie Tammariello (OL), Dan Stavely (freshmen), Irv Brown (freshmen assistant).
Lineup: Offense (Slot-Triple Option)—TE J.V. Cain, LT Greg Horton, LG Chuck Mandril, C William McDonald, RG Gregg Parr, RT Jake Zumbach, SE Steve Haggerty/Rick Ellwood, QB Ken Johnson/Joe Duenas, TB Charlie Davis/Gary Campbell, FB Bo Matthews, WB Jon Keyworth. Defense (4-4)—LE Rick Kay, LT Stu Aldrich, RT Mark Cooney, RE Lennie Ciuffo, LB Jeff Geiser, LB Billie Drake, LB Bud Magrum, LB Randy Geist, LC Cullen Bryant, S John Stearns, RC Lorne Richardson. Specialists—PK Fred Lima, P John Stearns/Mike Wedman.
Notes: Freshmen were deemed eligible to play once again (for the first time since the early 1950s). Colorado opened the year with the highest preseason ranking in its history, and the win over No. 2 Oklahoma was the first time CU defeated a team ranked in the nation's top three.

#—Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Texas.

Usual Lineup: Offense (I-Formation)—TE Don Hasselbeck, TT Leon White, RG Steve Hakes, C Pete Brock, LG Steve Stripling, ST Mark Koncar/Steve Young, SE Dave Logan, QB David Williams, TB Tony Reed, FB Terry Kunz/Jim Kelleher, WB Emery Moorehead/Billy Waddy. Defense (5-2)—LE Troy Archer, LT Jackie Thornton, OSLB Brian Cabral, MG Charlie Johnson, CSLB Gary Campbell/Bart Roth, RT Bob Simpson, RE Whitney Paul, OCB Mike Spivey, CCB Mike L. Davis, S Mike McCoy, AP Chuck McCarter. Specialists—PK Tom Mackenzie, P Stan Koleski.

Note: CU almost knocked off No. 1 Oklahoma, but did knock the Sooners from No. 1 to No. 2 in the polls. CU pulled to within the eventual final score of 21-20 with 1:19 left, but elected to go for the tie against OU, which was riding a 32-game unbeaten streak at the time, but the extra point kick sailed off to the left. Mallory went for the tie on the belief that a tie could give CU the conference championship later in the year.

Specialists—PK Jim Harper, P Tom Rouen.

otes: Colorado clinches its first national championship in football with the Orange Bowl win over Notre Dame. Alfred Williams wins the Butkus Award, becoming the first player in CU history to win one of college football's major postseason trophies. And unbeknownst to all involved at the time, CU gets a fifth down at Missouri to score the winning touchdown as time expired. In actuality, Colorado had two second downs when the marker and scoreboard did not change (and when factoring in reality, CU spiked the ball to stop the clock on what it thought was third down, and never would have called that play on fourth down).

Notes: For the second time in the 1990s, Colorado played the nation's toughest schedule as determined by the NCAA. Due to the use of an ineligible player, all five wins were officially forfeited, although the NCAA recognizes all results on the field for its records (as does the University of Colorado).

Lead Coach: Gary Barnett. Assistant Coaches: Brian Cabral (AHC/ILB), Shawn Watson (OC/QB), Tom McMahon (co-DC/DB), Vince Okruch (co-DC/OLB), Gregg Brandon (WR), Jon Embree (TE), Steve Marshall (OL), Chris Wilson (DL), John Wristen (RB). Note: Matt Russell filled in when McMahon was out for a month due to illness.

usual lineup: Offense (Multiple)—WR John Minardi, WR Javon Green, ST Tom Ashworth, SG Justin Bates, C/TG Andre Gurode, C Ryan Gray, TG Karl Allis, TT Victor Rogers, TE Daniel Graham, QB Craig Ochs, TB Cortlen Johnson, FB Scott Nemeth. Defense (4-3 Base/Multiple)—OLB Anawon Jones, DT Justin Bannan, DT Sean Jarne, DE Brady McDonnell, ILB Andy Peeke, LB Jason Sykes, OLB Kory Mossoni, CB Donald Strickland, SS Michael Lewis, FS Robbie Robinson, RCB Phil Jackson. Specialists—PK Mark Mariscal, P Jeremy Flores.

Notes: Playing the fourth toughest schedule in the nation, 10 true freshmen and only six seniors, the Buffaloes finish with their worst record since 1984; however, six of the losses are by eight points or less. By going 0-5 against ranked opponents, CU sees its streak of 12 consecutive years with at least one win over a ranked team come to an end.

THE BUFFS AND THE WEATHER

Colorado's wacky weather, for the most part, has not played havoc with the Buffaloes through the years. Here are the last times the elements affected games in Boulder.

Snow: There has seldom been snowfall during a game in Boulder. In fact, only six times since 1949 has any real snowfall of note occurred during a game. It last happened on Nov. 11, 2000, when it snowed the entire game in a 35-27 loss to Iowa State. It marked the first time snow had fallen during a game in Boulder since 1996 (light snowfall throughout the first half in a 12-0 win over Kansas State on Nov. 16, and just the second time since 1991, when it started snowing slightly late in a 30-24 win over Kansas, also on Nov. 16. There was light snowfall in a 21-6 win over Kansas State in 1979, but nothing major. In 1971, about two feet of snow fell the morning of a 56-13 win over Wyoming; what made that day unique is that it was Sept. 18, and was CU's first home game on artificial turf. The two most famous snow games came in 1969 (a 30-7 win over Indiana where it snowed all game, and in 1949, when it was sunny at kickoff prior to a 4-7 win over Utah. But the clouds rolled in and by halftime, there were snow flurries. By game's end, there was six inches of snow on the ground. There have been major snowstorms on road days but the weather cleared prior to game time (in 1986 before Kansas, in 1987 and 1991 before Nebraska, and in 1992 and 1994 before Iowa State).

'82 CU-California

Rainfall: Rain during a game in Boulder is about as rare as snowfall; light rain or annoying drizzle have happened on occasion. Light rain fell sporadically during the San Jose State game on Sept. 8, 2001 and the Fresno State game on Sept. 12, 1998. The last time there was heavy rain during a game in Boulder was in the fourth quarter in a 20-13 loss to Michigan in 1996; otherwise you have to go back to Sept. 11, 1982, in a 31-17 loss to California (Bill McCartney's first game).

Bitter Cold: There have been only two occasions where the temperature was below 20 degrees at kickoff at Folsom Field in the last 30 years. The last time was Nov. 16, 1996, when it was 16 degrees at the start of both halves in a 12-0 win over Kansas State. The mercury reached 12 degrees with a wind-chill of minus-8 in a 19-19 tie against Nebraska on Nov. 2, 1991.

Wind: The last time, and the only time in the last 25 years that wind has really affected a game came on Nov. 11, 1995—winds gusting from 30 to 67 miles per hour were prevalent in most of CU's 21-0 win over Missouri.

TELEVISION APPEARANCES

Colorado has appeared on either national or regional television 153 times since the 1951 season, posting a 80-70-3 record in these games (34-24-2 in Boulder). The Buffaloes have been on national TV a total of 87 times, owning a 43-41-3 record (20-10-2 in Boulder). Since 1990, the Buffaloes have been one of the most televised teams in the nation, as 104 of their 158 games (66 percent) have been broadcast either nationally or regionally. The first appearance on TV by Colorado was in 1951, as the Nebraska game in Lincoln on Nov. 17 was broadcast to 19 states in the central part of the nation as part of the NCAA television testing program; an estimated 8-to-10 million people watched the Buffs win in impressive fashion. An interesting fact is that the first college football game ever televised on ESPN involved Colorado, as the fledgling cable network broadcast the Oregon-CU game on Sept. 8, 1979. A detailed look at Colorado's all-time national and regional televised games (with announcers, if known):

Last sub-three hour game: vs. USC in Boulder, Sept. 14, 2002 (2:58). Colorado has played in 14 games that have taken less than three hours to play dating back to the 1990 season (out of 147 total games).

DID YOU KNOW... Several University of Colorado graduates have made their careers in the field of sports broadcasting. The first was also a football letterman, Tom Brookshier, who did NFL color commentary for several years on CBS. Another has made his niche in broadcasting, as Dave Logan is the play-by-play voice for the Denver Broncos, following up a stellar career as an NFL receiver. One of the most visible people on the national college football beat is ESPN's Chris Fowler, a 1985 CU graduate who worked three years in CU's sports information office. Another '80s grad and SID office veteran, Jim Gray, as a reporter with NBC, made a name for himself in breaking several stories and is now with ESPN/ABC. Solomon Wilcotts, who lettered two years at cornerback and played several seasons in the NFL, is a reporter for CBS. Kevin Corke, another CU journalism grad, is now an anchor on ESPN after a long career at Denver's KUSA-TV. Behind the scenes, Peter Lasser was a top producer for TNT's NFL football coverage, and Jay Rothman was one of ABC's and ESPN's most respected producers, working college football and several other events.

DID YOU KNOW... That despite not having beaten a No. 1 team, Colorado has twice knocked Oklahoma out of the No. 1 slot? CU's efforts in 1957 and 1975 knocked the Sooners from No. 1 to No. 2 in the AP poll.

COLORADO VS. NO. 1 TEAMS

The Buffs are 0-9 in their history when they have come up against the number one ranked team. Colorado has played only three teams with number one rankings—Nebraska (0-3); Oklahoma (0-5) and Southern Cal (0-1). In seven of these games, the Buffs have given the nation's best a solid run for their money. Here's a look at each CU No. 1 matchup (both AP & UPI/Coaches unless otherwise noted):

Nov. 4, 1956 in Boulder

Oklahoma	6	0	14	7	—	27
COLORADO	7	12	0	0	—	19

Oct. 26, 1957 at Norman

(*—fifth largest comeback in NCAA bowl history.)

NOTE: The largest deficit CU has ever overcome to tie or take the lead in a game is 24 points. On Nov. 26, 1999, the Buffs trailed Nebraska, 27-3, early in the fourth quarter but rallied to tie the game with 2:59 remaining. A game winning field goal sailed just wide at the final gun, but the Buffs did take a 30-27 lead in overtime before succumbing to the Cornhuskers, 33-30.

BUFF MILESTONES

Nov. 15, 1890—First game ever in the history of the University of Colorado, losing 20-0 to the Denver Athletic Club in Denver.

Dec. 13, 1890—George Darley runs 65 yards with a fumbled football for a touchdown, the first in Colorado history. Colorado Mines won the game, however, 50-4.

Nov. 26, 1891—First win in Colorado's history, as CU recorded a 24-4 victory over the Colorado Springs Athletic Association Team.

Nov. 8, 1892—First win by Colorado in Boulder, a 46-0 rout of Denver U.

Aug. 3, 1894—Harry Heller named first head coach in Colorado history.

Oct. 26, 1895—Fred Folsom debuts as CU head coach. Colorado wins 32-0 over the Denver Wheel Club in Boulder. He arrived in Boulder three weeks earlier, on Oct. 6.

Nov. 17, 1898—Colorado plays first opponent from outside state boundaries, losing to Nebraska in Boulder, 23-10.

July 27, 1900—T. W. Mortimer named third head coach in Colorado history, filling in for Fred Folsom who takes leave for a year.

July 10, 1903—Dave Cropp named fourth head coach in Colorado history.

June 26, 1905—Willis Keinholtz named fifth head coach in Colorado history.

June 19, 1906—Frank Castleman named sixth head coach in Colorado history.

May 11, 1908—Fred Folsom returns to coach Colorado.

Oct. 8, 1910—Colorado's 11-0 triumph over the Alumni is the 100th win in CU history.

Jan. 10, 1916—Bob Evans named seventh head coach in Colorado history.

Jan. 17, 1918—Joe Mills named eighth head coach in Colorado history.

Dec. 17, 1919—Myron Witham named ninth head coach in Colorado history.

Nov. 28, 1923—Colorado's 6-3 win at Colorado State gives Colorado a 9-0-0 mark for the 1923 season, its best ever.

The following was taken from the Silver & Gold newspaper of December 16, 1898. It was a recollection of the birth of Colorado football written by one of CU's original gridgers, John C. Nixon, also the school's second captain. It appears here in its original form.

At the beginning of the first semester in the fall of '90 the boys rooming at the dormitory on the campus of the U. of C. being afflicted with a super-abundance of penned up energy, or perhaps having recently drifted from under the parental wing and delighting in their newly found freedom, decided among other wild schemes, to form an athletic association.

Messrs Carney, Whittaker, Layton and others, who at that time constituted a majority of the male population of the University, called a meeting of the campus boys in the old medical building. Nixon was elected president and Holden secretary of the association. It was voted that the officers constitute a committee to provide uniform suits in which to play what was called "association football". Suits of flannel were ultimately procured and paid for assessments on the members of the association and generous contributions from members of the faculty.

The University at that time had about the best base-ball team in the state composed of such star players as Ingram, Blake, Carnahan, Rust, Neighoff and others. But it was a reflection upon us that although it was styled the University base-ball team, it was composed mainly of outsiders, who had no connection with the U. of C.

It was the object of the newly organized association to ultimately absorb the base-ball team, even if it was mercilessly whipped in that, as it was afterwards scourged in football.

Whatever may have been said of their playing, the boys were made of that stuff called "American Grit," and had no conception of what the word failure meant. To them defeat was simply a severe lesson which was to teach them how to win in the future.

Taking up the game of association football the boys practiced quite regularly and under the instruction of Hosford, who was an Englishman of extraordinary proficiency in the game, they soon became adepts in the art of running at full speed and keeping the ball almost fairly between the feet. I called this an art, as I consider excellence in any athletic sport an art. The graceful swing of a trained foot-runner is as fair a sight as the rhythmic waltzer, or as creditable a performance as that of an opera singer. After becoming proficient in this game we learned that all other football teams of the state played what was called the Rugby game, and as we could not attain state or national renown playing among ourselves, it became a question whether we would make a change or not. Only two in the association had ever seen a Rugby game and it was reported as fiendish beyond comprehension. The rush of a Rugby team was likened to the stampede of a herd of Texas cattle; nevertheless the boys decided to throw themselves in front and die a la Leonidas, and succeeding events showed that they had not over estimated the opposition.

The association had two factions—no live organization is ever harmonious—and the lesser faction always opposed the propositions of the majority. In this instance they had secured the individual promises of the eleven of the twenty four members to oppose a change of the game, and as it required the assent of two-thirds to accomplish this the remaining members decided to adopt the tactics of wearing out their opponents in the meeting. The session lasted one entire afternoon until darkness came upon them, during which, bursts of orator, pro and con, and imminent danger of pugilistic strife pervaded the atmosphere. The vote stood 16-8 in favor of a change and the University football team was launched on a broader basis. This vote was followed by our throwing the association open for membership to the whole student body, (and a limited number of outsiders, if we should need them), but time showed that the vim and snap of the college man was not possessed by those outside.

Holden was sent as our representative to a meeting of the state league and bound us for the forthcoming games with only two weeks of preparation, learning the game almost entirely from the rule book, nine of the eleven having never seen a Rugby game clad in the flannel suits without padding, the average weight of the team being about 140 pounds, we went to Denver and lined up against the D.A.C. team, composed of graduate college players. It was also their first game, they having just organized, and they way they ran out ends was astonishing, but in this game our team developed a characteristic which it has even since maintained, which was this, that although our line was much lighter than that of our opponents, they would be carried steadily back whenever they attempted a line play against us.

One week later, with four of our best men too maimed and bruised to play, the Golden giants came down on us. Our boys went down like a row of pins and the Goldenites went over the top. Score 103 to 0. In the return game with Golden, Darley made our first touchdown: score 44-4, and Golden prophesied our future success. We lost one game with Colorado Springs and the Springs and the D.A.C. team which forfeited, giving us third place in the percentage list. We paraded that percentage list before our eyes with unbounded satisfaction. It mattered not how we came by it, we had it.

President Hale, who from the first took a kindly interest in the team, also did other members of the faculty, advanced the money with which to buy padded suits, but we did not obtain them in time to use that season. The following year the team commenced training as soon as the semester opened, and has since taken its true position as one of the most formidable teams in the west. Of the original team, James, Carney, Layton, Putnam and others, became among the best players in the state.

The Athletic Association should now invigorate its base-ball and place it at par with its football team; and it certainly has the material with which to do it. The U of C should henceforth lead the state and possibly the west in athletic sports.

The style of football playing has altered considerably; by the old rules, all men in front of the runner with the ball, were offside, consequently we could not send backs through and break the line ahead of the ball as is done at present. The notorious V was then in vogue, which gave a heavy team too much advantage. The mass plays being now barred, skill on the football field is more in demand than mere weight and strength.

To the physically weak, football appears like a relic of barbarism at par with the Spanish bull fight, but, considering the course of training that the player must take, he becomes hardened and inured to danger, in serious casualties become few. The player develops physical strength and mental composure in the face of fierce and determined opposition, which enables him to better battle with the competition and business worries succeeding school life, of which the average student knows nothing and with which he usually buffets helplessly for years. A successful football team will advertise a University and attract as many male students as its educational facilities. This is avowedly admitted by Yale and Princeton authorities, hence the game should be encouraged by college faculties. It is not to the discredit of the American youth that he is thus attracted. It is indicative that he possesses hardihood and vigor and will not sink into lassitude and degeneracy which characterize the population of a degenerate nation.

It is often said, how little we know: so with a modest sense of humility, college graduate I after years look back, not to the mountain of learning that he or she surmounted, but the incidents in college life that bind them to so many friends, intellectual ennobling friends. Thoughts of those exercises in sports, fraught with just a little danger, will continue to the end as a refreshing fountain inspiring new life.

CU'S 1990 NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The 1990 edition of the University of Colorado football team accomplished two of the biggest "firsts" in its storied history. The Buffaloes played the nation's toughest schedule and posted an 11-1-1 record overall, with the win over Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl cementing the school's first national championship. For the second straight year, CU logged a 7-0 record in league play, marking the first time that the Buffs had claimed the Big Eight Conference title in back-to-back years.

Colorado had flirted with the national championship just one season earlier, owning an 11-0 regular season record and entering the Orange Bowl ranked as the nation's No. 1 team. A 21-6 loss to Notre Dame, however, ended CU's dream season and the Buffs finished No. 4 in the national polls. Little did anyone know at the time that the Buffaloes would have the chance to redeem themselves.

Questions prior to the start of the 1990 season included, "What do you do for an encore?" and "Is Colorado for real or was last season a fluke?" Coach Bill McCartney didn't set winning the national championship as the team goal; winning back-to-back Big Eight titles was what he wanted his men to aim for. Shooting for all the marbles includes too many variables that are out of a team's control, while one holds its own destiny in pursuit of a league title. McCartney was not the kind to set a national title as a goal, anyway.

In the Associated Press preseason poll, the Buffs were ranked No. 5; it's first opponent, Tennessee in the Disneyland Pigskin Classic, was ranked No. 8.

Colorado overcame three first-quarter turnovers against the Volunteers (that was almost one-fourth of the entire turnover total of the season before) to lead 24-10 early in the fourth quarter. The Buffs couldn't sustain the lead, and Tennessee caught CU with the game ending in a 31-31 tie.

In game two, Eric Bieniemy scored on fourth-and-goal from the one with 12 seconds remaining to give CU a 21-17 win over Stanford. This was alarming in that Stanford had the worst record in 1989 of the five non-league teams on CU's schedule, along with the fact that the Cardinal led 14-0 at halftime and had stifled the high-powered CU offense.

Illinois dealt CU what proved to be its only loss of the season on Sept. 15, as the 23-22 defeat to the Illini sent the Buffs reeling to No. 20 in the polls. A game that Colorado should have won (CU led, 17-3, in the second quarter) turned into a loss and gave CU a 1-1-1 start. Talk of 1989 being a fluke started to surface, that CU had won only because of emotion in response to the death of quarterback Sal Aunese.

The next two games put the Buffaloes back on track, and ended talk that Colorado was not for real. A 29-22 win at No. 22 Texas, with CU rallying from a 22-14 deficit early in the fourth quarter, was the game that McCartney and the team pointed to as the turning point of the season. Then a 20-14 win over No. 12 Washington a week later reinforced the national opinion of the Buffaloes, as CU took over the No. 12 spot in the polls after its defeat of the Huskies.

Colorado came through the fierce non-league portion of its schedule with a 3-1-1 record and prepared to defend its Big Eight crown earned the season before. The Buffs topped Missouri, 33-31, in their league opener amid controversy of the now famous "fifth down." CU's Charles Johnson scored the game-winning touchdown as time expired on what turned out to be fifth down. The play, created through an incredible mistake by the officiating crew, and unnoticed by Missouri game administration and virtually everyone in the stadium, tainted the CU win and hurt the Buffs' image. Even

Eric Bieniemy

Although the Buffs defeated Iowa State, 28-12, the following week, Colorado had dropped back to No. 14 in the rankings though it sported a 5-1-1 record.

Still, the Buffaloes were off to a 2-0 start in league play, and improved to 3-0 with a 41-10 drubbing of Kansas at Lawrence in week three of the Big Eight season. The win pushed CU back into the top 10 (No. 10), with the "Big Reds" next up on the schedule.

Colorado knocked off Oklahoma, ranked No. 22 nationally, 32-23 to deal the one-time fourth-ranked Sooners their third straight defeat. The Buffs trailed, 14-6, late in the first half, with OU in position to kick a field goal. Greg Thomas risked to block the attempt, and quarterback Darian Hagan took over to lead the Buffs to a touchdown right before the halftime gun. Bieniemy broke free for a 69-yard TD run in the third quarter, and the Buffs pulled away in the final 15 minutes to dispose of the first of the Big Reds.

A week later, Colorado, now No. 9, traveled to Lincoln and defeated No. 3 Nebraska, 27-12, in rainy, cold and windy conditions. Bieniemy overcame five fumbles to score four touchdowns in the fourth quarter to rally the Buffaloes to the win. The end result was that Colorado had defeated both Oklahoma and Nebraska for the second straight year, and in back-to-back weeks, no less. The Buffs, with an 8-1-1 record, zoomed to No. 4 in the nation in the polls, and needed just one win in their last two games to get back to the Orange Bowl.

The Buffs steamrolled both Oklahoma State (41-22) and Kansas State (64-3) to finish the regular season at 10-1-1. The wins also marked the second straight year that CU took the Big Eight title with an undefeated 7-0 record in league play.

When Penn State knocked off Notre Dame hours after CU's win over K-State, the Buffs became the nation's new No. 1 team. Thus, as was the case in 1989, the Buffaloes entered the Orange Bowl to defend the nation's top ranking against Notre Dame, the team that lost to hand CU the No. 1 claim.

Colorado had the rare chance to play for the national championship a second straight year, and this time around, the Buffs made the most of their opportunity. Colorado overcame the loss of Hagan and Kanavis McGhee to injuries in the first half, taking the lead for good in the third quarter in defeating the Irish, 10-9. The win kicked off a wild celebration by some 20,000-plus CU fans in Miami and hundreds of thousands back home in Colorado.

McCartney's ninth Colorado team attained its goals of claiming the Big Eight title in back-to-back years, and surpassed it by winning the national championship. In the process, CU established itself among the elite in college football.

CU's National Title Display at the College Hall of Fame

COLORADO'S BIGGEST WINS

Nov. 26, 1891—Colorado 24, Colorado Springs A.A. 4
(at Colorado Springs)

The first win in the program's history (after eight straight losses).

Oct. 8, 1904—Colorado 6, Nebraska 0 (in Boulder)

Referred to as the program's biggest victory at that point in history, as CU upset heavily favored Nebraska.

Nov. 25, 1920—Colorado 40, Oklahoma A&M 7

(at Stillwater, Okla.)

In Myron Witham's first year as coach, CU won its only non-league game to close with a 4-1-2 record.

Nov. 6, 1937—Colorado 17, Utah 7 (at Salt Lake City, Utah)

The win secures CU the title in the first year of the Mountain States Conference, and paves the way for CU's first-ever bowl game appearance (against Rice in the Cotton).

Oct. 9, 1948—Colorado 19, Nebraska 6 (in Boulder)

Another benchmark in the program, as the win was both CU's first in the Big Seven Conference, and the first for coach Dal Ward.

Oct. 6, 1951—Colorado 35, Kansas 27 (in Boulder)

Colorado's first-ever win over a ranked opponent (Kansas was No. 20).

Sept. 27, 1952—Colorado 21, Oklahoma 21 (in Boulder)

Not a win, but not just a tie—the only blemish on Oklahoma's amazing 47-0-1 record in Big Seven Conference play (1948-57).

Jan. 1, 1957—Colorado 27, Clemson 21

(Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla.)

The first-ever bowl victory by the Buffs comes over No. 19 Clemson.

Nov. 4, 1961—Colorado 7, Missouri 6 (in Boulder)

The win over No. 10 Missouri paved the way for CU's first Big Eight Conference title.

Nov. 18, 1961—Colorado 7, Nebraska 0 (at Lincoln, Neb.)

On a cold day in Lincoln, CU limits Nebraska to zero first downs and just 31 yards on offense to clinch the Big Eight crown.

Oct. 21, 1967—Colorado 21, Nebraska 16 (at Lincoln, Neb.)

The win vaults CU to a No. 3 national ranking, its highest in history at the time, and returns CU to the national college football map.

Oct. 25, 1969—Colorado 31, Missouri 24 (in Boulder)

CU stops unbeaten and No. 5 Missouri.

Dec. 13, 1969—Colorado 47, Alabama 33

In one of the most exciting bowl games ever, CU defeats Bear Bryant's Crimson Tide to climb back into the final national rankings (No. 16).

Sept. 26, 1970—Colorado 41, Penn State 13 (in Boulder)

CU blows out No. 4 Penn State, ending the Nittany Lions' 31-game unbeaten streak.

Sept. 11, 1971—Colorado 31, Louisiana State 21

(at Baton Rouge, La.)

CU grabs season-opening win over No. 9 LSU in Cajun Country.

Sept. 25, 1971—Colorado 20, Ohio State 14

(at Columbus, Ohio)

Colorado's second win on the road at a top 10 school (Ohio State was No. 6) gives CU instant national respect and a No. 6 ranking.

Dec. 31, 1971—Colorado 29, Houston 17

(Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston, Texas)

CU posts its first-ever 10 win season (10-2), and the win enables the Big Eight to finish 1-2-3 in the nation (Nebraska No. 1, Oklahoma No. 2, Colorado No. 3—still the only time one conference has had the top three spots in the final poll).

Oct. 21, 1972—Colorado 20, Oklahoma 14 (in Boulder)

CU tops No. 2 Sooners, the highest-ranked team CU had defeated at the time (and to this date—CU has beaten No. 2 twice).

Nov. 20, 1976—Colorado 35, Kansas State 28 (at Manhattan, Kan.)

Buffs stave off Wildcats in a wild one, and the win enables CU to claim a share of the Big Eight title—and with CU winning the tiebreakers, the Buffs earn a trip to the Orange Bowl.

Oct. 28, 1978—Colorado 28, Missouri 27 (at Columbia, Mo.)

Colorado rallied from 20 points down in the third quarter to defeat the No. 13 Tigers, the most points the Buffaloes have ever rallied from behind to post a victory.

Darian Hagan

Sept. 28, 1985—Colorado 14, Arizona 13 (at Tucson, Ariz.)

CU holds off Arizona, ranked in the coaches poll, to move to 3-0 the season and show the first indication that the program is heading for its first winning season since 1978.

Oct. 25, 1986—Colorado 20, Nebraska 10 (in Boulder)

Referred to as "The Turning Point" in CU's return to national prominence, as the Buffs defeat Nebraska, ranked No. 3 in the nation, for the first time since 1967.

Oct. 31, 1987—Colorado 42, Iowa State 10 (at Ames, Iowa)

The 500th win in Colorado's history, as the Buffs join a select group of schools to accomplish the feat.

Sept. 17, 1988—Colorado 24, Iowa 21 (at Iowa City, Iowa)

The Buffs dominate from the start to finish and rally to win at No. 1 Iowa in a big challenge the second week of the season.

Sept. 4, 1989—Colorado 27, Texas 6 (in Boulder)

Expectations are high, as CU is ranked in the preseason for the time since 1978 (No. 14)—Darian Hagan erases the butterflies with a 75-yard run to set up a score on the game's second play.

Sept. 30, 1989—Colorado 45, Washington 28 (at Seattle, Wash.)

No. 5 Colorado wins at No. 21 Washington, but the real story is emotional win one week after quarterback Sal Aunese died due to complications from stomach cancer.

Oct. 28, 1989—Colorado 20, Oklahoma 3 (at Norman, Okla.)

The nation finds out the Buffs are for real with CU's first win at Norman since 1965.

Nov. 4, 1989—Colorado 27, Nebraska 21 (in Boulder)

No. 2 Colorado defeats No. 3 Nebraska to all but clinch league and the Orange Bowl berth that goes with it.

Sept. 22, 1990—Colorado 29, Texas 22 (at Austin, Texas)

Called the impetus for CU's national title run after a 1-1-1 start rallies from 22-14 deficit in the fourth quarter to grab the win.

Oct. 27, 1990—Colorado 32, Oklahoma 23 (in Boulder)

The win over the No. 2 Sooners, only the third time CU had beaten OU back-to-back, set up CU for a title showdown at Nebraska the following week.

Nov. 2, 1990—Colorado 27, Nebraska 12 (at Lincoln, Neb.)

Colorado beats No. 2 Nebraska on four fourth-quarter Eric Bieniemy touchdown runs to win Big Eight for second straight season.

Jan. 1, 1991—Colorado 10, Notre Dame 9

Colorado wins its first national championship in football with win over the Irish.

Oct. 16, 1993—Colorado 27, Oklahoma 10 (at Norman, Okla.)

The 78th win of Bill McCartney's coaching career, making him the program's all-time winningest coach.

Sept. 24, 1994—Colorado 27, Michigan 26 (at Ann Arbor, Mich.)
The Catch." Kordell Stewart's 64-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook, via a Blake Anderson tip, wins the game after time expired. It was the national play-of-the-year in all of sports and won an ESPY.

Nov. 19, 1994—Colorado 41, Iowa State 20 (in Boulder)
The win had two significant highlights: eventual Heisman Trophy winner Rashaan Salaam went over the 2,000-yard mark in rushing and quarterback Kordell Stewart became the Big Eight's all-time total offense leader. And following the game, head coach Bill McCartney announced his retirement.

Sept. 23, 1995—Colorado 29, Texas A&M 21 (in Boulder)
CU rallies for win over No. 3 Aggies, as John Hessler comes off the bench to lead CU to the win after replaced injured quarterback Koy Detmer.

Sept. 30, 1995—Colorado 38, Oklahoma 17 (at Norman, Okla.)
CU becomes only the third school in history to win four straight games in Norman, defeating the No. 10 Sooners and moving to No. 4 in the nation.

Dec. 30, 1996—Colorado 33, Washington 21
Holiday Bowl at San Diego, Calif.
The win enables CU to enjoy its third straight 10-win season, a first in school history.

Dec. 25, 1998—Colorado 51, Oregon 43
Aloha Bowl at Honolulu, Hawaii
The win is CU's fifth straight in bowl games, the longest active streak in the nation, and comes in the program's 1,000th

Dec. 31, 1999—Colorado 62, Boston College 28
Insight.com Bowl at Tucson, Ariz.
Colorado defeated the No. 25 Golden Eagles in one of its most dominant performances ever. The Buffs built a 35-0 lead in the second quarter on touchdown runs by Cortlen Johnson and Mike Moschetti, interception returns for scores by Jashon Sykes and Rashidi Barnes, and the longest punt return in NCAA bowl history, 88 yards, by Ben Kelly. It was also the sixth straight bowl win for the CU, adding to its nation's best active streak.

Nov. 23, 2001—Colorado 62, Nebraska 36 (in Boulder)
Colorado's 62-36 win over No. 2 Nebraska sent shockwaves throughout the college football world. In scoring the most points ever against a Husker defense, the Buffaloes matched NU's 7-1 record in the Big 12 North Division with the win and earned the right to play Texas the following week in the league title game. Chris Brown rushed for 198 yards and a school record six touchdowns, with Bobby Purify racing for 154 yards and one score.

Dec. 1, 2001—Colorado 39, Texas 37
(Big 12 Championship game at Irving, Texas)
In July, when Coach Gary Barnett attended the Big 12's media day in Dallas, he asked Chris Theisen of the league office if the Buffaloes could stop by Texas Stadium on the way back to the airport. Barnett, along with seniors Andrew Gurode and Michael Lewis, who both hailed from Texas, had a mini-tour of the stadium after meeting with the press. Then as conference play began two months later, co-defensive coordinator Vince Okruch purchased a replica of the stadium, and the team soon placed the opposing team's helmet decal on it after each victory. But one was missing—Texas was the only team to defeat the Buffs during the regular season, but CU would exact its revenge and in defeating the No. 3 Longhorns, 39-37, claimed its first Big 12 title. Chris Brown followed up his stellar performance against Nebraska in rushing for 198 yards and three scores, while the Buff defense intercepted UT's Chris Simms three times in the first half.

Sept. 21, 2002—Colorado 31, UCLA 17 (at Los Angeles)
The Buffs, reeling with a 1-2 record, were coming off their worst home loss in 19 years and had a game at No. 20 UCLA. But thanks to 188 rushing yards and three touchdowns from Chris Brown, three Patrick Brougham field goals and a solid game from quarterback Robert Hodge (117 yards), CU's 31-17 win ignited the season and started an 8-1 run over the next nine games.

DID YOU KNOW?... That CU's records for rushing yards in a single game and season have a common link? In 1971, Charlie Davis rushed for 342 yards in a 40-6 win over Oklahoma State, and in 1994, Rashaan Salaam rushed for 2,055 yards en route to winning the Heisman Trophy. The link? Davis also went over the 1,000-yard mark for the season in the OSU game, doing so on a 67-yard touchdown run around the right end. Salaam went over the 2,000-yard mark in the finale against Iowa State—on a 67-yard touchdown run around the right end.

BIG PLAYS "NOT IN THE BOXSCORE"

Often a play takes place which makes the difference between winning and losing, but it gets lost in the shuffle and then forgotten as time passes by. The following is a listing of some of these moments and the players who created them in the history of Colorado football:

Zack Jordan, 1952 vs. Oklahoma

CU tailback Zack Jordan's powerful right leg was the Buffs' best weapon in a 21-21 tie which was the Sooners' only blemish in what was to become a 47-game undefeated string. Jordan's 72-yard quick kick to the OU 3 set up CU's first TD. His 77-yarder put the Buffs in position for their second score. For good measure he added a 78-yard boot in the fourth period which quickly produced the setting for CU's final score. It was the finest exhibition of kicking in the nation that year and earned Jordan a spot in the NCAA record book. To make his day even more impressive, he scored all three CU touchdowns.

Frank Bernardi, 1954 vs. Missouri

It was a relatively meaningless game but Frank Bernardi played to the end as though it was for the Big Seven championship. CU's chances had faded a week earlier in Boulder with a bitter last quarter 13-6 loss to Oklahoma. The Buffs struggled to a 19-13 advantage over Missouri as time ran out in Columbia. When the Tigers scored with 1:06 left the winning PAT kick seemed a certainty. But Bernardi lined up wide at left end and used his sprinter speed to deflect the ball. The effort cost him two black eyes and a broken nose and a place in the CU record book for unlikely heroes.

John Bayuk, 1956 vs. Missouri

The forearm, not the pounding legs, of fullback John (The Beast) Bayuk provided the impetus for a 14-14 tie at Missouri which ultimately sent CU to its first Orange Bowl appearance. Beaten at the wire by Oklahoma in Boulder a week earlier, the Buffs could clinch a bowl bid with at least a tie with a Tiger team which had made a living annually by catching CU down after a tough battle with OU. Predictably, the Buffs struggled in this one, trailing 14-0 late in the third period. CU scored, then recovered a fumble at the Tiger 37. But Bob Stransky fumbled on first down. At the bottom of the pile, Bayuk was bitten by a Missouri lineman. Getting a reprieve with the 15-yard penalty, CU drove to a tying touchdown which was good enough to send the Buffs to Miami and a 27-21 win over Clemson on New Year's Day.

Chuck Weiss, 1959 vs. Oklahoma

A mighty effort by fullback Chuck Weiss preserved CU's 7-0 victory over Oklahoma, the first victory over the Sooners since the Buffs joined the Big Seven Conference. Colorado held a precarious one-touchdown lead late in the third quarter when OU quarterback Bennett Watts broke into the open from the Sooner 14. He headed for the end zone at full speed with Weiss, a power fullback not noted for his speed, in pursuit from his linebacker post on the far side of the field. Using his angle perfectly, Weiss caught Watts at the CU 17. The Buff defense held at the four and CU had a landmark triumph.

Hale Irwin, 1965 vs. Oklahoma

It was Eddie Crowder's third season at the helm and his CU team was on the way back from the depths of three straight 2-8 campaigns. A win over his alma mater's perennial Big Eight champions would be a big step forward for the Buffs. They led 10-0 nearing the half but the Sooners were rallying, driving to a first and goal with less than a minute left. The Oklahoma quarterback spotted the hole in the line and directed a play there. But CU safety Hale Irwin, better known for his golfing prowess, alertly jumped into the breach and helped jam up the play. The Sooners failed to score and CU went on to give Crowder a homecoming victory, 13-0.

Phil Irwin, 1969 vs. Oklahoma State

En route to a furious finish which saw CU annihilate Alabama in the Liberty Bowl, the Buffs needed a clutch last-second theft by line backer Phil Irwin to preserve a 17-14 triumph over OSU in a game which CU had to win to keep its bowl hopes alive. After the Buff seemingly had won the game with a touchdown with 1:22 left to play the Cowboys launched an aerial attack which moved them to the CU five in less than a minute. There were 30 seconds remaining, and Cowboy receiver was open in the end zone. The ball was headed for him when Irwin came from nowhere to intercept it. When he downed the ball there was time for one play and the Buffs had taken a big step to Memphis.

John Stearns, 1971 Bluebonnet Bowl vs. Houston

Your team is up by six, 23-17, with seven minutes remaining in the bowl game and it's fourth-and-9 from your own 10-yard line. Pun right? Don't tell that to John "Bad Dude" Stearns. Moments earlier Stearns had knocked the ball out of tight end Riley Odoms' hands on fourth down in the end zone to prevent Houston from taking the lead in its home stadium. So perhaps still fired up, Stearns, who double as CU's punter, scooped up a bad center snap, looked around, and took off downfield for the first down. He needed nine yards, and the 12 he earned were the impetus the Buffs needed to take the ball for the clinching score. The win gave CU its best record ever at the time, 10-2, and secured the nation's No. 3 ranking (behind Big Eight rivals Nebraska and Oklahoma).

Steve Vogel and Derek Singleton 1981 vs. Oklahoma State

Colorado is out of time outs, is faced with second-and-14 at its own 4, there's one minute left in the game, and Oklahoma State holds a 10-3 lead in Boulder. Quarterback Steve Vogel and tailback Derek Singleton would play key roles in one of the greatest comeback drives in CU history. Vogel hits Singleton on a 10-yard pass to get CU into and fourth-and-4 at its 14, and on fourth down, the two hooked up again on a 17-yard play for a first down. From there, it took CU just five plays to get into the end zone to pull to within 10-9. Vogel then found Singleton in the end zone for the two-point conversion and CU won, 11-10. There was some sadness to this story, as it would be the last time Singleton would touch the football in a game for Colorado. He was struck with spinal meningitis the next Friday and would be hospitalized in Ames, Iowa. He would later pass away on New Year's night in California.

Mickey Pruitt, 1985 vs. Oregon

It's year No. 4 of the Bill McCartney Era, and the second game of the season against Oregon in Boulder, while early, is important. A win would double CU's win total of the previous season and could provide momentum for CU's first winning team in six years. Oregon, trailing Colorado, 21-17, drives from its own 13 to the CU 3 and is faced with a fourth-and-goal with nine seconds left. The Buffs called for relentless pressure on Duck quarterback Chris Miller, the game obviously on the line. Miller was flushed out of the pocket, and before he could get the ball off, was sacked for a loss by sophomore safety Mickey Pruitt. The Buffs went on to finish the regular season with a 7-4 mark and earn their first bowl invitation since 1976.

Barry Helton, 1985 vs. Oklahoma State

On his way to an All-America season, punter Barry Helton might have become the first and only ambidextrous punter in Colorado, if not NCAA, history. Late in the first quarter and buried deep in their own territory, Helton came in to punt CU out of a hole at its own 18 in a scoreless tie with No. 12 Oklahoma State. A heavy Cowboy rush forced Helton, a "rightie," to his left. Instead of trying to punt the ball with his natural foot or take a loss and give OSU prime field position, to the surprise of all, he got the punt off with his left foot. It was a low line drive, but it carried and rolled for a combined 51 yards. OSU failed to move the ball and CU eventually took a 3-0 lead midway in the second quarter, but the 'Pokes rallied for a 14-11 victory. Though CU didn't win this game, Helton's "feat" won't soon be forgotten as a special record was created in the CU record books: "Longest Punt with non-kicking foot)."

Van McMillen, 1985 vs. Kansas

On his way to setting the Colorado school record for most quarterback sacks in a game, Dan McMillen could have lost his head. Actually, it was just his helmet. As he chased down Kansas quarterback Mike Norseth for his fifth and record-setting sack, McMillen's helmet was knocked free. But that didn't stop the Buff senior outside linebacker from running down Norseth and making the tackle. CU won the game, 14-3, and went on to post its first winning season in seven years.

Barian Hagan, 1989 vs. Texas

The season opener against Texas in Boulder was filled with anticipation, as the Buffs were nationally ranked in the preseason for the first time in 12 years, and ESPN was in town to televise the game to the entire nation. On the second play of the game, quarterback Barian Hagan set all the butterflies free as he scampered 75 yards around the left side to the Texas 2, setting up CU's first touchdown as well as the tone for the game and CU's 11-0 regular season. The Buffs went on to build a 14-0 first quarter lead and a 27-6 win.

Deon Figures, 1990 vs. Washington

Colorado, at 2-1-1 on the season and riding high after an emotional 29-22 comeback win at Texas, leads No. 12 Washington, 20-14 in the final moments. The Huskies are faced with a fourth-and-goal at the CU 7 with 1:04 left, and quarterback Mark Brunell throws a lob pass in the direction of Mario Bailey in the end zone. However, CU sophomore Deon Figures is in the way, making the game-saving interception to preserve CU's victory. Later in the same season, Figures also made an interception at the end of CU's 10-9 win over Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl, a play which prevented Notre Dame from getting into field goal range. Figures picked off the Rick Mirer pass and ran out the clock, helping CU cinch the national championship.

David Gibbs, 1990 vs. Nebraska

This game on a cold and rainy day in Lincoln had both Big Eight title and national championship implications riding on the outcome. Colorado had just taken a 13-12 lead over Nebraska, rallying from a 12-0 deficit, but the Huskers were trying to mount a comeback. Faced with a fourth-and-3 on their own 28 and seven minutes remaining, Nebraska called for a fake punt, the snap going to the upback, Tim Johnk. But the play was sniffed out by David Gibbs, who stopped Johnk for only a two-yard gain, giving possession back to the Buffs. CU scored in just five plays to take a 20-12 lead, and went on to win, 27-12, CU's first win in Lincoln since 1967. Colorado jumped from No. 9 to No. 4 in the polls, eventually going on to win the national championship.

Ron Bradford, 1991 Orange Bowl vs. Notre Dame

Bradford, a sophomore who eventually would go on to play in the National Football League, saw action in 1990 mostly in nickel situations and on special teams. However, on this New Year's night, Bradford made one of the biggest plays in CU history. Midway through the second quarter, after Notre Dame scored a touchdown to take a 6-3 lead over the Buffs, Bradford charged through the line and blocked Craig Hentrich's extra point try. Colorado rallied to win the game, 10-9, with that one-point margin, courtesy of Bradford, giving CU its first national championship in football.

Jeff Brunner and Greg Thomas, 1991 vs. Nebraska

On a frosty night in Boulder before an ESPN national television audience, two plays stand out from a game that ended in a 19-19 tie, which would lead to Colorado and Nebraska sharing the 1991 Big Eight Conference championship. The first one is best remembered because it seemed to take five minutes for Greg Biekert to return a blocked extra point 85 yards for a defensive two-point conversion; however, the play was made possible because of Jeff Brunner's block. Then later, on the game's final play and after three CU timeouts, Greg Thomas skied high to block a Byron Bennett 41-yard field goal try to preserve the tie and CU's share of the title.

Blake Anderson, 1994 vs. Michigan

Anderson, the son of CU great and college football Hall-of-Fame member Dick Anderson, made his mark at CU primarily on special teams. In fact, he was so committed to special teams play that he earned an invitation to the Hula Bowl based on that commitment. But on Sept. 24 in Ann Arbor, and Colorado trailing Michigan 26-21 with only six seconds to go, Anderson played a huge role in what would become college football's play of the decade. As time expired, Kordell Stewart threw the ball over 70 yards downfield in the direction of a quartet of CU receivers: Anderson, Michael Westbrook, Rae Carruth and James Kidd. The play, "Rocket Jet," called for Anderson to be in position for a deflection, with the other three a few yards back to make the catch. The play, so improbable it rarely worked in practice, worked to perfection. Anderson tipped the ball to Westbrook, who landed in the end zone with 0:00 on the clock to give CU a 27-26 win.

Kory Mossoni, 2001 vs. Texas A&M

The scoring line simply reads "Johnson 52 fumble return" at the tail end of the boxscore in CU's 31-21 win over the Aggies. But a closer look at the score that came with 58 seconds left in the game shows that A&M had moved from its own 9 to the CU35 in just over a minute and was already in position to possibly tie the game. Aggie quarterback Mark Farris dropped back to pass, but was rocked by a charging Kory Mossoni, with the ball literally bouncing right into Johnson's hands to set up the easy return for six. The win was the second in as many weeks over a ranked team and helped propel the Buffs to the conference championship.

Aaron Killion, 2001 vs. Texas

Under interceptions for this game, the line does read: Killion 1-73; but the implications of this one entry were huge. In the first quarter of the Big 12 Championship game, CU was dealing with a raucous Texas crowd in Irving and a 7-0 deficit. The Longhorns drove 85 yards in six plays to open the scoring, and had the ball in position for another score at the Buff 22. But Aaron Killion snared a Chris Simms pass in the flat and took it back 73 yards to the UT12. Chris Brown scored three plays later to tie the score, the first points in a 29-3 run that put the Buffs in control of the game and on their way to their first Big 12 title.

Mickey Pruitt's last-second sack against Oregon in 1985.

GREAT FAREWELLS

Bill Harris finds a hole in the Air Force defense in the 1962 game.

Throughout its history, University of Colorado football fans have been treated to some special moments the last time a player or coach took the field for the Buffaloes, either in the final game of the regular season or in a bowl game. Here's a look at a few of these that stand out:

Byron White, 1937

Not a farewell game as much as it was a farewell tour for the man who would go on to become a U.S. Supreme Court Justice. In the final home game of the year, Byron White scored three second half touchdowns to defeat Colorado College, 35-6. In the final regular season game at Denver, he accounted for every CU point in a 34-7 win over the Pioneers, scoring three touchdowns, passing for two and making four extra points. Then, in the first bowl game ever for CU, he passed for one touchdown and scored another on a 47-yard interception return in a 28-14 loss to Rice in the Cotton Bowl.

Frank Bernardi & Carroll Hardy, 1954 vs. Kansas State

The final game of the 1954 season didn't really have anything riding on it as far as Colorado was concerned, except that it was the final game in a CU uniform for five Buffalo seniors. Kansas State, however, could have earned an Orange Bowl berth with a win and a Nebraska loss. Coach Dal Ward told the underclassmen to dedicate the final game to the quintet, and in particular, to four-year lettermen Carrol Hardy and Frank Bernardi, who had carried the team to a 6-2-1 record at that point. The Buffs would easily defeat the Wildcats, 38-14, but when Hardy and Bernardi carried the ball, they must have thought they were playing against just the clean Rocky Mountain air. The CU offensive line dominated from start to finish, as Hardy rushed for 238 yards and three touchdowns on just 10 carries, while Bernardi picked up 113 and a score on only nine tries.

John Bayuk, 1957 Orange Bowl

Known as "The Beast," John Bayuk rallied Colorado to its first-ever bowl win, a 27-21 verdict over Clemson in the Orange Bowl. He rushed for 121 yards on 23 carries and scored two touchdowns, including the game winner with 7:13 left to play.

Coach Bud Davis, 1962 vs. Air Force

Though he coached only the one season in Boulder, the transitional year between Sonny Grandelius and Eddie Crowder, the season finale in 1962 was special for Bud Davis. Heading into the rivalry game against Air Force with just a 1-8 record, CU was a 21-point underdog to the Falcons. But the Buffaloes gave Davis, who resigned the day of the game, a tremendous sendoff, convincingly defeating the "Zoomies," 34-10. Bill Harris rushed for 108 yards and Bill Symons scored twice to lead the Buffs.

Bobby Anderson, 1969 Liberty Bowl

He placed 11th in the Heisman Trophy balloting, but who knows where he would have finished had the voting taken place after the Liberty Bowl. Bobby Anderson led a ground game to an explosive offensive attack, as CU defeated Bear Bryant's Alabama Crimson Tide, 47-33. Anderson rushed 254 yards on 35 carries and scored three touchdowns, including a pair in the fourth quarter to seal the win for Coach Eddie Crowder's Buffaloes. And for good measure, he completed 3-of-4 passes for another 41 yards, giving him 295 yards of total offense (over half of CU's 563 on the afternoon).

Bill Roe, 1979 vs. Kansas State

The game meant nothing, except that it would signal the end a very disappointing season for first year coach Chuck Fairbanks. But nobody told that to Bill Roe, who was a one-man wrecking crew on defense in CU's 21-6 win. He had 24 tackles in the game, the second most at the time in a game by a Buffalo, along with two interceptions.

Rashaan Salaam on his way to 2,000-plus yards versus Iowa State in 1994.

Mike Pritchard & Others, 1990 vs. Kansas State

Colorado had already clinched the Orange Bowl, but needed to finish sharp as the Buffs moved to No. 1 in the polls after a 64-3 pasting of Kansas State in Boulder. In the final game for some 21 seniors, Mike Pritchard gained 152 yards on just four touches, scoring two touchdowns. Eric Blenimy rushed for 115 yards in his final home game, would lose out on the NCAA rushing title by 12 yards when he did not play in the second half. O.C. Oliver scored for the first time since he was a freshman in 1986, and outside linebacker Alfred Williams got his first playing a few snaps at tight end and catching a pass for 17 yards.

Rashaan Salaam, 1994 vs. Iowa State

Only three others had accomplished what Rashaan Salaam had done in front of him this November afternoon. Salaam, who went on to win Colorado's first Heisman Trophy, came into the game needing 204 yards to become the fourth player in NCAA history at the time to rush for 2,000 yards in a single season. With CU ahead, 27-13, and just under 10 minutes left in the game, Salaam had 192 in the game and 1,988 for the season, and Colorado had a first-and-10 at its own 33. He took the handoff from Kordell Stewart and sprinted around the right side, heading 205 yards down the Colorado sidelines for a touchdown and 2,055 yards. One of the most single exciting plays in CU history, with the fans jumping up-and-down holding onto yellow placards with a simple "20," printed on them in black. Also in this game, Kordell Stewart became Big Eight's all-time total offense leader with 7,770 yards, as he passed for 196 and ran for 89, also eclipsing the mark in the fourth quarter. At the cap off the day's events, head coach Bill McCartney, announced at the game that he would retire following CU's bowl game.

Coach Bill McCartney & Kordell Stewart, 1995 Fiesta Bowl

It was the rubber game in the postseason between Colorado and Notre Dame in the 1990s, as the two split a pair of Orange Bowls to start the decade, both with national championship implications for the Buffs. CU built up a 31-3 lead over an outmatched Fighting Irish team and cruised to a 41-24 victory in Bill McCartney's final game as head coach. He would exit as CU's all-time winningest head coach with a 93-32 record. With all eyes on Heisman winner Rashaan Salaam, who scored three touchdowns and rushed for 85 yards, Kordell Stewart had a day against the Irish. He rushed for 143 yards and a touchdown on seven carries, and completed 11-of-20 passes for 205 yards and another score in being named the game's most valuable player.

Koy Detmer & Rae Carruth, 1996 Holiday Bowl

The senior duo, which hooked up for 54 completions and eight touchdowns in the regular season, obliterated almost every passing and receiving record in Colorado bowl history. Detmer completed 25 of 37 passes for 371 yards and three touchdowns, while Carruth caught seven of those for 162 yards, including two touchdowns. Their first touchdown, a 76-yard bomb that got CU on the scoreboard, was the longest play from scrimmage in the Buff postseason. Colorado rallied from a 14-0 deficit to defeat Washington, 33-21.

The Class of '01, 2001 vs. Nebraska

Twenty-nine seniors suited up for the final time in their CU careers at Folsom Field. Three-and-a-half hours and nine touchdowns later, the group put a 62-36 win on the scoreboard over Nebraska, ending a nine-game losing streak to their fiercest rival.

RETIRED NUMBERS

#24 BYRON "WHIZZER" WHITE

Colorado's first All-American and one of the greatest students in the history of the school, Byron (Whizzer) White, retired as a justice of the Supreme Court in March, 1993, after serving 31 years on the nation's high court.

White made all the All-America teams after a brilliant 1937 season in which he led CU to an 8-0 record and Cotton Bowl bid as he set national records with 1,121 rushing yards and 122 points. Those marks, erased nationally only after colleges went to 10- and 11-game schedules, set CU records.

White was a Phi Beta Kappa, Rhodes Scholar, two-time All-Pro halfback with Pittsburgh and Detroit, leading graduate of the Yale Law School in 1946, decorated naval intelligence officer in World War II, leading Denver attorney, and deputy attorney general for the United States. White is a member of the NFL Hall-of-Fame, the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall-of-Fame, the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame, and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team." In 1998, he was the first inductee into CU's Athletic Hall-of-Fame. He passed away at the age of 84 on April 15, 2002.

#67 JOE ROMIG

Romig, a two-time All-American selection, is a member of the Big Eight Hall-of-Fame and the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame. Now a senior research associate in radio physics in Boulder, Romig was the Buffs' 1961 team captain and the United Press International Lineman of the year. Romig had no peers as a linebacker, as he ranged far and fiercely from his middle linebacker position behind a four-man line. Fast and strong, he was consistently in on most of CU's tackles.

Offensively, Romig developed into an excellent straight-ahead and pulling blocker. Like White, he was an inspirational leader gifted with extraordinary physical and mental abilities.

Romig was a tremendous student, logging straight A's in his last six semesters and building a 3.9 grade-point average. He was also a Danforth and Woodrow Wilson Scholar. A Rhodes Scholar, Joe received his master's degree in physics at Oxford University in England and a doctorate in physics at Colorado in 1975. He is a member of the GTE Academic Hall-of-Fame and was selected to CU's "All-Century Team." In 1999, he was part of the second class to be inducted into CU's Athletic Hall-of-Fame.

#11 BOBBY ANDERSON

Anderson set 18 single-game, single-season and career marks during his three-season career with the Buffs along with earning All-Big Eight and All-American honors.

A professional player with Denver (the team's No. 1 draft choice), Washington and New England, Anderson started his CU career as a quarterback but switched to tailback for the third game of his senior season (1969). In his career, he rushed for 2,729 yards and had over 5,000 yards in total offense.

Anderson concluded his Colorado career with a 254-yard rushing effort in the 1969 Liberty Bowl as the Buffs beat Alabama 47-33. He currently is a Denver-area businessman, and has worked over two decades for KOA-Radio handling pre- and post-game shows as well as sideline reporting on the CU Football Network. He is a member of CU's "All-Century Team." In 1999, he received the prestigious University Medal, awarded to those who have performed outstanding service to or for the University.

THE NATIONAL PLAY-OF-THE-YEAR

In 1992, Nu Skin International and CoSIDA started sponsorship of "The National Play-of-the-Year," honoring the most outstanding play annually in college football. Notre Dame won the inaugural honor in 1992, but the University of Colorado won for both the 1993 and 1994 seasons. Here's a closer look at CU's winning plays:

1993 (October 16; Colorado 27, Oklahoma 10)—Lamont Warren throws a 34-yard touchdown pass to Charles Johnson on the halfback option play. What made it special? Warren slipped on the slick artificial surface as he threw the ball, and some 40 yards later in the end zone, Johnson made the catch on the ground after he was interfered with. The play defied imagination, and is truly appreciated when looked at in slow motion.

1994 (September 24; Colorado 27, Michigan 26)—College football's play of the decade, this effort also won an "Espy" from ESPN for the play of the year in all of sports for 1994. As time expired, Kordell Stewart throws a 64-yard touchdown pass to Michael Westbrook, who made the catch after a Blake Anderson deflection. CU had trailed, 26-14, with under four minutes remaining, and trailed by five with 15 seconds left on its own 15-yard line after stopping Michigan on defense.

Wayne Lucier	2002

Two players have earned second-team All-America, first-team all-conference and first-team academic all-conference honors:

Player	Years
Kirk Tracy	1967
Don Hasselbeck	1975

NOTE: Tracy was also a first-team academic All-American.

State Prep Awards

Several Buffaloes have won the two most prestigious prep awards in the state of Colorado through the years. The Denver Post Gold Helmet Award began in 1951, and 22 of the winners to date attended CU, 19 on football scholarships. The Rocky Mountain News began the Fred Steinmark Athlete of the Year Award in 1972 (open to all sports), with 10 CU athletes, nine football and one track, bestowed that fine honor. The lists:

ALL-CENTURY TEAM

The University of Colorado selected an "All-Century Football Team," a public balloting in 1989 tabbed 11 All-Americans among the top 25 elected to the 100-year squad.

Over 6,200 ballots were received in the public selection process, with over 150,000 votes cast from those ballots. Former CU players pored a list of 881 lettermen down to 118, which were in turn presented to the public for the final team selection.

Byron "Whizzer" White, the U.S. Supreme Court Justice who was CU's first All-American (1937), received 5,812 of a possible 6,265 votes. Booby Anderson, who starred at both quarterback and tailback between 1967 and 1969, was the second leading vote-getter with 5,636, and two-way-star Joe Romig, who led CU to its first outright Big Eight championship in 1961, was third with 5,145. White (#24), Anderson (#11) and Romig (#67) are the only Buffs to ever have their numbers retired.

One other player topped the 5,000 vote mark, as flashy Cliff Branch, whose name still frequently appears in the CU record book and who played a big part in the Buffs' No. 3 national ranking of 1971, captured 5,111 votes. The player with the fifth most votes, 3,989, was the only active Buff at the time to make the top 25, tailback Eric Bieniemy (a junior in 1989).

Joining White, Anderson and Romig as All-Americans on the century quad were Dick Anderson ('67), Pete Brock ('75), Mark Haynes ('79), Dave Logan ('75), Herb Orvis ('71) and Bob Stransky ('57).

Four players in the early years of CU football made the team, led by Walt Franklin, who played center and end between 1917 and 1921. Back Lee Willard ('21), Judge Hatfield Chilson ('25) and guard Bill McGlone ('26) round out the quartet which represents the formative seasons of CU football, when the team was known as the "Silver and Gold."

Other familiar names on the team include Hale Irwin, who starred at offensive back in the mid-60's but gained his fame on the PGA Tour; John Stearns, another pivotal player of the 1971 team who went on to be a star catcher with the New York Mets; Dave Logan, a veteran of 10-plus NFL seasons and current sportstalk celebrity in Denver; Carroll

John Wooten

John Stearns

Hardy, who played in the early 1950's and is the only man ever to pinch-hit for Ted Williams; and John Wooten, one of the first African-American players at CU who has spent several years in the scouting departments of the NFL Dallas Cowboys and Philadelphia Eagles.

Listed below are the 25 members of the University of Colorado All-Century (1890-1989) Football Team, selected by lettermen and the public over a three-month voting period. Another 28 players were selected to an honorable mention team:

ALL-TIME LETTERMEN

Throughout the years, various standards have been used to determine who has been awarded letters at CU (as well as at every school in the nation, as all set their own criteria). From the 1930s until the late 1970s, letters were awarded based on a player seeing action in at least half of the quarters played by CU in a particular season. In recent times, criteria have ranged from a minimum of 100 plays in a season or possessing a special skill (the Bill McCartney Era) to playing at least one snap in at least one game (Rick Neuheisel Era). Under Gary Barnett, the Buffs returned to the criteria that McCartney first instituted. In addition, it has been a standing policy since 1982 to award letters to all seniors in the program, regardless of playing time.

Jersey numbers, heights and weights are generally those listed in CU publications (or other sources) in the player's final letter-winning year. Positions are listed in the terminology of the era in which the letterman played; if more than one position is listed, then that player saw substantial game time at those positions. Hometowns are usually the place from which the player came to CU, followed by the high school and any previous institution, be it a junior or senior college.

There are 1,694 known football lettermen at the University of Colorado, but information prior to 1940 is limited at best and thus some holes do exist. The list below was researched and expanded with the help of the late CU athletic historian Fred Casotti in 1999. CU appreciates his invaluable effort; if you have additional information on yourself or someone on this list, please call the Athletic Media Relations Office at 303/492-5626.

Leon White, 1977

Leon White, 1994

Leon White has a flair for the unique. He is believed to be the only person in Big Eight history (and one of just a handful nationally) to have lettered at three different positions since players stopped performing on both sides of the ball (which ended in the early 1960s). Leon lettered at offensive guard in 1974, at offensive tackle in 1975 and at center in 1977, earning all-America honors as a senior. Leon now makes his living as a professional wrestler, best known as the "Baby Bull" and "Vader," and resides in Boulder.

DID YOU KNOW...

That several others also earn letters who are associated with the University of Colorado football program, even though they never dressed for a game? Student equipment managers and trainers who put in as many hours as the players also earn varsity letters for their efforts. Perhaps the most famous letterman at CU in this category is Steve Hatchell, the former commissioner of the Big 12 Conference and current president of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association. Hatchell earned four letters as a student manager in the 1960s, which back then included duties such as scout team quarterback, film coordinator and caring for the grass fields. After graduating from CU with a journalism degree, he went on to work full-time in the athletic department, first in the equipment office and then as co-sports information director. His travels took him to Colorado State (SID), the Big Eight Conference (assistant commissioner) and the Orange Bowl (executive director). Prior to his service as Big 12 commissioner, he was the commissioner of the Southwest Athletic Conference.

Carroll Hardy

Two-Sport Star

CU's Carroll Hardy is one of just a handful of athletes who played both professional football and one other professional sport. He played one year with the San Francisco 49ers (1955), catching 12 passes for 338 yards (28.2 average) and four touchdowns in 10 games. He went on to play eight different seasons in the major leagues, with Cleveland (1958-60), Boston (AL, 1960-62), Houston (1963-64) and Minnesota (1967). Hardy became best known for being the only man to ever pinch-hit for Ted Williams.

Dave Logan

Three-Sport Star

CU's Dave Logan enjoyed a nine-year career in the NFL, spending eight seasons with the Cleveland Browns and his final year with the Denver Broncos. He caught 263 passes for 4,250 yards (a 16.2 average) and 24 touchdowns. Logan might just be the only athlete ever drafted in three sports. A third round pick of the Browns in 1976, Logan was also drafted by Kansas City in the ninth round of the 1976 NBA draft (forward), and was drafted as a shortstop in the 19th round out of high school by the Cincinnati Reds in the June 1972 Major League Baseball draft. He lettered in football and basketball at Colorado.

Dick Anderson

Other Tidbits

Colorado has had its share of flurries in the NFL Draft. In the 1995 draft, seven CU players were selected among the first 71 picks, believed to be the most ever from one school in the first 75 picks of any NFL Draft ... In the 1991 draft, six Buffs were selected in the first 69 picks of the draft, and in 1976, six were picked in the first 72 ... In the 1977 draft, five Buffs were selected in the second round, and within 18 picks of each other ... Colorado had 58 players drafted last decade (1991-2000 drafts), the second most in the nation ... On four occasions, Buffaloes have been selected back-to-back: in 1968, 1976 (twice) and in 1993; in '76 and '93, it happened in the first round ... Colorado had at least one player selected in the first round in three consecutive years (1993-94-95), and had players picked in the first round five times in the 1990s ... A real unique quirk came in 1996, when CU had five of its seven seniors selected, with a sixth signing as a free agent ... In the 2003 draft, CU's six players selected topped the Big 12 and were the sixth most nationally ... A couple of Colorado football lettermen, Bob Frederic ('45) and Alabama Glass ('53) were long-time officials in the National Football League ... Dick Anderson ('67) was the Defensive Most Valuable Player in the NFL in 1973 ... Rashaan Salaam ('94) was selected as the Rookie-of-the-Year in the NFC for 1995.

Jim Kelleher

Randy Essington

Colorado's "Mr. Irrelevants"

Colorado remains the only school in the nation to "boast" about having two "Mr. Irrelevants." Begun in 1976, the honor is bestowed on the last selection of the annual National Football League draft. In 1977, the Minnesota Vikings made fullback Jim Kelleher the last pick of the draft, and in 1984, the Los Angeles Raiders selected quarterback Randy Essington to close the books on that year's proceedings.

#11

QB/RB, 6-0, 208, 3L, Boulder, Colo. (Boulder)

A consensus first-team All-American at tailback as a senior in 1969... (Associated Press, United Press International, NEA, Sporting News... AP named him an honorable mention All-American his sophomore year when he played quarterback... He earned first-team All-Big Eight honors at both positions (QB in 1968, TB in 1969)... He moved to tailback for the third game of his senior year (versus Indiana), rushed for 161 yards and three touchdowns and remained there the rest of the season... One of three CU players to have his jersey number retired (#11)... He set 18 single-game, single-season, and career records during his CU career, including 4,565 yard of total offense, a Big Eight record at the time... Also exited as CU's all-time leading rusher (2,367 yards) and scorer (212 points)... He finished 11th in the 1969 Heisman Trophy voting... A member of CU's All-Century team (second-leading vote getter, 5,636 of a possible 6,265)... In his final game for CU, accounted for 295 yards of total offense in the 1969 Liberty Bowl in Memphis, and was voted the game's MVP (his 254 yards and three TDs rushing led CU to a 47-33 win over Alabama)... Also the MVP in the '67 Bluebonnet Bowl win over Miami, Fla. ... A member of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame (inducted 1982), the Big Eight Hall of Fame (inducted 1980) and the CU Athletic Hall of Fame (inducted 1998)... Won the Zac Jordan Award (most valuable player), as voted by his teammate as a senior... A first-round selection in the 1970 NFL draft by the Denver Broncos (11th overall)... Played in 54 NFL games with Denver (1970-74), New England (1975) and Washington (1975)... Has worked on CU football broadcasts since 1977 for KOA-Radio and is a regular participant on the Celebrity Golf Tour.

DICK ANDERSON

SS, 6-2, 205, 3L, Boulder, Colo. (Boulder)

A consensus first-team All-American as a senior in 1967 (Associated Press, NEA)... A first-team All-Big Eight performer as a senior as well, when he was first in the Big Eight and sixth in the nation with a school record seven interceptions... One of three Buffaloes in the College Football Hall of Fame, as he was elected in 1993... A member of the Big Eight Hall of Fame (inducted 1978), the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame (inducted 1980) and CU's All-Century team that was selected in 1989... When he ended his CU career, he was the school's all-time leader in interceptions (14), tackles (266, 123 solo) and was tied for second in pass deflections (13)... A third-round draft pick of the Miami Dolphins in 1968 AFL-NFL draft (73rd overall), and played for Dolphins from 1968-77 (121 career games)... He won two Super Bowl rings with the Dolphins (1972-73), as he was a member of the only undefeated Super Bowl champion team in history (17-0)... An All-Pro performer, he played in Pro Bowl three times (1972-73-74).

TROY ARCHER

#91

DT, 6-4, 245, 2L, Whittier, Calif. (California/Rio Hondo JC)

A first-team All-American as a senior in 1975 (Time Magazine)... Won CU's Dave Jones Award, presented to the most outstanding defensive lineman as voted by his teammates as both a junior and senior... His 14 quarterback sacks (for a whopping 123 yards in losses) were the third most at the time in CU annals and are still the most ever by a Buff who played only two seasons... Played in both the Senior Bowl and the defunct College All-Star game in 1976... A first round selection by the New York Giants in the 1976 NFL Draft (13th overall)... Played in 38 career games for the Giants (1976-78, with a fumble return for a touchdown)... Died tragically in a pickup truck accident on a wet cobblestone road on June 22, 1979, in North Bergen, N.J.

JOHN BAYUK

FB, 6-1, 220, 3L, Salida, Colo. (Salida)

#30

A Sports Illustrated All-American (1956), the same year he was first-team All-Big Seven at fullback... Nicknamed "The Beast," a handle pinned on him by an identified little old lady from Lawrence after a crushing performance against Kansas his sophomore year... His bruising power and good speed were made to order for the fullback trap plays in U's single wing offense of his day... His 1,943 career rushing yards ranked as the third most in CU history at the time of his graduation (with his 24 touchdowns for 144 points the fourth best)... Had seven career 100-yard rushing games, topped by a 250-184 (with 4 TDs) effort at Arizona on Oct. 9, 1954, the sixth best effort at the time at Colorado... A key performer in CU's 27-21 win over Clemson in the '57 Orange Bowl (121 yards on 23 carries with 2 TDs, including the game-winner)... A 16th round draft pick by the Cleveland Browns in the 1957 NFL Draft (185th overall)... Went on to work in personnel in a Denver-based missile building company.

BRAD BEVELL

OG, 6-5, 315, 2L, Arcadia, Calif. (Arcadia/Mt. San Antonio)

#76

A Football Writers Association of America first-team All-America as a senior in 1999, when he was a second-team choice by the Associated Press and third-team by The Football News... A first-team All-Big 12 performer as a senior as well, when he played the second most plays (834) on the team...

Selected by the coaches as the John Mack Award winner as CU's most outstanding offensive player his senior season... Won the Derek Singleton Award as a junior for his team spirit, dedication and enthusiasm... A sixth-round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns in the 2000 NFL draft (206th overall)... Played in 27 career NFL games with Cleveland in 2000-01.

MITCH BERGER

P, 6-3, 220, 3L, Delta, B.C. (North Delta/Tyler JC)

#17

A first-team All-American, earning honors from United Press International as a senior in 1992)... Ended his career as CU's sixth all-time leading punter (168 punts for a 42.72 average); his 44 punts inside-the-20 tied for the second most in CU history... His biggest placekick was a 53-yard field goal at the gun that forged a 24-24 tie with Oklahoma in 1992, keeping alive CU's undefeated streak in Big Eight play at 22 games... He became the 25th player in school history to score 100 points... A sixth-round draft choice by the Philadelphia Eagles (193rd overall) in the '94 NFL Draft... Will become one of a handful of Buffaloes (and players in general) to play 10 seasons in the pros come 2003... Named All-Pro with Minnesota in 1999.

#19

ILB, 6-3, 230, 4L, Longmont, Colo. (Longmont)

One of 10 semifinalists for the Butkus Award as a senior in 1992, when he was a unanimous All-Big Eight selection and an honorable mention All-American by UPI...

CU's Most Valuable Player as selected by his teammates... Was only the second player in school history to lead the team three straight seasons in tackles, and finished his career as CU's second all-time leading tackler (trailing Barry Remington, who was the first three-time tackles leader)... Also All-Big Eight as a junior in 1991, when he was the first and to date only player in school history to score a defensive extra point, as he rambled 85 yards for two points in a 19-19 tie with Nebraska... Set a school record with 19 solo tackles (20 total) at Illinois in 1990... Led the Big Eight in tackles as a sophomore with 150, with his 105 solo stops the second most in the nation for 1990... Had three career games with 2 or more tackles... A seventh round selection by Oakland in the NFL Draft, he played nine seasons with the Raiders before moving on to Minnesota.

HB, 5-7, 195, 4L, West Covina, Calif. (Bishop Amat)

One of the first three unanimous All-Americans in CU history, when the seven NCAA recognized selectors all tabbed him on their first-team in 1990

(along with OG Joe Garten and OLB Alfred Williams that same year)... He finished third in the Heisman voting that year, when he rushed for 1,628 yards as the starting tailback on CU's national championship team; that total was good for second in the nation (he lost the title by 16 yards)... A two-time first-team All-Big Eight performer in 1988 and 1990, and was the conference's offensive player-of-the-year as a senior... Named to CU's All-Century team, the only active member at the time who was selected... Finished his career as CU's all-time leader rusher (3,940 yards), and was also tops in attempts (699), all-purpose yards (4,351) and scoring (254 points) and second in total offense (4,003)... The first (and only) CU player to rush over 1,000 yards in two seasons... A second round selection by San Diego in the 1991 NFL Draft (39th overall), and played nine seasons in the league (San Diego, 1991-94; Cincinnati 1995-98 and Philadelphia 1999... Had NFL career totals of 1,589 yards and 11 touchdowns rushing and 146 receptions for 1,223 yards receiving... He coached running backs for two years for CU (2001-02) before moving on to UCLA.

An Associated Press All-American on defense as a senior in 1952... All-Big Seven Conference selection in both 1951 and 1952... To this day, he remains the CU season record-holder in fumble recoveries (seven in '52) and in takeaways (interceptions and fumble recoveries with nine, also in '52)... A monster on defense, he had at least 20 tackles in CU's 21-21 tie with Oklahoma in 1952, the only blemish in conference play for the Sooners in the 10-year history of the Big Seven (tackles weren't tracked back then)... Earned nine letters in three sports as a Buff (football, baseball, basketball)... Seventh-round draft pick by the N.Y. Giants in the 1953 NFL Draft (79th overall)... Went on to become an assistant coach at Montana and then for British Columbia and Ottawa in the Canadian Football League.

A first-team All-American by the Football News as a senior in 1971 (honorable mention by the Associated Press)... Winner of the Zack Jordan Award for CU's most valuable player (1971)...

Owns CU and NCAA record for career touchdowns scored on kick returns (eight, six punts and two kickoffs)... He had four in both 1970 and 1971, still CU records, as are his six career punt return TDs... Ended his CU career second in school history in punt return yards (733; was third in kickoff return yards with 755)... His six punt return TDs were all between 59 and 75 yards, while his two kickoff return scores covered 100 and 97 yards... Averaged 18.5 yards per catch, best in school history at the time for 35 or more career catches (it's still sixth)... A fourth round by Oakland in the 1972 NFL Draft (98th overall)... Played in 83 career NFL games, all with the Raiders (1972-85), and caught 601 passes for 8,685 yards and 67 touchdowns for Oakland, all numbers second at the time in team history... He won three Super Bowl Rings with the Raiders (1976, 1980, 1983)... A four-time NFL All-Pro selection (1974-75-76-77), playing in the Pro Bowl those four years... Played one year in the Arena Football League with Los Angeles (1988).

A first-team All-American by The Sporting News as a senior in 1975, when the United Press International named him second-team... A first-team Academic All-Big-Eight team member as a junior in '74... Played in 1976 Hula Bowl... Majored in biology at CU... Considered the top center in the nation by most NFL scouts as a senior... A first-round draft pick by

New England in the 1976 NFL draft and the 12th overall pick; it was the highest-ever a Colorado offensive lineman was selected in the draft at the time, and would remain for 21 years until Chris Naeole was selected 10th by New Orleans (though younger brother Stan was also drafted 12th)... He played for Patriots in 154 career NFL games (66 starts), and scored a touchdown on a 6-yard reception as an eligible receiver as a rookie in 1976.

STAN BROCK

OT, 6-7, 270, 4L, Beaverton, Ore. (Jesuit)

A first-team All-American by The Sporting News as a senior in 1979, when he also was a unanimous first-team All-Big Eight performer and a CU team captain... Winner of the John Mack Award as CU's outstanding offensive lineman as voted by teammates that same year... Played in both the 1980 Senior and Hula bowls... A first-round draft pick by New Orleans in the 1980 NFL Draft (12th overall, matching older brother Pete's mark of the highest a CU offensive lineman was selected; it would last 17 more seasons)... Played in 234 career NFL games with New Orleans (1980-92) and San Diego (1993-95), at one point playing in 112 straight games between 1989-95... He has played the most professional games of any CU alumni in the National Football League.

Big Eight selection... He rebounded from a broken hand, back spasms and a separated shoulder to post 88 tackles, with 15 for losses... Also All-Big Eight as a junior when he racked up 125 tackles for second on the team... He ended his career as CU's fourth all-time leading tackler (369), was third all-time in solo stops (242) and fourth in tackles for loss (38)... Played inside linebacker as a freshman and sophomore before switching to the outside, where he would record 14 quarterback sacks over the next two seasons... Also made a name for himself as he had one of the more interesting hobbies in CU football history: he bred snakes and lizards, once even traveling to Costa Rica to hunt the reptiles at night... A second round pick by Pittsburgh in the 1993 NFL Draft (44th overall), he played four seasons with the Steelers (1993-96) before moving out west, where he's been with Seattle ever since.

A first-team All-American by the AFCA as a junior in 2002 (second-team by the Associated Press and The Sporting News), when was the runner-up for the Doak

Walker Award (presented to the nation's top running back)... He finished eighth in the balloting for the Heisman, an honor he would have contended for had it not been for a late season injury (he received five first place votes and 48 points)... The Colorado Sports Hall of Fame selected him as its collegiate athlete of the year for the state of Colorado... He was having quite a season prior to missing the last two games with a severely bruised sternum, as in 11 games, he rushed for 1,744 yards, the second highest single-season total in school history, doing so on the strength of nine 100-plus yard rushing games (he had 14 for his career)... He led the nation in rushing for a six-week period in 2002 en route to finishing third in the NCAA... A unanimous All-Big 12 selection, he led the Big 12 in rushing, scoring and all-purpose yards, with the league coaches selecting him as the offensive player of the year... He has one of the three 300-yard rushing games in school history (309 at Kansas in 2002)... As a sophomore, he led the team in rushing, as his tough, aggressive running keyed late season wins over Nebraska to win the Big 12 North Division and then over Texas to claim the league crown; he had 198 and 182 yards, respectively, in those games, and scored a school record six touchdowns against the Cornhuskers (and added three in the title game)... Declared himself eligible for the NFL Draft following his junior season, and was a third round pick (93rd overall) by the Tennessee Titans.

An honorable mention All-American as a senior in 1996 by the Football News, as he was the unanimous first-team All-Big 12 quarterback in the conference's inaugural season... That same year, he was a finalist for the Johnny Unitas Award and a semifinalist for the Davey O'Brien Award... Set numerous passing records as a senior, when he passed for 3,156 yards and 22 touchdowns... Was off to a terrific start in '95 until he was sidelined with a torn ACL (he was such a gamer that after missing a game, he tried to comeback but a specially fitted brace couldn't supply enough support)... At the time of the injury, he was the nation's leading passer with a 189.4 rating... Redshirted in 1993... Started his career as a true freshman in 1992, playing in seven games including two starts (Oklahoma, Nebraska); he threw for 418 yards and five touchdowns against the Sooners, both highs in a debut for a CU starting quarterback; he also threw a 92-yard touchdown pass to Charles Johnson, which stood for 10 years as the longest pass play in school history... In 18 career starts, including bowls, he led CU to a 14-3-1 record... Second all-time at Colorado with 14 games of 200-plus yards passing; his five of 40 or more and seven 300-plus are school bests... Ended his career by being named the MVP of the '96 Holiday Bowl, when he completed 25 of 45 passes for 371 yards and three touchdowns in Colorado's 33-21 win over Washington... Older brother, Ty, won the Heisman Trophy as a junior at Brigham Young in 1990... A seventh round selection by Philadelphia in the 1997 NFL Draft, he has spent his entire career with the Eagles (1997-2002); though basically the back-up signal caller, he has spot-started on occasion.

The sixth unanimous All-America in Colorado history, as he was afforded first-team honors by the six organizations recognized by the NCAA as a senior in 2001:

Associated Press, AFCA, FWAA, Walter Camp, The Sporting News and The Football News... He won the eighth postseason trophy ever by a Buffalo when he received the John Mackey Award, which cited him as the nation's best tight end... He was a unanimous first-team all-Big 12 team member (AP, Coaches) in starting all 12 games en route to catching 51 passes for 753 yards and six touchdowns and 37 first downs; he was second in the nation in receptions by a tight end, and was first in both yards and touchdowns... He tied the single-season team mark for receptions by a tight end, but set the record for the most TE receiving yards for a solo year... He had 106 career receptions for 1,543 yards, numbers that ranked him first in both categories among all tight ends ever at Colorado... He took great pride in his blocking; he had 101 dominant blocks and 138 downfield blocks as a senior... He became just the sixth player to lead CU in tight end receiving for three straight seasons... He received the John Mack Award from the staff as the most outstanding offensive performer, and the players elected him the Zack Jordan Award winner as the overall MVP... His 10 receptions against Oregon in the '02 Fiesta Bowl tied the school record for most in a game by a tight end... A first round pick in the 2002 NFL Draft by New England (21st overall).

ANDRE GURODE

OG, 6-4, 320, 4L, Houston, Texas (North Shore)

#65

As a senior in 2001, he earned first-team All-America honors from the Associated Press, ABC Sports Online, CNN-SI.com, NEA and The Sporting News (the Football News tabbed him an honorable mention selection)... He was also on the watch lists for both the Outland and Lombardi awards, but did not advance to semifinalist status, which was done only eight games into the season; that was a shame as two of his most dominant performances, against Nebraska and Texas, were nationally televised games after the awards were pared down... He was a unanimous first-team All-Big 12 selection and one of the reasons Colorado averaged over 200 yards both rushing and passing for the season for only the third time in school history... He led the Buffs in domination blocks with 112, and also topped the team in touchdown blocks (21), great pass protection plays (14) and downfield blocks (48), while allowing but one-half a quarterback sack and one pressure on passing calls... He was presented with the Derek Singleton Award by the coaches for spirit, dedication and enthusiasm... A two-time first-team All-Big 12 performer as a junior and senior, and won the John Mack Award, as selected by the coaches for being CU's most outstanding offensive player his junior year... Was very versatile, playing both guard and center during his Buff career... Two-time recipient of the Joe Romig Award as the outstanding offensive lineman in spring drills (2000, 2001)... A second round choice by Dallas in the 2002 NFL Draft (37th overall).

DARIAN HAGAN

QB, 5-10, 185, 4L, Los Angeles, Calif. (Locke)

A first-team All-American as a sophomore in 1989 by The Sporting News, when he earned third-team honors from the Associated Press (and honorable mention from UPI)... He finished fifth in Heisman Trophy voting, when he was the first Buff and just the sixth player at the time in NCAA history to record 1,000 yards for the season in both rushing and passing... The first-team All-Big Eight quarterback in 1989, as well as the conference's Offensive Player of the Year... A two-time winner of the Zack Jordan Award as Colorado's most valuable player (selected by his teammates his sophomore and senior years)... Placed 17th in the Heisman voting as a junior in '90 (when teammate Eric Bieniemy was third)... The first time he called his number as CU's starting quarterback in 1989, he raced 75 yards to the 1-yard line against Texas in CU's 27-6 win... Bounced back to play as a senior despite suffering a torn knee ligament late in the first half of the '91 Orange Bowl... Finished his career as CU's second all-time leader passer (3,801 yards), with his 137.6 rating the best at the time... His 2,007 rushing yards were and remain the most by a quarterback in CU history... He had nine career 100-yard rushing and three career 200-yard passing games... Compiled a 28-5 record as CU's starting quarterback, including a 19-0-1 mark in Big Eight Conference games... Was allowed to return punts as a senior to showcase his other abilities for the NFL, and ranked 19th in the NCAA (11.5 average)... A ninth round draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in the 1992 NFL draft (242nd pick overall)... Played five seasons in the Canadian Football League with Toronto (1992-93), Las Vegas (1994) and Edmonton (1995-96)... Inducted into CU's Athletic Hall of Fame (class of 1999).

CARROLL HARDY

HB, 6-0, 180, 4L, Sturgis, S.D. (Sturgis)

#27

One of the most prolific three-sport athletes in CU history, earning a total of 10 letters in football, baseball and track... An honorable mention football All-American in 1953 and 1954 and an all-Big Seven pick as a senior, he rushed for 1,999 career yards, with his 6.87 per carry easily the best-ever at Colorado for any player with 60 or more carries... He also scored 152 points, second most at the time and still 14th best in Buff history... Easily owns the school's best average per rush for 10 carries or more in a game, when he rolled up 238 on just 10 tries (23.8 per) against Kansas State in 1954... In baseball, he is CU's all-time career batting average leader (.392), twice batting over .400, and is also CU's career triples leader with 12... As a sprinter on the track team, he once ran a 9.8 in the 100-yard dash, one of the fastest times posted for his day... Played in the '55 Hula Bowl, starting in the backfield along side another famous name, Doak Walker... Hardy is one of just a few to play two professional sports, spending one year with the San Francisco 49ers (1955) and eight years in baseball with four different teams... He was a third round selection by the 49ers (33rd overall) in the '55 NFL Draft... As a major league baseball player with the Boston Red Sox, he is also remembered for being the only man to pinch-hit for the late Ted Williams as well as Carl Yastrzemski... A member of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame (inducted in 1979) and was named to CU's All-Century Team in 1989... He managed in the minor leagues and eventually went into scouting with the Denver Broncos and Kansas City Chiefs.

E, 6-4, 230, 3L, Davenport, Iowa (Davenport)

An Associated Press and Football Writers Association of America/ Look All-American in 1961 (second-team by NEA, third-team by AFCA, The Sporting News)...

Two-time All-Big Eight Conference first-team performer (1960-61)... Recorded the fifth 100-yard receiving game in school history, catching four passes for 137 yards and a score against Arizona in 1960; it set the CU single game mark for yards at the time... In addition to being a great blocker and excellent receiver on offense, he was a tough defensive end and a fine placekicker; he booted 54-yard field goal against Oklahoma State in 1961, the longest in school history at the time and the longest in the nation that season... His 696 career receiving yards at the time of his graduation was a school record, one that would hold for seven more seasons... An honorable mention member on CU's All-

Century team... First-round draft pick by the N.Y. Giants in the 1962 NFL draft (13th overall; selected as an OLB)... Played for Giants from 1963-66, St. Louis Cardinals (1967) and Pittsburgh (1968-70)... He played in 99 career NFL career games, making 1 interceptions and scoring three touchdowns.

HALE IRWIN

S/QB, 6-0, 180, 3L, Boulder, Colo. (Boulder)

#10

Irwin had one of the rarest two-sport combinations in college athletics, as he earned a combined six letters in football and golf... After playing quarterback as a sophomore, he became a two-time first-team all-Big Eight selection at weak side safety 1965 and 1966, making nine interceptions... He was a two-time Academic All-Big Eight team member as a junior and senior... In 1989, he was selected to CU's 25-member All-Century Football Team for CU's first 100 years of football... But he made his mark in the game of golf, first at Colorado, and then professionally: a two-time Big Eight Conference champion (1966, 1967) still holds CU's single-season mark for stroke average he set as a junior (71.86)... He capped his collegiate career by claiming medalist honors at the 1967 NCAA Championships... As a professional, he had 20 PGA Tour wins, including three U.S. Open titles (1974, 1979, 1990)... He has since become the all-time leading money winner on the Champions (Senior) PGA Tour, thanks to a Senior Tour record 35 wins through 2002... His son Steve followed in his footsteps, also lettering on the Buffalo golf team in the mid-1990s, and nephew Heath was an All-American in football... His younger brother, Phil, was the first CU athlete to grace the cover of Sports Illustrated (pictured after CU ended Penn State's 31-game unbeaten streak)... He is a member of both the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame (inducted 1986) and the Colorado Golf Hall of Fame (inducted 1974), as well as an inaugural member of the CU Golf Hall of Fame (inducted 1989).

A first-team All American by the Associated Press as a senior in 1995 (he was an honorable mention selection by UPI)... A first-team All-Big Eight performer that season as well, when he played the most snaps from scrimmage (742) by any player on the team... It was about as perfect a senior year a lineman could have, as he did not allow a quarterback sack or a pressure, and wasn't called for a single penalty... He was the first offensive lineman to score a touchdown for CU in 25 years when he recovered a fumble in the endzone against Nebraska in 1995... He saw some action on the goal-line defensive unit as a senior... Father (Phil) played linebacker at Colorado from 1968-70; uncle (Hale) played football and golf for the Buffs and went on to star in professional golf... A fourth round choice by New England in the 1996 NFL Draft (101st overall)... Has played with New England (1996-99), Miami (2000-01), St. Louis (2002) and signed on with Denver for 2003.

CHARLES E. JOHNSON

WR, 6-1, 185, 3L, San Bernardino, Calif. (Cajon)

An Associated Press second-team All-American as a senior in 1993, when he became the first and only wide receiver in Big Eight Conference history to be named the league's Offensive Player of the Year (by both the AP and league coaches)... He led the Big Eight in receiving (98.4 yards per game) and was sixth nationally... The first player in Colorado history to record two 1,000-yard receiving seasons, and finished his career as CU's all-time leading receiver at the time with 2,447 yards... Set 14 team receiving records during his Buff career, which also included the most 100-yard receiving games (12) in school history... Also lettered in outdoor track... A first round pick by Pittsburgh in the 1994 NFL Draft (17th overall)... He played with Pittsburgh (1994-98), Philadelphia (1999-2000), New England (2001) and Buffalo (2002).

The runner-up for the Dick Butkus Award in 1994, when he was All-Big Eight and a third-team Associated Press All-American... He was semifinalist for the national defensive player of the year by the Football News... CU's defensive MVP (Dave Jones Award winner) as a senior, when he led the conference in tackles with 147... He finished his career as CU's third all-time leading tackler (409) and second in solo stops (253)... Lost in CU's 27-26 win on the miracle "catch" play at Michigan was the fact that he was the Big Eight's defensive player of the week, with 14 tackles and a key forced fumble in the fourth quarter... Had a pair of 20-tackle games in his career, as a sophomore and senior and both at Nebraska... A second round pick by New England in the 1995 NFL Draft (57th overall)... He has spent his entire pro career with the Patriots (1995-2002).

BEN KELLY

CB, 5-10, 190, Cleveland, Ohio (Mentor Lake Catholic)

A first-team All-American at cornerback by the Football News as a junior in 1999; he was a second-team choice (AAFF) and a third-team selection (Associated Press) at kick returner... A three-time first-team All-Big 12 performer his freshman through junior seasons, the sixth Buff to accomplish the feat of becoming a three-time all-league selection; he was the kick return man on the '97 team, when he was selected the Big 12 Conference freshman of the year, and was honored at both cornerback and kick returner as a sophomore and junior... He became CU's all-time leader in kickoff return yardage in just his 20th career game, and finished his career with 1,798 yards, 600 yards ahead of the No. 2 man, M.J. Nelson... Defensively, his 11 career interceptions tied for sixth all-time for the Buffaloes... CU's all-time leader in non-offensive touchdowns with nine (four kick-off, three punt, two fumble); included in that count is an NCAA bowl record 88-yard punt return for a score against Boston College in the '99 Insight.com Bowl... Co-winner of the Dave Jones Award, presented to CU's outstanding defensive player as selected by the coaches as a sophomore in 1998; co-winner of the Lee Willard Award as CU's outstanding freshman in his redshirt season in '97...

Opted to declare for the NFL Draft following his junior year, the fifth player at the time in CU history to do so... A third round pick by Miami in the 2000 NFL Draft (84th overall)... He spent two years with the Dolphins (2000-01) before moving on to New England.

#70

A first-team All-American as a senior in 1975 by the Associated Press (honorable mention by UPI), the first tackle (offensive or defense) to be afforded the honor at Colorado... A first-team All Big-Eight Conference performer that same year... The recipient of the John Mack Award as a senior, as the team's most outstanding lineman... Also lettered in baseball at Colorado, playing first base with a .350 average, 28 runs batted in and five tape-measure home runs his junior year (spring of 1975)... Also dabbled in rodeo (calf-roping)... A first round choice by Green Bay in the 1976 NFL Draft (23rd overall)... He played in 58 career NFL games with Green Bay (1976-81) and Houston (1982).

The first, and to this day, the only Colorado player to lead the nation in any statistical category in back-to-back seasons, as he was the country's top rusher as a junior (906 yards in 1934) and senior (1,043 in 1935)... A two-time All-Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference performer, he just missed out on All-America honors... He also led the nation in all-around yardage as a senior with an amazing 2,225 (1,043 rushing, 64 passing, 530 punt returns and 288 kickoff returns)... He also averaged around 40 yards per kick as the team's punter... His backup in 1935, when he led the nation in rushing was none other than Byron White... The first Buff to play in a postseason All-Star game when he competed in the East-West Shrine Game on Jan. 1, 1936... He played six different instruments and conducted his own orchestra in college, leading to one of his nicknames, "The Crooning Quarterback"... He earned seven letters in three sports:

football (three) and track and wrestling (two in each), and also was a local boxing champion... Served as a lieutenant in the Navy for almost three years during World War II... Upon his return, he went to work for CU for what would be the next 36 years, the majority as athletic business manager... A member of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame (inducted in 1971)... A member of CU's All-Century Team, selected in 1989... Inducted into the CU Athletic Hall of Fame in 1999, the group's second class... Full name was William C. Lam... He passed away on April 23, 1993 at the age of 81.

Sporting News (only the fourth Buff to earn unanimous honors)... A Playboy Preseason All-American prior to his senior year... He was an honorable mention All-American as a junior in 1990... A two-time first-team All-Big Eight selection as a junior and senior, the first Buff center to ever be honored twice with all-league honors... One of six finalists for the 1991 Outland Trophy Award... In over 2,200 career plays, he allowed just four quarterbacks sacks and was called for a penalty only four times... Won the Derek Singleton Award as a senior (for spirit, enthusiasm and dedication)... A ninth round pick by Kansas City in the 1992 NFL Draft (244th overall)... He played in 137 career NFL games with Chicago Bears (1992-95), Indianapolis (1996-98), Cincinnati (1999) and Washington (2000)... Returned to Colorado after his retirement and is a high school teacher in Denver and is currently the radio color analyst for CU football for KOA-Radio.

WR, 6-5, 225, 4L, Wheat Ridge, Colo. (Wheat Ridge)

A first-team All-American as a senior in 1975 as selected by The Sporting News... A Playboy Preseason All-American prior to his junior season, the lone Buff to ever make the squad as a non-senior... He caught 68 passes for 1,078 yards in his CU career, numbers that both ranked second at the time of his graduation and remain in the top 20 all-time... A two-sport star at CU (he also lettered in basketball, averaging 14.1 points in 58 career games), Logan might just be the only athlete drafted in three sports: he was a third round pick by Cleveland in the 1976 NFL Draft (65th overall); the Kansas City Kings nabbed him in the ninth round of the '76 NBA Draft; and the Cincinnati Reds had drafted him as an infielder and pitcher in the 19th round of baseball's June draft out of high school... He played in 119 NFL games with Cleveland (1976-83) and Denver (1984)... Snared 263 passes for 4,250 yards and 24 touchdowns in his pro career... Has settled back home in Colorado where he starred as a prep; he is high school head coach, a longtime participant in the radio sportstalk scene in Denver, and is the radio play-by-play voice of the Denver Broncos after several years as the color analyst... He also worked several CU football games for KCNC-TV as the color commentator.

He was a consensus first-team All-America as a senior in 2002, earning honors from the Associated Press, AFCA, Walter Camp, and The Sporting News, and was the unannous All-Big 12 punter... He enjoyed quite a senior year, leading the nation in punting for the regular season with a 48.2 gross average and was second after the bowls (47.4); his 43.0 net average was also second nationally... Those two figures paved the way for him to win the third annual Ray Guy Award, presented to the nation's top punter... Received the team's Bill McCartney Award for outstanding special teams play as a senior... He led the NCAA in punting for three months, since the second week of the season, and averaged over 50 yards per kick well into October... Of his 61 punts overall, 16 were inside-the-20 (nine inside-the-10), with a school record 29 for 50-plus yards (10 carried 60 or more yards)... He averaged 51.5 yards per punt on CU's side of the 50, and on kicks inside the Buff 25, he averaged a gaudy 52.6 yards per punt... He set CU records for career gross (46.8) and net (41.9) average, as his season average of 48.21 bested a 52-year old school record for a single year, as he edged out Zack Jordan's 48.16 back in 1950... He earned only honorable mention all-Big 12 honors as a junior, despite the fact that he led the conference with a 44.5 average... Undrafted by the NFL (kickers rarely are in the modern 7-round draft), he signed as a free agent with New Orleans.

He is one of just six players in Colorado history to be afforded three-time first-team all-conference honors, as he was an

All-Big Eight cornerback in 1985-86-87... His 332 career tackles set a school record for the most by a defensive back, a record that would stand for 14 years, and his 30 career pass deflections was the Buff standard for 12 seasons... He had nine career forced fumbles, the third most at CU... He led all Big Eight defensive backs in tackles as a junior (106) and senior (108)... Was a finalist for the inaugural Jim Thorpe Award in 1986... His sack of Oregon quarterback Chris Miller as time expired preserved a 21-17 Colorado win 1985, the impetus for CU's first winning season in seven years (see Big Plays Not In The Boxscore for more)... CU's most valuable player his senior year, as selected by his teammates... A member of CU's All-Century team, selected in 1989, and a first-team Big Eight All-Decade selection (1980-89)... Undrafted out of college, he signed as a free agent and played 62 games in the NFL with Chicago (1988-90) and Dallas (1991-92).

Had five games of 20 or more tackles, the most by any Buff in school history (his career high was 23 at Oklahoma State in 1984)... Overcame several injuries in his career, ranging from knee surgery as a sophomore

(he received an extra year of eligibility as the injury was in the second game), a pinched nerve in his neck and stepping on a bottle that sprayed acid into an eye... Did not play professionally, at has been an executive with Clearchannel (KOA-Radio) in Denver for several years.

JOE ROMIG

OG/LB, 5-10, 199, 3L, Lakewood, Colo. (Lakewood)

#67

The first two-time, first-team All-American in CU history, a consensus selection both times, as he made nine teams as a junior in 1960 and 11 as a senior in '61 (just missing unanimous honors by one team—the Associated Press squad; it pegged him honorable mention)... As a junior, he was a second-team choice by the AP and The Sporting News (1960)... A Playboy Preseason All-American team member prior to his senior season... He finished sixth overall in the 1961 Heisman Trophy voting, when he was the UPI Lineman-of-the-Year... He had no peer in his day as a linebacker, as he ranged far and fiercely from his middle position behind a four-man front, consistently in on most of the stops before tackles were recorded as a statistic. On offense, he developed into an excellent straight-ahead and pulling blocker. Three-time All-Big Eight team member (1959-60-61), as was CU's team captain as a senior... One of three Buffs to have his jersey number retired (#67)... Owned a grade point average in excess of 3.9 at Colorado, and earned the prestigious Rhodes scholarship (he posted straight A's his last six semesters)... He received masters in physics from Oxford University in England... Earned his doctorate in physics from CU in 1975... The second Buffalo, joining Byron White, to be inducted into the National Football Foundation's College Football Hall of Fame (enshrined in 1984)... One of the top vote-getters in being named to CU's All-Century team, and was inducted in 1999 into CU's Athletic Hall of Fame... Also in the Big Eight Hall of Fame (inducted 1976)... Member of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame (inducted in 1973) and the GTE Academic Hall of Fame (enshrined in 1989)... Has worked life-long in Boulder in the field of physics, and has also taught astronomy on UCB campus.

A consensus first-team All-American as a junior in 1989 (Associated Press, United Press International, Walter Camp and FWAA)... He was an honorable mention All-American as a senior in 1990 (UPI)... A Playboy Preseason All-American prior to his senior year... A first-team All-Big Eight performer as a junior with gaudy averages of 45.9 per punt and a 43.8 net figure; both numbers were first in the nation... He was the only unanimous player on the all-league team at any position... He slipped to honorable mention all-Big Eight status as a senior after encountering a series of bad breaks (of his 54 punts, 15 were into breezes and 17 came in opponent territory on the other side of the 50, all while nursing a pulled groin muscle for about a third of the season)... Started his career up the road at Colorado State but transferred to CU after two seasons there... Signed as a free agent with the Denver Broncos in 1993 after having a solid '92 campaign with Ohio in the World League of American Football (WLAF)... He played in 144 games with the Denver Broncos over 10 seasons (1993-2002; punting 612 times for a 44.0 yard average)... Earned two Super Bowl rings with the Broncos in 1997 and 1998... Latched on with the New York Giants and then the Pittsburgh Steelers the second half of the 2002 season after the Broncos released him.

A consensus first-team All-American as a senior in 1996 (Associated Press, Walter Camp, FWA and The Sporting News... A third-team All-American by the Associated Press his junior season in 1995 (honorable mention by UPI)... Won the Butkus Award as a senior, presented to the nation's top line-backer... Two-time first-team all-conference selection (All-Big Eight as a junior in '95; All-Big 12 as a senior in '96)... Co-winner of the Zack Jordan Award, selected by his peers, as the team's most valuable player his senior season... Won the Dave Jones Award as the most outstanding defensive player in 1995... Finished his career as the second all-time leading tackler in Colorado history (446), with his 282 unassisted tackles setting a school record that still stands... Sealed the Butkus with a big game on national TV at Nebraska (16 tackles, 12 solo, two third down quarterback sacks and two fumble recoveries)... Career-high in tackles was 23 at Missouri as a senior, as he had 22 career games with 10 or more tops... Established the freshman record for tackles in a season with 85 in 1993... He played in 44 career games, including starts in the last 40 (48 and 44, including bowls)... A fourth round choice by Detroit in the 1997 NFL Draft (130th overall)... He played in 14 career NFL games with Detroit (1997-99), and a pair of knee injuries cut short a promising career... Helped coach the secondary at Colorado during the 2000 season while assistant coach Tom McMahon was battling cancer... Scouted for a time for the New England Patriots during their Super Bowl run in 2001.

He won the first Heisman Trophy in Colorado history, claiming the 60th annual award as a junior in 1994, easily winning by some 248 votes and 842 points... The fifth unanimous All-American in Colorado history that season, as he became just the fourth player in college football history at the time to rush for over 2,000 yards in a single season... In setting the single-season CU rushing mark with 2,055 yards, he did not play in five fourth quarters and on two other occasions, he played only briefly in the third quarter; over half of the yards (1,040) came against ranked opponents... Set a school scoring mark that same year with 24 touchdowns for 144 total points... Reeled off nine consecutive 100-yard games in '94, including four 200-plus yard games (both school records)... Ended his career as only the second Buff to exceed 3,000 career rushing yards (3,057)... In CU's miraculous 27-26 win at Michigan in 1994 that became known as "The Catch," he accomplished two significant things: his 141 rushing yards were the most by an opponent player in the Big House in 21 seasons, and he helped Tony Berti keep a defender at bay with a key block, freeing Kordell Stewart to unload the game-winning 64-yard pass to Michael Westbrook as time expired... A week later, he rushed for 317 yards in extreme heat in a 34-31 win at Texas, the second highest single-game total in CU history (he set the mark for the most yards gained from scrimmage with 362 as he also had 45 receiving)... First-team all-Big Eight in both 1993 and 1994... Put 165 yards rushing on Nebraska as a sophomore after missing just one game with a painful orbital eye fracture... Rushed for 135 yards and three TDs in being named CU's MVP in the '93 Aloha Bowl... His father, Harold "Teddy" Washington, played freshman football for Colorado in 1963 before transferring closer to home to San Diego State... He opted to turn professional following his junior season (he made the announcement minutes after CU defeated Notre Dame in the Fiesta Bowl), he was a first round pick by Chicago in the 1995 NFL Draft (21st overall)... He played three seasons for the Bears (1995-97), winning the NFC Rookie-of-the-Year honor in 1995 when he rushed for 1,074 yards and 10 TDs... Had career numbers of 1,682 rushing yards, 120 receiving yards and 14 touchdowns for the Bears... He also played briefly with Cleveland and Green Bay in 1999... Also played in the short-lived XFL... Knee and ankle injuries hampered his career (he underwent an ankle reconstruction), but he signed with San Francisco in 2003 in a final attempt to return to football.

#12

S/P, 5-1, 180, 3L, Denver, Colo. (Thomas Jefferson)

A first-team All-Big Eight performer as a senior in 1972. Stearns was the team's most valuable player that same season...

Known as "Bad Dude," he was one of the fiercest hitters in the old Big Eight and made a name for himself as one of the more colorful players in CU history... He set the career record for interceptions at Colorado with 16, a number that still stood some 30 years later, with his 18 pass deflections good for third at the time of his graduation... Pulled off perhaps the "gutsiest" play in school history, when he ran for a 12-yard game out of the punt formation, from the Buff 10-yard line no less, on a 4th-and-9 play with CU nursing a 23-17 lead... In baseball at CU, he was the 1972 Big Eight batting champion (.492), the 1973 NCAA home run leader (15) and an All-American as a senior in '73... Career numbers: batting (.366), hits (169), runs scored (137), home runs (26), runs batted in (101), steals (48)... He was drafted in two sports: Buffalo snared him in the 17th round of 1973 NFL Draft, late on purpose because he was going to go the baseball route; two months later, Philadelphia selected him as the second overall pick, behind David Clyde, in the June baseball draft (catcher; Oakland had drafted him in the first round and ninth overall out of high school)... He spent less than two years in the minor league and ascended to the majors by the end of the '74 season, playing for the first time on Sept. 22, 1974... Traded to the New York Mets during the off-season, he would spend the next 10 seasons with the Mets in becoming one of their most popular players of all time... In 810 career big league games, he batted .249 (696 of 2,681), with 46 home runs and 312 runs batted in... He had 9 career steals and a .984 fielding percentage... After he retired from baseball, he spent time as a coach and scout in the majors, working for the Mets and the Philadelphia Phillies... He was managing on the triple-A level with Binghamton (Mets system) in 2003.

QB, 6-3, 210, 4L, Marrero, La. (John Ehret)

A second-team Associated Press All-American, the highest honor ever afforded a Colorado quarterback from the wire service (along with Darian Hagan in 1989)... The Big Eight Conference's all-time total offense leader with 7,770 yards... First-team All-Big Eight as a senior... CU's career leader in both total offense and passing yards (6,481)... First-team all-Big Eight as a senior in 1994, when he was the Buffs' most valuable player... The MVP of the '95 Fiesta Bowl, as he rushed for 143 yards and a touchdown while throwing for 205 and a TD in CU's 41-24 rout of Notre Dame... That was the first and remains the only game in school history where a player threw for 200 yards and rushed for 100... Finished 13th in the Heisman balloting that year, when teammate Rashaan Salaam won... Only player in CU history to have three 2,000-yard passing seasons... His 1,289 rushing yards were the second most by a quarterback in school history... Had 19 200-yard passing games and seven 300-yard total offense games in his career... At the time, he posted the most prolific first start at quarterback in school history, throwing for 409 yards and four touchdowns in a 37-17 win over Colorado State to open his sophomore year... Key player in college football's play of the century, when he heaved a 64-yard pass to Michael Westbrook that rallied CU to a 27-26 win as time expired at Michigan in 1994 (the game became known as "The Catch")... A second round pick by Pittsburgh in the '95 NFL Draft (61st overall)... Though nicknamed "Slash" early in his professional career because he played some wide receiver (thus a QB/WR listing on the roster), he never went out for a pass in his college career... Played eight seasons with the Steelers (1995-2002) before moving on to Chicago.

A consensus first-team All-American as a senior in 1995 (United Press International, Walter Camp, Football News); The Sporting News tabbed him second-team while Associated Press named him third-team... A Playboy Preseason All-American prior to his senior year... A two-time first-team All-Big Eight performer (1994, 1995), he became only the second center in school history to be named all-conference twice (joining Jay Eeuwenburg)... He did not allow a quarterback sack after his freshman season (he went over 2,260 plays and 35 games without one), and did not allow a single pressure and was not flagged for a penalty as a senior... He started every game of his CU career (44 regular season, four bowl), only the second Buffalo to start every game of his career... He was one of 10 semifinalists for the Lombardi Award, presented to the nation's outstanding offensive lineman, as a senior... A sixth round pick by San Diego in the 1996 NFL Draft (192nd overall)... He played in 50 career NFL games with San Diego (1996), New York Giants (1997) and Carolina (1998-2000)... Career was cut short due to a knee injury, and he retired back home in the Houston area.

A Football Writers Association of America/Look, NEA and International News Service All-American as a senior in 1957, when he was also first-team all-Big Seven... He was second in the nation in rushing that season, with his 1,097 yards the second most in school history at the time... He had four 100-yard games that year, and three others of 99, 98 and 97 yards... His 1,868 career yards were the fifth most at the time in CU history, as were his 138 points (21 TDs, 12-22 PATs) and 2,760 all-purpose yards... His 2,165 yards of total offense were the fourth most in Buff annals at the time of his graduation... He averaged a healthy 5.7 yards per rush in his career... A second round draft pick in the 1958 NFL Draft by Baltimore (23rd overall), he also played one season in the AFL with Denver (1960)... He went on to become a long-time teacher and coach in the Denver school system.

A two-time first-team All American, as he made the AFCA and Walter Camp teams as a senior in 1994 and the NEA squad as a sophomore in 1992 (the Associated Press tabbed him a second-teamer in '92; United Press International selected him honorable mention both years)... A Playboy Preseason All-American prior to his senior year... A two-time first-team All-Big Eight performer as a sophomore and a senior, he became only the third Buffalo receiver to earn all-league honors and was the first to be named twice... Exited his career as CU's all-time leader in both receptions (167) and receiving yards (2,548)... On the receiving end, via a Blake Anderson tip, of college football's play of the decade if not the century when he hauled down a 64-yard pass from Kordell Stewart after time expired to rally CU to a 27-26 win at Michigan in 1994... That play won an ESPY as the national play of the year in all sports (he's got the actual ESPY since he caught the ball)... CU's most outstanding offensive player (John Mack Award winner) as selected by the coaches for his sophomore season, when he caught a school record 76 passes for 1,060 yards... Had eight career 100-yard game (six of 128 or more), and caught nine or more passes three times, including a school record 11 for 186 yards at Baylor as a soph... Played four snaps on defense at safety his junior year (all against Baylor)... Was named the MVP in the '95 East-West Shrine game... A first round pick by Washington in the 1995 NFL Draft (No. 4 overall; among CU players, only Bo Matthews at No. 2 in 1974 was drafted higher, with Byron White also a fourth pick to Pittsburgh in 1938)... He played in 80 games with Washington over seven seasons (catching 277 passes for 4,280 yards and 24 TDs), before moving on to Cincinnati.

BYRON WHITE

#24

HB, 6-1, 185, 3L, Wellington, Colo. (Wellington)

Equally as known by his nickname ("Whizzer") and more so as Justice White... Colorado's first All-America in any sport, as he was a consensus selection in 1937, including from Associated Press, UPI, International News Service, NEA, LIB, Colliers Magazine (Grantland Rice) and The Sporting News... Led the nation in several categories in 1937: rushing (1,121 yards), total offense (1,596), all-purpose yards (1,970) and scoring (122 points)... Finished second in the 1937 Heisman Trophy voting... The 1,121 rushing yards and 122 points were also NCAA records, and were not broken until colleges went to a 10-game schedule in 1949... Rushed for over 100 yards seven times in that '37 season, almost unheard of in those days... As the record book evolved through the years, it is estimated that at one time, he held as many as 50 individual school marks; in fact, at the time of his death in 2002, he still held 15 records some 65 years after his graduation... One that has stood the test of time is the longest punt in Buff annals, as his 83-yard kick against Missouri on Oct. 2, 1937, often carried the footnote, "without roll"... He participated in six plays of 75 yards or longer (nine 63-plus) in his CU career (runs, returns and the mammoth punt)... The first and one of three Buffs to have his jersey number retired (#24)... He was also a .400 hitter on the baseball team, and a standout on CU's basketball squad that made the N.I.T. in 1938... The fourth overall pick in the first round by Pittsburgh in the 1938 NFL Draft, he was a two-time all-pro halfback with both the Steelers (1939) and Detroit (1940-41); in-between, he studied at Oxford... He led the NFL in rushing twice (567 yards in 1938, 514 in 1940), the first player ever to lead the NFL in rushing his first two seasons... The only player in NFL history to lead the league in rushing as a rookie (1938) for a last place team (Pittsburgh was 2-9)... Awarded the prestigious Rhodes scholarship (in 1938) after an academic career at CU where he had 180 hours of A and 6 hours of B... Hall of Fam Gold Medal Award winner in 1962... One of three inaugural members of the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame (1965 induction). Presented the Theodore Roosevelt Award at the 1969 NCA Honors luncheon... Named to CU's All-Century Team in 1989, as he received more votes than anyone else... GTE Academic All-America Hall of Fame (inducted 1996)... The first inductee into the University of Colorado Athletic Hall of Fame in 1998... Awarde the Bronze Star for service in Europe during WWII... Name deputy U.S. Attorney General by President John Kennedy in 1960... Named to U.S. Supreme Court by Kennedy in 1962 and served 31 years, stepping down in 1993... Died at the age of 84 on April 15, 2002.

LEON WHITE

#63

OL, 6-3, 275, 3L, Bell, Calif. (Bell)

A first-team All-American as a senior in 1977, selected to the American Football Coaches Association/Kodak team as its center (UPI made him a second-team choice)... A Playboy Preseason All-American at tackle prior to his original senior year in 1976, but after he went down with a season-ending knee injury one game into the season, the Big Eight granted him an extra year of eligibility; he moved to center for the following season... Won CU's John Mack Award as the outstanding offensive lineman as selected by his teammates as a senior... He lettered at three different positions on the offensive line: guard (1973-75), tackle (1975-76) and center (1977), and is believed to be the only player in Big Eight history to have done so... He started at least one game in each season, the only known player in CU history to start games in five different years... Owned a 465-pound bench press in college, one of the top efforts in CU history at the time; he also possessed 5.1 speed in the 40-yard dash... Played in three All-Star games after his senior campaign: the Japan Bowl, East-West Shrine Game and the Hula Bowl... A third round pick by the Los Angeles Rams in 1978 NFL Draft (80th overall), and played for the Rams as a rookie that season... Gained notoriety as a professional wrestler, first as "Baby Bull" and then under the name "Vader."

ALFRED WILLIAMS

#94

OLB, 6-6, 240, 4L, Houston, Texas (Jesse Jones)

A unanimous first-team All-American as a senior in 1990 from all seven recognized organizations by NCAA, and a consensus first-teamer as a junior in 1989 (all but the Associated Press and The Sporting News, though AP did name him second-team)... A Playboy Preseason All-American prior to his junior year... He became the first University of Colorado player to win a postseason trophy when he was honored with the Butkus Award as the nation's most outstanding linebacker his senior season (1990)... A two-time first-team All-Big Eight Conference performer as a junior and senior, he was also the Big Eight's Defensive Player-of-the-Year both those seasons... Had 88 tackles, 21 for losses as a senior and 81 and 16, respectively, as a junior... In the final regular season game of his career against Kansas State, he lined up a couple of plays on offense and caught a pass for 17 yards in the 64-3 blasting of the Wildcats... Ended his career as CU's all-time quarterback sack leader (35 for 242 yards), but only had as many as three sacks in a game just once... Also CU's all-time leader in tackles for loss (59 for 303 yards)... A two-time winner of the Dave Jones Award, given to the outstanding defensive player as voted by the coaches (1989, 1990)... The national defensive player-of-the-week as a sophomore for his mini-career in a CU win at Iowa: seven solo tackles, four for losses including two sacks, a forced fumble and a recovery, a pass deflec-tion and a blocked punt... An honorable mention member of CU's All-Century team, selected in 1989... Joined CU's basketball team for a brief stint between his junior and senior seasons; he played in one game, but didn't want to risk his football future (he had a rebound and a steal in a loss at Kansas)... A first round selection by Cincinnati in the 1991 NFL Draft (18th overall)... He played his first four years with the Bengals (1991-94; he was in on 161 tackles including 26 1/2 quarterback sacks)... He then moved on to San Francisco for one season (1995) before spending the last four years of his career with Denver, where he won two Super Bowl rings in 1997 and 1998... He registered 28 1/2 sacks during his time in Denver, including 13 in 1996... An All-Pro defensive end in 1996... He played in 128 career NFL games, racking up 59 1/2 quarterback sacks and one fumble return for a touchdown.

#69

OG, 6-2, 230, 3L, Carlsbad, N.M. (Carlsbad)

An AFCA and General Mills All-American as a senior in 1958, after having earned honorable mention honors as a junior from UPI... First-team All-Big Seven Conference (1957)... Described as a quick, agile tackle who provided bone-crunching lead blocks for one of the nation's top offensive teams during his collegiate career... Also played tackle on defense and was one of CU's best up front... One of the first two black football players at CU, along with teammate Frank Clarke... A fifth-round draft pick of the Cleveland Browns in the 1959 NFL draft (53rd overall)... Played in 136 career games in the NFL with Cleveland (1959-67) and Washington (1968) before moving into a long administrative career in the professional ranks.

COLORADO ATHLETIC HALL OF FAME

The University of Colorado started an Athletic Hall of Fame in 1998, initiating the process by inducting one member, the late Justice Byron R. "Whizzer" White. Sixteen members have been presented for induction overall.

In conjunction with the Hall of Fame, CU also honors athletes who have been standout performers. So far, 27 such athletes have had their jerseys, and thus careers, honored and recognized. Twenty met the automatic criteria to be honored in 1998 (three-time all-conference selection, two-time All-American, trophy winner and/or previously retired jersey).

All Hall of Fame members and those athletes who have been honored are recognized with a display case in the Dal Ward Athletic Center on the CU-Boulder campus.

1938 COTTON BOWL

Jan. 1, 1938 at Dallas, Texas

Colorado 14

In Colorado's first bowl appearance ever, the Buffaloes fell short to Rice 28-14, in the second annual Cotton Bowl. Other than the Rose Bowl, which began in 1902, bowls were relatively new in college football, as the Orange and Sugar came on the scene in 1935 and then the Cotton in 1937, with those four games considered the cream of the crop for the next 50 years.

The Buffs, champions of the Rocky Mountain Conference with an 8-0 overall record, were heavy underdogs ("4 to 1" according to newspaper articles at the time) to the Southwest Conference champion Owls, who entered the game with a 5-3-2 mark, but 5-1-1 down the stretch of the season.

It was a one-man show for both teams, as All-Americans Byron "Whizzer" White (Colorado) and Ernie Lain (Rice) dominated for their respective squads. White was involved in both Colorado scores and Lain in all four Owl touchdowns.

CU sprinted to a 14-0 advantage in the first quarter, when White threw an eight-yard touchdown pass to Joe Antonio for the first TD, and then returned an interception 47 yards for a score five minutes later. Rice battled back and scored 21 second-quarter points to take a 21-14 lead at the half. Lain threw two touchdown passes and ran for another score.

The Owls, also called the "Feathered Flock" at the time, added the game's final score in the middle of the third quarter when Frank Steen caught an 11-yard pass from Lain. One of the major differences in the game came down to offensive style, as the passing game was much further along in the southwest and it showed in the statistics, as Rice had 158 yards passing as compared to just eight for Colorado.

Still, accounts at the time in the newspapers in both Colorado and Texas praised the CU effort, and Buff coach Bunnie Oakes blamed the outcome on CU's quick start. He told the team and reporters that things might have turned out differently had CU not gone up 14-0 and then relaxed, figuring it was easy to score. But Rice's only two turnovers had set up both Colorado scores, and the Owls didn't punt until their first series of the second half.

Lain and White were both named the outstanding players of the game.

Big Seven runner-up Colorado stormed out of the chute and had Atlantic Coast champion Clemson down 20-0 at the half as 72,552 fans yawned and went for refreshments at the 3rd Orange Bowl Classic.

But a lot of those drinks were spilled in the second half as Clemson rallied to take a 21-20 lead in the final period before the resurgent Buffs buckled up and drove for the winning score to take their first bowl triumph in history by a 27-21 score.

Fumbles, eight of them, three lost to Clemson, were a nemesis Colorado managed to overcome in the school's first national television appearance in history. One at the goal line at the end of the first half perhaps prevented CU being able to put the game away, and one on its own 27 with three minutes remaining in the game gave the Tigers one last shot to pull out the win.

Dal Ward's Buffaloes got first half touchdowns from John Bayuk, Howard Cook and Boyd Dowler to take the seemingly safe 20-point halftime lead. But Frank Howard's Tigers roared back to go ahead by 21-20 with 11:12 left in the game on a one-yard run by fullback Bob Spooner.

But the Buffs sucked it up and drove 53 yards for the winning score after a Clemson onside kick attempt following the core had failed. Eddie Dove carried four times and Bayuk three in the drive, with Bayuk getting the TD from the one-yard line with 7:13 left to play. Ellwin Indorf's kick gave CU what proved to be the winning margin.

With less than three minutes to go and facing a 2nd-and-9 on the Buff 26, Clemson's Charlie Bussey was intercepted at the 17 by Bob Stransky, nailing down the decision for the Buffs.

1962 ORANGE BOWL

Louisiana State 25

Colorado 7

Jittery Big Eight champion Colorado was out-classed by Louisiana State's smooth football hordes, and the Buffaloes lost a 25-7 decision in the 28th Orange Bowl Classic before 62,391 onlookers.

Coach Paul Dietzel's Southeast Conference champions built up a 5-0 first quarter lead on field goal and a safety scored when Gary Kinchen blocked a Charlie McBride punt out of the end zone. Colorado came back to grab a 7-5 lead on Buff defender Loren Schweninger's 59-yard pass interception return for a score early in the second quarter.

But the Tigers then methodically dismantled the Buffaloes, and though down by only four at halftime, one had the feeling that the struggling CU offense might not be able to get going in the second half. Colorado had only three plays, for as many yards, in the first quarter, and ran just 17 for 48 in the first half.

LSU took the lead for good in the second quarter, marching 82 yards for the score with Chuck Crawford going in from the one with 8:57 left in the first half to give the Tigers an 11-7 margin that held until the half. The Tigers scored twice quickly in the third quarter to put the game away, going 43 yards after a poor 18-yard punt and blocking another McBride punt for a touchdown just as the period ended.

Sonny Grandelius' Buffs managed only 129 yards in total offense against the LSU "Chinese Bandit" defense, while the Tigers earned 315 yards. CU had come into the game with a 9-1 mark, losing only to Utah and winning all seven Big Eight games to claim its first league crown.

1967 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Dec. 31, 1967 at Houston, Texas

Colorado 31
Miami, Fla. 21

Sophomore quarterback Bobby Anderson ignored a painful ankle injury and ignited Colorado's 31-21 victory over Miami, Fla. at Rice Stadium in the 9th annual Bluebonnet Bowl.

One of the more entertaining games of the '67 bowl season, there were five lead changes and neither team had a two-score lead until Wilmer Cooks put the game away with a 7-yard touchdown run with just 62 seconds to play.

Anderson, the 19-year-old Boulder-bred signal caller, led the Buffaloes on an 80-yard TD march in the third period to give the Herd a 17-14 lead. Then, after the Hurricanes recaptured the lead on the first play of the fourth quarter, Anderson sped 38 yards for a touchdown with 6:55 left in the game to put CU back ahead by 24-21. Anderson then took the Buffs 34 yards for the clinching score with 1:02 to play (Cooks' run) after Isaac Howard had picked off a Miami pass at the Hurricane 43-yard line and returned it nine yards.

The Buffs opened the scoring on a 7-yard run by Larry Plantz with just under five minutes left in the first quarter, as it took CU just two plays to capitalize on a Miami fumble. The Hurricanes answered that score on their next possession, and then took a 14-7 lead on a 77-yard interception return for a touchdown by Jimmy Dye.

Anderson was the complete player in winning game MVP honors, running for 108 yards on 17 carries, scoring two touchdowns, and completing 5-of-10 passes for 49 yards. Oddly, Anderson did not start the game, giving way to fleet Dan Kelly because of his bothersome ankle. Bobby entered the game in the second period after Miami went in front.

1969 LIBERTY BOWL

Dec. 13, 1969 at Memphis, Tenn.

Colorado 47

Alabama 33

All-American tailback Bobby Anderson and his herd of Bison stampeded into Memphis and outslugged Alabama, 47-33, before 50,042 fans and a nationwide television audience in the 11th annual Liberty Bowl.

The 80 combined points by the teams marked the most ever scored in a major bowl game, and the second most at the time in any NCAA postseason game, surpassed only by the 91 points scored in the 1968 Tangerine Bowl (a 49-42 Richmond win over Ohio U.).

Anderson, a bullish 6-0, 208-pounder, capped his All-America campaign by rushing for a Liberty Bowl record 254 yards and scoring three touchdowns. It gave him a total of 5,017 yards in total offense for his career and enabled him to become the first Big Eight player ever to hit the 5,000-yard mark for a career, including bowl games.

Fullback Ward Walsh scored twice on short runs, Dave Haney kicked a 30-yard field goal, Anderson scored from the two, and Steve Engel and Bob Masten collaborated on a 91-yard kickoff return as CU stormed to a 31-19 halftime lead. The Crimson Tide rallied to take a 33-31 lead with two third quarter touchdowns, but CU blitzed 'Bama for 16 unanswered points in the final stanza to post the win.

Defensively, the Buffaloes harassed two Tide quarterbacks all afternoon, posting eight sacks, several knock-downs and seven pass deflections. End Bill Brundige was in on five sacks for 41 yards in losses.

It was the only match up between college coaching legends, as Eddie Crowder's Buffaloes prevailed over Paul "Bear" Bryant's Crimson Tide. It was a classic, as 'Bama stormed back from 17- and 12-point deficits, but CU's resiliency won out.

A total of 16 new Liberty bowl records were set in the long and exciting afternoon in Memphis Memorial Stadium before the ABC-TV cameras.

1970 LIBERTY BOWL

Dec. 12, 1970 at Memphis, Tenn.

Tulane 17
Colorado 3

Hungry Tulane ruined Colorado's return to the Liberty Bowl and the Green Wave walked off with a stunning 17-3 upset of the Buffs as 44,640 fans shivered in the cold at the 21st annual event at Memphis Memorial Stadium.

Colorado, playing without injured quarterback Jim Ratten, and going with sophomore Paul Arendt, mounted little offense and fell to the emotional Tulane effort. CU had come into the game with just a 6-4 record, but had upset owners Penn State and Sugar Bowl-bound Air Force during the season. Tulane used the win to improve to 8-4 on the year and added CU to the list of impressive teams it had beaten, including Georgia, Illinois, North Carolina and Miami, Fla.

CU's only points came on a 32-yard second quarter field goal from Dave Haney as the Buffs managed only 175 yards of total offense after leading the Big Eight with a per-game average of almost 425 yards. Tulane's David Abercrombie returned a second half kickoff 66 yards and scored himself on runs of two and four yards to cap drives that broke a 3-3 halftime tie and sent Tulane to its eighth win of the year. Linebacker Rick Kingrea set up the second tally with a 44-yard interception return off Arendt in the final period.

The game was a total contrast to the '69 Liberty Bowl, where CU and Alabama combined for 80 points and 930 yards. This affair saw just 20 points make it to the scoreboard on just 416 yards of offense.

1971 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Houston 17

Colorado sophomore tailback Charlie Davis returned to his hometown and ripped host Houston for a whopping 202 yards on 37 carries as the Buffs whipped the Cougars, 29-17, in the 13th annual Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl Classic at the Astrodome.

Davis scored twice and was a one-man show in the first half. CU took a 23-14 lead into the dressing rooms, CU marched 70 yards in nine plays on the games first possession, and thanks to a 27-yard run by Davis, took a 7-0 lead less than four minutes into the game. After a pair of Robert Newhouse runs spotted Houston a 14-7 after the first quarter, but CU answered with a 16-point second quarter. A touchdown pass of five yards from Ken Johnson to Larry Brunson, a 32-yard field goal by J. B. Dean, and another TD run by Davis enabled the Buffs to take the nine-point half-time lead.

Houston, behind the running of Newhouse, roared back to narrow the margin to 23-17 with 2:16 left in the third quarter as Mike Terrell kicked a 29-yard field goal. Newhouse, who lost out to Davis for the game's MVP Award, had 168 yards on 35 carries and also scored twice.

Safety John Stearns was a Colorado hero in the fourth period, making the gutsiest fourth down play in school history. On a fourth-and-9 from the Buff 10, he surprised everyone, including the Buff coaching staff, by sprinting 12 yards for a crucial first down after Houston had turned the momentum around and narrowed the margin to just a touchdown on the Terrell field goal. Stearns then knocked down a sure TD pass on fourth down with the Cougars at the CU nine. The Buffs turned that one around and marched for the clinching tally with 3:48 left in the game.

CU finished the season with a 10-2 mark, its only setbacks coming at the hands of national champion Nebraska and to No. 2 Oklahoma. In the Associated Press poll, the Buffs rose to No. 3 in the final balloting with the victory over No. 15 Houston (9-3), marking the first and only time one conference had three schools finish 1-2-3.

1972 GATOR BOWL

Dec. 30, 1972 at Jacksonville, Fla.

Auburn 24
Colorado 3

Auburn, an 11-point underdog to Colorado, took command in the second period and went on to beat the Buffs, 24-3, in the 28th Gator Bowl Classic before 71,114 fans.

It was 17-0 in favor of the Tigers before CU got on the board with just 7:31 left in the game on a Freddie Lima field goal. Auburn shut off the fearsome Colorado rushing attack, limiting the Buffs to just 63 yards in 29 attempts and forced CU quarterback Ken Johnson to the air.

Auburn, sixth-ranked in the nation, took it to Colorado by capitalizing on two CU fumbles and two pass thefts. Johnson, who had directed No. 13 Colorado to an 8-3 regular season coming into the game, hit on 17 of 29 passes for 169 yards, but the Buff running game was shut down.

Garner Jett's 27-yard field goal and a fumble recovery at the Colorado 16-yard line a minute later led to the 10-0 half-time lead for Auburn. Then, in the second half, wingback like Fuller hit tight end Rob Spivey with a 22-yard TD pass late in the third quarter. Holder Dave Beck threw a 16-yard TD pass off a fake field goal to Dan Nugent with just 1:10 left in the game to ice the win.

The Tigers managed only 233 yards on the afternoon, including only 153 on 58 rushing attempts, or just 2.6 per attempt, as the CU defense had 11 tackles for losses totaling 36 yards. But largely due to the turnovers, Auburn's four scoring drives consumed a grand total of only 116 yards.

Auburn finished 10-1 and moved up to a number five ranking for the season.

1975 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Dec. 27, 1975 at Houston, Texas

Texas 38
Colorado 21

Colorado rolled up a commanding 21-7 halftime lead over Texas, then kicked it away as the Longhorns rallied to a 38-21 win in the 17th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl in the Houston Astrodome before 52,748.

In the first half, Colorado built up sizeable advantages in first downs (16-5), total yards (225-89), total plays (48-20) and time of possession (20:50-9:10) in building the 21-7 edge. After overcoming Texas returning the opening kickoff to the CU 14, when Russell Erxleben's 25-yard field goal was low into the line, CU fullback Terry Kunz scored on a one-yard dive with 2:29 left in the first quarter for a 7-0 lead. Quarterback David Williams threw a four-yard TD pass to Dave Logan with 12:42 left in the second period, then added a 25-yard scoring aerial to huge end Don Hasselbeck with 0:24 left in the half to provide the two touchdown margin.

But Kunz opened the second half with a costly fumble at the Buff 34 and Texas halfback Jimmy Walker scored eight plays later to make it 21-13, though CU blocked the extra point. UT end Tim Campbell blocked a CU punt a minute later and roared 25 yards for the touchdown, with a two-point conversion pass from quarterback Marty Akins to fullback Earl Campbell tying the game at 21-21 with 10:56 left in the third quarter.

Erxleben booted an NCAA bowl record 55-yard field goal with 6:25 left in the third period to give the Longhorns a 24-21 lead. Fleet Johnny Jones scored from four yards out with 3:15 left in the third period that put the Horns a 31-21, and then added an insurance score on a 7-yard run with 5:05 left in the game.

Despite 59 points being put on the scoreboard, the game really wasn't an offensive showcase. The Buffs outgained Texas by 294-237, but CU struggled on offense in the second half, gaining only 69 yards.

1977 ORANGE BOWL

Jan. 1, 1977 at Miami, Fla.

Ohio State 27
Colorado 10

Colorado returned to the Orange Bowl as Big Eight champions for the first time since 1961, but Ohio State's defense and an injury to CU middle guard Charlie Johnson in the first half killed CU's chances in a 27-10 Buckeye win before 65,537.

The Buffs got the Orange Bowl nod over Oklahoma and Oklahoma State by virtue of their wins over both schools as all finished with 5-2 league records. CU came into the game ranked No. 12, while Ohio State, the Big 10 runner-up, was 8-1 and ranked No. 11.

Colorado opened with a bang, getting ahead 10-0 in the first quarter on a 26-yard field goal by Mark Zetterberg with :56 elapsed, then a touchdown pass of 11 yards from sophomore quarterback Jeff Knapple to wingback Emery Moorehead with 3:43 left. At that point, CU held a 114-to-minus 7 edge in total offense and had run 19 plays to just 6 for OSU. But Johnson, who had a quarterback sack and a pass pressure in those six plays, went down with a broken ankle. Ohio State coach Woody Hayes substituted fleet Rod Gerald at quarterback for a harassed Tom Pacenta and the Buckeye offense came alive in the second quarter.

OSU tailback Jeff Logan rambled for a 36-yard touchdown up the middle as the first period came to an end, then the Buckeyes tied it on a 28-yard field goal by Tom Skladany with :29 left in the half.

Ohio State engineered a 99-yard drive, capped by fullback Pete Johnson's three-yard run, with 0:20 left in the half to make a 17-10 lead into intermission. That advantage stood up until Skladany added another 20-yard field goal with 2:30 left in the third quarter to make it 20-10 in favor of OSU.

The Buffs could not do anything offensively in the second half, and a pass interception at the Colorado 28 with 3:08 left led to the final Ohio State touchdown and the winning margin of 27-10.

1985 FREEDOM BOWL

Dec. 30, 1985 at Anaheim, Calif.

Washington 20

Colorado 17

Washington staved off a pair of late Colorado rallies and held on to defeat the Buffaloes, 20-17, in the second annual Freedom Bowl at Anaheim Stadium.

It was a close game throughout, as neither team ever held a two-score advantage. Washington took a 3-0 lead late in the first quarter on a 30-yard field goal by Jeff Jaeger. The Buffs came back to take what would be their only lead of the night early in the second quarter. Fullback Anthony Weatherspoon scored from a yard out and Larry Eckel added the point after to give CU a 7-3 edge with 5:59 remaining in the first half. The Huskies' David Toy scored on a three-yard run with only 30 seconds left in the first half to put Washington up 10-7 at intermission, capping a 14-play, 80 yard drive engineering by quarterback Chris Chandler.

Eckel tied the score at 10-10 with a 33-yard field goal with 8:41 left in the third quarter, but Washington countered three minutes later with a one-yard scoring run by Tony Covington for a 17-10 lead. Jaeger added an 18-yard field goal three seconds into the fourth quarter to make it 20-10.

All-American punter Barry Helton threw out of punt formation to Jon Embree for a dazzling 31-yard touchdown pass and Eckel added the extra point with 11:05 to go to pull CU to within three. The Buffs would get no closer, but had the ball at inside the Husky 10 in the final five minutes. Halfback Mike Marquez fumbled the ball at the two ending the drive, although television replays indicated the ground may have caused the fumble.

The game capped CU's turnaround season, as the Buffs went from 1-10 the previous year to 7-5 and captured the NCAA's most-improved team honor.

Marquez led the Buffs with 80 yards on 10 carries, while Chandler led the Huskies with 72 yards on seven tries. It was a defensive game, with each team committing just a single turnover, but Washington was penalized 13 times for 88 yards on the evening.

1986 BLUEBONNET BOWL

Dec. 31, 1986 at Houston, Texas

Baylor 21
Colorado 9

Baylor turned two Colorado turnovers into touchdowns and then thwarted two Buff scoring threats in the fourth quarter as the Bears defeated CU, 21-9, before 40,470 in attendance at Rice Stadium in the 28th Bluebonnet Bowl.

It was CU's fourth appearance in the Houston-based game, with its last two games here played indoors in the Astrodome (1971 and 1975). As in 1967, this one was played outdoors on natural grass.

Baylor drew first blood with 3:34 left in the first quarter on one-yard plunge by Derrick McAdoo on a fourth-and-goal play. Colorado countered two drives later with a 36-yard field goal by Dave DeLine to slice the lead to 7-3 early in the second stanza. But the Buffs turned the ball over on their own eight and it took Baylor three plays to score to extend the lead to 14-3, which stood at intermission. Cody Carlson hooked up with Darnell Chase on a 2-yard pass play for the score.

CU turned the ball over on its second play from scrimmage in the second half and McAdoo scored again from a yard out to put Baylor up 21-3. The Buffs finally put six on the board late in the quarter on a 31-yard touchdown run by Clark Hatcher, but CU couldn't convert the two and score remained 21-9 in favor of the Bears.

The Buffs twice had the ball deep in Baylor territory in the fourth quarter, but the Bear defense held, as CU couldn't convert either time on fourth down. In a game dominated by defense, Baylor outgained Colorado 279-194. Each team had 2 first downs, and the Buff defense held the Bears to over 200 yards under its per-game average for the season.

The running game, CU's bread-and-butter the last two seasons, was held in check by a ferocious Bear defense. Baylor had 14 tackles for loss in holding Colorado to just 83 rushing yards on 47 attempts. CU's running defense wasn't too shabby either, as Baylor netted just 114 yards on 43 tries.

1988 FREEDOM BOWL

Dec. 29, 1988 at Anaheim, Calif.

Brigham Young 20

Colorado 17

Brigham Young's only lead of the game came when it counted the most, as Jason Chaffetz' 35-yard field goal with 2:33 remaining in the fourth quarter rallied the Cougars to a 20-17 win over Colorado in the fifth annual Freedom Bowl.

The Buffs turned a BYU turnover into seven points just two-and-one-half minutes into the game, as Eric Bieniemy scored from one yard out to cap a six-play, 49-yard drive. Pat Blottiaux's PAT kick put CU up 7-0, but the Cougars tied the score some seven minutes later on a 19-yard touchdown pass from Sean Covey to Mike Salido.

Bieniemy's second touchdown of the game, also from a yard out, enabled CU to forge ahead 14-7 with 1:04 left in the half, with the margin standing at halftime.

The Buffs couldn't convert on several scoring opportunities in the second half, and twice penetrated the BYU 20 and came away with just three points. In the meantime, Ty Detmer's 14-yard scoring strike to Chuck Cutler knotted the score at 14 with 4:46 left in the third quarter. Blottiaux made good on a 19-yard field goal early in the fourth to give CU its last lead (17-14), but Chaffetz countered with a 31-yarder before nailing the game winner in the final minutes.

Colorado outgained the Cougars, 337-320, on the evening, but its on mistakes and penalties (nine, the most in CU bowl history), added up to the fifth straight bowl loss by the Buffaloes. Detmer, a sophomore and future Heisman Trophy winner (1990), came off the bench to complete 11 of 17 passes for 129 yards and a touchdown.

Bieniemy rushed for 144 yards and two scores on 33 carries, the second highest rushing performance to date in CU bowl history, and he also led the team in receiving yards in the game with 30. Alfred Williams posted three sacks for 25 yards in losses for the Buffs on defense.

1990 ORANGE BOWL

Jan. 1, 1990 at Miami, Fla.

Notre Dame 21
Colorado 6

Fullback Anthony Johnson's second touchdown run of the game late in the fourth quarter put an end to Colorado's undefeated season and national championship hopes as Notre Dame defeated the Buffaloes, 21-6, before a record 81,191 in the 56th annual Orange Bowl Classic.

Colorado came into the game with an 11-0 record and its first-ever No. 1 national ranking. The Buffs appeared headed to the national championship in the first half, as CU dominated the line of scrimmage in gaining 186 yards, but couldn't convert on three golden scoring opportunities. Instead of leading 17-0 or 21-0 at halftime, the Buffs found themselves in a scoreless deadlock and that thanks to Gary Lowe's block of a Notre Dame field goal attempt at the intermission gun.

The Irish took control of the game in the third quarter, scoring a two-yard scoring run by Johnson and a 35-yard touchdown run on a reverse by Raghib Ismail to take a 14-0 lead midway through the period. Colorado sliced the lead to 4-6 on a spectacular 39-yard run by Darian Hagan to close the quarter, but the PAT kick sailed wide by Ken Culbertson, leaving the Buffs eight points back.

The CU defense held Notre Dame on its next possession, and then the Buffs drove to the Irish 44 where its own stalled. With 10:27 remaining, there was still plenty of time remaining for the Buffs. But Johnson's second touchdown, a seven-yard effort, culminated a mammoth 17-play, 82-yard drive that ate up almost nine minutes on the clock. The Buffs got the ball back with 1:32 left in the game, and after Mike Pritchard returned the Irish kickoff 28 yards to the CU 41, could not get anything going prior to time running out and Hagan was intercepted on the game's final play.

The win enabled Notre Dame to end the year with a 12-1 record and a No. 2 ranking, while CU ended up No. 4 in the polls, as the 11-1 Buffs were inexplicably jumped by a 10-2 Florida State that finished No. 3. Miami, Fla., was selected the national champion.

Jan. 1, 1991 at Miami, Fla.

Colorado 10
Notre Dame 9

In an Orange Bowl where there was no shortage of heroes for Colorado, the No. 1 Buffaloes toppled No. 5 Notre Dame, 10-9, enabling the school to claim its first-ever national championship in football. CU overcame two key injuries in rallying in the second half for the victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Buffaloes drew first blood on a 22-yard field goal by Jim Harper three minutes into the second quarter. Notre Dame came right back, marching 62 yards in nine plays, with Ricky Watters scoring from two yards out. The score remained at 6-3, however, as CU's Ronnie Bradford charged through the line and blocked Craig Hentrich's extra point try. Just prior to halftime, CU lost the services of quarterback Darian Hagan (knee injury) and outside linebacker Kanavis McGhee (shoulder). Both missed the remainder of the game.

Hentrich booted a 24-yard field goal early in the second half to extend the Irish lead to 9-3. Charles S. Johnson took over at quarterback for the Buffs, with Notre Dame stopping CU cold on its first possession of the second half. On the first play of the next Notre Dame drive, Chad Brown forced Watters to fumble, with Paul Rose, subbing for McGhee, making the recovery.

Johnson, his feet now wet, coolly directed the Buffaloes to the go-ahead touchdown. Eric Bieniemy's one-yard touchdown run and Jim Harper's extra point kick late in the third quarter rallied CU into the lead. The Buffalo defense then held Notre Dame in check, as the Irish held on to the ball for only less than four minutes the rest of the game, mustering only 35 yards of total offense after CU went on top.

Colorado's road to the national championship wasn't without a couple of late scares. Notre Dame's Raghib Ismail broke loose on a punt return with less than a minute remaining, appearing to run 91 yards for a score, but CU's Tim James was clipped on the play, nullifying the gain. And with 13 seconds left in the game, the Irish still had a chance, especially with Hentrich's leg. On its own 38, a completion in the 20-25 yard range would have set up a winning field goal attempt, but Deon Figures intercepted the Rick Mirer pass at the Buff 36 and ran out the clock with a 27-yard return.

Bieniemy rushed for a game-high 86 yards on 28 carries, with Johnson earning the MVP honor, completing five of six passes for 80 yards. Defensively, the Buffs limited the "Golden Domers" to just 264 yards, and Greg Thomas picked off a pair of Mirer passes in Colorado territory. The win, which gave CU an 11-1-1 record for the season, also snapped a seven-game CU bowl-losing streak. Notre Dame finished the year with a 9-3 mark, and finished No. 6 in the nation.

1991 BLOCKBUSTER BOWL

Dec. 28, 1991 at Miami, Fla.

Colorado 25

Jay Barker threw three touchdown passes and David Palmer scored twice to lead No. 8 and SEC runner-up Alabama to a 30-25 victory over No. 15 and co-Big Eight champion Colorado in the second annual Blockbuster Bowl.

Palmer scored the game's first points on a 52-yard punt return six minutes into the first quarter. The Buffaloes tied the score at 7-7 late in the quarter on a one-yard run by Scott Phillips, which was set up a Ron Woolfork blocked punt. Ted Johnson tackled Martin Houston in the endzone for a safety early in the second quarter, and then the teams traded field goals to enable CU to take a 12-10 lead at halftime.

Barker hooked up with Siran Stacy for a 13-yard touchdown play in the third quarter, only to see the Buffs come back 18 seconds later on a 62-yard scoring strike from Darian Hagan to Michael Westbrook. Barker added a 12-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Lee later in the quarter to give the Crimson Tide a 23-19 lead after three quarters. Barker and Palmer connected on a five-yard TD pass with 8:10 left in the game to put Alabama ahead 30-19, but the Buffs cut the lead to five on a 13-yard pass from Hagan to Charles Johnson with :30 left.

Colorado got the ball back with 1:49 left and drove to the Alabama 33-yard line before being stopped on a fourth-and-one play with 40 seconds left. Alabama outgained CU, 307-199, running more plays (81-60) and holding on to the ball for 8:10. The game marked the debut of CU's new one-back, pass-oriented offense, which had some success. The change took place in CU's bowl practices and was surprise for the game, but at times it appeared that Alabama had found out somehow in advance because of the Crimson Tide's uncanny success on defense.

Alabama finished the season with an 11-1 mark, along with a final No. 5 ranking, while Colorado followed its first national championship season in 1990 with an 8-3-1 record and a No. 20 final ranking.

1993 FIESTA BOWL

Jan. 1, 1993 at Tempe, Ariz.

Syracuse 26

Colorado 22

Kirby Dar Dar's 100-yard kickoff return at the end of the third quarter proved to be the winning points as the No. 6 Syracuse Orangemen defeated the No. 10 Colorado Buffaloes, 26-22, in the 22nd annual Fiesta Bowl.

A defensive battle in the first half saw Colorado go into intermission with a 7-6 lead, as the teams combined for just 226 total yards. A pair of John Biskup field goals saw the Orangemen take a 6-0 lead, but with 10 seconds left in the half, Kordell Stewart threw a 7-yard touchdown pass to Sean Embree on fourth down, with Mitch Berger's PAT kick giving CU the slim one-point lead at the half.

The third quarter proved to be both pivotal and wild, with 29 points scored in just over a six-minute span. David Walker's 13-yard run with 6:22 left in the quarter put Syracuse back on top, 12-7, with a two-point conversion pass falling incomplete.

Berger nailed a 38-yard field goal on CU's next possession to cut the lead to 12-10, but the 'Cuse went back up 19-10 on a spectacular 28-yard run by quarterback Marvin Graves. Stewart led the Buffs on an 82-yard drive in just over a minute, completing the march with a 16-yard TD pass to Charles Johnson, but Berger missed the point after on the slick Arizona State Stadium surface and the score stood at 19-16. The stadium floor had problems due to too many games being played on it, between the home school, ASU, the NFL Phoenix Cardinals and high school playoffs.

Dar Dar performed his heroics on the next kickoff, rambling 100 yards as time expired in the quarter. Lamont Warren scored the day's final points on a six-yard run late in the game, with Berger again missing the PAT try. The Buffs got the ball back in the final minute, but could not muster a scoring drive.

The Buffaloes out-gained the Orangemen, 370-265, including a 217-64 edge in the passing game. Syracuse neutralized the CU offensive attack by netting 178 yards on kickoff returns.

Colorado 41
Fresno State 30

Rashaan Salaam rushed for 135 yards and three touchdowns to lead the No. 17 Colorado Buffaloes to a convincing 41-30 victory over the No. 24 Fresno State Bulldogs in the 27th annual Aloha Bowl.

The Buffs zoomed to a 17-0 lead, scoring on their first three possessions of the game. Salaam and James Hill scored on short touchdown runs, sandwiched around a Mitch Berger field goal, as CU went up 17-0 with 9:18 left in the half. After trading field goals, Fresno State pulled as close as it could get at intermission on a fluke play. Berger's squib kick-off was first fumbled by the Bulldogs' Jamie Christian, then recovered by Malcolm Seabron and returned 68 yards for a touchdown. The play pulled FSU to within 20-10 at halftime.

Salaam sprinted into the endzone from 40 yards out early in the second half, putting the daylight back into the CU lead 27-10). Fresno never got closer than 10 the remainder of the game, as Colorado was seemingly always in control, but could never put the game fully out of reach, either. CU ran the ball at will, averaging 6.4 yards per rushing attempt, minus two quarterback sacks. Lamont Warren had 68 yards on just 10 carries, and quarterback Kordell Stewart 50 on only eight tries.

The Buffs held Fresno State to just three rushing yards on the day, but the Bulldogs did put an all-time best of 523 passing yards on the board against CU (though 333 came after CU took the 27-10 lead). Salaam was named Colorado's Most Valuable Player for the game, while Chris Hudson was the game's MVP on defense. Hudson had seven tackles, two forced fumbles, two recoveries, a quarterback sack and a pass deflection.

CU, the Big Eight runner-up, climbed to 8-3-1 with the win, while Fresno State, co-champions on the Western Athletic Conference, finished 8-4.

1995 FIESTA BOWL

Jan. 2, 1995 at Tempe, Ariz.

Colorado 41
Notre Dame 24

Kordell Stewart amassed 348 yards of total offense and he received plenty of help on both offense and defense as the Colorado Buffaloes easily defeated Notre Dame, 41-24, in the 24th annual Fiesta Bowl.

The game was Bill McCartney's "swan song" as CU head coach, with the win giving him a final record over 13 seasons of 93-55-5, the winningest in Colorado history.

Stewart, named the game's most valuable player, had 268 total yards in the first half alone, when the Buffs built a commanding 31-3 lead with 1:05 remaining. For the game, he rushed seven times for 143 yards and a touchdown and completed 11 of 20 passes for 205 yards and another score.

Heisman Trophy winner Rashaan Salaam rushed for 83 yards and three touchdowns, including back-to-back scores in the final five minutes of the first half that helped break the game open.

On defense, the Buffs switched from the 3-4 to the 4-3 for the game, and the result yielded relentless pressure on Irish freshman quarterback Ron Powlus. CU had seven sacks, including three by the defensive MVP in the game, Shannon Clavelle, along with 12 pressures. Butkus Award runner-up Ted Johnson led all players with 20 tackles, with two for losses and an interception.

The Buffs scored on five of their first six possessions, with Stewart the key fixture on each. He had a 29-yard run on CU's first touchdown drive, a 35-yard dash on the second, a 16-yard run and 46-yard pass to James Kidd on the third, and a 12-yard run to the 1-yard line on the fourth. And after Notre Dame had closed to within 31-17 late in the third quarter, Stewart sprinted 41 yards to set up a field goal, and threw a 37-yard pass to Kidd en route to CU's final score.

The Buffs amassed 472 yards on offense in just 23:43 of possession time, playing nearly the perfect game. CU did not commit a turnover and averaged just under eight yards per play in finishing the season with an 11-1 record and No. 3 national ranking. Notre Dame, unranked coming into the game, ended the year at 6-6.

Following the game, Salaam announced that he would forego his senior year and declared himself eligible for the NFL draft. McCartney handed the reins of the program over to new head coach Rick Neuheisel the following morning.

Bill McCartney is carried off the field by his players following his last game, CU's 41-24 Fiesta Bowl win over Notre Dame.

1996 COTTON BOWL

Jan. 1, 1996 at Dallas, Texas

Colorado 38

Oregon 6

John Hessler threw for two touchdowns and ran for another and Herchell Troutman rushed for 100 yards and a core as the No. 7 Colorado Buffaloes rallied from a sluggish start in easily defeating the No. 12 Oregon Ducks, 38-6, in the 60th annual Cotton Bowl.

The Buffs overcame two early turnovers and a long kickoff return, holding the Ducks to just two field goals. The defense clamped down all afternoon on the potent Oregon attack, especially when the Ducks worked into CU territory; Oregon had just the six points in nine penetrations across midfield.

Trailing 6-0, Hessler directed CU on a six-play, 80-yard drive in just 97 seconds, with Hessler running the ball in himself from a yard out on the first play of the second quarter. After the teams exchanged possessions, the Ducks drove to the CU 9, where a Tony Graziani pass was intercepted by freshman Marcus Washington, who then returned the ball 95 yards for the longest interception return for a touchdown in CU bowl history.

Washington's heroics enabled the Buffs to take a 13-6 lead into the lockerroom, as the weather continued to get worse. A light rainfall increased as the game went on, with winds gusting to 20 miles per hour, making the field conditions worsen.

Though the weather was more Oregon-like, it didn't appear to bother Colorado. The Buffaloes broke open the close game in the third quarter with three touchdowns, with a six-yard run by Troutman sandwiched in the middle of two Hessler touchdown passes to Matt Lepsis and Phil Savoy. Troutman ran over right tackle for a 55-yard gain, the longest run ever by a Buff in the postseason, to set up CU's first second-half score.

Troutman was named the game's most valuable player on offense, with Washington garnering the same honor on defense, making six tackles in addition to his interception return.

Colorado owned a 313-258 edge in total offense, but the day belonged to the defense, and Oregon averaged just 3.5 yards per play and was forced into five turnovers. The win enabled Rick Neuheisel's Buffs to finish 10-2 on the season and No. 4 in the nation (USA Today/CNN poll; No. 5 in the Associated Press).

1996 HOLIDAY BOWL

Dec. 30, 1996 at San Diego, Calif.

Colorado 33
Washington 21

Koy Detmer and Rae Carruth completed their careers in style, rallying No. 8 Colorado from an early two touchdown deficit to defeat No. 13 Washington, 33-21, in the 19th annual Holiday Bowl.

Detmer, who was named the game's offensive most valuable player, hooked up with Carruth on a 76-yard touchdown pass with 2:25 left in the first quarter to get the Buffaloes on the scoreboard. Until that play, the Huskies used a pair of Corey Dillon touchdown runs to build a 14-0 lead, threatening CU's three-game bowl winning streak and a chance at a third straight 10-win season.

Colorado pulled even four minutes into the second quarter, when defensive MVP Nick Ziegler intercepted a Brock Huard pass and returned it 31 yards for the first touchdown of his collegiate career. Washington answered with a Jerome Pathon 86-yard kickoff return for a 21-14 lead, but those would be the last points CU would allow on the night. Darrin Chiaverini tied the score at 21 with a seven-yard TD pass from Detmer, and Jeremy Aldrich's 42-yard field goal gave CU its first lead at 24-21 with 1:50 left in the first half.

CU added nine second half points on a 36-yard Aldrich field goal and a four-yard touchdown pass from Detmer to Carruth. The Buff defense held the Huskies to just 129 yards and seven first downs in the second half, and Washington's only scoring chance resulted in a blocked field goal attempt by Mike Phillips.

Detmer and Carruth respectively set CU bowl records for passing yards (371) and receiving yards (162). The Buffs had a 414-341 edge in total offense in the game, but a 373-204 edge after UW took its 14-0 lead. It was the largest deficit in CU bowl game history in which the Buffs rallied to win, and the fifth largest comeback in NCAA bowl annals.

CU finished 10-2 for second straight season, and earned a final ranking of No. 8 in the nation.

1998 ALOHA BOWL

Dec. 25, 1998 at Honolulu, Hawai'i

Colorado 51
Oregon 43

Ben Kelly set the tone for the day by returning the opening kickoff for a touchdown, as the Colorado Buffaloes built a 30-point third quarter lead and then held off the No. 21 Oregon Ducks, 51-43, in the 17th annual Aloha Bowl.

Kelly raced 93 yards for a score to start a busy day at Aloha Stadium, as 164 points would be tallied in college football's first-ever bowl doubleheader (Air Force beat Washington, 45-25, in the Oahu Bowl later that afternoon).

Mike Moschetti set a CU bowl record by throwing four touchdown passes in the game, the first coming late in the first quarter after Jeremy Aldrich's 48-yard field goal had given CU a 10-0 lead. Javon Green caught the five-yard toss and the Buffs were up 17-0.

Moschetti, CU's most valuable player in the game, threw scoring passes of 58 yards to Marcus Stiggers and 72 yards to Darrin Chiaverini in the second quarter, as the Buffaloes built a 37-14 halftime edge. Aldrich added a pair of field goals in the quarter, and his three in the game also established a new CU postseason best.

Damen Wheeler gave CU its biggest lead of the day at 44-4 after he raced into the backfield and plucked off an Akil Smith pass and ran 52 yards for a touchdown; he actually wiped the ball while it was traveling backwards, so the play was classified an intercepted pitch. Oregon chipped away at the CU advantage and had cut it to 44-28 early in the fourth quarter, but a 57-yard drive ended by a 20-yard TD pass from Moschetti to Daniel Graham worked the lead back up to 51-28. The Ducks wouldn't give up, adding two more scores to pull to within the final score of 51-43, as the CU defense rose to the occasion the one time Oregon had the ball with a chance to tie the game. The Buff defense forced three incompletions and Hannibal Navies added a 13-yard sack to keep the Ducks at bay.

Oregon outgained CU, 535-397, but the Buffs averaged more yards per play (6.7-6.6), basically scoring at will, and forced the Ducks into six turnovers that led to 23 Colorado points. The win was Colorado's fifth straight in the bowls, giving the Buffs the nation's longest active streak. It would also be the final game for CU head coach Rick Neuheisel, who resigned two weeks later to take over as head coach at Washington.

1999 INSIGHT.COM BOWL

Dec. 31, 1999 at Tucson, Ariz.

Colorado 62

Boston College 28

Colorado scored six first half touchdowns from its offense, defense as well as special teams in building an insurmountable 45-7 lead en route to a 62-28 thrashing of Boston College in the 11th annual Insight.com Bowl, CU's nation-best sixth bowl win in a row.

The Buffaloes took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards in 13 plays, with Cortlen Johnson's 10-yard run capping the drive to give CU a 7-0 lead. Boston College drove to the CU 26 on its first possession, but a 43-yard field goal sailed wide to take some steam out of the Eagles. Quarterback Mike Moschetti then engineered a 12-play, 74-yard drive, and called his own number to score on a 2-yard run and CU led, 14-0, with just 1:47 left in the period.

Then a barrage of returns for touchdowns sealed BC's fate. Thirty seconds and three plays after the Moschetti score, Jashon Sykes intercepted a Tim Hasselbeck pass and returned it 29 yards for a 21-0 lead. A little over four minutes into the second quarter, Rashidi Barnes did the same, stealing a Brian St. Pierre pass and rambling 21 yards into the end zone to make it 28-0. The Buffalo defense stopped the Eagles cold on their next possession, but the elation of a Kevin McMyler 55-yard punt to the CU 12 was short-lived as Ben Kelly raced 88 yards with the ball for a touchdown, the longest in NCAA bowl history, and a 35-0 Colorado lead. After George White intercepted a Moschetti pass and ran it back for a 78-yard score, Johnson added his second touchdown on the day and Jeremy Aldrich the first of two field goals for the 45-7 lead at intermission.

There were a couple of more quirky scores in the second half, as BC recovered its own fumble in the end zone for a score and got its last touchdown on a blocked punt return, but the game was over at halftime.

Johnson ran for 201 yards on just 15 carries, and was named to Sports Illustrated's All-Bowl team. CU set numerous school records and the 62 points were the third most ever scored in any bowl. And by scoring in all four quarters, the Buffs extended another amazing streak, as CU ended the 20th century scoring in 15 consecutive bowl quarters and in 26 of its last 27.

The win also gave CU a final record of 7-5 under first-year coach Gary Barnett, and it was Barnett's first win as a head coach in a bowl in three games (he was 0-2 at Northwestern before coming to Colorado).

2002 FIESTA BOWL

Jan. 1, 2002 at Tempe, Ariz.

Oregon 38
Colorado 16

It was only the sixth postseason meeting ever between os. 2 and 3, but second-ranked Oregon proved to be too much for third-ranked Colorado as the Ducks defeated the Buffaloes, 38-16. The loss snapped CU's nation-best six game bowl winning streak.

The Buffs scored first—and last—but it was in-between when Oregon flashed the muscle of its powerful passing attack when it outscored CU 38-0 from late in the first quarter to early in the fourth.

Colorado took a 7-0 lead after Brandon Drumm's 1-yard lunge capped an 11-play, 65-yard drive at the 6:26 mark of the first quarter. But the complexion of the game changed over the course of remainder of the first half. UO's star quarterback, Heisman finalist Joey Harrington, threw three touchdown passes, including a 28-yard strike to Keenan Howry to tie the score late in the first. Two drives later, early in the second stanza, Harrington and Samie Parker hooked up on a 79-yard strike that put the Ducks up for good. He combined with Onterio Smith for a 6-yard score with 2:29 left before the half that gave the Ducks a 21-7 lead.

Two bad breaks did in the Buffs in the third quarter. With Oregon getting ball first, CU needed a defensive stop, but Maurice Morris broke at least half a dozen tackles in rambling 49 yards for a touchdown and a 28-7 UO lead less than three minutes into the half. Colorado then came back and drove to the Duck 26, where Bobby Pesavento scrambled free and hit Derek McCoy for an apparent touchdown. But the SEC official, some 20 yards behind the play, ruled Pesavento had crossed the line of scrimmage, negating the play. Television replays showed Pesavento was not over, but the call stood and took what little wind was left in CU's sails at the time.

Oregon extended the lead to 38-7, with Harrington throwing a fourth scoring pass, with 9:38 left. Colorado did get back on the board with a 39-yard field goal from Jeremy Flores and ended the game's scoring with a Craig Ochs to Daniel Graham 4-yard touchdown pass in the final seconds.

Graham set a CU bowl record with 10 receptions, but Oregon allowed CU only 49 net rushing yards after a potent Buff ground game ran up 603 in their final two regular season games. Oregon finished the season with an 11-1 record but couldn't overtake Miami in the final polls; CU closed at 10-3, ending at No. 9 in both major polls.

2002 ALAMO BOWL

Dec. 28, 2002 at San Antonio, Texas

Wisconsin 31
Colorado 28 (OT)

No. 14 Colorado didn't have much luck in the Lone Star state three weeks earlier in its 29-7 loss to Oklahoma in the Big12 Championship game in Houston, and the return to Texas just after Christmas proved just as disappointing as the Buffaloes fell in overtime to Wisconsin, 31-28, in the Alamo Bowl presented by MasterCard.

Mike Allen's 37-yard field goal in overtime, after CU failed to score to open the extra session, completed a wild rally for the Badgers. Wisconsin tied the game with 51 seconds left in regulation when quarterback Brooks Bollinger scored from a yard out, which concluded a frantic 10-play, 80-yard march in 94 seconds.

Colorado took a 7-0 lead four minutes into the contest when Donald Strickland ended an early UW threat when he picked off a Bollinger pass at the CU 9 and raced 91 yards for the game's first points. The Badgers tied the game two possessions later, capitalizing on an interception of their own with Anthony Davis scoring on a 4-yard run to top off a short 19-yard drive. CU grabbed the lead back on the final play of the quarter, going up 14-7 after quarterback Robert Hodge hooked up with D.J. Hackett on a 10-yard touchdown pass that finished off an 11-play, 83-yard drive.

But Wisconsin owned the second quarter, scoring two more touchdowns on the heels of Hodge's second and third interceptions. Bollinger hit Brandon Williams with a 10-yard TD pass and Darrin Charles with a 7-yard toss, both on third down plays as the Badgers scored their three first half scores on combined drives of just 93 yards.

San Antonio native Zac Colvin replaced Hodge for the final first half series and led the Buffs to two scores in the third quarter. As Wisconsin did in converting CU interceptions, the Buffs did the same in converting Badger fumbles into third down touchdowns. Chris Brown scored on a 4-yard run midway into the period after the Badgers fumbled a Mark Mariscal punt. Davis fumbled on the first play of Wisconsin's next drive, with Kory Mossoni recovering at the UW17. Colvin found Hackett in the end zone for an 11-yard touchdown play that put CU up for the final time, 28-21. CU managed to tie the game and take the lead on two drives that totaled all of 42 yards.

A stalemate then ensued until UW took over on its own 20 with just 2:25 remaining. The game-tying drive included two conversions on fourth downs, the first on a 4th-and-18 (a 27 yards pass from Bollinger to Williams) and the next on a 4th-and-10 (Bollinger to Charles for 28 yards).

CU ran out the clock and couldn't gain any yards on three plays in the overtime; Patrick Brougham's 45-yard field goal try sailed wide right, setting the stage for Wisconsin to grab the victory on Allen's kick.

The only other overtime game in the 2002-03 bowl season was the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl, where Ohio State topped Miami, Fla., in two overtimes to win the national championship.

SPRING FOOTBALL HISTORY

Spring practice has for the most part ended with a game between the Colorado Varsity and Alumni. Back at the turn of the century, an Alumni team usually served as the season opener for the varsity (13 times all told, with the Varsity owning an 11-0-2 edge in those games). The Varsity held a 20-3 edge in the old format of the spring series, which started back in 1953 under then head coach Dal Ward. After a pair of games, the series became dormant until 1963 when it was revived by Eddie Crowder. There was no game between 1974 and 1976, and the 1978 game was cancelled due to a blizzard.

A new format for the Varsity-Alumni game (implemented in 1988) had the alumni playing in the first and third quarters, with the first team of the varsity playing the second and fourth quarters. They were pitted against the second- and third-team members of the varsity, resulting in a competitive and fun game. The alumni and first-team varsity always wore black. This format was discontinued following 1992 for competitive reasons.

The all-time results of the Varsity-Alumni game:

Year	Score	Attend.	Year	Score	Attend.
1953 — Varsity, 6-0	2,300		1979 — Varsity, 31-0	5,277
1954 — Varsity, 7-6	1,200		1980 — Varsity, 24-14	4,688
1963 — Alumni, 14-6	11,500		1981 — Varsity, 24-0	3,369
1964 — Alumni, 10-7	10,000		1982 — Varsity, 35-15	4,144
1965 — Varsity, 13-12	6,000		1983 — Varsity, 42-0	3,804
1966 — Varsity, 23-6	10,500		1984 — Varsity, 14-6	4,023
1967 — *Varsity, 29-16	3,500		1985 — Varsity, 24-0	4,211

1977 — Varsity, 43-27	9,000		1992 — #Black, 44-7	9,618

*—played in Denver due to stadium expansion

#—First-team varsity and alumni wore black jerseys, remainder of varsity white jerseys.

The format for the game in 1993 and 1994 was to pit the first-team offense and defense against the remainder of the squad. The results of this series:

Year	Score	Attend.	Year	Score	Attend.
1993 — White, 24-13	2,500		1994 — Black, 45-3	1,650

An intrasquad game was started in 1987 and was dubbed the "Black and White Game" (which has evolved into the "Black and Gold" Game). The team is divided by the coaching staff into two units of equal strength. A look at this series (note: injuries in 2002 and 2003 forced an offense-defense formatted game):

Year	Score	Attend.	Year	Score	Attend.
1987 — Black, 6-3			1995 — Silver, 20-6	2,600
1988 — White, 7-3			1996 — Gold, 30-20	7,500
1989 — Black, 14-10			1997 — Gold, 14-0	6,100
1990 — White, 14-10			1998 — Silver, 14-3	7,100
1991 — Black, 28-9			1999 — Gold, 13-10	1,400
1992 — Black, 22-19			2000 — Black, 15-6	2,000
1993 — Black, 17-7			2001 — Defense, 48-9	4,400
1994 — White, 14-7			2002 — Offense, 59-49	3,300
			2003 — Defense, 32-26	1,500

One of the most emotional moments in CU football history came at halftime of the 1989 spring game, when the varsity and alumni saluted cancer-stricken quarterback Sal Aunese (center). Aunese passed away on Sept. 23 later that same year.

MEDIA HISTORY

Throughout the history of University of Colorado athletics, three newspapers (Boulder Camera, Denver Post and Rocky Mountain News) and KOA-Radio have been, year-in and year-out, the ones to turn to for coverage of CU sports. Here is a look at those "beat" people who have covered the Buffaloes during the years:

COLORADO PERSONNEL HISTORY

The University of Colorado has been blessed with a fiercely loyal athletic staff through the years, starting right at the top. CU has had only five faculty representatives since the end of World War II and has had but four athletic directors in its history. Not including coaches, 21 people have worked at least 15 years for the athletic department in various capacities. Five have worked over three decades: athletic director Harry Carlson (38 years), current associate AD Jon Burianek (36), sports information director and assistant/associate athletic director Fred Casotti (35), equipment manager Silver Akins (34), and business manager/assistant AD Kayo Lam (31). The most famous all-time short stint at CU? That could be Wayne Duke, who was SID for a year (1950) before eventually becoming commissioner of the Big Ten Conference. Here's a look at who's held some of the more notable managerial and support positions in the history of CU athletics:

ATHLETIC ADMINISTRATION

JON BURIANEK

Senior Associate Athletic Director/Facilities Development & Business Affairs

Jon Burianek is in his 36th year with the CU athletic department, his 21st as the associate athletic director for internal affairs. He was named a senior associate AD on July 1, 1999, with the added responsibility of facilities development to his role.

Burianek, 58, was also CU's athletic ticket manager from 1970 to 1987. He assumed those duties in 1970, as he is truly one of the athletic department's "home grown" veterans. His first job was a student assistant in the business office while attending CU in the late 1960s. After becoming ticket manager, his duties were expanded in 1979, as he became an assistant athletic director.

He attended the University of Colorado and was a chemistry major, and also attended the University of Oslo (Norway) as a junior in 1966-67, studying in the same field. When he returned to Boulder that summer, he began working in athletics, and the following year, he became basketball ticket manager while still an undergraduate.

In fact, his 36 years of full-time service to the department now ranks second all-time among non-coaches at the University and third overall. CU's first athletic director, Harry Carlson, spent 38 years with the program; Frank Potts, who coached the cross country and track teams for 41 years, is the only other person to serve CU athletics longer. In 1984, Burianek was awarded the "Honorary C" for his contributions to CU athletics.

Entering 2003, he has worked 377 consecutive CU football games (home, road and neutral), as the streak started with Colorado's 49-19 win at Air Force in 1970. He stopped counting long ago how many men's and women's basketball and volleyball games he has worked... after reaching 1,000.

Born Aug. 29, 1945 in Chicago, Ill., Burianek attended Pueblo South High School where he lettered in cross country, track, and golf.

Burianek was the tournament manager for the 1985, 1989 and 1996 NCAA West Regionals, hosted by the University and held in Denver, and served in a similar capacity for the 1990 Final Four. He is a past president of the Collegiate Athletic Business Management Association, and has been an officer in the organization since 1985.

He is married to the former Nancy Tilden of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. They have three children, Amanda Miller, Jason (23, who lettered in football at CU and is now a high school coach in Illinois) and Elsa (20). The Burianek family resides on a farm on the outskirts of Boulder, and they raise cattle and pigs and participate regularly in stock shows around the region.

JOHN MEADOWS

Senior Associate Athletic Director/External Affairs

John Meadows is in his fifth year as the senior associate athletic director for external affairs, as he joined the Colorado staff on Feb. 1, 1999.

Meadows, 60, was a long-time executive with the Coors Brewing Company. He worked for over 33 years at Coors' main operation in Golden, retiring in early 1999 as the director of corporate relations, a position he held since 1984. In that role, he coordinated marketing and promotions, including building local, regional and national relationships with community leaders in a number of cities. He also worked with different local chapters in the area of community relations with organizations such as the Urban League and the National Council of LaRaza.

He was also responsible for setting forth relationships with a variety of colleges and universities around the country, primarily in the markets where Coors had breweries (Colorado, Virginia and Tennessee). He developed corporate contributions and strategies with almost a dozen schools.

He started at Coors in 1965 as an ironworker apprentice. He went into brewery administration a year later, and spent a number of years (1966-81) working in employee, labor and industrial relations. He then spent four years (1981-84) as a manager in Coors' corporate relations department, and was named the director of the same area in 1984. In his last four years at Coors, he developed and implemented strategies for Coors in diversity management.

Meadows dabbled on the side in marketing at Coors, foreseeing the future in name branding. The brewery, however, never put into production his suggestions for three new beers: Coors Extra Cold, Adolph Apple Ale or Coors Ultra Distilled Draft Light Elite, which would have been marketed under the acronym, "CUDDLE."

A long-time Boulder resident, Meadows has plenty of ties to CU. He lettered for the Buffs once in football, playing tight end and defensive end in 1960 and 1961. A history major, as a sophomore he was a member of CU's 1961 Big Eight championship team that went to the Orange Bowl. He caught three passes for 24 yards in the 25-7 loss to Louisiana State in that game.

Born Jan. 31, 1943 in Detroit, he graduated from Royal Oak High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He is married to the former Lindalu Parker, a CU graduate, and they have four children, Robert, Brooke, Dodge and Sara. He is a former board member of the National Council of LaRaza and the Denver Urban League, two community service organizations. He is also currently on the advisory board for the Sportswomen of Colorado, and is a former board member of the Women's Sports Foundation.

CHRIS MAY

Associate Athletic Director, Sport Programs & Revenue Development

Chris May is in his fifth year as an associate athletic director, his second for sport programs and revenue development.

He was promoted to associate AD for marketing and revenue development on July 1, 1999, and in November 2002, he took on administrative and supervisory responsibilities for men's and women's cross country, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track and women's soccer. He was also given administrative responsibility for men's basketball and was promoted to the senior management team for the department.

He is in his 19th year in the athletic department, as he joined CU in September 1985 as a ticket office staff member. Four months later, he switched roles and was named special assistant to the associate athletic director. He was named promotions director the following June (1986), when he also took over management of the athletic department's executive car club. He was promoted to assistant athletic director for marketing and promotions on July 1, 1990, and spent nine years in that capacity.

He oversees the entire marketing and promotions area, which generates over $3 million annually from radio, television, signage and event sponsorships and sales, licensing, event development and the new video display boards, which were first installed for the 1999 season at Folsom Field. Also included in his duties are working with KCNC-TV and KOA-Radio, CU's official television and radio stations.

In 2002, May orchestrated a seven-year agreement with Learfield Sports to outsource the multi-media rights for all CU sports programming. Those rights include radio (Clear Channel), television (AT&T Broadband) and all in-stadium/arena sponsorships.

He is the committee co-chair for Athletics 2010, the department's strategic plan that serves as the blueprint for the future that includes four main goals of education, winning, facilities and culture.

He is also the department's liaison for the Mile High Showdown, the annual football game against in-state rival Colorado State held at Denver's Invesco Field at Mile High.

May, 40, graduated from Iowa State University with a B.S. degree in marketing in 1985. He lettered twice in track at Iowa State, running the 800-meters and on the relay teams. He earned his master's from CU in business administration in August 1988.

Born March 12, 1963 in Princeton, Ill., he graduated from Muscatine (Iowa) High School, where he lettered in cross country, track and basketball. He was inducted into Muscatine's Sports Hall of Fame in August 2002 for his role on the school's only undefeated 4x800 relay team. He is married to the former Joanne Crone, and they have two children, Lucy (8) and Jack (6).

KAREN MORRISON

Associate Athletic Director/ Compliance, Financial Aid & SWA

Karen Morrison is in her fourth year as associate athletic director at the University of Colorado, being promoted to the position on Aug. 9, 2000. She was the assistant athletic director for compliance for two years prior to her promotion, and is in her 13th year overall associated with the CU athletic program. In 1998, she was also named CU's Senior Woman Administrator.

Morrison, 42, oversees several CU sport programs - women's basketball, volleyball, men's and women's skiing, men's and women's golf and men's and women's tennis. She also directs the compliance and financial aid programs. Other aspects of her role include Title IX compliance, NCAA certification and service on several department and conference committees. She is also a member of the senior management team for the department.

Morrison is on the NCAA Women's Basketball Selection Committee, being placed on the 10-member working board starting the 2000-01 season and serving a five-year term. She is the current liaison from the Women's Basketball Committee to the NCAA's Women's Basketball Issues Committee. She is also the Big 12 representative on the NCAA academics/Eligibility/Compliance Cabinet. She has served on the NCAA Interpretations subcommittee of the Cabinet for four years.

Morrison was appointed to the position in March 1997, after working as the assistant compliance coordinator since April 1996. Prior to that, she was an assistant coach for six seasons for Ceal Barry and the CU women's basketball team. She was on the staff of five Big Eight champion teams (regular or postseason), and two Elite 8 squads. She played a major role in the Buffs securing four top 20 recruiting classes and handled scheduling chores.

She also was an instructor in kinesiology for two years on the CU campus (1989-91), and worked for two years as an attorney with the Fort Collins law firm of Frey, Lach & Michaels, P.C.

Born Jan. 13, 1961, and spending most of her youth in Tulsa, Okla., she graduated from the University of Oklahoma with honors, earning a B.A. degree in management in 1983. She earned her Juris Doctorate in 1987 from the University of Notre Dame School of Law. At Oklahoma, she was on academic and athletic scholarship and was a member of the women's basketball team.

ED GOW

Assistant Athletic Director/ Ticketing

Ed Gow is in his fifth year as CU's assistant athletic director for ticketing, as he was named to the position on June 3, 1999. Gow was no stranger to CU athletics however, as he worked both as a student assistant and a full-time employee in CU's ticket office during the early 1990s.

Gow, 35, returned to CU from the Delta Center in Salt Lake City, Utah, where he was the director ticket operations for the Larry H. Miller Sports & Entertainment Group, which encompassed all events at the Delta Center, including the National Basketball Association's Utah Jazz and the WNBA's Utah Starzz. He also worked one year with the International Hockey League's Utah Grizzlies.

Gow attended the University of Colorado, majoring in political science and sociology, between 1986 and 1990. While a student, he worked two years in the ticket office, and was named basketball ticket manager in September 1990. He held that position for two years before being hired by Ascent Entertainment, where he was the manager of ticket operations for the NBA's Denver Nuggets for three seasons and the National Hockey League's Colorado Avalanche for one year before relocating to Utah.

Born June 16, 1968 in Greeley, Colo., he graduated from Greeley Central High School in 1986, where he played basketball and tennis. He is married to the former Andrea Newton, and they have a son, Jack (2).

JOHN KRUEGER

Assistant Athletic Director/ Facilities

John Krueger is in his 18th year as a member of the athletic department, his fifth year as the assistant athletic director for facilities as he was promoted on July 1, 1999. In his position, he also continues to oversee CU's athletic facilities and grounds, the position he first was hired full-time for on Aug. 1, 1986.

Krueger, 39, is responsible for all maintenance and scheduling for all facilities and grounds, as well as set-up procedures for athletic and special events. He also is the liaison for events such as the Boulder Fourth of July Fireworks and numerous concerts and graduations. As a student at CU, he worked four years under the facilities director, first working for Mark Simpson as a freshman in 1982.

He was born Oct. 11, 1963 in Oak Park, Ill. He graduated from Lyons Township High School (LaGrange, Ill.) in 1981, and graduated from CU in 1986 with a B.S. degree in Economics. A caddy for six years, he attended CU on a prestigious Evans Scholarship. He is married to Colleen Reilly, CU associate sports information director.

MARK NELSON

Assistant Athletic Director/ Academic Support Services

Mark Nelson is in his fourth year as the assistant athletic director for academic support services, as he joined the Colorado staff on May 30, 2000. He oversees all aspects of the academic needs of CU's 300-plus student-athletes.

Nelson, 39, came to CU from Utah State University, where he had spent five years as the Aggies' assistant athletic director for student services. He accepted the position under very difficult circumstances, as it had been vacant for nearly a year and he had to reorganize it from practically square one. Prior to his position at USU, he worked three years as the academic advisor at Muskingum College, a Division III school in New Concord, Ohio.

He graduated from Bowling Green State University in 1988, earning his bachelor's degree in social work. He was a two-time all-Mid American Conference offensive tackle at BGSU, and as a junior, he was on the Falcons' 11-1 team in 1985 that lost to Fresno State in the California Bowl but at one time was ranked No. 18 in the nation. Following the completion of his undergraduate degree, he worked four years as a substance abuse counselor at The Toledo Hospital, in conjunction with earning his master's degree in rehabilitation counseling in 1992.

Born June 22, 1964, in Grand Forks, N.D., he graduated from Thomas Jefferson High School (Bloomington, Minn.) in 1982, lettering in football, basketball and track. He was a member of the state high school champion basketball team in 1982, unknowingly having some tie to his future CU job. CU skier Eric Meyer was also a TJ alum, while the school it beat for the title, Duluth East, eventually produced CU track star Kara Wheeler. He is married to the former Jacquie Gierl, and they have three children, Lindsay (11), Jessica (9) and Kyle (5).

DAVID PLATI

Assistant Athletic Director/ Media Relations

David Plati is in his 20th year as the athletic department's director of media relations, and his 26th year overall in CU's Athletic Media Relations Office. He was promoted to assistant athletic director for media relations on July 1, 1988.

Plati, 43, assumed his current role on Aug. 1, 1984, after serving for three years as the assistant SID. The youngest SID in the nation at the time of his hiring, he previously worked as a student assistant and statistician since he came to CU as a freshman in 1978. He is now the dean of SID's in the Big 12 Conference.

Plati is also an adjunct instructor in CU's School of Journalism, teaching a sports media relations class, and since April 2001 has been CU's representative on the board of directors of the Colorado chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame.

While attending CU, Plati served four years as the information director for the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference. He also worked for the Colorado Golf Association and for the Rocky Mountain News.

He spent his senior year in college (1982) as the public relations director with the triple-A Denver Bears Baseball Club of the American Association. He has been a member of the Denver Broncos statistics crew since 1980 (and was presented with game balls by the NFL team for their back-to-back Super Bowl wins). In the 1980s, he worked as a statistician for TBS (for NBA games) and continues to work freelance for ESPN, ABC, CBS, FOX Sports Net and KOA-Radio in a similar capacity.

He has worked as the media relations liaison for the Boulder Boulder 10K since 1987, and also served as a media relations assistant for the Colorado Open Golf Tournament for 12 years (1980-1991). He was the media coordinator for the 1985, 1989 and 1996 NCAA West Regionals, and was the local media coordinator and NCAA liaison for the 1990 Final Four. He also was the Hula Bowl's director of game week communications for four years (1995-98).

Plati co-founded the Rocky Mountain Athletic Media Relations Directors Association (RMARA) in 1989 with Bronco PR director Jim Saccamano, and basically serves as the group's executive director.

He graduated with a bachelor's degree in public relations from CU in 1982, along with a minor in geography. He was a member of the journalism student council and wrote for the The Campus Press.

Born April 19, 1960 in New Rochelle, N.Y., Plati graduated from Woodlands High School (Hartsdale, N.Y.) in 1978, where he lettered in football and golf (and was also the school's SID his senior year). In 1984, he was awarded an "Honorary C" for his service to Colorado athletics. His younger brother (Mark) was nominated for two Grammy Awards with David Bowie in 1998 (he was a guitarist in Bowie's band for five years), and also engineered the Song-of-the-Year for 1997 (Shawn Colvin's "Sunny Came Home"); he is currently the musical director and keyboardist for British pop star Robbie Williams. Plati is single.

SCOTT SCHEIFELE

Assistant Athletic Director/ Fundraising Development

Scott Scheifele is in his 19th year as a member of the CU athletic department, his 12th as the assistant athletic director for fundraising development.

He joined the department as assistant director of development in August 1985, and was promoted to Buff Club Director on July 1, 1988. He was named director of development in December 1991, and assumed his current title on July 1, 1992. He is also an associate vice president for athletic development in the CU Foundation.

He is responsible for all aspects of athletic fund raising, including major gifts, endowments, capital projects and the annual fund, which combined generate almost $10 million support annually. He oversees a staff consisting of three fund-raisers, business manager, two support personnel and two student interns.

Scheifele, 44, returned to Colorado from private business. He was the general manager of the Class A Salinas Spurs in the California League (1984), after working one year in marketing and sales for the Seaside City Gulls of the Pacific Coast League (AAA). He graduated from CU in 1981 with a degree in biology. While attending CU, he was a varsity cheerleader.

Born Oct. 27, 1958 in San Francisco, he graduated from Radnor High School in Philadelphia, where he lettered in gymnastics and also played soccer. He is married to the former Jennifer Heenan, and they have three children: Payton (11), Joseph (9) and Allie (5).

BRIAN WINKELBAUER

Assistant Athletic Director Student Service

Brian Winkelbauer is in his fourth year as the assistant athletic director for student services, as he was promoted to that position on Aug. 9, 2000. He is in his 10th year overall as a member of the CU athletic staff.

Winkelbauer, 35, has primary responsibilities in the area of student service including sports medicine, strength and conditioning, equipment, sports video, life skills and training table. He is also the staff advisor of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (or SAAC).

The student-athletes selected him as the 2001-02 Staff Member of the Year for his contributions and time dedicated to the success of the members of CU's 17 intercollegiate programs.

He worked five years as the special assistant to the athletic director, as he was appointed to the position in February 1996. He was hired by then-athletic director Bill Marolt to the newly created position, and then continued in that capacity under Dick Tharp. He had previously worked two years as the business manager for the Golden Buffalo Scholarship Fund. He first joined the CU staff from Wasson High School in Colorado Springs, where he taught instrumental music for two years.

He graduated from the University of Colorado in 1991 with a bachelor's degree in music education. As a student at CU, he was a member of the Golden Buffalo Marching Band, serving as the drum major for four years. He also was a member of the legendary "CU Buffoons," an all-male cappella singing troupe.

Born Aug. 10, 1968, in Denver, he graduated from Aurora Gateway High School in 1986. He helped compose "Ralphie's Dance," a musical number played prior to the CU mascot's taking the field before football games in 1997 and 1998, as well as the current song used for the team's entry video. An avid music enthusiast and softball player, he is married to the former Dr. Lindy Lynch. The couple has a son, Brayden Lee (1).

MIKE SMITH

Director of Equipment

Mike Smith is in his fifth year as director of equipment, and his ninth year as football equipment manager, as he was hired full-time on Aug. 1, 1995. He is an EMC, or certified equipment manager, a status he has earned for his years of service in the profession.

He also works closely with NIKE, as CU and the sports shoe and apparel giant have been partners since 1996. He has worked with NIKE to help create new technologies that the CU football program has been the first to experiment with.

Smith, 33, returned to his alma mater from Utah State University, where he was head equipment director for ne year. Prior to his employment in the Aggies athletic department, he worked for IN2 Sports for two years as a team sales specialist.

He also worked four Hula bowls (1998-2001) as its equipment and operations manager, coordinating the many needs of almost 100 of college football's most outstanding players. He will rejoin the Hula Bowl one week staff this January.

He graduated from the University of Colorado in 1992 with a bachelor's degree in mathematics. While he was a student at CU, he worked in the grounds crew, served as a Ralphie runner (accompanying the team to the 1989 Orange Bowl), and worked three years as a student equipment manager, and was head manager his senior year.

Born May 26, 1970, in Denver, Smith graduated from Broomfield High School in 1988, where he lettered in golf, basketball and baseball. An avid golfer, he plays to a single-digit handicap. He is single.

JUSTINA BOYD

Director of CHAMPS/ Life Skills Program

Justina Boyd is in her first year on the Colorado athletic staff, having joined the Buffaloes in March 2003 as the school's first-ever director of the CU CHAMPS Life Skills Program.

Her primary focus is to coordinate programming in the area of personal development, career development and campus and community service for CU's 300-plus student-athletes, all while working in harmony with academic and athletic commitment.

Specifically, Boyd will facilitate programs and resources to help students adjust to the challenges of university life and being a Division I student-athlete; assist students in their personal growth and career development, provide opportunities to develop their leadership skills and be positive, contributing members of their communities.

Boyd came to CU from San Diego State University, where she had worked the previous five years as the director of compliance and student affairs. She played an integral role in establishing the life skills program at SDSU in her time there.

She also worked for five years as the director of compliance, financial aid and eligibility at her alma mater, the University of Arizona. She earned two degrees at UA, her bachelor's of science in business administration and her master's of arts in education. She started her professional career there as well, working two years as an academic counselor, where she coordinated and supervised the tutorial and study programs for all intercollegiate sports. She also spent two years as an academic advisor for the football and basketball teams. At Arizona, she lettered three times in track, participating in sprints and relays.

A native of Denver, Boyd graduated from Denver's George Washington High School, where she lettered in track and field.

KRISTIN COLON

Golden Buffalo Scholarship Fund Director

Kristin Colon is in her 11th year in the CU athletic department, her eighth as the Golden Buffalo Scholarship Fund Director. She had worked the previous three years as the director of the Golden Buffalo Volunteer Network prior to her promotion in 1996.

Colon, 36, started working in the department as an intern in November, 1992, after working three years as Travel Director with Maritz Travel, based out of St. Louis, Mo.

She graduated from Scripps College in 1989 with a bachelor's degree in psychology, with an emphasis in communications. At Scripps, she lettered four times in soccer, earning all-conference honors three times, and also participated in water polo for three years. She was selected to appear in the 1988 annual edition of the American College Athletes Hall of Fame. She also served as the student director of the NCAA's "Volunteers For Youth" program from 1987-89 for the Claremont colleges.

Born July 29, 1967, in Bad Kreuznach, Germany, she graduated from Fairview High School in Boulder, where she participated in soccer and swimming. Formerly Kristin Heath, she is married to Eric Colon, and they have a son, Heath (1).

TOM DOYLE

Director of Sports Video

Tom Doyle is in fifth year as director of sports video, returning to the CU staff for his second "tour of duty" in August 1999. He oversees the day-to-day operations of scouting video for all varsity sports at CU.

Doyle, 41, was CU's assistant director of sports video in 1996 and 1997 under Bill Wong before serving as the director of football video at the University of North Carolina for the 1998 season. Prior to coming to CU for the first time, he was the video coordinator at his alma mater, East Carolina for six years (1991-96). He graduated from ECU with a bachelor's degree in communications in 1991.

He is a 12-year veteran of producing videos for coaching staff uses in scouting and evaluation, as his expertise led to him serving as a two-time vice president of the Collegiate Sports Video Association, a professional group of national video directors. He was first elected to the post in May 2000 and served three years in all.

Born June 10, 1962 in Chicago, Ill., he graduated from West Carteret High School (Morehead City, N.C.) in 1980. A former member of the United States Air Force, he also has an extensive background in many forms of mass media, having worked in radio, television and print. He is married to the former Barbara Mullis, and is the father of three grown children, twin boys Thomas and Charles and daughter Mary.

BRUCE FLETCHER

Director of Licensing

Bruce Fletcher is in his third year as CU's director of licensing, joining the CU staff in June 2001, when CU's licensing office was transferred to athletics. He is thus the first athletic department employee to hold the position.

Fletcher, 38, came to Colorado from Villanova, where he spent the previous seven years as the corporate account manager for the athletic department. He was responsible for generating $2.3 million on advertising and sales revenues through local, regional and national partnerships.

He also managed Villanova's licensing program including over 185 licensees and negotiated all sideline and apparel agreements for athletics.

He earned his bachelor's degree in economics from Bucknell in 1987, and received his master's in education and sports administration from Temple University in 1994.

Prior to his career at Villanova, he spent 20 months as the director of licensing at Temple University, and over five years before that as an account representative with the Xerox Corporation in Morris Plains, N.J.

He was an assistant coach with USA Water Polo in 1983 and 1984, instructing more than 80 nationally ranked players at the U.S. Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs. He worked mainly with the Under 18 Elite Team, as he was well qualified for the position due to his lettering four times in water polo at Bucknell, where he was a first-team all-East selection and team captain as a senior. He also has logged time as a high school swimming and water polo head coach.

Born Dec. 17, 1964 in Meadowbrook, Pa., he graduated from the Lawrenceville (N.J.) School in 1983, where he lettered in swimming and water polo. His hobbies include cooking, reading, and almost any sport in the water. He is single.

DAVE GIORDANO

Director of Sales & Marketing/ Club Seats & Suites

Dave Giordano is in his third year as the director of sales and marketing for CU's club seats and suites. The construction of the new structure atop the east side of Folsom Field will be completed in time for the 2003 season.

In his position, Giordano, 33, coordinates sales of all premium football seats for CU, including the Flatirons Club. When all is said and done, he will be responsible for almost 3,000 seats and 49 suites on both sides of the stadium.

Prior to his promotion, he worked as the athletic department's events coordinator from 1994 until taking over business manager duties for the Golden Buffalo Scholarship Fund three years later. He first came to CU from Northwestern Mutual Life, where he worked in sales for a year in the Boulder office.

He graduated from Claremont McKenna College (Claremont, Calif.) in 1991, earning his bachelor's degree in both economics and mathematics. He earned his MBA in marketing from CU-Boulder in 1992.

Born Nov. 3, 1969 in Philadelphia, Pa., he graduated Salpointe Catholic High School (Tucson, Ariz.) in 1987, where he played soccer. His hobbies include hiking, fishing and softball. He is married to the former Shelly Simmons, and they have a daughter, Courtney (1), and a son, Ryan (born this past July).

BILL HARRIS

Alumni C-Club Director

Bill Harris is in his third year as the Alumni C Club Director, as he was named to the position in May, 2001. He is responsible for developing relationships with letterwinners in all sports, maintain communication with them, provide opportunities for them to return to campus and coordinate various alumni functions and activities.

Harris, 61, has continued on a part-time basis in CU's Alumni Association office, where he has been working since October 2000, to strengthen the Black Alumni Association on campus.

Also known as "Buffalo" Bill Harris, he lettered three times in football at CU between 1961 and 1963, leading the team in rushing as a junior with 582 yards in 1962. He is one of 44 players in school history to have rushed for over 1,000 yards in a CU career, as he is 24th on the all-time list with 1,486. He still stands 21st all-time in all-purpose yards, as he amassed 2,411 via rushing, receiving and returns.

He relocated back to Colorado in 2000 from Paramus, N.J., where he had resided since 1974. He was a healthcare executive for over 25 years, with extensive experience in administering acute medicine, as well as long-term and ambulatory care, personnel, community medical outreach programs and regulatory agencies. He spent most of that time as an administrator at the Bergen Pines Community Hospital before completing his medical career as the vice president of operations for the Bergen (County) Regional Medical Center where he oversaw a $25 million budget. He also was active in the community, ranging from New Jersey Supreme Court Arbitrary Committee and Community Chest work to 14 years coaching little league baseball.

An at-large member on the board of the Colorado chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Football Hall of Fame, he was a board member for several years for the Bergen County chapter and received their Distinguished American Award in 2001.

He attended CU from 1960 through 1964, but finished up his bachelor's degree in Education at Montclair (N.J.) State University in 1968, and then earned his master's in both Sociology and Business from MSU in 1972.

Following his playing days at CU, he was drafted by the NFL's New York Giants. He went on to play three years in the Canadian Football League, for Ottawa in 1964 and then Calgary in 1965-66.

Born May 30, 1942 in New Jersey, he is a graduate of Hackensack High School. He is married (Susan), is the father of two, son Trevor and daughter Lisa, and is the grandfather of two.

GAIL PEDERSON

Promotions Director

Gail Pederson is in her eighth year as promotions director, as she was elevated to the position on July 1, 1996. She previously served two years as the assistant marketing and promotions director after joining the CU staff on Aug. 1, 1994.

Pederson, 49, also oversees the Ralph Program (CU's live buffalo mascot), having taken on those additional duties in 1998.

She came to CU from the Orange County Sports Association, where she had worked seven years (1987-94) as the association executive director. While with the OCSA, which handled both the Freedom Bowl and Disneyland Pigskin Classic, she was on the selection committee for several NCAA events. She was quite familiar with the CU program, as she was present when CU played Brigham Young in the 1988 Freedom Bowl and Tennessee in the 1990 Pigskin game.

She also worked for the California Angels for four years (1978-81) as the assistant director in the public relations office. She was on the staff when the Angels won their first American League West Division title (1979). Following her time in major league baseball, she worked five years as a park ranger for Orange County.

Pederson is a 1977 graduate of Cal-State Fullerton, earning her bachelor's degree in business administration. She also earned her master's degree in environmental studies from CSUF in 1982, and received an executive certificate from the Sports Management Institute (from North Carolina and Southern Cal) in 1991.

Born April 25, 1954, in Milwaukee, Wis., she graduated from F. Modena High School in Orange, Calif., in 1972. She is married to Chris Kingdon.

DERIC SWANSON

Director of BuffVision

Deric Swanson is in his fifth year as the Director of BuffVision, coordinating all aspects of production involving the $3.6 million video display board operation for athletics (first installed at Folsom Field for the 1999 season).

Swanson, 29, came to CU from Ascent Sports, Inc., in Denver, where he had worked for a brief time as the manager of game entertainment and video production. He had previously worked three-plus seasons with the Colorado Rockies Baseball Club, first as a stadium camera operator, and then as video production coordinator, including shooting, editing, producing and directing features and programming. He also worked the 1998 Major League Baseball All-Star Game at Coors Field, shooting and scripting special features leading up to and following the event.

He has worked as an independent contractor with the NFL's Denver Broncos and the NHL's Colorado Avalanche, working for the latter as an in-game director for the 1998-99 season. He also works as a freelance photojournalist, producer and editor, handling video production for private business and community groups. His clients have included Winter Park Resorts, US West, Colorado State University, the National Sports Center for the Disabled, and Colorado Time Systems.

He has worked numerous times as a production assistant for regional sports productions, including for Turner Sports, Mountain Mobile Productions and TCI Digital TV.

He is a 1996 graduate of Colorado State University, earning his bachelor's degree in technical journalism and broadcasting. He graduated Magna Cum Laude.

He was born May 24, 1974 in Oakland, Calif., and attended two high schools. His father was stationed in the Azores, Portugal, and he spent two years at Lajes High School, where he lettered in football, soccer, volleyball and basketball. After moving to Colorado, he graduated from Liberty High School in Colorado Springs, where he lettered in football, and played volleyball on CU's club team for three years. He is single.

LISA VAN GOOR

Events Coordinator

Lisa Van Goor is in her fourth year as CU's events coordinator, joining the athletic department staff on August 15, 2000.

She didn't have to travel very far from her previous job, as she had worked for one year as the events coordinator for the School of Arts & Sciences with the University of Colorado Foundation.

She was a member of the second class to be inducted into CU's Athletic Hall of Fame, entering in 1999 with Gil Cruter, Burdie Halderson, Kayo Lam and Joe Romig; that quintet joined the late Byron White, the sole inductee in the inaugural class, as the first six to be honored with induction.

Van Goor, 41, lettered four years in basketball at Colorado between 1981 and 1985, and her number 25 is one of just three jerseys officially honored for the sport at CU. She is still CU's all-time leading scorer (2,067 points), rebounder (1,154) and blocked shot leader (289). An all-league Eight performer for 1982-83, she was named to the conference's honorable mention all-decade team for the 1980s. She graduated from CU with a degree in EPO biology in 1986.

She enjoyed a seven-year career playing professional in Europe, as he was on six different teams in three countries: Spain, Italy and France. An all-star performer, she was once second in the league in scoring while playing with Kerrygold, based in Las Palmas in the Canary Islands, Spain.

Following her retirement in 1992, she returned to Boulder and worked in management with Enterprise Rent-A-Car. Four years later, she became the sales coordinator for Tatonka Capital in Boulder, a position she held for the next two years. She was then in sales and marketing for a couple of area firms until joining the CU Foundation in 1999.

Born Dec. 13, 1961 in Yankton, S.D., she lettered in basketball and track at Yankton High. Her hobbies include skiing, biking and crafts. She is single.

COLLEEN REILLY KRUEGER

Associate Sports Information Director

Colleen Reilly Krueger is in her 12th year in the sports information office, joining the Colorado media relations staff as an assistant director on July 14, 1992. She was named associate SID on July 1, 1998, as her tenure as an assistant is the longest in CU history and is also currently the longest in the Big 12 Conference.

She has staffed many NCAA championships in cross country, skiing and basketball. She worked as the media coordinator for five women's basketball subregionals in Boulder, and was the media coordinator for the 2001 NCAA Women's Midwest Regional at the Pepsi Center in Denver. She has also worked two NCAA men's basketball championships (1989, 1992) as well as the 1998 and 1999 Women's Final Four. She also was the editor of CU's game day football program for six years.

In 2003, she served on the NCAA Division I Women's Basketball and Softball Championship Committees, staffing first and second rounds and regional championship sites, respectively, for the national office.

Reilly Krueger, 36, worked two years as the assistant information director at the Big Sky Conference prior to coming to Colorado, and had a one-year internship with the Eastern College Athletic Conference in Centerville, Mass.

She earned her bachelor's degree in sport management from the University of Massachusetts (Amherst) in 1989. While at UMass, she was a three-year letterwinner for the nationally ranked women's field hockey program and was a member of the 1987 team that advanced to the NCAA Final Four (which came away with a third-place finish). As an undergraduate, she worked three years as a student assistant in the UMass sports information office.

Born Colleen Reilly on Jan. 8, 1967 in Mineola, N.Y., the Long Island native graduated from Centereach High School, where she lettered in field hockey and basketball. Her younger sister (Kerriann Broussard) works for the NBA's Events & Attractions Group. She is married to CU's assistant athletic director for facilities, John Krueger.

In the summer of 2003, she was invited to work for the Pan American Games in Puerto Rico, where she assisted with the sports medicine needs for volleyball.

She is a 1997 graduate of Cumberland University in Tennessee where she earned her degree in natural science and physical education with an emphasis in sports medicine. She attended the University of South Florida for graduate school, where she earned a master's degree in physical education.

Veatch was a collegiate softball player, playing three years of junior college softball before transferring to Cumberland to complete her education. She earned National Softball Coaches of America Academic All-American honors, as well as TCAC Academic All-Conference. She played both catcher and centerfield at Cumberland.

Born Aug. 23, 1973 in Topeka, Kan., she graduated from Shawnee Heights High School in Tecumseh, Kan., where she lettered in softball. Her hobbies include tennis, golf and skiing. She is single.

KRISTEN PAYNE

Associate Trainer

Kristen Payne is in her fifth year as a member of the CU sports medicine staff, her first as an associate trainer and her fourth overall as she joined the department in May 1999. She primarily works with the women's basketball program, and the men's golf and women's tennis teams.

Payne, 33, came to Colorado from the University of Iowa, where she had spent four years (1995-99) as an assistant athletic trainer. She worked with the men's wrestling program, which won the NCAA Championship all four seasons she was associated with the team.

She graduated from Washington State University with a bachelor's degree in athletic training in 1992. She earned her master's degree in exercise science in 1995 from the University of Nebraska at Omaha where she worked as a graduate assistant trainer.

Born Oct. 13, 1969 in Spokane, Wash., she graduated from Puyallup (Wash.) High School in 1988, where she lettered in volleyball, basketball and track. She was an honorable mention all-state performer in basketball, earning first-team all-league and all-area honors. She has a twin sister (Karen) who is a nutritionist in the Denver area. She is single.

ANDREA DUBAY

Assistant Trainer

Andrea Dubay is in her fourth year as an assistant athletic trainer, as she joined the department on a full-time basis in August, 2000.

She primarily works with the cross country and track teams.

Dubay, 32, was named to the position after working three years as a student athletic trainer at CU. She worked with the football and men's and women's ski team in 1999-2000 as the department's intern. She worked with the tennis and ski teams as a student trainer between 1997 and 1999. She earned her Master of Science in kinesiology and applied physiology from CU in 1999, also working as a teaching assistant in the department of kinesiology as well as serving as a graduate research assistant.

She graduated from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1993, majoring in biology with a minor in chemistry. She worked three years as a student trainer at SIU, working with six different sports in her tenure.

Born Aug. 27, 1971 in Granite City, Ill., she graduated from Edwardsville (Ill.) High School in 1989, where she lettered in track (hurdles, high jump). She is single.

ELLEN MARKS

Assistant Trainer

Ellen Marks is in her third year as an assistant athletic trainer, as she joined the sports medicine staff in August 2001. She primarily works with volleyball and the spirit squads.

Marks, 27, came to CU from Auburn University, where she had worked as a graduate assistant trainer for two years. At Auburn, she worked with the women's soccer and women's tennis teams.

She is a 1998 graduate of the University of Michigan, earning her bachelor's degree in movement science. As an undergrad, she worked in the Wolverines' sports medicine department for two years as a student trainer. She earned her master's degree in administration of higher education from Auburn in 2001.

Born March 25, 1976 in Farmington, Mich., she graduated South Lyon (Mich.) High School in 1994, where she lettered in soccer. Hobbies include fly-fishing and skiing. She is single.

DR. PETER EWING

Team Physician Emeritus

Dr. Peter Ewing is in his 31st season as CU's team physician. Ewing attended most football practices and took care of general illness and orthopedic screening for years, and remains an active participant on game days. In 2001, he was presented with the Honorary "C" Club Award for his long-time association with the Buffaloes.

He is a member of the Dakota Ridge Medical Center staff in Boulder.

Born in Portchester, N.Y., Ewing graduated from Union College in Schenectady, N.Y.

in 1965 with a bachelor of art degree in modern language. He graduated from the Albany Medical College, in Albany, N.Y., in 1969. He first came to Boulder as an intern in the CU-Denver Family Residency program, and has practiced in Boulder since 1972. He is married (Mary Jean) and is the father of two children.

DR. ERIC McCARTY

Team Physician

Dr. Eric McCarty is in his first year working with the CU athletic program, joining the sports medicine team in July 2003. But he's certainly no stranger to the University or to Boulder.

McCarty, 38, accepted the Chief of Sports Medicine and Shoulder Surgery position in the Department of Orthopedics at CU's Health Sciences Center in Denver, enabling him to return to his home state where he starred as both a prep and collegian.

He returned to CU from Vanderbilt University, where he was an orthopedic surgeon, assistant professor and team physician for the Commodores' athletic teams for four years.

He graduated in 1988 from CU with a degree in kinesiology and a 3.75 grade point average. A four-time Academic All-Big Eight team member, the first in school history to be honored four times, he was an Academic All-American his senior year, when he reached the finalist stage for the Rhodes Scholarship. On the field, he earned first-team All-Big Eight honors as a senior, when he led the Buffaloes with 148 tackles, the fourth highest total at the time in team history. He had 237 career tackles in two years on defense, after moving over from offense where he played fullback (503 career rushing yards), and earned four letters.

He earned his M.D., with honors, in 1993 from the University of Colorado School of Medicine in Denver, and did his internship residency at Vanderbilt in orthopedic surgery between 1993 and 1998. Shortly thereafter, he spent a year at The Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City, where he received a fellowship in sports medicine and shoulder surgery. While residing in New York, he worked with the NFL's New York Giants.

McCarty has been the recipient of over three dozen awards in his professional career, and has had papers published on 15 occasions while contributing to several others.

He was born Nov. 16, 1964 in Lundstahl, West Germany. He graduated from Boulder High School in 1983, where he was the state's player of the year as a senior and considered one of the nation's top recruits after rushing for 1,301 and 13 touchdowns; he won the prestigious Denver Post Gold Helmet Award that same year. He is married to the former Miriam Liddell, and they have four children, Madeleine (8), Eric Cleveland, Jr. (6), Shannon (3) and Torrance (1).

GREG FINNEGAN

Director of Speed-Strength & Conditioning

Greg Finnegan is in his first year as Colorado's director of speed-strength and conditioning, joining the Buffalo staff on May 28, 2003, after serving five years as the assistant strength and conditioning coach for the Jacksonville Jaguars of the National Football League.

Finnegan, 34, is no stranger to college athletics, as prior to working five seasons with the Jaguars, he spent two-and-a-half years as director of Speed, Strength & Conditioning at Boston College. Prior to being named as BC's top man, he was an assistant at both BC (six months) and Kansas State (two years).

At Jacksonville, he performed a variety of duties, including developing and implementing strength, speed and conditioning programs; search methods to improve all areas of the program (speed, strength, power, balance, agility, flexibility, conditioning, supplementation and injury prevention); consult and advise the athletes on proper nutrition; and developing instructional methods of teaching technique. He also worked a bit in coaching, assisting the defensive staff in breaking down opponent film and helping the defensive line coach in practice. He was on the staff of the '99 Jaguar team that posted a 14-2 regular season record and advanced to the AFC Championship game. At Boston College, he oversaw the conditioning programs for 33 varsity teams, one of the largest Division I-A programs on the East Coast.

Finnegan has worked with some of the best football players in the country, including former Buffaloes Deon Figures, Chris Hudson and Chris Naeole, as well as Tony Boselli, Mark Brunell, Jimmy Smith and Fred Taylor, all while with the Jaguars.

He earned bachelor's degree in 1992 from Cornell University, where he was the first-team all-Ivy League center in both 1989 and 1990 and team captain his senior season in 1991. He received his master's from Kansas State in 1994 in exercise physiology, and it was in Manhattan where he began his career as a graduate teaching assistant. While finishing his degree at Cornell, he also had six months of experience as a student athletic trainer, assisting with injury rehabilitation and performing a research study on nutritional supplements.

Academically, he was a four-time member of the Deans' List, twice at both Cornell and Kansas State, and had earned an appointment to the U.S. Air Force Academy out of high school.

He is also a published writer, authoring several articles on his profession in strength and conditioning trade publications.

Born Feb. 21, 1969 in Toledo, Ohio, he is married to the former Lyn Kendrick and is the father of four, daughter Abigail (8) and sons Benjamin (6), William (3) and Nathaniel (born this past April 26).

TRAVIS REUST

Assistant Speed-Strength & Conditioning Coach

Travis Reust is in his second year as an assistant speed-strength and conditioning coach on the Colorado staff, joining the CU staff in time for football two-a-days in August 2002.

He coordinates the training programs for the men's and women's basketball teams, in addition to men's and women's golf and women's tennis. He also assists with the football program.

Reust, 33, came to Colorado from fellow Big 12 Conference school Oklahoma State, where he had worked one year as a graduate assistant in the Cowboys' strength and conditioning operation. Prior to heading to OSU, he spent four years as the head strength and conditioning coordinator at East Central University (Ada, Okla.). He also worked as an assistant coach for all four years, tutoring the defensive tackles.

He earned his bachelor's degree in education (exercise science) in 2000 from ECU, where he also earned his master's in education (sports administration) two years later. His roots at ECU date back to 1994, when he was the director of all personal trainers at the school's Wellness Center.

Born March 9, 1970 in Oklahoma City, he graduated from Moore (Okla.) High School in 1988. Following high school, he was a competitive body builder for six years as well as a personal trainer. He is married to the former Brooke Crawford, and the couple has two children, daughter Cassidy (4) and son Kaden (2).

It was during one of his body building competitions as a teen, when he finished second to Sweden's Fjork Borba in the 1989 Taco Bell Newport Beach Championships, that a Hollywood talent scout snapped a photograph of Reust that was later used as the model for the Lee Jeans' spokesperson, Buddy Lee.

KARL JORDAN

Assistant Speed-Strength & Conditioning Coach

Karl Jordan is in his second year as an assistant speed-strength and conditioning coach on the Colorado staff, having joined the Buffaloes in August 2002, from a similar position at Ball State University.

At Colorado, he coordinates the training regimens for men's and women's cross country and track in addition to assisting with the football program.

Jordan, 37, spent one year at Ball State after working the previous five years as the head speed-strength conditioning coach at Alabama A&M University in Normal, Ala.

He earned his bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Vanderbilt University in 1985, and earned his master's in counseling from Western Kentucky University in 1989. A four-year letterman at Vanderbilt, he started every game for all four seasons at three different positions (offensive tackle as a freshman, offensive guard as a sophomore and defensive tackle as a junior and senior). He made The Sporting News' Freshman All-America team, and also earned second-team All-Southeastern Conference honors as a senior. He was a 12th round selection by Dallas in the 1985 NFL Draft.

Born Jan. 12, 1966 in Huntsville, Ala., he graduated from J.O. Johnson High in Huntsville, where he lettered in football, baseball, wrestling and track. His father (Harvey) played college football at Alabama A&M. He is single.

SARAH RAMEY

Assistant Speed-Strength & Conditioning Coach

Sarah Ramey is in her first year as an assistant speed-strength and conditioning coach on the Colorado staff, coming to CU in July 2003, from the staff at Kansas State.

At Colorado, she is responsible for the training regimens for volleyball, soccer and men's and women's skiing.

Ramey, 23, worked one year as a graduate assistant at Kansas State, which followed a five-month internship with Mike Boyle Strength and Conditioning in Winchester, Mass.

She earned her bachelor's degree in exercise science from Wichita State in May 2002, graduating with an impressive 3.83 grade point average. She began working toward her master's in kinesiology at Kansas State, and has completed over half of the work required is anticipating earned the degree in December 2003.

At Wichita State, she lettered three times in volleyball playing middle blocker and the right side, earning the Missouri Valley Conference's Academic Excellence Award in 2000. She developed an interest in strength and conditioning during her college days as an athlete and began pursuit of a career in the field early in her career.

Born May 14, 1980 in Sterling, Colo., she graduated from Andover (Kan.) High School, where she lettered in volleyball and basketball. She is single.

THE BIG 12 CONFERENCE

The Big 12 Conference became a reality on February 25, 1994, when Southwest Conference members Baylor, Texas, Texas A & M and Texas Tech merged with Big Eight Conference institutions Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Oklahoma State to pursue common academic and athletic endeavors.

Individually, member schools have long been respected for successes both in its classrooms and its stadiums. In all, league institutions have received numerous accolades for the quality of academic resources, programs and services offered to students. Athletically, Big 12 teams have accounted for more than 130 NCAA team championships and 16 football titles, while its student-athletes have claimed almost 800 NCAA crowns entering the 2003-04 academic year. The formation of the Big 12 represents an undertaking by school chief executive officers to combine resources to achieve even higher levels of performance heading into the 21st century.

Steven J. Hatchell, a Colorado graduate, became the conference's first commissioner on March 26, 1995, and was in no small part responsible for the immediate success of the nation's newest conference. Under his direction, the Big 12 took a big step toward community service in May, 1996, by adopting Special Olympics as its primary philanthropy.

Hatchell stepped down in May, 1998, and Kevin Weiberg was named the league's second commissioner later that year. Donnie Duncan, formerly the athletic director at Oklahoma, is the league's associate commissioner for football operations. Tim Allen and Prentice Gautt are associate commissioners, with Tim Millis the supervisor of football officials.

Another innovative venture of the Big 12 is the development of the Life Skills Program and Academic Service, which seeks to enhance the "total person" concept both on and off the field. Programs such as the Student Athletic Advisory Committee, Special Olympics and the NCAA's heralded YES program of clinics and stay in school messages to youngsters are just a few life skill areas promoted by the Big 12.

Exposure is key in any endeavor of this magnitude, and the Big 12 has one of the most comprehensive regional and national telecast agreements in the country.

ABC and Fox Sports Network combine to produce over 40 football games annually in syndicated, regional, national and prime time windows. The Conference dominates network television annually on the Friday after Thanksgiving with back-to-back national telecasts of Texas versus Texas A&M and Colorado versus Nebraska.

In all, the packages with ABC, Fox Sports Network and ESPN guarantee the Big 12 the finest intercollegiate coverage through the year 2008 and at least $145 million into the coffers of the member institutions.

The Big 12 utilizes a North-South divisional format in football, with the two Oklahoma schools and the four Texas schools making up the Big 12 South with the remaining six schools competing in the Big 12 North. The champions of each respected division face each other in a showdown in early December to determine the Big 12 representative to the Bowl Alliance.

Institution chancellors and presidents serve as the chief policy makers of the Conference, operating as the Council of Chief Executive Officers. Administration of the league occurs through the Faculty Athletic Representatives, Athletics Directors and Senior Woman Administrators.

In all, the Big 12 is home to more than 1,500 student athletes on 209 teams in the 21 men's and women's Big 12 sponsored sports. Men's programs regulated by the league include basketball, cross country, football, golf, indoor and outdoor track, swimming, tennis and wrestling. Big 12-regulated women's programs include basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, indoor and outdoor track, soccer, softball, swimming and tennis. Colorado, of course, also offers the prestigious programs of men's and women's skiing.

All times listed are mountain. *—denotes Big 12 Conference game. Television selections Sept. 20 and beyond will be made 12 days in advance by the Big 12 television partners. FSN denotes national broadcast on the FOX Sports Regional networks; FOX-S denotes FOX syndicated broadcast. FSN (Aug. 30-Sept. 6-Oct. 18-Nov. 1-8-15) and TBS (Sept. 27-Oct. 4-11-25-Nov. 22) share Saturday night prime time broadcasts. ABC also has exclusive 10 a.m. MT windows on Nov. 1 and 8 in addition to/or replacing the usual 1:30 p.m. slot. TIMES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE DUE TO TELEVISION.

COLORADO'S CONFERENCE HISTORY

The Big 12 Conference is technically the sixth conference in which the University of Colorado has been a member.

There were no organized leagues in the Rocky Mountain region when CU started playing football in 1890. In 1893, Colorado was a charter member of the Colorado Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA; also known as the Colorado Football Association), joined by Denver, Colorado College, Colorado Mines and Colorado A & M. CU remained a member through 1908 (except 1905, when it withdrew from the state conference prior to the season).

In 1909, a new alignment called the Colorado Faculty Athletic Conference came into existence, with CU, CC, A & M and Mines the charter members. One year later in 1910, the name was changed to the Rocky Mountain Faculty Athletic Conference, as the league expanded geographically to include Utah and Denver, and later, Utah State (1914), Montana State (1917), Brigham Young (1918), Wyoming (1921), and Colorado Teachers College (now Northern Colorado) and Western State (1924). This new league, built on a foundation of faculty control, lasted through the 1936-37 school year.

On Dec. 4, 1937, after a serious gap that had developed between the elite of the RMAC and the smaller schools, seven schools split to form the Mountain States Conference. This new league consisted of CU, DU, A & M, Wyoming, Utah, Utah State and BYU. The remaining five schools continued on as the RMAC, which today remains one of the oldest conferences in the nation.

A decade later, CU athletics would change forever, as the Buffaloes were accepted into the Missouri Valley Intercollegiate Athletic Association (also known as the Big Six) on Dec. 1, 1947. Colorado started competition in this league in the 1948-49 school year, thus changing the group's name to the Big Seven. Other schools in the league were Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska and Oklahoma. When Oklahoma State rejoined the group after a three decade absence in 1958, the conference became known as the Big Eight.

On Feb. 25, 1994, it was announced that Baylor, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech accepted invitations to join all Big Eight schools to form a new super-conference known as the Big 12. The four former Southwest Conference schools joined the eight Big Eight schools in starting the new league on July 1, 1996; it was considered a new conference and not a merger.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA CREDENTIALS for covering athletic events at the University of Colorado can be obtained by writing the Athletic Media Relations Office two weeks in advance of the scheduled contest. Requests which are approved will either be mailed or left at the will call window (located in the ticket building adjacent to Gate 6, just off Colorado Avenue). Coverage of all CU athletic events dictate approval of press credentials for Colorado media outlets; radio and television stations must cover practice and/or get postgame and postpractice tape on a regular basis to qualify for credentials.

PHOTOGRAPHER CREDENTIALS will be issued only to officially recognized media outlets and/or individuals on special assignment. Only working photographers will be allowed on the sidelines. Photographers must have their passes displayed at all times on the sidelines, and must remain outside the 25-yard lines on both sides of the field. Due to the constraints of Folsom Field's sidelines, a limit of 25 field photo passes will be permitted for members of the media which cover the visiting team.

FAX SERVICE is available on a first-come, first-served basis. Please contact the Athletic Media Relations Office either in advance or on the day of the game.

TELEPHONE SERVICES are available through Qwest Communications, but it is advised that you make your arrangements at least one week in advance of the game. To order a phone line, contact Laura Salava with Qwest at 800/301-9220 (FAX: 800/705-3307) for installation. The address of the press box when asked is 2005 Colorado Avenue. Qwest provides a line only; you must make arrangements for your own telephone set. The campus communications office (303/492-5194, Marianne Holcomb) will assist you with your telephone orders. Note: Please check with the athletic media relations on your telephone needs. There are seven courtesy lines in the press box after the game, and four available for use during the game.

VISITING RADIO personnel desiring to broadcast athletic events from the University of Colorado should contact the Athletic Media Relations Office at the earliest possible date to request permission to broadcast. The station is responsible for making its own arrangements with Qwest (Laura Salava, 800/301-9220). Qwest will contact the Athletic Media Relations Office for booth assignment. Spotter and/or statisticians are available upon request (please request at least 72 hours before the event).

PRESS BOX SERVICES include play-by-play and statistical highlights at the end of each period. Full statistical facts and figures along with quotes from coaches and players will be available following the contest. The media will be escorted to the locker room following the event for postgame interviews. Coach Barnett's postgame press conference can also be heard over the audio system in the press box for those media members who can't make down to the lockerroom after the game. An informal luncheon will be served in the press box starting two hours prior to kickoff.

HANDICAP ACCESS is available via elevator to the Folsom Field press box facility at the north end of Balch Fieldhouse.

A "NO SMOKING" POLICY is in effect at Folsom Field, including the press box, to conform with University of Colorado policy concerning smoking on campus. Those members of the media who do smoke will be directed to those areas of the stadium where smoking is permitted.

PARKING passes are limited. The media must request parking along with their credentials request. Media outlets covering the University of Colorado on a regular basis will have first priority.

FOLSOM FIELD is located in the University of Colorado campus at the corner of Colorado Avenue and Folsom Street. Driving time from Denver International Airport is approximately 50 minutes via the Denver-Boulder Turnpike (U.S. 36). The Press Box is located on the west side of the stadium, and the entrance for the media is on the west side of the field through Gate No. 1. The press box phone numbers are 303/492-5626 and 303/492-3209.

The University of Colorado was cited for "Outstanding Press Box Working Services" in 1982, 1987 and 1992 by the Football Writers Association of America. (Schools were eligible to be honored once every five years; the FWAA discontinued the award in 1996.)

MEDIA SERVICES

Colorado

Press Luncheons: Gary Barnett will hold Tuesday press conferences starting Sept. 2 through Dec. 3 (except the Tuesdays prior to open weeks) in the Dal Ward Center. Lunch is served at 11:30 a.m., with Barnett starting the conference at Noon. Note: The luncheon the week of the Nebraska game will be Monday, Nov. 24.

Video Highlights: Colorado football highlights can be obtained through Deric Swanson of BuffVision (303/735-3637).

Weekly Releases: Colorado's weekly news release will be available through its website and via E-mail. For further details, call the CU Athletic Media Relations office at 303/492-5626.

Internet: All Colorado media relations information is available on the Internet at www.CUBuffs.com. The weekly release is scheduled to be posted no later than 6 p.m. on Mondays.

Big 12

Monday Coaches Briefing: All 12 league coaches are available Mondays throughout the season (Aug. 25 through Nov. 24) on a Big 12 Football Coaches Teleconference. Barnett is on weekly at 10:40 a.m. mountain; to access the conference, please call 913/981-5507.

Video Highlights: Details were not finalized at press time; please call the league office for information (214/742-1212).

Weekly Releases: Please go to www.big12sports.com or call the conference office to be placed on the league's E-mail list.

INTERVIEW POLICIES

Media representatives desiring access to players, coaches and facilities must obtain the consent of the Athletic Media Relations (AMR) office. A general idea of what interviews are about may be requested; however, players and coaches will determine if they will do interviews or answer questions, not AMR personnel.

Most of practice is closed to the media and public. For any practice that is open, a practice pass system is utilized: media members must wear either their season credential or practice passes at all times. The first 20 minutes of practice is open to all members of the media for photography needs; reporters are welcome during this time as well.

Photographers (still and video) are allowed to shoot the first 20 minutes of practice. Obviously certain plays and formations are not to be taped, filmed, photographed or reported (i.e., "trick" plays, option plays, or anything that ever reveals an entire formation. All video at practice is to be shot tight (drills, warm-up and some of special teams excluded). In addition, no microphones at any time can be placed in a position where they can pick up the cadence from the line of scrimmage. Violation of this will result in the revocation of all privileges.

Members of the media are not to interview the players during the daily moratorium period (2:15 p.m. through the end of practice). In addition, during the designated times of open practices, media members are to be behind the end zones at all practices at the lower grass fields and in the stands for any session in Folsom Field.

Live television shots must be approved by the Athletic Media Relations office and/or the head coach in advance.

The following are times when football players are available for interviews (in-season):

9:00 a.m. to 2:15 p.m. *Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday

After Practice Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday

(*—2:00 p.m. after return to standard time.)

The cutoff point for player interviews is after practice on Wednesday prior to the game (Tuesday for Friday games). Any exceptions to this must be approved by the head coach (including any interviews on the road: newspaper, radio or television).

The head coach will be available to the media at the following times: his Tuesday Luncheon (Noon), post-practice on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday (other times at his discretion), and pre-practice (approximately 2:00-2:15 p.m.) on Thursday. Exceptions: television and radio broadcast rights holders' requirements, usually fulfilled Fridays. Assistant coaches are available for interviews Monday through Thursday (pre-practice), then afterwards at their discretion. All are available following games.

Television interviews can take place with the most ease between 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m. and following practice. Photographers are allowed to shoot practice footage, as long as they follow the guidelines set forth above, under No. 2, parts A & B.

No posed pictures (either for newspapers or television) are to be taken between 2:15 p.m. and the end of the practice.

Exceptions to any of the above must be approved by the Athletic Media Relations office and the head coach. Exceptions will be limited, but would include standard rights fee network interviews on the day preceding the game, taping of headshots prior to a game, or if a coach or student-athlete did not meet an obligation he agreed to earlier in the week.

4. Sunday is the standard day off for players, as per NCAA rule (one day off per week); they are available at their own discretion and nothing can be officially arranged through CU. Coaches will be grading film and preparing game plans, and will have little or no availability on Sundays.

5. The lockerroom shall be closed to the media at all times. A member of the Athletic Media Relations office will be on hand to help arrange interviews between 1-2 p.m. and following all practices. Members of the media are to advise the AMR office that they will need to conduct interviews following practice (seldom is advance notice required since all practices are staffed).

6. The training and equipment rooms, the strength and conditioning center and the academic/tutorial areas are AT ALL TIMES off-limits to the media. The only exception to this rule is if a special feature involving one of the areas is requested; approval must be sought in advance from the Athletic Media Relations office and the proper department head.

7. The head coach will hold a Tuesday Noon press luncheon to discuss the previous Saturday's game and the upcoming week's game. He can also be heard on the Big 12 Conference's Monday teleconference at 10:40 a.m. mountain time. EXCEPTION: The week of the Nebraska game (on a Friday), the luncheon will be held on Monday. There are no press luncheons those weeks leading up to an open date.

8. Road practices, if open, will only be to members of the media that cover CU on a regular basis, as well as any members of the national media (opponent media at the discretion of the head coach). The head coach is usually available for interviews with the media for a very brief time following practice.

9. It is the request of the University of Colorado football program that players are not to be called at home, unless permission has been granted by the player or through the director of media relations. Even though most phone numbers are generally listed in directory information, players are allowed to decline interviews when contacted at home if the interview was not approved or scheduled in advance.

COLORADO RADIO NETWORK

The Colorado Football Network originates in Denver with KOA-Radio (850am) serving as the flagship, feeding the broadcast to 19 radio stations in the Rocky Mountain region.

CU and KOA are entering the second year of their latest five-year contract, the fifth between the two entities since they were reunited in 1985. The first two agreements were three years in length, with the next two five-year deals. KOA, a 50,000-watt powerhouse, also handled the Buff broadcasts from 1940 through 1981. All told, KOA is entering its 60th season of Colorado football broadcasts.

The KOA announcing team for Buffalo football in 2003 will again be Larry Zimmer, Jay Leeuwenburg and Bobby Anderson.

Zimmer is in his 30th season with the Buffaloes, the third longest current tenure in the Big 12 Conference. The 1957 Missouri graduate (journalism) served as the voice of the Buffs from 1971 through 1981, and since 1985, when KOA came back on board as the radio rights holder. Zimmer did five years of play-by-play for the University of Michigan (1966-70) prior to moving to Colorado, where he was also a fixture on Denver Bronco broadcasts as well. Zimmer was selected the 1995 Broadcaster-of-the-Year by the Colorado Broadcasters Association. He is also a five-time Sportscenter-of-the-Year in Colorado as selected by the National Sportscenter and Sportswriters Association (1988, 1990, 1991, 2001 and 2002). Most recently, he was selected for mention in the Millennium Edition of Who's Who in America, based on his quarter century of announcing CU and Bronco games.

Leeuwenburg is in his second season as a member of the broadcast team, as the former CU All-American center ('91) enjoyed a nine-year career in the NFL with Chicago, Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Washington. He retired from football in 2001 and is also teaching in the Denver area. He is no stranger behind a microphone, as he had radio and/or television shows in three NFL cities. At CU, he was a member of three straight Big Eight champion teams between 1989 and 1991.

NEWSRADIO

Anderson is in his 27th season (24th on KOA) of handling pregame, postgame and in-game sideline coverage on Buff broadcasts. He graduated from CU in 1970, lettering three years in football in setting numerous school records. He is one of just three football players at Colorado to have had his number (11) retired. Following his illustrious CU career, he went on to play for the Broncos and Washington Redskins in the NFL.

KOA also originates the Gary Barnett Show, which is aired Wednesdays during the football season at 7:00 p.m. The show features a live audience at Dolan's in Boulder, and goes out over the entire network and solicits callers from around the state.

THE BUFFS ON TELEVISION

In the fall of 2001, the format for coaches' television shows at the University of Colorado underwent a dramatic change.

Instead of mainly a weekly highlight show in football and men's and women's basketball, the program was retooled to include highlights, but more previews and special features. The Buffalo Stampede, a half-hour program, airs weekly from August through March over the local cable system (2003 details were pending at press time).

CU and KCNC-TV had teamed together for 17 years to air live football games (until 1996) and the three weekly coaches shows. Mark McIntosh served as the host the last 13 years of that partnership, and has continued to host the show in its new format. Prior to the Big 12 Conference's television contract which exclusively guarantees games on ABC and the FOX Sports Network, KCNC televised 51 games between 1985 and 1995, with CU posting a 44-6-1 mark in those games.

Barnett

McIntosh

C Joint — Acromioclavicular joint; joint of the shoulder where acromion process of the scapula and the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shoulder separations occur at this point.

Abduct — Movement of any extremity away from the midline of the body. This action is achieved by an abductor muscle.

Abrasion — Any injury which rubs off the surface of the skin.

Abscess — An infection which produces pus; can be the result of a blister, callus, penetrating wound or laceration.

Adduct — Movement of an extremity toward the midline of the body. This action is achieved by an adductor muscle.

Adhesion — Abnormal adherence of collagen fibers to surrounding structures during immobilization following trauma or as a complication of surgery which restricts normal elasticity of the structures involved.

Aerobic — Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen inspired and is required for sustained periods of vigorous exercise with a continually high pulse rate.

Anabolic Steroids — Steroids that promote tissue growth by creating protein in an attempt to enhance muscle growth. The main anabolic steroid is testosterone (male sex hormone).

Anaerobic — Exercise without use of oxygen as an energy source; short bursts of vigorous exercises.

Naphylactic Shock — Shock that is caused by an allergic reaction.

Anterior Compartment Syndrome — Condition in which swelling within the anterior compartment of the lower leg jeopardizes the viability of muscles, nerves and arteries that serve the foot. In severe cases, emergency surgery is necessary to relieve the swelling and pressure.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) — A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint. A complete tear of the ACL necessitating reconstruction could require up to 2 months of rehabilitation.

Anterior Talofibular Ligament — A ligament of the ankle that connects the fibula (lateral ankle bone) to the talus. This ligament is often subject to sprain.

Anti-Inflammatory — Any agent which prevents inflammation, such as aspirin or ibuprofen.

Anteriogram — A film demonstrating arteries after injection of a dye.

Arthrogram — X-ray technique for joints using air and/or dye injected into the affected area; useful in diagnosing meniscus tears of the knee and rotator cuff tears of the shoulder.

Arthroscope — An instrument used to visualize the interior of a joint cavity.

Arthroscopy — A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by means for viewing through an arthroscope. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of any damage or confirm a diagnosis.

Aspiration — The withdrawal of fluid from a body cavity by means of a suction or siphonage apparatus, such as a syringe.

Atrophy — To shrivel or shrink from disuse, as in muscular atrophy.

Avascular Necrosis — Death of a part due to lack of circulation.

Avulsion — The tearing away, forcibly, of a part or structure.

Baker's Cyst — Localized swelling of a bursa sac in the posterior knee as a result of fluid that has escaped from the knee capsule. A Baker's cyst indicates that there is a trauma inside the knee joint that leads to excessive fluid production.

Bone Scan — An imaging procedure in which a radioactive-labeled substance is injected into the body to determine the status of a bony injury. If the radioactive substance is taken up by the bone at the injury site, the injury will show as a "hot spot" on the scan image. The bone scan is particularly useful in the diagnosis of stress fractures.

Brachial Plexus — Network of nerves originating from the cervical vertebrae and running down to the shoulder, arm, hand, and fingers.

Bruise — A discoloration of the skin due to an extravasation of blood into the underlying tissues.

Bursa — A fluid-filled sac that is located in areas where friction is likely to occur, then minimizes the friction; for example between a tendon and bone.

Capsule — An enclosing structure which surrounds the joint and contains ligaments which stabilize that joint.

Cartilage — Smooth, slippery substance preventing two ends of bones from rubbing together and grating.

CAT Scan — Use of a computer to produce a cross sectional view of the anatomical part being investigated from X-ray data.

Cellulitis — Inflammation of cellular or connective tissue.

Cervical Vertebrae — Group of seven vertebrae located in the neck.

Charley Horse — A contusion or bruise to any muscle resulting in intramuscular bleeding. No other injury should be called a charley horse.

Colles' Fracture — A fracture of the distal end of the radius with the lower end being displaced backward.

Concentric Muscle Contraction — A shortening of the muscle as it develops tension and contracts to move a resistance.

Concussion — Jarring injury of the brain resulting in dysfunction. It can be graded as mild, moderate or severe depending on loss of consciousness, amnesia and loss of equilibrium.

Contusion — An injury to a muscle and tissues caused by a blow from a blunt object.

Cortical Steroids — Used to suppress joint inflammation.

Costochondral — Cartilage that separates the bones within the rib cage.

Cryokinetics — Treatment with cold and movement.

Cryotherapy — A treatment with the use of cold.

Cyst — Abnormal sac containing liquid or semi-solid matter.

Degenerative Joint Disease — Changes in the joint surface as a result of repetitive trauma.

Deltoid Ligament — Ligament that connects the tibia to bones of the medial aspect of the foot and is primarily responsible for stability of the ankle on the medial side. Is sprained less frequently than other ankle ligaments.

Deltoid Muscle — Muscles at top of the arm, just below the shoulder, responsible for shoulder motions to the front, side and back.

Disc, Intervertebral — A flat, rounded plate between each vertebrae of the spine. This disc consists of a thick fiber ring which surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It functions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.

Dislocation — Complete displacement of joint surfaces.

Eccentric Muscle Contraction — An overall lengthening of the muscles as it develops tension and contracts to control motion performed by an outside force; oft times referred to a "negative" contraction in weight training.

Eccymosis — Bleeding into the surface tissue below the skin, resulting in a "black and blue" effect.

Edema — Accumulation of fluid in organs and tissues of the body (swelling).

Effusion — Accumulation of fluid, in various spaces in the body, or the knee itself. Commonly, the knee has an effusion after an injury.

Electrical Galvanic Stimulation (EGS) — An electrical therapeutic modality that sends a current to the body at select voltages and frequencies in order to stimulate pain receptors, disperse edema, or neutralize muscle spasms among other functional applications.

Electromyogram (EMG) — Test to determine nerve function.

Epicondylitis — Inflammation in the elbow due to overuse.

Ethyl Chloride — "Cold spray," a chemical coolant sprayed onto an injury site to produce a local, mild anesthesia.

Fat Percentage — The amount of body weight that is adipose, fat tissue. Fat percentages can be calculated by underwater weighing, measuring select skinfold thickness, or by analyzing electrical impedance.

Femur — Thigh bone; longest bone in the body.

Fibula — Smaller of the two bones in the lower leg; runs from knee to the ankle along the outside of the lower leg.

Flexibility — The ability of muscle to relax and yield to stretch forces.

Flexibility Exercise — General term used to describe exercise performed by a player to passively or actively elongate soft tissue without the assistance of an athletic trainer.

Fracture — Breach of continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress, or transverse.

Gamekeeper's Thumb — Tear of the ulnar collateral ligament of the metacarpophalangeal joint of the thumb.

Glycogen — Form in which foods are stored in the body as energy.

Grade One Injury — A mild injury in which ligament, tendon, or other musculoskeletal tissue may have been stretched or contused, but not torn or otherwise disrupted.

Grade Two Injury — A moderate injury when musculoskeletal tissue has been partially, but not totally, torn which causes appreciable limitation in function of the injured tissue.

Grade Three Injury — A severe injury in which tissue has been significantly, and in some cases totally, torn or otherwise disrupted causing a virtual total loss of function.

Hamstring — Category of muscle that runs from the buttocks to the knee along the back of the thigh. It functions to flex the knee, and is often injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of muscle flexibility.

Heat Cramps — Painful muscle spasms of the arms or legs caused by excessive body heat and depletion of fluids and electrolytes.

Heat Exhaustion — Mild form of shock due to dehydration because of excessive sweating when exposed to heat and humidity.

Heat Stroke — Condition of rapidly rising internal body temperature that overwhelms the body's mechanisms for release of heat and could result in death if not cared for appropriately.

Heel Cup — Orthotic device that is inserted into the shoe and fit under the heel to give support to the Achilles tendon and help absorb impacts at the heel.

Hematoma — Tumor-like mass produced by an accumulation of coagulated blood in a cavity.

Hot Pack — Chemical pack that rests in water, approximately 160 degrees, and retains its heat for 15-20 minutes when placed in a towel for general therapeutic application.

Humerus — Bone of the upper arm that runs from the shoulder to the elbow.

Hydrotherapy — Treatment using water.

Hyperextension — Extreme extension of a limb or body part.

Iliotibial Band — A thick, wide fascial layer that runs from the iliac crest to the knee joint and is occasionally inflamed as a result of excessive running.

Inflammation — The body's natural response to injury in which the injury site might display various degrees of pain, sweating, heat, redness, and/or loss of function.

Internal Rotation — Rotation of a joint or extremity medially, to the inside.

Lesion — Wound, injury or tumor.

Ligament — Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone or bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.

Lumbar Vertebrae — Five vertebrae of the lower back that articulate with the sacrum to form the lumbosacral joint.

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) — Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react to this pulse and through this process a computer display and permanent film establish a visual image. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc, and meniscus injuries.

Meniscectomy — An intra-articular surgical procedure of the knee by which all or part of the damaged meniscus is removed.

Meniscus — Crescent shaped cartilage, usually pertaining to the knee joint; also known as "cartilage." There are two menisci in the knee, medial and lateral. These work to absorb weight within the knee and provide stability.

Metacarpals — Five long bones of the hand, running from the wrist to the fingers.

Metatarsals — Five long bones of the foot, running from the ankle to the toes.

Myositis — Inflammation of a muscle.

Necrotic — Relating to death of a portion of tissue.

Neoprene — Lightweight rubber used in joint and muscle sleeves designed to provide support and/or insulation and heat retention to the area.

Neuritis — Inflammation of a nerve.

Orthotic — Any device applied to or around the body in the care of physical impairment or disability, commonly used to control foot mechanics.

Parasthesia — Sensation of numbness or tingling, indicating nerve irritation.

Patella — The kneecap. The patella functions to protect the distal end of the femur as well as increase the mechanical advantage and force generating capacities of the quadriceps muscle group.

Patella Tendinitis — Inflammation of the patella ligament; also known as "jumpers knee."

Patellofemoral Joint — Articulation of the knee cap and femur. Inflammation of this joint can occur through: 1) acute injury to the patella, 2) overuse from excessive running particularly if there is an associated knee weakness, 3) chronic wear and tear of the knee, 4) as a result of poor foot mechanics. Patellofemoral irritation can lead to chondromalacia, which in its most chronic condition, could require surgery.

Peroneal Muscles — Group of muscles of the lateral lower leg that are responsible for evert the knee. Tendons of these three muscles are vital to the stability of the ankle and foot.

Phalanx — Any bone of the fingers or toes; plural is phalanges.

Phlebitis — Inflammation of a vein.

Plica — Fold of tissue in the joint capsule and a common result of knee injury.

Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL) — A primary stabilizing ligament of the knee that provides significant stability and prevents displacement of the tibia backward within the knee joint. A complete tear of this ligament necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Quadricep Muscles "Quads" — A group of four muscles of the front thigh that run from the hip and form a common tendon at the patella; they are responsible for knee extension.

Radiography — Taking of X-rays.

Radius — Forearm bone on the thumb side.

Reconstruction — Surgical rebuilding of a joint using natural, artificial or transplanted materials.

Referred Pain — Pain felt in an undamaged area of body away from the actual injury.

Retraction — The moving of tissue to expose a part or structure of the body.

Rotator Cuff — Comprised of four muscles in the shoulder area that can be irritated by over use. The muscles are the supraspinatus (most commonly injured), infraspinatus, teres minor, and subscapularis.

Rotator Cuff Impingement Syndrome — A micro-trauma or overuse injury caused by stress, and the four stages are: 1) Tendinitis with temporary thickening of the bursa and rotator cuff; 2) Fiber dissociation in the tendon with permanent thickening of the bursa and scar formation; 3) A partial rotator cuff tear of less than one centimeter; and 4) A complete tear of one centimeter or more.

Sacrum — Group of five fused vertebrae located just below the lumbar vertebrae of the low back.

Scapula — Shoulder blade.

Sciatica — Irritation of the sciatic nerve resulting in pain or tingling running down the inside of the leg.

Sciatic Nerve — Major nerve that carries impulses for muscular action and sensations between the low back and thigh and lower leg; it is the longest nerve in the body.

Shin Splint — A catch-all syndrome describing pain in the shin that is not a fracture or tumor and cannot be defined otherwise.

Sorbothane — An energy absorbing polyurethane utilized in some foot orthotics to absorb shock forces of the foot.

Spasm (Theory) — Muscle soreness induced by exercise; is the result of reduced muscle blood flow, which results in pain.

Spleen — Large, solid organ responsible for the normal production and destruction of blood cells.

Spondylitis — Inflammation of one or more vertebrae.

Spondylolisthesis — Forward displacement of one vertebra over another below it due to a developmental defect in the vertebrae.

Spondylosis — Abnormal vertebral fixation or immobility.

Sprain — Injury resulting from a stretch or twist of the joint and causes various degrees of stretch or tear of a ligament or other soft tissue at the joint.

Sternum — The breast bone.

Steroids — Any one of a large number of hormone-like substances. See Anabolic steroids and cortical steroids.

Strain — Injury resulting from a pull or torsion to the muscle or tendon that causes various degrees of stretch or tear to the muscle or tendon tissue.

Stress Fracture — A hair-line type of break in a bone caused by overuse.

Stress X-ray — A continual X-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed to its maximum in order to determine joint stability. This is a test utilized in some ankle injuries.

Stretching — Any therapeutic maneuver designed to elongate shortened soft tissue structures and thereby increase flexibility.

Subluxation — Partial dislocation of a joint. The term usually implies that the joint can return to its normal position without formal reduction.

Talus — The ankle bone that articulates with the tibia and fibula to form the ankle joint.

Target Heart Rate — A pre-determined pulse to be obtained during exercise when circulation is working at full efficient capacities.

Tarsals — Group of seven bones of the foot consisting of the calcaneal, talus, cuboid and three cuneiform bones.

Temporomandibular Joint (TMJ) — The articulation of the jaw and skull; considered by some to be vital in resolution of injuries throughout the body.

Tendinitis — Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, caused by chronic overuse or sudden injury.

Tendon — Tissue that connects muscle to bone.

Tennis Elbow — General term for lateral elbow pain.

Thoracic — Group of twelve vertebrae located in the thorax and articulate with the twelve ribs.

Thoracic Outlet Compression Syndrome — neuro-vascular disorder of the upper extremity common in throwing.

Tibia — Larger of the two bones of the lower leg and is the weight-bearing bone of the shin.

Tomograph — A special type of X-ray apparatus that demonstrates an organ or tissue at a particular depth.

Trachea — The windpipe.

Transcutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulation (TENS) — An electrical modality that sends a mild current through pads at the injury site which stimulates the brain to release the natural analgesic endorphin.

Transverse Process — Small lateral projection of the right side and left side of each vertebrae that functions as an attachment site for muscles and ligaments of the spine.

Trapezius — Flat triangular muscle covering the posterior surface of the neck and shoulder.

Triceps — Muscle of the back of the upper arm primarily responsible for extending the elbow.

Turf Toe — Sprain of the metatarsophalangeal (MTP) joint of the great toe.

Ulna — Forearm bone that runs from the tip of the elbow to the little finger side of the wrist.

Ulnar Nerve — Nerve in elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing.

Ultrasound — An electrical modality that transmits a sound wave through an applicator into the skin to the soft tissue in order to heat the local area for relaxing the injured tissue and/or disperse edema.

Valgus — Angulation outward and away from the midline of the body.

Varus — Angulation inward and toward the midline of the body.

Vasoconstriction — Decrease of local blood flow.

Vasodilation — Increase of local blood flow.

"Wind Knocked Out" — Syndrome describing a contraction of the abdominal nerve trunk, the solar plexus, as a result of an abdominal contusion.

Wrist — The junction between the two forearm bones (radius and ulna) and the eight wrist bones (trapezium, capitate, hamate, pisiform, triquetrum, lunate and scaphoid).

Zygoma — The cheekbone.

BARNETT FOOTBALL SCHOOL

The Gary Barnett Football Technique School has become the most popular in the Rocky Mountain Region, as kids from ages eight-to-18 have annually come to Boulder to enjoy a week's worth of learning and recreation.

Called one of the best football camps in America, the school features CU head coach Gary Barnett, the Buffalo coaching staff, and several area college and high school coaches. The strength of CU's technique school is the player-to-coach ratio (never more than 10-1) and the emphasis on teaching.

Former CU players also return on occasion to participate in the camp. In the past, the likes of Alfred Williams, Chad Brown, Cordell Stewart, Eric Bieniemy, Heath Irwin, Kanavis McGhee, Mike Moschetti, Kyle Rappold and Arthur Walker have been on hand to help teach.

The majority of the school is spent on the field in the actual coaching and drilling of the fundamentals and techniques of each position, the same exact things the Colorado Buffaloes are taught. Campers will learn about the importance of attitude, discipline, work, pride and team concept, the same qualities that have made CU a national championship program.

Following dinner, campers play "Buff Ball," which is best explained as fast break basketball on grass, with a football. Afterwards, they have a choice of hit movies to watch prior to lights out.

The Buffalo Technique School is annually one of the largest youth football camps in the nation, as 1,000 participated in 2003. But even with these large numbers, kids come away from the camp with the feeling of having a quality individual experience.

Camp dates for 2004 are tentatively scheduled for June 10-12 (8 to 13 year-olds) and June 14-17 (14 years and older). Rates are available for daycampers (in the $175 range) and dormcampers ($275-325). For more information, call the CU football office at 303/492-5331.

COLORADO CHAPTER NFF-COLLEGE HOF

The Colorado Chapter of the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame was chartered on July 1, 1992, and is one of 119 chapters that make up the organization. Its members include former players, coaches, athletics administrators, educators, officials, news media and football fans, all of who enjoy the game of football and share its purpose and goals. Several active members have ties to the University of Colorado (listed below in bold):

The Colorado Chapter's primary goal is to recognize and honor the top high school football student-athletes in the state – young men who have distinguished themselves on the field, in the classroom and in extracurricular activities where leadership abilities are displayed. The top student-athletes are chosen from a field of statewide nominees and selected by an impartial committee of nine persons with diverse backgrounds. The criteria for selection are based on a combination of athletic ability (40 percent), academic achievement and character (40 percent), and citizenship and service (20 percent). Due to the tremendous sponsorship support, all 11 finalists will receive a $1,000 scholarship from the Colorado Chapter.

COACH DAN STAVELY (1912-2003)

On May 27, 2003, the University of Colorado lost a great Buffalo when longtime coach and administrator Dan Stavely passed away after a long illness at his home in Boulder. He was 90.

Stavely was born Nov. 22, 1912 in Cortez, Colo., and lived almost his entire life in Colorado. He graduated from Olathe High School in 1932, where he played football and was on the wrestling team, and was a 1936 graduate of the University of Denver, where he lettered twice as a tackle on the football team and was a three time Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference champion in wrestling.

"I grew up so far into the hills of the backwoods," he said in 1988 of his proud Western Slope origins, "that we had to go towards town to go hunting."

For a while after graduation, he and a buddy toured the state, putting on exhibition wrestling matches much in today's vain of the WWF; he wrestled as the "Masked Marvel." He then started his coaching career at Aguilar High School for the 1936-37 academic year, and then moved on to Johnstown High for three years, where he coached football and track. From 1940 to 1942, he returned to DU, where he coached the varsity baseball team and the freshman football squad.

During the war years, he spent June 1942 through January 1946 in the Air Force, entering as a private and was discharged as a captain. In that span, he was the line coach for the second Air Force football team for two years.

He returned to DU after his military service, coaching football (line), baseball and wrestling for one year (1946-47) before moving on to Eastern Washington, where he coached those same sports for the next two seasons. He moved on to Washington State for the next nine years, serving as freshman coach for seven seasons and varsity line coach for two.

He returned to Colorado in 1958, when football coach Dal Ward hired him as freshman head coach, with athletic director Harry Carlson also appointing him as head wrestling coach. But Ward was fired following the '58 season, and incoming coach Sonny Grandelius did not retain Stavely, but he landed on his feet as an assistant on the Stanford football staff until Eddie Crowder brought him back to CU when he was named football coach in 1963. Crowder named him in his old role as freshman coach.

He would coach the Buffalo freshman teams for the next 14 seasons, leaving that role following the '76 season. He was promoted to assistant athletic director in 1972, a title he held until his retirement in 1979. As an assistant AD, he coordinated CU's athletic academic counseling activities and other related areas as well as handling internal university relations.

It was at Colorado where he earned the nickname, "Deacon Dan," bestowed on him by another longtime CU athletic staffer, the late Fred Casotti. Stavely was extremely active in the school's Fellowship of Christian Athletes program and was also a powerful public speaker. After he retired from CU, he worked for the FCA as a regional director, meeting with student-athletes on a daily basis at CU, Colorado State and Northern Colorado.

In 1988, Stavely was inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame, and said at the time, "There isn't a higher honor than this." Three years later in 1991, he was inducted into the FCA's Hall of Champions.

Longtime Denver Post sports columnist Harry Farrar once described Stavely as "a wholesome answer to the charge that 'character building' in collegiate sports is a hypocritical term usually applied to losing coaches. While it is true that some athletic leaders preach the gospel of sportsmanship in public and operate rather deviously in private, Stavely earned the reputation as a trustworthy counselor of youth." Thus summed up was the importance and popularity as Stavely as freshman coach, the first real mentor incoming recruits were exposed to on the CU campus.

But Stavely's mentoring wasn't limited to just the players. Crowder reiterated how important it was to make him a part of his first staff when he was hired in early 1963.

"When I arrived here as new head coach, with no head coaching experience, I relied a lot on (former coach) Dal Ward's input," Crowder said. "When we talked about staff, the first thing he told me was that the most important thing I could do was to hire Dan Stavely to come back. I did, and it proved that (Dal) was right."

"First, Dan had such a care and concern for everybody else, and then a work pattern where he would stay at work through the night if he needed to. Dan was the most perfect ideal that you could hope for, and he brought some seniority to a staff that was very young. His work ethic and attitude was key importance to my first staff."

"To me personally, he was a wisdom counselor," Crowder added. "I could call Dan in and ask him about any issue we had to deal with that was difficult and needed to be resolved, and I always knew that he would give me guidance that was the perfect way to handle the situation. There were many instances where that turned out to be just the case."

"He was the kindest, dearest man I ever met," CU athletic director and longtime friend Dick Tharp said. "I only regret that I wasn't able to be a young student-athlete who benefited from his coaching and his caring."

"The entire Colorado Buffalo family is mourning the loss of a great Buffalo," current head football coach Gary Barnett said. "Dan did what we're all trying to do. He made a difference."

Assistant football coach Brian Cabral was recruited to CU by Stavely, and remained close friends with him since he first arrived in Boulder from Honolulu in 1975.

"Dan probably made the greatest impact on my life," Cabral said. "He was like a father to me, he was my academic counselor, my life counselor. He is the big reason why I am who I am today. If I had any problems or concerns, he was the guy I went to, and I think I can speak on behalf of all the players who were associated with coach Dan Stavely that he meant the same to them."

Stavely is survived by wife of 66 years, Lucille, daughter Kathy, son John (a former CU letterwinner in football who had the privilege of playing for his father), six grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Over 300 people attended the funeral service at First Presbyterian Church in Boulder, with several notable people with CU ties in attendance. Serving as pallbearers were Bobby Anderson, Brian Cabral, Eddie Crowder, Steve Engel, Phil Irwin, Dudley "Bo" Mitchell, Larry Reifschneider and Dave Wardell. The Reverend Jim Cessna officiated, and perhaps summed up "Deacon Dan" best when he said, "Mentoring is big now. He made it big then."

An aerial photograph of the University of Colorado campus in Boulder, Colorado. The image shows a mix of historic red-roofed buildings and modern academic structures. In the foreground, the large, multi-colored seating bowl of Folsom Field stadium is visible, with the word "COLORADO" and a yellow arrow pointing towards the field. The stadium is surrounded by greenery and trees. In the background, the rugged, rocky peaks of the Front Range mountains rise steeply under a clear blue sky. The overall scene captures the university's setting in a scenic mountain environment.
